48. From a date to be notified by the Governor General in Council each life-boat shall be in charge of a minimum number of life-boatmen holding certificates issued under the authority of the local Government concerned. In order to obtain the certificates, the men must prove that they have been trained in all the operations connected with the launching of life-boats and the use of oars; that they are acquainted with the practical handling of the boats themselves; and further that they are capable of understanding and answering the orders relative to life-boat service.

Life-boatmen.

49. A man capable of working the motor shall be assigned to each motor-boat. The allocation of certificated life-boatmen to each boat and raft shall remain within the discretion of the master according to circumstances. The officer or petty officer placed in charge of each boat or set of rafts shall have a list of its crew and shall see that the men placed under his orders are acquainted with their several duties and stations. The duty of seeing that the boats, pontoon-rafts and other life-saving appliances are at all times ready for use shall be assigned to one or more officers.

Motormen.

50. The muster list shall assign duties to the different members of the crew in connection with—

Musters and drills.

(a) the launching of the boats attached to davits;
(b) the preparation of the other boats;
(c) the equipment of the boats generally;
(d) the closing of the bulkhead doors, etc.;
(e) the mustering of the passengers.

It shall also assign to the members of the Steward's Department their several duties in relation to the passengers at a time of emergency. These duties shall include—

(a) warning the passengers;
(b) seeing that they are dressed and have put on their life-jackets in a proper manner;
(c) assembling the passengers;
(d) keeping order in the passages and on the strairways and generally controlling the movements of the passengers.

51. The muster-list shall specify definite alarm signals for calling all the crew to their boat and fire stations and shall give full particulars of these signals. Before the vessels sails, the Master shall draw up and exhibit the muster-list and the proper authority shall be satisfied that the muster-list has been prepared for the ship and posted in several parts of the ship and in particular in the crew's quarters.

Muster-list.

52. (1) In all ships to which these rules apply, a boat drill and a water-tight door drill shall be held as soon as possible after leaving the original port of departure and at convenient intervals of not less than a week during the voyage. Such drills shall be recorded in the official log.

Drill.

(2) In case of ships engaged in the home trade where the voyage is of less than one week's duration, one at least of each of these drills shall be held during each voyage, but in cases in which the voyage is such and of such short duration as to make compliance with these requirements impracticable, the local Government shall prescribe a suitable procedure for each class of restricted Home trade passenger certificate issued.

(3) The Government Surveyor shall be satisfied, in each case before the ship leaves port, that a return has been devised and communicated to each officer of the ship for securing an efficient working of the boats. In all cases a police system shall be organised to the satisfaction of the Government Surveyor so as to secure obedience to orders and proper control and guidance of all on board in times of emergency.

(4) In carrying out the boat and water-tight door drills the crew will, when practicable, drill in their life-jackets and arrangements shall be made, when possible, for passengers to see the crew putting their life-jackets on. Entries in the official log shall state whether and when this has been done.

53. In all ships which are required under these rules to carry two or more boats, an emergency boat shall be carried slung out and ready for action every night except in the case of such classes of restricted Home trade voyages as may specially exempted from the requirements of this rule by the local Government.

Emergency boat.

54. Special boat-decks shall be kept entirely clear of passengers, and in the case of bridge-decks and poop-decks, which are utilized for carrying passengers as well as boats and rafts, a space sufficient for the working of the boats and rafts shall be railed off.

Boat-decks

55. (1) No boats, or buoyant seats the whole of which cannot be efficiently put into the water in one hour shall be deemed to form part of the equipment required in these respects for any vessel.

Time allowed for launching.

(2) The equipment of boats, and buoyant seats of any vessels shall not be passed by the Government Surveyor as satisfying these rules unless the whole of it can be efficiently placed in the water in one hour.

LEAVE AND APPOINTMENTS.

Simla, the 10th October 1925.

No. F.-207-C.S.R.-25.—The following Resolution by the Secretary of State in Council is published for general information :—

In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 96B of the Government of India Act, the Secretary of State in Council, with the concurrence of the majority of votes at a meeting held on the 9th day of September 1925, hereby makes the following amendment to the Civil Service Regulations :—

After Article 746B of the said Regulations, the following shall be inserted, namely :—

" 746BB. Where a police officer is injured or killed whilst in the actual performance of, or in consequence of, his duty, a gratuity or pension may, if the injury or death was intentionally inflicted or caused, be granted to him, or to his family, as the case may be, on the scale prescribed in Article 746C."

The 14th October 1925.

No. F.-33-VI.-F.E.-25.—The following Resolution by the Secretary of State for India in Council is published for general information :—

In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 96B of the Government of India Act, the Secretary of State in Council, with the concurrence of the majority of votes at a meeting of the Council of India held on the 9th day of September 1925, hereby makes the following amendments of the General Provident Fund Rules :—

1. In Rule 6 of the said Rules, for the first three sentences of note 2 the following shall be substituted, namely :—

" Before the amount at an officer's credit in the Fund is finally paid under Rule 10, 15 or 18, his account shall be credited with interest up to the end of the month preceding that in which the payment is made, or up to the end of the sixth month after the end of the month in which he quitted the service or died, whichever of these periods is less ".

2. In Rule 20 of the said rules—

(i) In clause (4) (a) after the word " or " where that word first occurs, the following shall be inserted, namely :—

" Unless the Government of India in special circumstances otherwise direct ".

(ii) For the second sentence in clause (4) (c) the following shall be substituted, namely :—

" Recovery may also be postponed by the sanctioning authority while an advance granted to the officer otherwise than from the Fund is being recovered ".

(iii) For clause (5) the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"(5) When an advance is repayable in 12 instalments, an additional instalment, representing interest and equivalent to 4 per cent. of the amount of the advance, shall be paid in the month following that in which the last instalment is paid. Similarly, two additional instalments representing interest, each equivalent to 4 per cent. of the total amount of the advance shall be paid when the advance is repayable in more than 12 instalments, provided that where an advance is recovered in more than 24 instalments the Government of India shall determine what interest shall be paid by the subscriber and the number of instalments in which it shall be paid.

"In calculating interest as above, a fraction of a rupee should be taken at the next higher whole rupee if it exceeds eight annas, and should be ignored if it does not".

RESOLUTION.

Simla, the 15th October 1925.

No. F.-20-XI-F.—It is proposed to make the following amendments in the Currency Notes (Refund) Rules, 1921, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 29 of the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1923 (X of 1923). The amendments will not come into force before the 1st April 1927, and any objections made before the 31st March 1926 will be taken into consideration.

2. The object of the proposed amendments is to discourage the cutting of notes. This practice has been proved by the repeated experience of the Currency Department to lend itself to the commission of fraud. The examination of divided notes also entails the expense of much time and care in the offices of the Department and consequent delay in encashment, and inconvenience to the public. Such delay can, of course, be minimised by the appointment of larger establishments than would otherwise be necessary, but the additional cost to the tax-payer of such establishments is heavy and the difficulties of dealing with divided notes have increased considerably with the expansion of the note circulation and is now a distinct impediment to the smooth administration of the currency note system. It seems desirable, therefore, to take steps to discourage the practice which, if not actually prohibited in other countries, is only recognised tacitly, because it has not reached elsewhere the dimensions prevailing in India ; and, though there are objections of a temporary nature to a change of system in this respect, it is thought that the time has come when these temporary difficulties should be faced. It is recognised, however, that any procedure to be adopted to this end in view must be considerate and cautious and the amendments proposed are framed on conservative lines. The only two changes of importance in the Refund Rules are the following :—

(a) No claims on half or mismatched notes of the denominations of Rs. 5 and Rs. 10 will be admitted, i.e., the possession of a half note of one of these denominations will no longer constitute a claim to payment of the full value of the note, although cut notes properly joined together will be paid as hitherto and claims on mutilated notes will be admitted if the portion presented is clearly more than half the note and the note can be identified by the enquiring officer as genuine.

(b) On half notes of the denominations of Rs. 50 and upwards half the value of the note will be paid at a Currency Office fourteen working days after its presentation, provided that in the meantime the counterpart has not been presented with a claim to the full value of the note. On the other hand, claims to full value on a note of which only a half is presented will be dealt with in the same way as claims on lost or wholly destroyed notes, and claimants will not obtain payment till after the lapse of 5 or 6 years instead of obtaining payment after the lapse of a period varying from six months to a year. In short the effect of this change is to make it easier for the public to obtain half value on a half note, but to make it more difficult for them to obtain full value on a half note. It will, therefore, increase the risk of cutting note.

3. The main objection which may be urged against the proposed amendments is that they would increase the risk of remittance of notes by post. In view of the facilities for cheap remittance which are now given by Government and the Imperial Bank, by means of bank transfers, currency transfers, money orders and postal insurance of notes up to the value of Rs. 2,000, it does not appear that the public would be seriously inconvenienced if notes were never cut for remittance by post. But the amendments proposed in the rules will not absolutely prevent the cutting of notes for remittance by posts : they will merely increase the risk of doing so, and it will be open to the public to take this risk if they wish to do so, or to insure against it.

DRAFT AMENDMENT OF CURRENCY NOTES REFUND RULES.

Rule 2.—Substitute the following for Rule 2(g) :—

" A mutilated note means a note of which a portion is missing, provided that the portion presented is clearly more than half of the note, and that if the portion presented has been joined, each part of such portion is identifiable as part of the same note."

Rule 3.—For Rule 3 (1) as substituted by the G. I. F. D. Notification $\frac{\text{Accounts and Finance}}{\text{Paper Currency}}$ No. 2252-F., dated the 7th November 1922, substitute the following :—

" Claims in respect of notes of which the denomination does not exceed ten rupees may be presented at any office of issue and shall be dealt with at the office of issue at which they are presented."

Delete Rule 3 (2) as inserted by the above notification and re-number the present Rules 3 (3) and 3 (4) as Rules 3 (2) and 3 (3).

Rule 5.—Substitute "ten rupees" for "two and a half rupee" at the end of sub-rule (2).

Insert the following as Rule 6A :—

" 6A. Claims to the value of a half note shall be rejected unless the number of the note is identified by the enquiring officer on the half note ; and the half note is entire and has not been divided and joined together."

In rule 7 delete from the words " unless the portion presented " to the end and substitute "unless in the opinion of the enquiring officer the portion presented clearly forms part of a genuine note and the missing portion is too small to be used in support of any other claim under these rules."

In Rule 9 insert the words " of a denomination exceeding ten rupees " after " mutilated note ".

Rule 11.—Substitute the following for rule 11 :—

" (1) Claims to the half value of a note of which half only is presented by the claimant shall be dealt with as follows :—

(a) If a counterclaim to the full value of the note has not been received before the presentation of the claim or within fourteen working days thereafter, half the value of the note may be paid to the claimant on the expiration of such fourteen days.

(b) If full value of the note has already been paid on a claim under Rule 14, the claim shall be rejected.

(c) If a counterclaim to the full value of the note has been received before the presentation of the claim or is received before payment of half the value of the note in accordance with clause (a), the enquiring officer shall consider both claims together and may order that one claimant be paid forthwith the full value of the note, or that both claimants be paid forthwith half the value of the note or may reject both claims."

(2) Claims in respect of a mismatched note shall be deemed to be separate claims in respect of each half thereof, and shall be dealt with as provided in sub-rule (1).

Rule 13.—Insert the words " or of which the portion presented is neither a half note nor a mutilated note " after the words " wholly destroyed " in Rule 13 (1) (b).

Rule 14.—Substitute the following for Rule 14 :—

" 14. If the enquiry has been made in respect of a claim under Rule 13 (1) (a), the Deputy Controller on receipt of the record from the enquiring officer, or the enquiring officer, if empowered under the proviso to Rule 6 (a), may pass orders as follows :—

(1) If the counterpart has been presented and half the value of the note has been paid under Rule 13, he may order half the value of note to be paid forthwith ;

(2) If the counterpart has been presented with a claim to half the value or the full value of the note and that claim is pending, he shall consider the two claims together and may order that one claimant be paid forthwith the full value of the note, or that both claimants be paid forthwith half the value of the note, or may reject both claims ;

(3) If the counterpart has not been presented,

(a) if he is not satisfied that the counterpart has been lost or destroyed in such circumstances that there is no probability of its being presented at some future date, he may order payment of half the value of the note forthwith;

(b) if after consideration the record of the enquiry under sub-rule (2) of Rule 13 he is so satisfied, and is satisfied that the claimant was the last lawful holder of the whole note, he shall cause to be published in the Gazette of India and in three successive issues of the local official Gazette a notification stating the particulars of the note of which one half is alleged to have been lost or destroyed, and the name of the claimant, and calling upon any person having a claim in respect of such note to submit the same forthwith;

(c) if, on the expiration of two years from the date of the first publication under the sub-clause (b), the counterpart of the half note has not been presented, the Deputy Controller may order an amount equivalent to the full value of the note to be invested in Government securities, or to be deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank;

(d) if, on the expiration of a period which shall be determined by the Deputy Controller, but which, unless the Governor General in Council otherwise directs, shall not be less that five years after such first publication, the counterpart of the half note has not been presented, the Deputy Controller shall order the securities referred to in sub-clause (c), or the deposit in the Post Office Savings Bank, as the case may be, with the interest which has in the meantime accumulated thereon, to be delivered to the claimant, or, if the claimant is dead, to his legal representative, on a bond, with or without sureties, executed in the form set forth in Schedule I or II;

(e) if, prior to the expiration of such period, the counterpart is presented with a claim to the full value or half the value of the note, the proceedings under sub-clauses (b) to (d) shall be cancelled and the two claims shall be dealt with under clause (2)".

List of Schedules.

Substitute "Rules 14 (3) (d)" for "the proviso to Rule 14 (c)" in entries under Schedules I and II.

Schedule I.

For "lost" at the end of the second paragraph substitute "wholly destroyed / lost".

Schedule II.

For "lost" at the end of the second paragraph substitute "wholly destroyed / lost."

Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

Delhi, the 29th October 1925.

No. F.-50—II-F. E.—25.—The following Resolution by the Secretary of State for India in Council is published for general information:—

Pleaders' Survey Training Classes, 1926.

1. Classes for the training of pleaders in surveying will be opened in January 1926 in connection with the Bengal Engineering College, the Bihar School of Engineering, Patna, the Dacca School of Engineering, provided sufficient candidates register their names at each centre.

2. The course will last for six weeks and will consist of practical work combined with class instruction. The routine and hours of attendance will be settled by the heads of the institutions, who will also decide the exact locality in which the classes will be held and date of the opening.

3. Pleaders must make their own arrangements for attending this course. No tents or other residential accommodation will be provided.

4. Credit for attendance at these classes will not be given unless the pleader has been present for 80 per cent. of the working days and for the full working hour for each day. The attendance must be distributed over the course so that no subject is neglected.

5. Candidates who desire to undergo the course of training must apply to the Principal, Bengal Engineering College, in the case of candidates practising in the law courts of Bengal, and to the Principal, Bihar School of Engineering, in the case of candidates of Bihar and Orissa, for registering their names not later that the 30th November 1925. The application of a candidate must be endorsed by the District Judge. It should state the centre which the candidate wishes to join, i.e., Bengal Engineering College, Patna or Dacca, and should be accompanied by a remittance receipt from the local treasury certifying that the fee of Rs. 100 has been paid into the treasury to the credit of the Secretary, Pleaders' Survey Examination Board.

6. The registering officer will allot candidates to the centres, consulting their wishes as far as possible, giving not more than 24 and not less than 8 to a centre. He will then inform the candidates as to the locality and the date of opening of the class.

7. The following is the syllabus of instruction :—

No definite text-books are prescribed :—

(a) Practical work—

Chain surveying, prismatic compass surveying, plane tabling and levelling.

(b) Class work—

Use of mathematical instruments, construction of scales, measuration of area, plotting, variation of compass, preparation of field-books from maps, elementary principle of levelling and plotting of level sections.

Candidates who obtain the required percentage of attendance at this course are qualified to appear at the Pleaders' Survey Examinations to be held in 1927, 1928, 1929 and 1930.

NOTIFICATION.

Annual Examination of Pleaders in Surveying, 1926.

(See Government notification No. 3157J., dated the 25th November 1909, modified in Government notification No. 320J.D., dated the 16th July 1914.)

1. The next examination will be held in February 1926 and will be conducted at the following centres (provided that not less than five names be registered at each centre):—B. E. College and Dacca in Bengal, and Patna in Bihar and Orissa.

2. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate will be required to pass by every test and will not be exempted from any test on the ground that he has previously satisfied the examiner in it.

3. Candidates practising in the Courts of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions will be required to present themselves at the B. E. College; those practising in Patna, Tirhoot, Bhagalpur, Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions, at Patna; and those in Rajshahi, Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, at Dacca.

4. In the event of more than 20 or less than 5 names being registered for examination at any one centre, the Secretary may direct the candidates to present themselves at any other centre.

5. No candidate will be admitted to the examination unless he has been enrolled as a pleader, and—

(i) has obtained credit for attendance at the special course of instruction at the B. E. College, Patna or Dacca, in 1922, 1923, 1924 or 1925 and has not previously appeared at the examination more than twice, or

(ii) has been registered for admission to the Intermediate Engineering Examination of the Calcutta University, or

(iii) has passed the Sub-Overseer examination, or

(iv) has obtained the Surveyor's certificate of one of the Government Survey Schools, or (v) has been specially exempted from the operation of this rule by the Board controlling the examination.

6. Candidates wishing to appear at the examination will apply upon the prescribed registration form, obtain the necessary countersignature of the District Judge in whose Court he is enrolled, and forward the same so as to reach the office of the Principal, Bengal Engineering College, in the case of candidates practising in the law courts of Bengal, and to the office of the Principal, Bihar School of Engineering, in the case of candidates of Bihar and Orissa, not later than the 11th January 1926. The form may be had from the Principal, Bengal Engineering College, or from the Principal, Bihar School of Engineering.

7. Each application must be accompanied by a receipt from the local treasury certifying to the receipt of the examination fee of Rs. 50, which fee will in no case be returned.

8. The exact date of the examination and the proposed programme will be communicated to candidates by the office who has registered their names.

NOTICE.

No. 15650A.—The next session of the Sanitary Inspectors' Training Class will be opened from Monday, the 4th January 1926, at No. 2, Convent Lane, Intally, Calcutta. Applications for admission to the class are invited from qualified candidates. The Matriculation Examination or the B Final Examination is the prescribed minimum qualification for admission, preference being given to those candidates possessing a recognisable engineering qualification or who have passed the Intermediate Science Examination. Admissions will be made on the recommendations of a selection board, which will allot on the basis of the native districts of applicants. The last date for receiving applications is the 28th November 1925.

2. The full course of training consists of two parts, (a) elementary hygiene and (b) sanitary engineering, requiring six months for each part, with a fee of Rs. 30 for each part. The examination fee for each part is Rs. 5.

3. Every application for admission to the class must be addressed to the Director of Public Health, Bengal, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta, and must contain the following particulars :—

(a) Applicant's name in full.
(b) Applicant's religion and caste.
(c). Applicant's age on 1st January 1926.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The second quinquennial valuation of the fund has been completed by the Actuary to the Government of India and his report discloses very favourable results. For forms of application and rules of the Fund apply to the Accountant-General, Central Revenues, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

Notice.

[Under section 10A of Act IX (B. C.) of 1879.]

WHEREAS under sections 7 and 35 of the Court of Wards Act, IX (B. C.) of 1879, as amended up to date, the Court of Wards has assumed charge of the property of Sreemati Bhabatarini Debi, widow of late Babu Girija Kanta Lahiri Chaudhury and proprietor of the estate known as Kalipur (Madhyam Taraf) in the district of Mymensingh.

Notice is hereby given under section 10A of the said Act that all creditors having claims against the said Sreemati Bhabatarini Debi or her immovable property are hereby required to submit the same in writing to the General Manager, Mymensingh Wards' estates, at his office at Mymensingh within six months from the date of publication of this notice.

Creditors are also hereby warned that claims not submitted as required by this notice, are liable to be deemed to have duly discharged/ceased to carry interest.

H. J. TWYNAM, Collector.

Mymensingh, the 21st October 1925. (1948—4)

Notice.

UNDER the orders of the Government of Bengal a competitive examination for the appointment of a native of India to the Bengal Pilot Service, will be held at the Port Office, 15-1, Strand Road, Calcutta, in or about the month of March 1926. The expression "native of India" means any person born and domiciled within the dominions of His Majesty in India, or within the territories of Indian Princes tributary to or in alliance with His Majesty or of parents habitually resident in India, and not established there for temporary purposes only.

2. Each candidate must produce satisfactory evidence to show that—

(i) He is not less than 18 or more than 22 years of age on the date of examination.

(ii) He has passed the Matriculation Examination of an Indian University or the Cambridge Junior Certificate Examination, or some other public examination regarded as equivalent or, in the alternative, attended a recognised school and was at the date of leaving school a member of the class preparing for such examination.

(iii) He has served at sea for four years in a merchant vessel employed in foreign trade as a seaman or apprentice, and his conduct on board has been satisfactory.

(iv) He is of good health and physically fit to work as a Pilot and is of good moral character.

3. Candidates will be examined in Navigation and Seamanship up to the standard of a 2nd Mate in the Mercantile Marine and successful candidates will, before being appointed, have to undergo a further medical examination as to their physical fitness by the Medical Board sitting at Calcutta.

4. The cadre of the Bengal Pilot Service, exclusive of leadsmen, is being reduced to 50. The person to be appointed in 1926 will have no claim, even though otherwise qualified, to be promoted from the post of leadsman to that of Mate Pilot, if such promotion has the effect of increasing the strength of the service beyond the figure of 50.

5. The question of the revision of the remuneration of the members of the service is now under consideration. The person to be appointed in 1926 will be subject to such terms and conditions as to remuneration as may be laid down in the final orders by Government on the re-organisation of the service and in particular will not be eligible for the grant of overseas pay in case it is decided to include such pay in the emoluments of the service.

6. Applications will be received by the Port Officer, Calcutta, at his office at 15-1, Strand Road up to the 30th November 1925. Further particulars may be obtained on application to him.

R. DOUGLAS,

Deputy Secretary to the Government of Bengal,

PUPLIC HEALTH.

No. 2080P.H.—The 11th November 1925.—In pursuance of section 37F of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), it is hereby notified for general information that the scheme submitted by the Commissioners of the Naihati Municipality, in the district of the 24-Parganas, for the extension of the existing water supply in the municipality has been approved by the Governor in Council and that the particulars of the said scheme are as follows:—

24-Parganas.

(a) The scheme provides for two elevated steel tanks erected on steel staging, each capable of holding 60,000 gallons of water, and distribution mains in Naihati, Kantalpara and the Garifa ward. In pursuance of an agreement entered into by the Municipal Commissioners with the Gourepore Company, Ltd., and the Nuddea Mills Co., Ltd., the said companies will pump into the said tanks a quantity of water not less than 150,000 gallons and not more than 240,000 gallons per day. So no machinery has been provided for.

(b) The estimated cost of the scheme is Rs. 1,57,607.

(c) The additional annual cost of maintenance is Rs. 1,000.

(d) The capital cost of the scheme will be met as follows:—

	Rs.
Municipal fund	50,000
Government grant	49,000
Contribution by the Gourepore Mills Co., Ltd.	24,000
House connection fees	20,000
Loan from Government	15,000
	1,58,000

(e) The loan will be repaid with interest at 7 per cent. per annum in sixty half-yearly instalments of Rs. 601-5-3.

(f) The annual additional maintenance cost and the charges on account of repayment of loan with interest will be met from water rates.

(g) The water rate will be 3¼ per cent. on the annual value of holdings.

(h) The incidence of water rate per head of population is nearly annas 5-5.

2. The said scheme will be taken into consideration on or after the 1st February 1926, and any objections or suggestions with regard thereto which may be received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

No. 7051Com.—The 7th November 1925.—The following draft of amendments which, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council and in exercise of the power conferred by section 9 of the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), the Governor in Council intends to make in the rules for regulating the importation, possession and transport of petroleum, published under the Government of Bengal, Marine Department, notification No. 143Mne., dated the 30th November 1914, is published, as required by sub-section (1) of section 24 of the said Act, for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby, in supersession of Government of Bengal, Commerce Department, notification No. 3433Com., dated the 9th May 1925.

2. The draft amendments will be taken into consideration on or after the 12th February 1926, and any objections or suggestions with regard thereto received by the undersigned will be duly considered :—

Draft amendment.

In Chapter I of Part II of the said rules—

(a) For rules 6 and 7 the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"6. Every tank or other receptacle for the storage of petroleum in bulk, except a tank or receptacle which is not of sufficient capacity to contain ten thousand gallons of petroleum and is so situated as not to be liable to cause danger in the event of the petroleum being ignited, shall be electrically connected with the earth in an efficient manner by means of not less than two separate and distinct connections placed at opposite extremities of such tank or receptacle and the roof and all metal connections of such tank or receptacle shall be in efficient electrical contact with the body of such tank or receptacle.

Explanation :—A tank or receptacle shall be deemed to be so situated as not to be liable to cause danger in the event of the petroleum being ignited, if it is not in close proximity to any other tank or receptacle, or to any building not forming part of the installation, and if it is surrounded by a wall or embankment or sunk in an excavation, the enclosure thus formed being sufficient to contain the whole contents of the tank or receptacle.

7. Not less than once in every year the connections and contacts referred to in rule 6 shall be inspected and tested by the licensee of the tank or receptacle in the manner prescribed by the Chief Inspector of Explosives in India, and a record of such inspections and tests shall be maintained by such licensee, and such record shall be produced on demand by the Chief Inspector or an Inspector of Explosives."

(b) Rule 8 shall be cancelled.

CALCUTTA, the 9th November 1925.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 4T.B.—The 12th November 1925.—The following list of text-books written in accordance with the revised curriculum for Moslem primary schools or maktabs, published with Government notification No. 3730Edn., dated the 8th December 1924, and approved for use in all classes of Moslem primary schools or maktabs in this Presidency for the year 1926, is published for general information. It may be adopted for instruction of Moslem pupils in schools in which the number of such pupils is more than 50 per cent. of the roll number.

E. F. OATEN,
Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

Introductory notes.

1. Any vernacular, e.g., Urdu, may be substituted for Bengali where the controlling authorities of the school consider that circumstances justify it.

2. The compulsory subjects in all schools (maktabs) will be the following :—

(a) Reading,
(b) Writing,
(c) Arithmetic,
(d) Geography,
(e) History,
(f) Hygiene (for boys) or Hygiene and Domestic Economy (for girls),
(g) Observation lessons for boys, or needle work for girls,
(h) Koran, Ritual* of Islam and Urdu.

The scholarship examination will be held on the first six subjects only.

3. For the Primary Final Examination any two of the following optional subjects should be taken :—

(a) Manual work,
(b) English, and
(c) Zamindari and Mahajani accounts.

4. The course will be completed in five years and pupils at the completion of the course will take the Primary Final Examination.

5. Class IV of a school or maktab will correspond to the present class III of a high or a middle English school. A boy from a school or maktab intending to enter a high or a middle English school should leave at the end of class III.

6. In selecting text-books for maktabs preference should be given to those by Moslem authors.

NOTE.—District Boards in charge of primary education are authorised to select text-books from the approved list. The boards may select from the list approved by the Department a small number of text-books for use in both board and aided primary schools and maktabs under their control, care being taken to discourage anything in the shape of exclusive prescription and to secure that selection is made with the utmost care so as to avoid undue patronage. Inspecting officers should refrain from recommending any books to the teachers of primary schools and maktabs for selection and, in giving advice to District Boards in the matter of selection of text-books, should bear in mind that the system of exclusive prescription is to be discouraged.

(g) Observation Lessons (for boys).

Class I—

Ovservation lessons.—To be begun by conversation lessons on the things in the school such as benches, desks, stools ; children measuring the benches, desks, etc., collecting leaves, flowers and fruits from plants and trees growing in the locality and comparing them as to shape, colour, smell, number, etc. Additional observation lessons should be given in correlation with other class subjects.

Class II—

Ovservation lessons.—Collection and observation of plants such as may be available in the locality, comparing the different parts of each, root, stem, leaves, bark, flowers and fruits with those of another. Collecting crop plants growing in the season. Conversation about the food materials obtained from each. The organs of our body and their uses ; children measuring and comparing the respective lengths of their arms, legs, fingers and their height. The teacher testing their eye-sight, power of hearing.

Class III—

Observation lessons.—Growth of plants to be observed by growing any kind of pulse and paddy in pots or in small plots. To observe the roots and seed leaves and mark the difference. Experiments to show the effect of light and moisture on growth. Collecting other plants having roots and seed leaves like those grown. Collecting and observing plants having creeping or climbing stems. Plants growing in water, plants producing no flowers. Observing leaf buds and flower buds and parts of a flower.

Class IV—

Nature study based on school gardening. (Recommended for rural schools, optional.) —Laying out a garden, a plot of 4 to 6 square cubits, for each scholar, or if the compound is not spacious enough, a common plot for all, for purposes of experiment. Seed testing—showing 50 or 100 seeds of each of several kinds of plants, paddy, pulses, jute, mustard, according to the time of the year in each plot or separate parts of the common plot. Each scholar to keep a diary in which to note down the date of sowing, the time taken for germination, the percentage of germination, the rate of growth after germination. In each stage of growth the scholars will pull up a specimen and observe the roots, their uses and growth, the stems and leaves and their uses and structure : the flowers—their parts and uses, the methods of fertilization, the fruits and seeds. All these to be noted in the diary. To observe the kinds of soil—clayey, sandy, loamy; the power of each to absorb and retain moisture. Plant food in the soil. The effect of manures, showing the effect of different manures as cowdung, oilcake, ashes and nitrate of soda on the growth of plants, of phosphates on fruits, etc. The plots should be drawn to scale and all results recorded in the note book.

Class V—

Nature study based on school gardening (optional).—Boys may work in pairs, one of class IV and another of class V if single plots are available, otherwise all on a common plot, one being set apart for boys of class IV for experiments only and another for those of class V. Plans of work to be prepared in September every year ; the plots to be sown with particular seeds should be set out to scale in the note book ; plans should include also indoor work, such as raising early seedlings of onions, cauliflowers, cabbages in pots or boxes. Following operations to be explained :—Digging—its effect, purpose : to sow at depths suitable to various seeds ; to prepare trenches—manuring effect and purpose ; plant, food, seeding crops to be shown—(1) jute, (2) aus paddy, (3) maize, (4) aman paddy, (5) pulses, (6) mustard, (7) potato, (8) gram, also vegetables—brinjal, radish, turnip, cauliflower, onion, chilli, flowers grown on borders of each plot—arrangements should be made to produce a continuous supply of vegetables throughout the year. Lessons on rotation, on insect pests and insecticides. Records to be kept of the quantity of seed used and of the produce.

N. B.—No text-books are required for the use of pupils in the above classes.

The following books may be used by teachers for the purpose of oral instruction :—

Classes I and II—

Prakriti Parichay. Parts I and II. G. Das Gupta and Priyada Ranjan Roy. (Ashutosh Library, Calcutta.)

Prathamic Paryyabekshan Path, Part I. Satya Ranjan Sarkar. (Prabhat Chandra Mukherji, Calcutta.)

Paryyabekshan Pathmala, Parts I and II. Aziz Bukht Choudhury. (Prabhat Ch. Datta.)

Classes III to IV—

Prakiti Parichay. Parts III and IV. G. Das Gupta and Priyada Ranjan Roy. (Ashutosh Library, Calcutta.)

Classes III and V—

Paryyabekshan Pathmala. Parts III and IV. Aziz Bukht Choudhury. (Prabhat Ch. Datta.)

Class IV—

Maktab Madrasa Prakriti Path, Part I. G. M. Farrokh Ahmad. (Mukhdumi Library, Calcutta.)

Class V—

Maktab Madrasa Prakriti Path, Part II. G. M. Farrokh Ahmad. (Mukhdumi Library, Calcutta.)

Classes IV and V—

Prakriti Path. J. A. Taylor. (Macmillan & Co., Ltd., Calcutta.) Each School should have a copy of Macmillan's Natural History Pictures together with the hand-book.

Bijnan Prabesh. Rai Sahib Jagadananda Roy. (The Book Company, Calcutta.)

Classes I to V—

Adarsha Maktab Pathshala Bastupath. Kazi Wayazuddin Ahmad. (Provincial Library, Dacca.)

II. OPTIONAL SUBJECTS.

(a) Manual Work (Optional).

Class II—

(a) Clay modelling—simple household utensils, pottery, etc., modelling in connection with the beginnings of Geography. The children should model from picture or from models made by the teacher.

(b) Stick-lying with the use of seeds to shapes shown on a wall chart. The following shapes may be used :—

An umbrella, a house, a fence and gate, a door, a window, a house with fence and gate, a tree (with half stick), a verandah of a house, a man, a cart, a cow. Build up a hut from several new elements, children working together.

Class III—

Tear out of paper, according to picture chart, a wall, a house, a man, a tree, a boat, a large pucca house, a cow, a hen, a vulture, a horse, a bullock-cart, a bridge, a man with a lathi, a man with a bundle on his head. Multiply them by folding the paper and so build up a street, a railway engine, carriage, etc. Each model may be improved with pencil or colours. Make a book (using a pin for stitching), an envelope. The teacher may teach any paper folding which he knows.

Remarks*.—Wall charts and models.

Class IV—

Clay-work combined with sticks. The models suggested in the first and second years should be made with clay and sticks combined and any other materials available. All materials may be used, e.g., straw for roof, leaves for plants, paper for man's clothes. Scissors and knives may be used.

Remarks*.—Wall charts and models.

Class V—

(1) Construct a cardboard ruler graduated in inches, half the ruler in half inches, quarter of the ruler in quarter inches, a sixth in eighths and over in tenths.

(2) Construct a cardboard scale showing 1 inch to a foot up to 3 feet. Measure and draw plans of furniture to scale.

(3) Draw circles and simple geometrical figures (e.g., triangles, square, oblong) to scale, cut out in cardboard. Save these models for future experiments.

(4) Construct a cardboard 45° set square—copy direct from model—make another half size. Construct a cardboard 30° and 60° set square. Refer to angles 1, 2 and 3 and make them at each corner.

(5) Draw and cut out triangles using set-squares.

(6) Construct and cut out a protractor.

(7) Graduate and cut out a thermometer scale :—copy from actual object.

(8) Draw and cut out the following flat objects—A box with sides flattened out, a clock, a house with sides flattened out, a door, a window, a fence (made of pieces of paper cut to scale), a gate, a bridge, with pillars, with arches, a picture frame, etc.

All that the undivided half part or share of the judgment-debtor Lalit Mohan Ghosh of and in all that one-storied brick-built messuage tenement and dwelling house together with the piece or parcel of land thereunto belonging and on part whereof the same is erected and built containing by estimation three cottas and four chitaks, be the same a little more or less, situate lying at and being premises No 2-1, Sristidhar Dutt Lane (formerly No. 2, Sristidhar Dutt's Lane), in the town of Calcutta in Sutanaty, and rent-free and butted and bounded on the north partly by Girish Chandra Bose's tenanted house and partly by the house of Kali Pada Chatterji, on the west by Raja Bagan Junction Road, on the south partly by Khetter Mohan Mukherji's dwelling house and partly by Nirode Das, tenanted house and on the east by Sristidhar Dutt Lane.

It appears from the search at the Registry Office from 1865 to 1925 that the abovementioned property is subject to the following encumbrances :—

(1) Mortgage, dated 12th May 1910, executed by Naba Gopal Ghosh, Lalit Mohan Ghosh and one Srimaty Basanta Kumari Dasi, since deceased, in favour of Srimati Adharmani Dasi.

(2) Indenture of Assignment, dated 5th June 1915, executed by the said Srimati Adharmoni Dasi in favour of one Bhupendra Nath Sadhu.

(3) Indenture of Assignment, dated 14th May 1920, executed by the said Bhupendra Nath Sadhu in favour of one Manmatha Nath Shah.

The above encumbrances are in respect of the entire premises No. 2-1, Sristidhar Dutt Lane.

It further appears that the said Manmatha Nath Shah instituted a suit thereon in the said High Court being Suit No. 1107 of 1922 against the defendants wherein a preliminary mortgage decree was made on the 19th July 1923 and pursuant thereto the Registrar of the said High Court made his report whereby he found and reported that Rs. 5,000 would be due to the said Manmatha Nath Shah on the 18th day of January 1925 as the last date of payment thereof and that there have been no further proceedings thereafter in the said suit.

The sum for the recovery of which the sale has been ordered is Rs. 1,374-3 being the amount payable under the said decree, besides the costs of execution proceedings.

The conditions of sale may be seen at the office of the Sheriff of Calcutta on the ground floor of the Court House or at the office of Messrs. Das and Basu, attorneys for the judgment-debtor, at No. 12, Old Post Office Street, on any day before the sale and will be produced at the sale.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The second quinquennial valuation of the fund has been completed by the Actuary to the Government of India and his report discloses very favourable results. For forms of application and rules of the Fund apply to the Accountant-General, Central Revenues, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

Notice.

PART V.

Acts of the Indian Legislature assented to by the Governor General.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Indian Legislature received the assent of the Governor General on the 23rd September, 1925, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT NO. XXXI OF 1925.

An Act to provide for the grading of coal and for the grant of certificates for coal intended for export.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the grading of coal and for the grant of certificates for coal intended for export; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Coal Grading Board Act, 1925.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Board" means the Coal Grading Board constituted under section 3;

(b) "export" means the shipment of coal as cargo from a port in British India;

(c) "graded colliery" means a colliery the grade of all or any of the seams or of a part of any seam of which has been determined under the provisions of section 4 and is entered in the grade list maintained in accordance with the provisions of section 5;

(d) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act; and (e) "secretary" means the secretary of the Board appointed under sub-section (4) of section 3.

Constitution of Coal Grading Board.

3. (1) As soon as may be after the commencement of this Act, the Governor General in Council shall cause to be constituted a Board consisting of the following members, namely:—

(a) the Chief Mining Engineer to the Railway Board; and

(b) four persons nominated respectively by the Indian Mining Associaiton, the Indian Mining Federation, the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce:

Provided that, if within the period prescribed in this behalf any such body fails to make any nomination which it is entitled to make under this sub-section, the Governor General in Council may himself appoint a member or members, as the case may be, to fill the vacancy or vacancies.

(2) The Board so constituted shall be a body corporate by the name of the Coal Grading Board, having perpetual succession and a common seal with power to acquire and hold property both moveable and immoveable and to contract and shall by the said name sue and be sued.

(3) The Chief Mining Engineer to the Railway Board shall be ex officio President of the Board.

(4) The Secretary of the Board shall be a person, not being a member of the Board, appointed by the Board.

Power to grade collieries, to revise grading and to grant certificates.

4. (1) On the application of any colliery and on payment of the prescribed fee, the Board shall, in such manner as may be prescribed, determine the grade of coal of all or any of the seams or of a part of a seam of such colliery, and shall by notice in writing inform the colliery of the grade so determined.

(2) The colliery may, within thirty days from the receipt of the said notice, lodge with the Board an objection to the order passed under sub-section (1) determining the grade of any coal, and the Board shall, on payment of the prescribed fee and after further inspection and analysis, decide such objection; the decision of the Board shall be final and shall not be questioned in any Court.

(3) Where the grade of any coal has been determined under the provisions of this section, the Board shall, on the request of the colliery, furnish a certificate in the prescribed form, specifying the grade of such coal.

Maintenance and publication of grade list.

5. (1) The Board shall maintain a grade list, in such form and containing such particulars as may be prescribed, of coal the grade of which has been determined in accordance with the provisions of section 4, but shall not enter in such list any coal in respect of which the colliery has, after the determination or decision of the Board under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) of section 4, give notice in writing that such coal should not be entered in the grade list.

(2) The grade list shall be published in such manner as may be prescribed.

Grant of export certificate

6. (1) On the application of any graded colliery desiring to expott coal and on payment of the prescribed fee, the Board shall, if it is satisfied after such inspection as it may deem necessary with the quality and condition of the coal, grant a certificate of shipment in the prescribed form.

(2) Such fee shall not exceed one anna per ton of coal.

Powers on inspection.

7. Any member of the Board and any person authorised in this behalf by the Board may, for the purposes of this Act, enter at any time in and upon any colliery, storage bin, truck, vehicle, vessel or other place where there is coal and inspect, test and take sample of such coal.

Grant of rebate and preferences.

8. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any law for the time being in force, a rebate of any charges, including freight, fees, tolls, dues or rates, may be granted in respect of coal for which a certificate of shipment has been granted under the provisions of section 6, and, subject to such restrictions as may be prescribed, preference may be given in the supply of wagons for forwarding coal for export from a graded colliery.

Application of fees.

9. Subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, the proceeds of fees received by the Board shall be applied to meeting the expenses of the Board.

Validity of acts of Board.

10. No act done or proceeding taken under this Act shall be questioned on the ground merely of the existence of any vacancy in or any defect in the constitution of the Board.

Protection for acts done under Act.

11. No suit or other legal proceeding shall be instituted against any person in respect of anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Act.

Power of the Governor General in Council to make rules.

12. (1) The Governor General in Council may, after previous publication, by notification in the Gazette of India, make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect all or any of the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :—

(a) for prescribing the time within which nominations shall be made under section 3, whether in the first instance or on the occurrence of vacancies ;

(b) for prescribing the term of office of members of the Board ;

(c) for prescribing the circumstances in which and the authority by which any member may be removed from the Board ;

(d) for regulating the appointment of officers of and the keeping and publication of accounts by the Board ;

(e) for prescribing the procedure on application under section 4 and the principles for grading coal ;

(f) for prescribing the form of and particulars to be entered in and manner of publication of the grade list ;

(g) for prescribing the procedure of the Board in deciding any objection lodged against any order passed under section 4 determining the grade of any coal ;

(h) for prescribing the form of certificate to be granted under section 6 and the procedure on application under that section ;

(i) for prescribing the restrictions subject to which preference may be given under section 8 ;

(j) for prescribing the fees for any inspection or analysis required for the purposes of this Act or payable under any of the provisions of this Act ; and

(k) for prescribing the remuneration of members and regulating the expenditure of the Board.

PART VI.

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 25th August, 1925 :—

NO. 32 OF 1925.

A Bill to provide for the punishment of corrupt practices by or relating to members of legislative bodies constituted under the Government of India Act.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the punishment of corrupt practices by or relating to members of legislative bodies constituted under the Government of India Act; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Legislative Bodies Corrupt Practices Act, 1925.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoint.

Insertion of new Chapter IXB in the Indian Penal Code.

2. After Chapter IXA of the Indian Penal Code the following Chapter shall be inserted, namely :— XLV of 1860.

"CHAPTER IXB.

Of Offences by or relating to members of Legislative Bodies.

"Member of a legislative body" defined.

171J. For the purposes of this Chapter "member of a legislative body" means a member of either Chamber of the Indian Legislature or of a Legislative Council constituted under the Government of India Act when acting as such member or as a member of any body appointed by such Chamber or Council.

Bribery of members of legislative bodies.

171K. (1) Whoever—

(b) accepts either for himself or for any other person any gratification as a reward for doing or forbearing to do any act as a member of a legislative body or for inducing or attempting to induce any other person to do or forbear to do any act as such member, commits an offence under this section.

(2) A person who offers, or agrees to give, or offers or attempts to procure, a gratification shall be deemed to give a gratification.

(3) A person who obtains or agrees to accept or attempts to obtain a gratification shall be deemed to accept a gratification, and a person who accepts a gratification as a motive for doing what he does not intend to do, or as a reward for doing what he has not done, shall be deemed to have accepted the gratification as a reward.

Punishment for offence under section 171K.

171L. Whoever commits an offence under section 171K shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years, or with fine, or with both."

Amendment of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

3. (1) In section 196 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, after the figures and letter "IXA" the word, figures, and letter "or IXB" shall be inserted. V of 1898.

(2) In Schedule II to the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, after the entries relating to Chapter IXA of the Indian Penal Code, the following shall be inserted, namely :— V of 1898. XLV of 1860.

"CHAPTER IXB.

OFFENCES BY OR RELATING TO MEMBERS OF LEGISLATIVE BODIES.

171L	Bribery of members of legislative bodies.	Shall not arrest without warrant	Summons.	Bailable.	Not compoundable.	Imprisonment for three years, or fine, or both.	Court of Sessions, Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In paragraph 91 of their report, the Reforms Inquiry Committee recommended that the corrupt influencing of votes of members of the legislatures by bribery, intimidation and the like should be made penal offences under the ordinary criminal law, and paragraph 124 indicates that this recommendation was the unanimous recommendation of the Committee as a whole. The tender of a bribe to, or the receiving of a bribe by, a member of a legislature in India as an inducement for him to act in a particular manner as a member of the legislature is not at present an offence. On the other hand the intimidation of a member for this purpose which was also mentioned by the Committee is already an offence under sections 503, 506 and 507 of the Indian Penal Code.

The Bill proposes to penalise—

(1) the offering of a bribe to a member of a legislature in connection with his functions as such ; and

(2) the receipt or demand by a member of a legislature of a bribe in connection with his functions as such.

The definition adopted for the offence follows that in section 171B of the Code in regard to the offence of bribing a voter at an election, and in order to prevent vexatious prosecutions the offence has been included in section 196 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Notice under section 43 of Bengal Act, V of 1911.

Scheme No. XXVI.—From Darpanarayan Tagore Street to Pathuriaghata Street (portion of proposed public street No. XIV).

The Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta hereby give notice that a street scheme, viz., scheme No. XXVI, being a portion of alignment No. XIV as sanctioned by Government, has been framed for the area bounded as follows :—

On the North—From the north-western corner of 18, Pathuriaghata Street, running eastwards along the southern edge of Pathuriaghata Street to the north-eastern corner of Nos. 42 to 45, Pathuriaghata Street.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Monthly Weather and Crop Report of Bengal for October 1925.

I. Character of the season.—During the first-half of the month wet weather prevailed accompanied by general rain throughout the province. The fall was generally above the average excepting in the Rajshahi Division. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Preparatory tillage for and the sowing of the spring crops commenced under favourable conditions. The sowings of the early varieties were, however, delayed in some of the districts owing to heavy rainfall. Dry and sunny weather towards the latter part of the month facilitated the field operations a good deal. Reaping of transplanted autumn paddy continued in the West Bengal districts.

III. State of standing crops.—Good rainfall helped the flowering especially of the late transplanted paddy and improved the prospects of standing crops with the exception of cotton which suffered by excessive rains.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The outturn of sugarcane was estimated at 83 per cent. of the normal. The prospects of deep-water paddy are generally reported to be satisfactory and those of transplanted variety fair.

V. Damage to standing crops.—No appreciable damage to crops was reported during the month.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of live-stock was fair. Sporadic cases of cattle-disease were, however, reported from eleven districts.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Scarcity of fodder has not been reported from any part of the province.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second-half of the month the price of common rice of the cheapest quality rose in 7 districts, fell in 7 and remained stationary in the rest. It ranged from 5 seers per rupee at Rajshahi and Faridpur to 7 seers at Midnapore.

IX. Condition of agricultural population.—The condition of agricultural population was reported to be fair on the whole.

In paragraph 2 of rule 8 of the said rules after the word "Asiatics" add the words "or persons who can speak Hindustani ".

No. 104 Marine.—The 17th November 1925.—The following draft of rules, which in exercise of the power conferred by clause (eee) of sub-section (1) of section 6 of the Indian Ports Act, 1908 (XV of 1908), the Governor in Council proposes to make for regulating the bunkering of vessels with liquid fuel in the port of Calcutta, is published as required by sub-section (2) of that section for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby. The draft rules will be taken into consideration on or after the 20th December 1925, and any objections or suggestions with regard thereto which may be received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

Draft Rules.

Bunkering of vessels with petroleum liquid fuel by means of barges will be permitted between sunrise and sunset at moorings in the stream, at the Commissioners' Jetties and subject to the special sanction of the Commissioners' Traffic Manager in the Docks, subject to the following conditions, namely :—

(1) While bunkering of liquid fuel is in progress in any vessel, the Master or First Mate of such vessel shall be present on board and it shall be his duty to see that these rules are complied with and that all reasonable precautions for safety are observed.

(2) A ship's officer shall be on watch and an attendant shall be stationed alongside the flexible connecting pipe while bunkering is in progress.

(3) No smoking, cooking, naked lights or forges shall be allowed on the vessel's decks while bunkering is in progress.

(4) A suitable gutter or other contrivance shall be placed under the connecting service pipe to prevent any oil from dripping into the river or the dock basin.

(5) Masters and owners of vessels receiving liquid fuel and suppliers of liquid fuel for bunkering shall personally and severally be held liable for any damage that shall have been caused to cargo or property belonging to or in charge of the Port Commissioners by any leakage of fuel oil, due to or arising from negligence or any defect in or failure of apparatus or appliances belonging to the vessels or the suppliers.

(6) The barges used shall conform to the specification drawn up by the Chief Inspector of Explosives, India (vide Appendix A), and have been approved and licensed by the Port Commissioners.

(7) While bunkering is in progress, all other lighters, barges, etc, that may be alongside the vessel shall be removed to a safe distance.

(8) An attendant shall be on duty at the pump throughout the time of bunkering.

(9) The bilges of an oil barge shall not be pumped when such barge is in any confined waters or alongside any bulk oil ship or tug.

(10) The barges shall carry an ample supply of buckets of sand.

APPENDIX A.

Specification for Barges to carry fuel flashing above 150° F. (Abel's close test).

Save with the special sanction of the Chief Inspector of Explosives no petroleum barge fitted with a tank or tanks will be approved and licensed by the proper authority unless such vessel is constructed in accordance with the following specification in respect of—

A.—Self-propelled barge.
B.—Towed or dumb barge.

A.—Specifications for Self-propelled Barge.

(1) Tonnage and dimensions.—The maximum carrying capacity of a barge for inland or harbour purposes shall not exceed 500 tons and shall be constructed within the following overall dimensions, namely :—

Length—148′ 0″. Breadth—27′ 0″
Depth—11′ 6″.

(2) Compartments.—For all carrying capacities above 150 tons the barge shall be divided into seven separate compartments when the motive power consists of an internal combustion engine and eight when driven by steam. In the case of barges of 150 tons and under, the number of separate tanks may be limited to two pairs.

For internal combustion engine.	For steam engine.
1. Fore peak.	1. Fore peak.
2. Store room.	2. Store room.
3, 4 and 5. Tanks in pairs.	3, 4 and 5. Tanks in pairs.
6. Motor space.	6. Cofferdam.
7. After peak.	7. Engine and boiler space.
	8. After peak.

(3) Decks.—Each tank shall be divided into two separate compartments by a centre line oil tight bulk head. Gas tight hatches of not less than 5′ 0″ × 5′ 0″ shall be provided for easy access to each separate compartment. A similar hatch shall be provided for easy access to the store room. In the case of the fore hold after peak 2′ 6″ diameter manholes shall be provided.

(4) A skylight of ample area shall be provided above the engine space. Doors shall be provided in the engine space casing on either side of the deck for easy access to the engine room.

(5) A small bridge shall be provided forward of the engine room sufficiently high to insure efficient navigation.

(6) Bollards shall be fitted at convenient places along the deck.

(7) Cargo Pump.—The pump for discharging the cargo shall be situated under the bridge and shall be either centrifugal or gear driven plunger type. In the case of a steam-propelled barge the pump may be driven by steam.

Unless a separate power unit is provided for driving the gear driven pump, the pump must be arranged in such a way for easy connection to the main motor engine. The pump must be of an approved make, but may be of any capacity and must be provided with a spring loaded relief valve on the discharge side of the pump, the valve to have an area of at least 60 per cent. that of the discharge pipe and adjusted to relieve at a pressure of 60 lbs. per square inch connected by a pipe back to the tanks.

(8) Pipes.—Suction pipes shall run along the bottom frames with a separate branch to the after part of each compartment and the valves controlling each compartment shall be operated from the deck by an extended spindle running up through the deck and deck gland box. The discharge pipe shall be fitted on deck and carried amidships with both port and starboard discharge, a bypass shall be fitted so that the barge can be loaded without the aid of the cargo pump. The barge may, however, be loaded through the hatches.

(9) Engine.—The engine, whether internal combustion or steam, shall be of an approved type, and sufficient in power to propel the barge at not less than 7 knots.

(10) Construction.—The hull shall be constructed of steel in accordance with the latest engineering practice to Lloyd's requirements for scantlings on the transverse system of framing, of the flush deck type with motor casing and deck house aft. All rivetting shall be double. Suitable web frames, side stringers and side keelsons shall be fitted in the tanks and engine room space.

- (11) For all other constructional details the standard specification shall be followed.

B.—Specifications for Towed or Dumb Barge.

(1) The maximum carrying capacity for a barge for inland or harbour purposes shall not exceed 500 tons and shall be constructed within the following dimensions, namely :—

Length—100′ 0″ Breadth—28′ 6″

Depth—13′ 0″

(2) Compartments.—For all carrying capacities above 150 tons, the barge shall be divided into six compartments. In the case of a barge of 150 tons or under, the number of separate tanks may be limited to two.

1. Chain locker or fore peak.
2. Hold or store room.
3, 4 and 5. Tanks in pairs.
6. Cargo pump and/or boiler space.

(3) Each tank shall be divided into two separate compartments by a centre line bulkhead. If steam used for discharging the cargo is derived from boiler on board a cofferdam must be arranged between Nos. 5 and 6 making 7 compartments in all.

(4) Decks.—Gas tight hatches of not less than 5′ 0″ × 5′ 0″ shall be provided for easy access to each separate compartment. A similar hatch shall be provided for easy access to the fore hold or store room. A manhole of not less than 2′ 6″ shall be provided for the chain locker or fore peak.

(5) A skylight of ample area shall be provided above the cargo pump space. Access to the pump room shall be made through a deck manhole aft the steering wheel.

(6) Bollards shall be fitted at convenient places along the deck.

(7) Cargo pump.—The pump for discharging the cargo shall be situated in the space provided in the after part of the barge and shall be either centrifugal, gear driven plunger type or steam.

(8) Pipes.—Pipes shall be arranged as in the case of self-propelled barges.

(9) Construction.—The hull shall be constructed as in the case of self-propelled barges and in accordance with the standard specification."

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The second quinquennial valuation of the fund has been completed by the Actuary to the Government of India and his report discloses very favourable results. For forms of application and rules of the Fund apply to the Accountant-General, Central Revenues, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

From—A. W. COOK, Esq., C.I.E., I.C.S., Commissioner of the Burdwan Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Local Self-Government Department.

I have the honour to submit herewith two statements, one showing the warehouses licensed under the Fire Brigade Act, I of 1893, in the Howrah Municipality, and the other showing the receipts and disbursements on account of the same for the year 1924-25.

2. A copy of letter No. 1515G., dated the 20th July 1925, from the Chairman, Howrah Municipality, is enclosed.

No. 1515G., dated Howrah, the 20th July 1925.

From—BABU CHARU CHANDRA SINHA, M.A., B.L., Chairman, Howrah Municipality,
To—The Magistrate of Howrah.

As desired in your letter No. 2629-G., dated the 24th June 1925, I have the honour to submit herewith two statements showing the warehouses licensed under the Fire Brigade Act, I of 1893, and the receipts and disbursements on account of the same for the year 1924-25. The former statement has been prepared in accordance with the instructions contained in the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department, No. 470-M., dated the 14th February 1917, to the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, a copy of which was forwarded under his memo. No. 137-M.—XXIII-8, dated the 16th February 1917.

The collection of fees works out to be 87·4 per cent. of the current demand and 92·3 per cent. of the arrear demand, as against 84 per cent. of the current demand and 98·2 per cent. of the arrear demand of the year 1923-24.

The demand for the year under report amounted to Rs. 26,631, and the collection to Rs. 23,280 as against Rs. 29,496 and Rs. 24,869 for demand and collection respectively, for the year 1923-24.

The contribution, which the Commissioners were called upon to pay for the maintenance of the Fire Brigade, amounted to Rs. 50,002.

The direction contained in the first proviso to section 10 of the Act was followed.

No. F. B. 794, dated Calcutta, the 15th September 1925.

From—C. A. TEGART, ESQ., C.I.E., M.V.O., Commissioner of Police, Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Local Self-Government Department (Municipal Branch).

I have the honour to submit herewith the report of the Chief Officer of the Calcutta Fire Brigade for the financial year ending 31st March 1925.

The Chief Officer's report gives the full details in connection with the working of the Brigade.

No. F. B. 789, dated Calcutta, the 15th September 1925.

From—CAPTAIN BERNARD A. WESTBROOK, Chief Officer, Fire Brigade, Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Local Self-Government Department (Municipal Branch).

(Through C. A. TEGART, ESQ., C.I.E., M.V.O., Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.)

I have the honour to submit the following report on the working of the Calcutta Fire Brigade for the year ending the 31st March 1925.

The outstanding feature of the year has been the exceptionally small number of serious fires as compared with the previous year; consequently the fire loss is proportionately smaller. One of the reasons for this is undoubtedly the small quantity of jute which has been stored in the warehouses in this area during the year under review.

2. Financial Statement.—The statement of receipts and expenditure and payments made by the municipalities within the jurisdiction of the Fire Brigade and Licensed Warehouse Act, I of 1893, is given in Appendix I.

3. Fires, etc.—The total number of calls for fires or supposed fires during the year was 559, being a decrease of 84 as compared with the previous year, and an increase of 142 over the average for the past fourteen years.

They are classified as under :—

Fires	440
False alarms, wilful	63
False alarms, with good intent, accidental or due to electrical defects.	47
False alarms caused by lightning on the Fire Alarm circuit	4
Calls for special service	5
Total ...	559

On one hundred and thirteen days 1 fire or supposed fire occurred	113
On eighty-one days 2 fires or supposed fires occurred	162
On forty „ 3 „ „ „ „ ...	120
On twenty-seven „ 4 „ „ „ „ ...	108
On three „ 5 „ „ „ „ ...	15
On two „ 6 „ „ „ „ ...	12
On one day 9 „ „ „ „ ...	9
On two days 10 „ „ „ „ ...	20
Total ...	559

The actual number of calls received during the year was 773, which includes instances where more than one call were received for the same fire.

These calls were transmitted as follows :—

Three hundred and fourteen calls by street fire-alarms, 398 calls from private telephones, 25 calls from police and direct telephone lines, 21 calls by messengers giving information at Fire Brigade stations, and 15 calls from look-out men at Fire Brigade stations.

Twenty-five fires occurred on premises licensed under the Licensed Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act, I of 1893.

In 203 cases fires were extinguished by individual firemen with buckets, etc., or by occupants before the arrival of the Brigade, in 87 cases by one motor fire-engine, in 31 cases by one line of hose from hydrants, in 13 cases by two motor fire-engines, in 23 cases by first-aid appliances, in one case by 3 motor fire-engines, in 5 cases by one motor fire-engine and fire-float, in 2 cases by fire-float, in 2 cases by two motor fire-engines and fire-float, in 3 cases by ship's appliances and hydrants, in 2 cases by first-aid appliances and hydrants, in 3 cases by Mill appliances, in 2 cases by one motor fire-engine and hydrants, in 23 cases sand was used, in 27 cases of electric fires switches were cut out.

4. Fire loss.—The total damage caused by fire and water during the year has been estimated at Rs. 3,10,308, being a decrease of Rs. 9,57,571 as compared with last year. The average damage per fire is Rs. 556 as compared with an average of Rs. 4,281 per fire for the past fourteen years. The loss per call is classified as follows :—

298 calls under Rs. 100.
81 ,, from Rs. 100 to Rs. 1,000.
37 ,, ,, Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 5,000.
7 ,, ,, Rs. 5,000 to Rs. 20,000.
6 ,, ,, Rs. 20,000 to Rs. 1,00,000.

5. The following summaries are given in the appendices as under :—

Districts in which fires or supposed fires occurred	...	II
Damage caused by fire, etc., in various districts	...	III
Short reports of fires of Rs. 20,000 damage and over	...	IV
Number of times each fire station turned out	...	V
Causes of fires, buildings, etc., affected	...	VI

6. Appliances.—The following appliances are in commission by the Calcutta Fire Brigade :—

Eleven motor fire-engines, 1 motor trailer pump, 1 motor 85-feet mechanically operated turn-table ladder, 1 motor emergency tender, 2 motor lorries, 2 motor cars, 3 steam fire-engines, 1 60-feet horse-drawn turn-table ladder converted for towing behind motors, 7 fire-escapes and telescopic ladders, 26 hook ladders, 55 scaling ladders, 10 smoke helmets, 3 horses, and 54,825 feet of 2¾-inches unlined canvas hose.

They are distributed as follows :—

Headquarters.—Five motor fire-engines, 1 motor trailer pump, one motor emergency tender with monitor and breakdown appliances, 1 motor lorry, 2 motor cars, 1 fire-escape and 2 telescopic ladders, 16 hook ladders, 28 scaling ladders, 10 smoke helmets, and 32,700 feet of 2¾-inches unlined canvas hose.

Central Avenue.—Four motor fire-engines, 185 feet mechanically driven turn-table ladder, 1 60-feet horse-drawn turn-table ladder converted for towing behind motors, 1 fire-escape and two telescopic ladders, 6 hook ladders, 18 scaling ladders and 10,425 feet 2¾-inches unlined canvas hose.

Chitpore.—One motor fire-engine, 1 steam fire-engine, 2 hook ladders, 2 horses, and 5,550 feet of 2¾-inches unlined canvas hose.

Howrah.—One motor fire-engine, 1 steam fire-engine, 1 telescopic ladder, 2 hook ladders, 9 scaling ladders, 1 horse, and 4,800 feet of 2¾-inches unlined canvas hose.

Garden Reach.—One steam fire-engine and 1,350 feet of 2¾-inches unlined canvas hose.

It is estimated that motor appliances travelled 10,365 miles during the year in responding to and returning from calls.

One steam fire-engine has been disposed of as unfit for further service, and one steam fire-engine has been condemned and is for disposal.

One new motor fire-engine with turbine pump of 500 gallons per minute capacity, together with first-aid telescopic ladder, etc., has been purchased and placed in commission.

7. Fire stations.—Appendix V gives the number of times each fire station has been turned out in response to fire calls, together with monthly statements.

I regret to state that the Fire Brigade headquarters is still located in rented quarters which are not convenient and have not sufficient accommodation for the work that has to be carried on there, which includes workshops, offices, together with five fire-engines on duty. Further, at this station there is no yard for drill or training men.

As the rent paid for this station is high it is a large tax on the Fire Brigade fund, and it is hoped that a suitable site will be allotted and suitable headquarters built at no far distant date. Undoubtedly by this means considerable economy could be effected.

8. Staff.—The strength of the Fire Brigade was 225 and the conduct and discipline has been good.

9. Fatalities and accidents.—During the year under review the total number of lives lost was 11, of which 5 were cases of suicide by burning as compared with 53 for the last year, which included 42 fatalities at 8, Syed Sally Lane, on account of the collapse of the Muhammadan Orphanage. First aid was rendered in all the cases by the Fire Brigade, and the injured persons were conveyed to hospital (see Appendix VI).

10. Horses.—During the year two horses were sold, leaving three horses at the close of the year, which will be disposed of very shortly.

11. Water-supply.—So far as the city of Calcutta is concerned I am pleased to report that a considerable improvement has been made with the water-supply owing to the installation of electrically driven turbine pumps at the Mullick Ghat and Watgunge pumping stations.

Greater supervision is needed in maintaining the hydrants in a good and efficient state of repair, as on numerous occasions considerable difficulty has been experienced with defective hydrants on arrival at fires, which necessitates a loss of valuable time and gives a fire a chance of spreading, even after the arrival of the Brigade.

The Chitpore-Cossipore district of Calcutta, which comprises an immense number of extremely dangerous fire risks, is, I regret to say, exceedingly badly off for water for fire extinguishing purposes. So far no mains are laid in this area, and the Fire Brigade have to rely on obtaining water from ponds, etc. Unfortunately these ponds are gradually being filled up, as land is becoming more and more valuable, and the time is rapidly approaching when the Fire Brigade will be powerless to deal with fires in this locality owing to the lack of provision of water. It is hoped that the matter will be very seriously taken up, and money provided for a scheme, which I understand has already been drafted. It should also be noted that in the hot weather the ponds above referred to are practically empty, and the water supply from the river cannot be utilised by land fire-engines owing to the inaccessibility of approach. Thus, at many fires, before effective operations can be commenced, it is necessary to await the arrival of the fire-float, which takes a considerable time when this vessel has to proceed against a strong tide.

Regarding the municipality of Howrah the same remarks as noted for Cossipore-Chitpore apply, and it is hoped that in order to avoid any extremely serious conflagration the Howrah Municipality will take the question of the water supply in hand at the earliest possible moment.

I may state that for many years similar notes regarding Chitpore-Cossipore and Howrah have been published in the Fire Brigade annual reports, and the attention of the authorities concerned has been repeatedly called to the extremely unsatisfactory state of affairs and the danger of huge fires occurring, but so far practically no steps have been taken to alleviate an extremely serious state of affairs.

12. Fire-float.—The fire-float (5,000 gallons per minute capacity) has been extremely useful, and on several occasions has saved serious situations by pumping water from the river to feed land fire-engines.

13. Street fire-alarms, telephones and electrical communications.—I am pleased to report that considerable improvement has been effected in the maintenance of the street fire-alarm system, telephones and electrical communications by the Bengal Telephone Corporation, Limited, and the thanks of the department are due to the telephone operators for their attention and ready assistance on all occasions.

14. Inspection department, theatres and places of public amusement.—During the year the services of the Inspector of Warehouses attached to the Fire Brigade, who previously inspected the theatres and places of public amusement on behalf of the Calcutta Corporation, have been dispensed with in regard to inspection of the theatres and places of public amusement, which is now carried on entirely by the inspectors appointed by the Corporation.

It is unsatisfactory to note that the existing conditions in regard to enforcing the observance of the by-laws and regulations are very ineffective, and owing to the exceedingly small fines which are imposed for non-observance and breach of by-laws, and the fact that the theatres do not require any special license, it is practically impossible adequately to safeguard the public. The question has been before Government for some time, and it is hoped that full powers will be given to the authorities concerned in the regulation of theatres. Failing this it is possible that a very serious catastrophe may occur at any time in some of the highly inflammable Indian theatres, which are so often overcrowded.

In connection with the Licensed Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act, I of 1893, 6,924 inspections of warehouses have been made during the year; 583 applications for licenses and complaints have been attended to and disposed of; 246 prosecutions were made under section 14 of Act I of 1893, which resulted in 157 persons being fined amounts aggregating in all Rs. 2,282; 41 persons being warned, discharged, withdrawn and acquitted, and 48 cases being filed; no trace being found of the accused.

15. General.—The Calcutta Fire Brigade protects the city of Calcutta, and the municipality of Howrah, and may attend fires outside the boundaries of the above (but not exceeding a radius of 6 miles from the central fire station), provided that appliances can be spared, on payment of a prescribed fee, thus covering an area of some 120 square miles.

I am pleased to record that the members of the Fire Brigade rendered excellent and strenuous services throughout the year.

16. Ambulance Department.—The motor ambulance service has been of great value to the general public and responded to 11,613 calls during the year.

The staff of the department consists of 10 drivers and 20 attendants, with 10 motor ambulances.

The service is financially maintained by Government and the Corporation of Calcutta in the proportion of one-third and two-thirds respectively. The receipts during the year including the contribution from Government amounted to Rs. 14,242. The total expenditure was Rs. 54,343-14-3, the balance of Rs. 40,101-14-3 being met by the Corporation of Calcutta.

11th „	...	...	...	Tuesday, 2nd November.
12th „	...	...	...	Wednesday, 1st December.

3. The quantity to be sold monthly will ordinarily be notified before each sale, but Government reserve to themselves the right, at any time, without previous notice, to reduce the quantity or alter the class of opium to be offered for sale.

4. The following are the conditions of sale. Government reserve to themselves the right of altering all or any of these conditions after giving three months' previous notice, and power is reserved to vary the upset price referred to in condition (iii) at any time without such previous notice :—

(i) The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

(ii) Every application for the export of opium from India should be accompanied by an "Import certificate" in the form prescribed by the League of Nations and published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 20th September 1922, with the Bengal Government notification No. 2449S.R., dated the 16th September 1922.

(iii) The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 4,500 per chest of uncertified opium and will be sold to the highest bidder above that price except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause (xiv) of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

(iv) The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. on the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of Government, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of ; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Government may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

(v) Each lot shall ordinarily contain five chests.

(vi) A promissory note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted below, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such promissory notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by receipts of the Imperial Bank of India or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday ; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no receipts of the Imperial Bank of India or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as Government shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government:—

Deposit.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 4,800 per chest, Rs. 1,100 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 4,800 and upwards, but less than Rs. 5,200 per chest, Rs. 1,200 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 5,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 5,600 per chest, Rs. 1,300 per chest.

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid, additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

(vii) The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as beforementioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

(viii) The promissory notes taken on the day of sale under the sixth condition if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

(ix) No tender of money, receipts of the Imperial Bank of India or public securities on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause (vi) on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted; provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said promissory note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. (vi) and No. (vii).

(x) The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day after the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the sixth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as Government shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

(xi) Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payments as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorising the delivery of single lot or of a different number of lots or chests whether more or less than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

(xiii) The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India notes, receipts of the Imperial Bank of India, or Government securities a sum equal to the amount for which a promissory note would otherwise be taken under the sixth of these conditions.

(xiv) With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained: and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 4,500 specified in the third of these conditions.

(xv) The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of opium not exceeding altogether ten lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said ten.

(xvi) In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

5. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal :—

No. 1.—Certificate of the opium advertised for sale.
No. 2.—Report of the examination of such opium.

6. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured in the Ghazipur Factory, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Ghazipur Factory, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal.

7. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Government entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred, on reference to chests, after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

ESTABLISHMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 81.—The 24th November 1925.—The following draft rules, which in exercise of the power conferred by section 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make in addition to those published with Bengal Government notification No. 14, dated the 31st August 1915, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of 1st September 1915, for the safe navigation of steamers in the line of navigation known as the Madaripur Bhil Channel and the Lower Kumar river as defined in notification No. 128, dated the 26th June 1900, and notification No. 162, dated the 22nd July 1902, paragraphs 17 and 18, are hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th January 1926 and any objections and suggestions received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

Draft rules.

(1) All upward bound steamers proceeding from Haridaspur towards Sindiaghat in the Madaripur Bhil Route must make fast alongside the weather bank and single down their flats to allow downward bound steamers proceeding from Sindiaghat towards Haridaspur to pass them to leeward.

Steamers upward bound must give way to those downward bound in all cases with the following exception—

The first steamer to arrive at a siding, up or down, seeing another steamer near at hand is to go into the siding and allow the other steamer to pass. No steamer up or down shall pass a siding while another steamer proceeding in the opposite direction is in sight between that siding and the next.

(2) When a red cone is hoisted at Haridaspur, upward bound vessels must stop and make fast in the entrance channel. When a white-ball is exhibited vessels may proceed.

(3) When a red cone is hoisted at Tentulia, downward bound vessels must stop above the toll station until a white-ball is exhibited when they may proceed.

(4) Downward bound vessels must stop in the Urial Khan river when a red cone is hoisted at the mast below the entrance to the Kumar river. When a white-ball is hoisted they may proceed.

(5) Upward bound vessels must stop, and make fast and single out flats when a red cone is exhibited at Messrs. David & Co.'s premises. When a white-ball is raised, they may proceed.

(6) At night a red light will take the place of a red cone and two white lights one above the other will take the place of the white-ball.

(7) On hât days all vessels must slow down when passing Bherarhat, Satpar, Jalirpar, Takerhat, Rajore and Charmaguria.

(8) For any infringement of the above rules, the person in charge of the vessel or person or persons in fault shall on conviction before a Magistrate be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

No. 51.—The 28th November 1925.—Rai Shailendra Nath Banerjee Bahadur, officiating Superintending Engineer, is transferred in the interests of the public service from the South-Western Circle to the Southern Circle.

No. 52.—The 28th November 1925.—M. H. C. Vieyra, officiating Superintending Engineer, is transferred in the interests of the public service from the Southern to the South-Western Circle.

Educational Notices.

NOTIFICATION.

Babu Brajamohan Dutt's Prize for Indian Ladies for the year 1925-26.

THE following subject has been selected for "Babu Brajamohan Dutt's Prize" of Rs. 45 for the year 1925-26 :—

Should the education of women follow the same lines as the education of men?

The conditions for the award of the prize are—

(1) That the competition be open to all educated women, being natives of Bengal, without regard to age.
(2) That the prize of Rs. 45 be given for an essay to be written either in Bengali or Sanskrit.
(3) That the essays be sent to the Central Text-book Committee for adjudication within six months of the date of advertisement.
(4) That each essay be accompanied by a written declaration from the husband, parent or guardian of the competitor that, to the best of his belief, she has received no assistance of any kind, direct or indirect, in writing the essay.

Candidates are requested to send their essays not later than the 31st March 1926 to the Secretary to the Central Text-book Committee, Office of the Inspector of Schools, Presidency Division, 40-A, Free School Street, Calcutta. The envelope containing the essay should be superscribed "Brajamohan Dutt's Prize Essay." The name of the successful competitor will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

A lady who wins the prize in any year is not debarred from subsequent competition, and if the essay submitted by a competitor who has been previously successful is adjudged to be the best, the name of such a competitor will be published in the Gazette as the winner of the competition. The actual prize will, however, in these circumstances, be awarded to the competitor whose essay is adjudged to stand next in order of merit, provided that her essay comes up to the standard required by the next clause.

If none of the essays comes up to a standard which is, in the opinion of the examiners, adequate, no prize will be awarded.

LAND SALE NOTICES.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of land, no longer required by Government, situated along the Eastern Bengal Railway, in the district of the 24-Parganas, will be put up to sale at 12 o'clock on Thursday, the 21st January 1926, corresponding with the 7th Magh 1332 B. S., at the Land Acquisition Collector's office at No. 2, Commercial Buildings, Calcutta.

The purchasers of the several plots of land will be subject to the following conditions :—

1st.—The purchasers will have no power to make any excavations on the land nearer than fifteen feet from the railway boundary, or to plough the land nearer than three feet from the same.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount must be paid down at once.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount must be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale shall be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the lot again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

4th.—The plots of land will be sold revenue free to the highest bidders.

5th.—The sale will become final on receipt by the Collector of the orders of the Commissioner confirming it, and a regular conveyance will then be granted to the purchaser.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits ; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The second quinquennial valuation of the fund has been completed by the Actuary to the Government of India and his report discloses very favourable results. For forms of application and rules of the Fund apply to the Accountant-General, Central Revenues, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

[Second publication.]

No. 81.—The 24th November 1925.—The following draft rules, which in exercise of the power conferred by section 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make in addition to those published with Bengal Government notification No. 14, dated the 31st August 1915, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of 1st September 1915, for the safe navigation of steamers in the line of navigation known as the Madaripur Bhil Channel and the Lower Kumar river as defined in notification No. 128, dated the 26th June 1900, and notification No. 162, dated the 22nd July 1902, paragrahs 17 and 18, are hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th January 1926 and any objections and suggestions received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

Draft rules.

(1) All upward bound steamers proceeding from Haridaspur towards Sindiaghat in the Madaripur Bhil Route must make fast alongside the weather bank and single down their flats to allow downward bound steamers proceeding from Sindiaghat towards Haridaspur to pass them to leeward.

Steamers upward bound must give way to those downward bound in all cases with the following exception—

The first steamer to arrive at a siding, up or down, seeing another steamer near at hand is to go into the siding and allow the other steamer to pass. No steamer up or down shall pass a siding while another steamer proceeding in the opposite direction is in sight between that siding and the next.

(2) When a red cone is hoisted at Haridaspur, upward bound vessels must stop and make fast in the entrance channel. When a white-ball is exhibited vessels may proceed.

(3) When a red cone is hoisted at Tentulia, downward bound vessels must stop above the toll station until a white-ball is exhibited when they may proceed.

(4) Downward bound vessels must stop in the Urial Khan river when a red cone is hoisted at the mast below the entrance to the Kumar river. When a white-ball is hoisted they may proceed.

(5) Upward bound vessels must stop, and make fast and single out flats when a red cone is exhibited at Messrs. David & Co.'s premises. When a white-ball is raised, they may proceed.

(6) At night a red light will take the place of a red cone and two white lights one above the other will take the place of the white-ball.

(7) On hât days all vessels must slow down when passing Bherarhat, Satpar, Jalirpar, Takerhat, Rajore and Charmaguria.

(8) For any infringement of the above rules, the person in charge of the vessel or person or persons in fault shall on conviction before a Magistrate be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

CALCUTTA UNIVERSITY.

NOTIFICATION.

THE following subject is selected for the essay for the Jogendrachandra Ghosh's Research Prize in Comparative Indian Law for the year 1926 :—

"The principles governing the administration of Criminal Law in Ancient India and the procedure adopted in the administration thereof."

The attention of the intending candidates is expressly called to the following conditions laid down for the prize :—

(i) By Comparative Indian Law shall be meant the Hindu Smriti Sastra called "Byabaharkhanda" and a comparison of the standard Sanskrit authorities on the subject with British Indian Law as contained in Parliamentary Statutes, Regulations and Acts of the Indian Legislative Council, and the law as laid down in leading cases. The study, which it shall be the object of the prize to encourage, is the history of the Hindu Smriti Sastra as it existed at and from the time when India came under British rule and how and to what extent it has been altered under British influence, regard being had not only to the existing Statutes, Regulations and Acts but also to those which, having been in operation for a time, have now been repealed or become obsolete and regard being also had not only to the existing leading cases but to cases which were considered leading at one time, but have now been overruled, and how and to what extent such alteration has affected Hindu society.

(ii) The essay at the discretion of a committee consisting of the Vice-Chancellor for the time being of the University, the President of the Faculty of Law and the Principal of the Government Sanskrit College in Calcutta, may deal with the whole of the Indian Comparative Law as before defined or with part or parts thereof ; but in no case shall an essay be entitled to competition which in any way attacks the religious belief, usages or institutions of His Majesty's subjects. And it shall be in the province and discretion of the said committee (a) to make a detailed programme of studies for the proposed prize, (b) to name the subject of the essay for any one particular year and (c) to decide whether such prize shall be awarded every year or at longer intervals.

(iii) By Adhyapak shall be meant scholars of the Smriti Sastra, students of the Smriti in the Government Sanskrit College in Calcutta, and in the tols of indigenous Brahmanical Schools which send in candidates for the title examinations held in that College, and students in other similar institutions in India.

(iv) Every candidate for the prize shall be required to indicate generally in a preface to his thesis and specially in notes, the sources from which his information is taken, the extent to which he has availed himself of the work of others and the portion of the thesis which he claims as original. He shall further be required to state whether his research has been conducted independently, under advice or in co-operation with others, and in what respects his investigations appear to him to tend to the advancement of knowledge.

(v) Successful candidates shall be required to publish their essays, and if necessary they shall receive help from the University for the purpose.

(vi) The essay or essays shall be written, either in English or in Bengali, but if any competitor sends in an essay in vernacular language other than Bengali he shall be bound to furnish English translation thereof.

(vii) The adjudicators for the prize shall be the Vice-Chancellor of the University, the Chief Justice of Bengal, the President of the Faculty of Law, and the Principal of the Sanskrit College in Calcutta. They shall be entitled to consult experts on their own selection to assist them (a) to decide whether the essay or essays in competition is or are of sufficient merit to deserve the prize, (b) to award such prize, (c) to decide about the number of manuscript copies of each essay to be sent in by the successful competitors, and (d) to consider the ways and means of the publication of any essay or essays.

H. W. LYNE, Collector.

Chittagong, the 23rd November 1925.

Sheriff's sale proclamation.

TO be peremptorily sold pursuant to an order of the Calcutta High Court. Original Side, made in suit No. 348 of 1923 (Fakir Dass Datta vs. Sibabilash Mukherjee) and dated the 4th day of April 1924 and in execution of the order and the decree of this Hon'ble Court dated respectively the 30th day of April 1923 and the 4th day June 1923 by the Sheriff of Calcutta in his sale room on the ground floor of the High Court by public auction on Friday, the 8th day of January 1926, at 12 o'clock noon, the undermentioned property belonging to the defendant :—

Lot No. 1 —All that the two-storied brick-built house together with the piece or parcel of rent-free land containing by estimation 10 cottahs be the same a little more or less and on part whereof the same stands, situate, lying at being premises No. 2, Mohan Bagan Lane (consisting of premises formerly No. 1, Mohan Bagan Lane and No. 24, Mohan Bagan Row) in Sutanutty in the North Division of the town of Calcutta and butted and bounded on the north by Mohan Bagan Row, east by the premises No. 181-5, Upper Circular Road, south by Mohan Bagan Lane and west by the premises No. 4, Mohan Bagan Lane.

There is so far as appears from a search made in the office of the Registrar of Assurances, Calcutta, from the year 1865 to 1925 no encumbrance affecting the said property to be sold save and except the following :—

(a) In respect of premises No. 2, Mohan Bagan Lane—

(i) Bengali Instrument of mortgage, dated the 22nd day of February 1921, and registered in Book I, Vol. 32 of 1921, pages 263-266, being serial No. 19C for the year 1921, executed by Sibabilash Mukherjee, of Kharda, 24-Parganas, at present of No. 2, Mohan Bagan Lane, in favour of Nripendra Nath Banerjee and Narendra Nath Banerjee of No. 18-2B, Dalimtola Lane, Calcutta, securing repayment within the 31st day of December 1922 of the sum of Rs. 25,000 with interest thereon at 12 per cent. per annum with half yearly rests.

(ii) Bengali Instrument of mortgage, dated the 1st day of September 1921, and registered in Book I, Vol. 122 of 1921, pages 177-182, being serial No. 4250, executed by Sibabilash Mukherjee of No. 2, Mohan Bagan Lane, in favour of P. G. W Sard of No. 148, Sham Bazar Street, Calcutta, for securing repayment within Chaitra 1328 B.S. of Rs. 7,000 with interest at the rate of 15 per cent. per annum with quarterly rests.

(iii) Mortgage, dated the 12th day of July 1924, and registered in Book I, Vol. 89, pages 151-157, bearing serial number 2999 for the year 1924, executed by Nripendra Nath Banerjee and Narendra Nath Banerjee of No. 18-2B, Dalimtola Lane, Calcutta, in favour of Khagendra Nath Sen, son of Debendra Nath Sen, deceased, of No. 27-1, Fariapukur Street, Calcutta, for securing repayment of Rs. 10,000 within the 15th day of January 1925 with interest thereon at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum with quarterly rests, the mortgaged property being the principal sum of Rs. 25,000 secured by the said registered mortgage, dated the 22nd day of February 1922, in favour of the said mortgagors Nripendra Nath Banerjee and Narendra Nath Banerjee executed by Sibabilash Mukherjee together with all interest due up to the date of the execution and thereafter to become due on the said mortgage and the benefit of all securities for the said mortgage including the statutory powers reserved in favour of the said Nripendra Nath Banerjee and Narendra Nath Banerjee.

The sums for the recovery of which the sale has been ordered are Rs. 2,824 with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent. per annum until realization as mentioned in the said decree of 4th June 1925 and Rs. 398-1-6 for taxed costs under such decree with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent. per annum from 3.th August 1923 up to realization and Rs. 114-14-6 for taxed costs under the said order of 30th April 1923 besides the costs of execution. It appears from the petition of the plaintiff decree-holder verified by his affidavit affirmed on the 27th May 1925 and filed on the 28th day of May 1925 that the defendant made payment of Rs 1,500 in part satisfaction of the aforesaid sums and Rs. 62-8 for Sheriff's poundage.

The conditions of sale may be seen at the office of the Sheriff of Calcutta on any day before the sale during the office hours and will be produced at the sale.

ONKARMULL JATIA, Sheriff.

S. C. Datta, Plaintiff's Attorney.

Sheriff's Office. High Court, Calcutta, the 2nd day of December 1925. (2125—1)

Sheriff's sale proclamation.

TO be peremptorily sold pursuant to an order and decree of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction and dated respectively the 18th day of June 1925 and the 2nd day of December 1924 in suit No. 1743 of 1924 (wherein Panchanon Shaha is the plaintiff and Horendra Nath Pal is the defendant) by the Sheriff of Calcutta in his sale-room on the ground floor of the High Court by public auction on Friday, the 8th day of January 1926, at 12 o'clock noon, the interest of the defendant in the undermentioned property :—

All that the one-storied brick-built dwelling house together with the rent-free land thereunto belonging and on part whereof the same is erected and built containing an area of 5 cottahs and 7 chitaks be the same a little more or less, situate lying at and being premises No. 1, Brindaban Pal Lane in the North Division of the town of Calcutta, butted and bounded as follows :—viz., on the north by No. 2, Brindaban Pal Lane, the residential and tenanted house of Babu Brindaban Pal, on the south by the house and premises Nos. 88, 89 and 90, Shambazar Street, on the east by premises No. 87, Shambazar Street, and on the west by Brindaban Pal Lane.

It appears from the affidavit of search in the Calcutta Registry Office from 1865 to 1925 filed on the 19th August 1925 that the said property is not affected by any mortgage charge or other encumbrances and that the said land is rent free.

The sum for the recovery of which the sale has been ordered is Rs. 7,253 with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum from the 2nd day of December 1924 until realization besides the costs of the suit and of the execution proceedings.

The conditions of sale may be seen at the office of the said Sheriff on the ground floor of the Court House on any day before the sale and will be produced at the sale.

ONKARMULL JATIA, Sheriff.

Chaudhuri and Chaudhuri, plaintiff's attorneys.

Sheriff's Office, High Court, Original Side, Calcutta, the 1st day of December 1925, (2127—1)

Sheriff's sale proclamation.

TO be peremptorily sold pursuant to the orders made by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction and dated 17th March 1924 and 4th February 1925, respectively, in Suit No. 1509 of 1918 (wherein the Honourable Brojendra Kishore Roy Chaudhury was the plaintiff and the Honourable Syed Altafali was the defendant) by the Sheriff of Calcutta, in his sale-room, on the ground floor of the court-house, by public auction on Friday, the 8th day of January 1926, at the hour of 12 o'clock noon, the right, title and the interest of the defendant the Honourable Nawabzada Syed Altafali in the undermentioned property :—

Re. 38, Weston Street.

Lot I.—All that three-storied brick-built messuage tenement and dwelling-house together with the piece or parcel of land thereunto belonging whereon or on part whereof the same is erected or built containing by estimation 3 cottahs 8 chitacks 12 square feet more or less, being Municipal premises No. 38, Weston Street (formerly No. 7, Weston Street), and being holding No. 245, Block No. XVI, South Division in Calcutta and butted and bounded on the north by Weston Street, on the east by No. 40, Weston Street, and on the south by No. 38-1, Metcalfe Street, and on the west by the Metcalfe Street, and paying an annual revenue of annas 10 and pies 7 to the Collector of Calcutta

Re. 20, Ripon Street

Lot II.—All that upper-roomed brick-built house and premises together with the piece or parcel of land thereunto belonging whereon or on part whereof the same is erected and built containing by estimation 4 cottahs be the same a little more or less, being premises No. 20, Ripon Street, holding No 102, block No. IV, South Division in the town of Calcutta and butted and bounded on the north by Ripon Street, on the east partly by the house of Madhu Babu, and partly by 21, Ripon Street, on the south partly by the house of Amboo Bibi and partly by 25, Golam Sovan Lane and on the west by Maulvi Golam Sovan's Lane, and paying an annual revenue of Re 1-2 to the Collector.

It appears from the affidavit of searches in the office of the Registrar of Assurances, Calcutta, that by a Bengali deed of settlement dated the 26th August 1879 Wajirunnessa Bibi settled premises No. 1, Kapalitola Lane (now No. 38, Weston Street), Calcutta, by way of Wakf on herself as the first Mutwalli and upon her death on her son Furzund Ali and that on 11th October 1901 Munshi Furzund Ali mortgaged the said premises to Nawab Syed Abdus Sobhan Chaudhury and on 24th September Munshi Furzund Ali conveyed the said premises to Nawab Syed Abdus Sobhan Chaudhury

It also appears from the said affidavit of searches that the properties described in lots I and II are both subject to an equitable mortgage bearing the date the 9th August 1921 for Rs. 30,000 created by Syed Altafali in favour of Munnalal Sobhachand. The said properties were attached on the 23rd August 1919 by the Sheriff of of Calcutta in execution of the decree made herein.

The abovementioned properties are to be sold for realisation of the balance of the decretal amount and interest, viz., Rs 28,572 with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum from 1st August 1923 until realisation, less Rs. 28,000 paid by the judgment-debtor on the 17th March 1925 and Rs. 725 for poundage paid to the Sheriff and costs subsequent to the 3rd day of December 1923. The decree-holder claims interest at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum in pursuance of an alleged agreement entered into between the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor on the 22nd April 1922.

The conditions of sale may be seen at the office of the said Sheriff on any day before the sale and will be produced at the said sale.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The second quinquennial valuation of the fund has been completed by the Actuary to the Government of India and his report discloses very favourable results. For forms of application and rules of the Fund apply to the Accountant-General, Central Revenues, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 3104L., dated Calcutta, the 7th December, 1925.—The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Local Self-Government (Amendment) Bill, 1925, is published for general information. The Bill was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 30th July, 1925 :—

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE BENGAL LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1925.

We, the undersigned members of the Select Committee to which the Bill further to amend the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 was referred, have considered the Bill and have the honour to submit this our report.

A majority of the Committee was of opinion that—

(1) the effect of the Bill must be the disenfranchisement of some portion of the present Local Board electorate; and

(2) the financial advantages of the proposals would not justify this result.

The Committee, therefore, recommend that the Bill be not further proceeded with.

An Act to consolidate the law applicable to intestate and testamentary succession in British India.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate the law applicable to intestate and testamentary succession in British India; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PART I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Succession Act, 1925.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "administrator" means a person appointed by competent authority to administer the estate of a deceased person when there is no executor;

(b) "codicil" means an instrument made in relation to a will, and explaining, altering or adding to its dispositions, and shall be deemed to form part of the will;

(c) "executor" means a person to whom the execution of the last will of a deceased person is, by the testator's appointment, confided;

(d) "Indian Christian" means a native of India who is, or in good faith claims to be, of unmixed Asiatic descent and who professes any form of the Christian religion;

(e) "minor" means any person subject to the Indian Majority Act, 1875, who has not attained his majority within the meaning of that Act, and any other person who has not completed the age of eighteen years; and "minority" means the status of any such person; IX of 1875.

(f) "probate" means the copy of a will certified under the seal of a Court of competent jurisdiction with a grant of administration to the estate of the testator;

(g) "Province" includes any division of British India having a Court of the last resort; and

(h) "will" means the legal declaration of the intention of a testator with respect to his property which he desires to be carried into effect after his death.

Power of Local Government to exempt any race, sect or tribe in the territories administered by the Local Government from operation of Act.

3. (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, either retrospectively from the sixteenth day of March, 1865, or prospectively, exempt from the operation of any of the following provisions of this Act, namely sections 5 to 49, 58 to 191, 212, 213 and 215 to 369, the members of any race, sect or tribe in the province, or of any part of such race, sect or tribe, to whom the Local Government considers it impossible or inexpedient to apply such provisions or any of them mentioned in the order.

(2) The Local Government may, by a like notification, revoke any such order, but not so that the revocation shall have retrospective effect.

(3) Persons exempted under this section or exempted from the operation of any of the provisions of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, under section 332 of that Act are in this Act referred to as "exempted persons". X of 1865.

PART II.

OF DOMICILE.

Application of Part.

4. This Part shall not apply if the deceased was a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina.

Law regulating succession to deceased person's immoveable and moveable property respectively.

5. (1) Succession to the immoveable property in British India of a person deceased shall be regulated by the law of British India, wherever such person may have had his domicile at the time of his death.

(2) Succession to the moveable property of a person deceased is regulated by the law of the country in which such person had his domicile at the time of his death.

Illustrations.

(i) A, having his domicile in British India, dies in France, leaving moveable property in France, moveable property in England, and property, both moveable and immoveable, in British India. The succession to the whole is regulated by the law of British India.

(ii) A. an Englishman, having his domicile in France, dies in British India, and leaves property, both moveable and immoveable, in British India. The succession to the moveable property is regulated by the rules which govern, in France, the succession to the moveable property of an Englishman dying domiciled in France, and the succession to the immoveable property is regulated by the law of British India.

One domicile only affects succession to moveables.

6. A person can have only one domicile for the purpose of the succession to his moveable property.

Domicile of origin of person of legitimate birth.

7. The domicile of origin of every person of legitimate birth is in the country in which at the time of his birth his father was domiciled; or, if he is a posthumous child, in the country in which his father was domiciled at the time of the father's death.

Illustration.

At the time of the birth of A, his father was domiciled in England. A's domicile of origin is in England, whatever may be the country in which he was born.

Domicile of origin of illegitimate child.

8. The domicile of origin of an illegitimate child is in the country in which, at the time of his birth, his mother was domiciled.

Continuance of domicile of origin.

9. The domicile of origin prevails until a new domicile has been acquired.

Acquisition of new domicile.

10. A man acquires a new domicle by taking up his fixed habitation in a country which is not that of his domicile of origin.

Explanation.—A man is not to be deemed to have taken up his fixed habitation in British India merely by reason of his residing there in His Majesty's civil or military service, or in the exercise of any profession or calling.

Illustrations.

(i) A. whose domicile of origin is in England, proceeds to British India, where he settles as a barrister or a merchant, intending to reside there during the remainder of his life. His domicile is now in British India.

(ii) A. whose domicile is in England, goes to Austria, and enters the Austrian service, intending to remain in that service. A has acquired a domicile in Austria.

(iii) A, whose domicile of origin is in France, comes to reside in British India under an engagement with the Government of India for a certain number of years. It is his intention to return to France at the end of that period. He does not acquire a domicile in British India.

(iv) A, whose domicile is in England, goes to reside in British India for the purpose of winding up the affairs of a partnership which has been dissolved, and with the intention of returning to England as soon as that purpose is accomplished. He does not by such residence acquire a domicile in British India, however long the residence may last.

(v) A, having gone to reside in British India in the circumstances mentioned in the last preceding illustration, afterwards alters his intention, and takes up his fixed habitation in British India. A has acquired a domicile in British India.

(vi) A, whose domicile is in the French Settlement of Chandernagore, is compelled by political events to take refuge in Calcutta, and resides in Calcutta for many years in the hope of such political changes as may enable him to return with safety to Chandernagore. He does not by such residence acquire a domicile in British India.

(vii) A, having come to Calcutta in the circumstances stated in the last preceding illustration, continues to reside there after such political changes have occurred as would enable him to return with safety to Chandernagore, and he intends that his residence in Calcutta shall be permanent. A has acquired a domicile in British India.

Special mode of acquiring domicile in British India.

11. Any person may acquire a domicile in British India by making and depositing in some office in British India, appointed in this behalf by the Local Government, a declaration in writing under his hand of his desire to acquire such domicile; provided that he has been resident in British India for one year immediately preceding the time of his making such declaration.

Domicile not acquired by residence as representative of foreign Government, or as part of his family.

12. A person who is appointed by the Government of one country to be its ambassador, consul or other representative in another country does not acquire a domicile in the latter country by reason only of residing there in pursuance of his appointment; nor does any other person acquire such domicile by reason only of residing with such first-mentioned person as part of his family, or as a servant.

Continuance of new domicile.

13. A new domicile continues until the former domicile has been resumed or another has been acquired.

Minor's domicile.

14. The domicile of a minor follows the domicile of the parent from whom he derived his domicile of origin.

Exception.—The domicile of a minor does not change with that of his parent if the minor is married or holds any office or employment in the service of His Majesty, or has set up, with the consent of the parent, in any distinct business.

Domicile acquired by woman on marriage.

15. By marriage a woman acquires the domicile of her husband, if she had not the same domicile before.

Wife's domicile during marriage.

16. A wife's domicile during her marriage follows the domicile of her husband.

Exception.—The wife's domicile no longer follows that of her husband if they are separated by the sentence of a competent Court, or if the husband is undergoing a sentence of transportation.

Minor's acquisition of new domicile.

17. Save as hereinbefore otherwise provided in this Part, a person cannot, during minority, acquire a new domicile.

Lunatic's acquisition of new domicile.

18. An insane person cannot acquire a new domicile in any other way than by his domicile following the domicile of another person.

Succession to moveable property in British India in absence of proof of domicile elsewhere.

19. If a person dies leaving moveable property in British India, in the absence of proof of any domicile elsewhere, succession to the property is regulated by the law of British India.

PART III.

MARRIAGE.

Interests and powers not acquired nor lost by marriage.

20. (1) No person shall, by marriage, acquire any interest in the property of the person whom he or she marries or become incapable of doing any act in respect of his or her own property which he or she could have done if unmarried.

(2) This section—

(a) shall not apply to any marriage contracted before the first day of January 1866 ;

(b) shall not apply, and shall be deemed never to have applied, to any marriage one or both of the parties to which professed at the time of the marriage the Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina religion.

Effect of marriage between person domiciled and one not domiciled in British India.

21. If a person whose domicile is not in British India marries in British India a person whose domicile is in British India, neither party acquires by the marriage any rights in respect of any property of the other party not comprised in a settlement made previous to the marriage, which he or she would not acquire thereby if both were domiciled in British India at the time of the marriage.

Settlement of minor's property in contemplation of marriage.

22. (1) The property of a minor may be settled in contemplation of marriage, provided the settlement is made by the minor with the approbation of the minor's father, or, if the father is dead or absent from British India, with the approbation of the High Court.

(2) Nothing in this section or in section 21 shall apply to any will made or intestacy occurring before the first day of January, 1866, or to intestate or testamentary succession to the property of any Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina.

PART IV.

OF CONSANGUINITY.

Application of Part.

23. Nothing in this Part shall apply to any will made or intestacy occurring before the first day of January, 1866, or to intestate or testamentary succession to the property of any Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh, Jaina or Parsi.

Kindred or consanguinity.

24. Kindred or consanguinity is the connection or relation of persons descended from the same stock or common ancestor.

Lineal consanguinity.

25. (1) Lineal consanguinity is that which subsists between two persons, one of whom is descended in a direct line from the other, as between a man and his father, grandfather and great-grandfather, and so upwards in the direct ascending line; or between a man and his son, grandson, great-grandson and so downwards in the direct descending line.

(2) Every generation constitutes a degree, either ascending or descending.

(3) A person's father is related to him in the first degree, and so likewise is his son ; his grandfather and grandson in the second degree ; his great-grandfather and great-grandson in the third degree, and so on.

Collateral consanguinity,

26. (1) Collateral consanguinity is that which subsists between two persons who are descended from the same stock or ancestor, but neither of whom is descended in a direct line from the other,

(2) For the purpose of ascertaining in what degree of kindred any collateral relative stands to a person deceased, it is necessary to reckon upwards from the person deceased to the common stock and then downwards to the collateral relative, a degree being allowed for each person, both ascending and descending.

Persons held for purpose of succession to be similarly related to deceased.

27. For the purpose of succession, there is no distinction—

(a) between those who are related to a person deceased through his father, and those who are related to him through his mother; or

(b) between those who are related to a person deceased by the full blood, and those who are related to him by the half blood; or

(c) between those who were actually born in the lifetime of a person deceased and those who at the date of his death were only conceived in the womb, but who have been subsequently born alive.

Mode of computing of degrees of kindred.

28. Degrees of kindred are computed in the manner set forth in the table of kindred set out in Schedule I.

Illustrations.

(i) The person whose relatives are to be reckoned, and his cousin-german, or first cousin, are as shown in the table, related in the fourth degree; there being one degree of ascent to the father, and another to the common ancestor, the grandfather; and from him one of descent to the uncle, and another to the cousin-german, making in all four degrees.

(ii) A grandson of the brother and a son of the uncle, i.e., a great-nephew and a cousin german, are in equal degree being each four degrees removed.

(iii) A grandson of a cousin-german is in the same degree as the grandson of a great-uncle, for they are both in the sixth degree of kindred.

PART V.

INTESTATE SUCCESSION.

CHAPTER I.

Preliminary.

Application of Part.

29. (1) This part shall not apply to any intestacy occurring before the first day of January, 1866, or to the property of any Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina.

(2) Save as provided in sub-section (1) or by any other law for the time being in force, the provisions of this Part shall constitute the law of British India in all cases of intestacy.

As to what property deceased considered to have died intestate.

30. A person is deemed to die intestate in respect of all property of which he has not made a testamentary disposition which is capable of taking effect.

Illustrations.

(i) A has left no will. He has died intestate in respect of the whole of his property.

(ii) A has left a will, whereby he has appointed B his executor; but the will contains no other provisions. A has died intestate in respect of the distribution of his property.

(iii) A has bequeathed his whole property for an illegal purpose. A has died intestate in respect of the distribution of his property.

(iv) A has bequeathed 1,000 rupees to B and 1,000 rupees to the eldest son of C, and has made no other bequest; and has died leaving the sum of 2,000 rupees and no other property. C died before A without having ever had a son. A has died intestate in respect of the distribution of 1,000 rupees.

CHAPTER II.

Rules in cases of Intestates other than Parsis.

Chapter not to apply to Parsis.

31. Nothing in this Chapter shall apply to Parsis.

Devolution of such property.

32. The property of an intestate devolves upon the wife or husband, or upon those who are of the kindred of the deceased, in the order and according to the rules hereinafter contained in this Chapter.

Explanation.—A widow is not entitled to the provision hereby made for her if, by a valid contract made before her marriage, she has been excluded from her distributive share of her husband's estate.

Where intestate has left widow and lineal descendants, or widow and kindred only, or widow and no kindred.

33. Where the intestate has left a widow—

(a) if he has also left any lineal descendants, one-third of his property shall belong to his widow, and the remaining two-thirds shall go to his lineal descendants, according to the rules hereinafter contained;

(b) if he has left no lineal descendant, but has left persons who are of kindred to him, one-half of his property shall belong to his widow, and the other half shall go to those who are of kindred to him, in the order and according to the rules hereinafter contained;

(c) if he has left none who are of kindred to him, the whole of his property shall belong to his widow.

Where intestate has left no widow, and where he has left no kindred.

34. Where the intestate has left no widow, his property shall go to his lineal descendants or to those who are of kindred to him, not being lineal descendants, according to the rules hereinafter contained; and, if he has left none who are of kindred to him, it shall go to the Crown.

Rights of widower.

35. A husband surviving his wife has the same rights in respect of her property, if she dies intestate, as a widow has in respect of her husband's property, if he dies intestate.

Distribution where there are lineal descendants.

Rules of distribution.

36. The rules for the distribution of the intestate's property (after deducting the widow's share, if he has left a widow) amongst his lineal descendants shall be those contained in sections 37 to 40.

Where intestate has left child or children only.

37. Where the intestate has left surviving him a child or children, but no more remote lineal descendant through a deceased child, the property shall belong to his surviving child, if there is only one, or shall be equally divided among all his surviving children.

Where intestate has left no child, but grandchild or grandchildren.

38. Where the intestate has not left surviving him any child, but has left a grandchild or grandchildren and no more remote descendant through a deceased grandchild, the property shall belong to his surviving grandchild if there is only one, or shall be equally divided among all his surviving grandchildren.

Illustrations.

(i) A has three children, and no more, John, Mary and Henry. They all die before the father, John leaving two children, Mary three, and Henry four. Afterwards A dies intestate, leaving those nine grandchildren and no descendant of any deceased grandchild. Each of his grandchildren will have one-ninth.

(ii) But if Henry has died, leaving no child, then the whole is equally divided between the intestate's five grandchildren, the children of John and Mary.

Where intestate has left only great-grandchildren or remoter lineal descendants.

39. In like manner the property shall go to the surviving lineal descendants who are nearest in degree to the intestate, where they are all in the degree of great-grandchildren to him, or are all in a more remote degree.

Where intestate leaves lineal descendants not all in same degree of kindred to him, and those through whom the more remote are descended are dead.

40. (1) If the intestate has left lineal descendants who do not all stand in the same degree of kindred to him, and the persons through whom the more remote are descended from him are dead, the property shall be divided into such a number of equal shares as may correspond with the number of the lineal descendants of the intestate who either stood in the nearest degree of kindred to him at his decease, or, having been of the like degree of kindred to him, died before him, leaving lineal descendants who survived him

(2) One of such shares shall be allotted to each of the lineal descendants who stood in the nearest degree of kindred to the intestate at his decease; and one of such shares shall be allotted in respect of each of such deceased lineal descendants; and the share allotted in respect of each of such deceased lineal descendants shall belong to his surviving child or children or more remote lineal descendants, as the case may be; such surviving child or children or more remote lineal descendants always taking the share which his or their parent or parents would have been entitled to respectively if such parent or parents had survived the intestate.

Illustrations.

(i) A had three children, John, Mary and Henry; John died, leaving four children, and Mary died, leaving one, and Henry alone survived the father. On the death of A, intestate, one-third is allotted to Henry, one-third to John's four children, and the remaining third to Mary's one child.

(ii) A left no child, but left eight grandchildren, and two children of a deceased grandchild. The property is divided into nine parts, one of which is allotted to each grandchild, and the remaining one-ninth is equally divided between the two great-grandchildren.

(iii) A has three children, John, Mary and Henry; John dies leaving four children; and one of John's children dies leaving two children. Mary dies leaving one child. A afterwards dies intestate. One-third of his property is allotted to Henry, one-third to Mary's child, and one-third is divided into four parts, one of which is allotted to each of John's three surviving children, and the remaining part is equally divided between John's two grandchildren.

(iv) A has two children, and no more; John and Mary. John dies before his father, leaving his wife pregnant. Then A dies leaving Mary surviving him, and in due time a child of John is born A's property is to be equally divided between Mary and the posthumous child.

Distribution where there are no lineal descendants.

Rules of distribution where intestate has left no lineal descendants.

41. Where an intestate has left no lineal descendants, the rules for the distribution of his property (after deducting the widow's share, if he has left a widow) shall be those contained in sections 42 to 48.

Where intestate's father living.

42. If the intestate's father is living, he shall succeed to the property.

Where intestate's father dead but his mother, brothers and sisters living.

43. If the intestate's father is dead, but the intestate's mother is living and there are also brothers or sisters of the intestate living, and there is no child living of any deceased brother or sister, the mother and each living brother or sister shall suceed to the property in equal shares.

Illustration.

A dies intestate, survived by his mother and two brothers of the full blood, John and Henry, and a sister Mary, who is the daughter of his mother but not of his father. The mother takes one-fourth, each brother takes one-fourth and Mary, the sister of half-blood, takes one-fourth.

Where intestate's father dead and his mother, a brother or sister, and children of any deceased brother or sister, living.

44. If the intestate's father is dead, but the intestate's mother is living, and if any brother or sister and the child or children of any brother or sister who may have died in the intestate's lifetime are also living, then the mother and each living brother or sister, and the living child or children of each deceased brother or sister, shall be entitled to the property in equal shares, such children (if more than one) taking in equal shares only the shares which their respective parents would have taken if living at the intestate's death.

Illustration.

A, the intestate, leaves his mother, his brothers John and Henry, and also one child of a deceased sister, Mary, and two children of George, a deceased brother of the half blood who was the son of his father but not of his mother. The mother takes one-fifth, John and Henry each takes one-fifth, the child of Mary takes one-fifth, and the two children of George divide the remaining one-fifth equally between them.

Where intestate's father dead and his mother and children of any deceased brother or sister living.

45. If the intestate's father is dead, but the intestate's mother is living, and the brothers and sisters are all dead, but all or any of them have left children who survived the intestate, the mother and the child or children of each deceased brother or sister shall be entitled to the property in equal shares, such children (if more than one) taking in equal shares only the shares which their respective parents would have taken if living at the intestate's death.

Illustration.

A, the intestate, leaves no brother or sister, but leaves his mother and one child of a deceased sister, Mary, and two children of a deceased brother, George. The mother takes one-third, the child of Mary takes one-third, and the children of George divide the remaining one-third equally between them.

Where intestate's father dead, but his mother living and no brother, sister, nephew or niece.

46. If the intestate's father is dead, but the intestate's mother is living, and there is neither brother, nor sister, nor child of any brother or sister of the intestate, the property shall belong to the mother.

Where intestate has left neither lineal descendant nor father, nor mother.

47. Where the intestate has left neither lineal descendant, nor father, nor mother, the property shall be divided equally between his brothers and sisters and the child or children of such of them as may have died before him, such children (if more than one) taking in equal shares only the shares which their respective parents would have taken if living at the intestate's death.

Where intestate has left neither lineal descendant, nor parent, nor brother, nor sister.

48. Where the intestate has left neither lineal descendant, nor parent, nor brother, nor sister, his property shall be divided equally among those of his relatives who are in the nearest degree of kindred to him.

Illustrations.

(i) A, the intestate, has left a grandfather and a grandmother and no other relative standing in the same or a nearer degree of kindred to him. They, being in the second degree, will be entitled to the property in equal shares, exclusive of any uncle or aunt of the intestate, uncles and aunts being only in the third degree.

(ii) A, the intestate, has left a great-grandfather, or a great-grandmother, and uncles and aunts, and no other relative standing in the same or a nearer degree of kindred to him. All of these being in the third degree will take equal shares.

(iii) A, the intestate, left a great grandfather, an uncle and a nephew, but no relative standing in a nearer degree of kindred to him. All of those being in the third degree will take equal shares.

(iv) Ten children of one brother or sister of the intestate, and one child of another brother or sister of the intestate, constitute the class of relatives of the nearest degree of kindred to him. They will each take one-eleventh of the property.

Children's advancements not brought into hotchpot.

49. Where a distributive share in the property of a person who has died intestate is claimed by a child, or any descendant of a child, of such person, no money or other property which the intestate may, during his life, have paid, given or settled to, or for the advancement of, the child by whom or by whose descendant the claim is made shall be taken into account in estimating such distributive share.

CHAPTER III.

Special Rules for Parsi Intestates.

Division of property among widow and children of intestate.

50. Where a Parsi dies leaving a widow and children, the property of which he dies intestate shall be divided among the widow and children, so that the share of each son shall be double the share of the widow, and that her share shall be double the share of each daughter.

Division of property among widower and children of intestate.

51. Where a female Parsi dies leaving a widower and children, the property of which she dies intestate shall be divided among the widower and such children, so that his share shall be double the share of each of the children.

Division of property amongst the children of male intestate who leaves no widow.

52. When a Parsi dies leaving children but no widow, the property of which he dies intestate shall be divided amongst the children, so that the share of each son shall be four times the share of each daughter.

Division of property amongst the children of female intestate who leaves no widower.

53. When a female Parsi dies leaving children but no widower, the property of which she dies intestate shall be divided amongst the children in equal shares.

Division of pre-deceased child's share of intestate's property among the widow or widower and issue of such child.

54. If any child of a Parsi intestate has died in his or her lifetime, the widow or widower and issue of such child shall take the share which such child would have taken if living at the intestate's death in such manner as if such deceased child had died immediately after the intestate's death.

Division of property when the intestate leaves a widow or widower, but no lineal descendants.

55. Where a Parsi dies leaving a widow or widower, but without leaving any lineal descendants,—

(a) his or her father and mother, if both are living, or one of them if the other is dead, shall take one moiety of the property in respect of which he or she dies intestate, and the widow or widower shall take the other moiety, provided that, where both the father and the mother of the intestate survive him or her, the father's share shall be double the share of the mother ;

(b) where neither the father nor the mother of the intestate survives him or her, the intestate's relatives on the father's side in the order specified in Part I of Schedule II, shall take the moiety which the father and the mother would have taken if they had survived the intestate. The next-of-kin standing first in Part I of that Schedule shall be preferred to those standing second, the second to the third, and so on in succession, provided that the property shall be so distributed as that each male shall take double the share of each female standing in the same degree of propinquity ;

(c) where there are no relatives on the father's side, the intestate's widow or widower shall take the whole.

Division of property when the intestate leaves neither widow nor widower, nor lineal descendants.

56. When a Parsi dies leaving neither lineal descenn dants nor a widow or widower, his or her next-of-kin, in the order set forth in Part II of Schedule II, shall be entitled to succeed to the whole of the property as to which he or she dies intestate. The next-of-kin standing first in Part II of the same Schedule shall be preferred to those standing second, the second to the third, and so on in succession, provided that the property shall be so distributed as that each male shall take double the share of each female standing in the same degree of propinquity.

PART VI.

TESTAMENTARY SUCCESSION.

CHAPTER I.

Introductory.

Application of certain provisions of Part to a class of wills made by Hindus, etc.

57. The provisions of this Part which are set out in Schedule III shall, subject to the restrictions and modifications specified therein, apply—

(a) to all wills and codicils made by any Hindu, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina, on or after the first day of September, 1870, within the territories which at the said date were subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal or within the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Courts of Judicature at Madras and Bombay ; and

(b) to all such wills and codicils made outside those territories and limits so far as relates to immoveable property situate within those territories or limits :

Provided that marriage shall not revoke any such will or codicil.

General application of Part.

58. (1) The provisions of this Part shall not apply to testamentary succession to the property of any Muhammadan nor, save as provided by section 57,t o testamentary succession to the property of any Hindu, Budhist, Sikh or Jaina ; nor shall they apply to any will made before the first day of January, 1866.

(2) Save as provided in sub-section (1) or by any other law for the time being in force, the provisions of this Part shall constitute the law of British India applicable to all cases of testamentary succession.

CHAPTER II.

Of Wills and Codicils.

Person capable of making wills.

59. Every person of sound mind not being a minor may dispose of his property by will.

Explanation 1.—A married woman may dispose by will of any property which she could alienate by her own act during her life.

Explanation 2.—Persons who are deaf or dumb or blind are not thereby incapacitated for making a will if they are able to know what they do by it.

Explanation 3.—A person who is ordinarily insane may make a will during an interval in which he is of sound mind.

Explanation 4.—No person can make a will while he is in such a state of mind, whether arising from intoxication or from illness or from any other cause, that he does not know what he is doing.

Illustrations.

(i) A can perceive what is going on in his immediate neighbourhood, and can answer familiar questions, but has not a competent understanding as to the nature of his property, or the persons who are of kindred to him, or in whose favour it would be proper that he should make his will. A cannot make a valid will.

(ii) A executes an instrument purporting to be his will, but he does not understand the nature of the instrument nor the effect of its provisions. This instrument is not a valid will.

(iii) A being very feeble and debilitated, but capable of exercising a judgment as to the proper mode of disposing of his property, makes a will. This is a valid will.

Testamentary guardian.

60. A father, whatever his age may be, may by will appoint a guardian or guardians for his child during minority.

Will obtained by fraud, coercion or importunity.

61. A will or any part of a will, the making of which has been caused by fraud or coercion, or by such importunity as takes away the free agency of the testator, is void.

Illustrations.

(i) A falsely and knowingly represents to the testator that the testator's only child is dead, or that he has done some undutiful act and thereby induces the testator to make a will in his A's favour; such will has been obtained by fraud, and is invalid.

(ii) A, by fraud and deception, prevails upon the testator to bequeath a legacy to him. The bequest is void.

(iii) A, being a prisoner by lawful authority, makes his will. The will is not invalid by reason of the imprisonment.

(iv) A threatens to shoot B, or to burn his house or to cause him to be arrested on a criminal charge, unless he makes a bequest in favour of C. B, in consequence, makes a bequest in favour of C. The bequest is void, the making of it having been caused by coercion.

(v) A, being of sufficient intellect, if undisturbed by the influence of others, to make a will yet being so much under the control of B that he is not a free agent, makes a will, dictated by B. It appears that he would not have executed the will but for fear of B. The will is invalid.

(vi) A, being in so feeble a state of health as to be unable to resist importunity, is pressed by B to make a will of a certain purport and does so merely to purchase peace and in submission to B. The will is invalid.

(vii) A being in such a state of health as to be capable of exercising his own judgment and volition, B uses urgent intercession and persuasion with him to induce him to make a will of a certain purport. A, in consequence of the intercession and persuasion, but in the free exercise of his judgment and volition, make his will in the manner recommended by B. The will is not rendered invalid by the intercession and persuasion of B.

(viii) A, with a view to obtaining a legacy from B, pays him attention and flatters him and thereby produces in him a capricious partiality to A. B, in consequence of such attention and flattery, makes his will, by which he leaves a legacy to A. The bequest is not rendered invalid by the attention and flattery of A.

Will may be revoked or altered.

62. A will is liable to be revoked or altered by the maker of it at any time when he is competent to dispose of his property by will.

CHAPTER III.

Of the Execution of unprivileged Wills.

Execution of unprivileged wills.

63. Every testator, not being a soldier employed in an expedition or engaged in actual warfare, or a mariner at sea, shall execute his will according to the following rules:—

(a) The testator shall sign or shall affix his mark to the will, or it shall be signed by some other person in his presence and by his direction.

(b) The signature or mark of the testator, or the signature of the person signing for him, shall be so placed that it shall appear that it was intended thereby to give effect to the writing as a will.

(c) The will shall be attested by two or more witnesses, each of whom has seen the testator sign or affix his mark to the will or has seen some other person sign the will, in the presence and by the direction of the testator, or has received from the testator a personal acknowledgment of his signature or mark, or of the signature of such other person; and each of the witnesses shall sign the will in the presence of the testator, but it shall not be necessary that more than one witness be present at the same time, and no particular form of attestation shall be necessary.

Incorporation of papers by reference.

64. If a testator, in a will or codicil duly attested, refers to any other document then actually written as expressing any part of his intentions, such document shall be deemed to form a part of the will or codicil in which it is referred to.

CHAPTER IV.

Of privileged Wills.

Privileged wills.

65. Any soldier being employed in an expedition or engaged in actual warfare, or any mariner being at sea, may, if he has completed the age of eighteen years, dispose of his property by a will made in the manner provided in section 66. Such wills are called privileged wills.

Illustrations.

(i) A, a medical officer attached to a regiment, is actually employed in an expedition. He is a soldier actually employed in an expedition, and can make a privileged will.

(ii) A is at sea in a merchant-ship, of which he is the purser. He is a mariner, and, being at sea, can make a privileged will.

(iii) A, a soldier serving in the field against insurgents, is a soldier engaged in actual warfare, and as such can make a privileged will.

(iv) A, a mariner of a ship, in the course of a voyage, is temporarily on shore while she is lying in harbour. He is, for the purposes of this section, a mariner at sea, and can make a privileged will.

(v) A, an admiral who commands a naval force, but who lives on shore, and only occasionally goes on board his ship, is not considered as at sea, and cannot make a privileged will.

(vi) A, a mariner serving on a military expedition, but not being at sea, is considered as a soldier, and can make a privileged will.

Mode of making, and rules for executing, privileged wills.

66. (1) Privileged wills may be in writing, or may be made by word of mouth.

(2) The execution of privileged wills shall be governed by the following rules :—

(a) The will may be written wholly by the testator, with his own hand. In such case it need not be signed or attested.

(b) It may be written wholly or in part by another person, and signed by the testator. In such case it need not be attested.

(c) If the instrument purporting to be a will is written wholly or in part by another person and is not signed by the testator, it shall be deemed to be his will, if it is shown that it was written by the testator's directions or that he recognised it as his will.

(d) If it appears on the face of the instrument that the execution of it in the manner intended by the testator was not completed, the instrument shall not, by reason of that circumstance, be invalid, provided that his non-execution of it can be reasonably ascribed to some cause other than the abandonment of the testamentary intentions expressed in the instrument.

(e) If the soldier or mariner has written instructions for the preparation of his will, but has died before it could be prepared and executed, such instructions shall be considered to constitute will.

(f) If the soldier or mariner has, in the presence of two witnesses, given verbal instructions for the preparation of his will, and they have been reduced into writing in his lifetime, but he has died before the instrument could be prepared and executed, such instructions shall be considered to constitute his will, although they may not have been reduced into writing in his presence, nor read over to him.

(g) The soldier or mariner may make a will by word of mouth by declaring his intentions before two witnesses present at the same time.

(h) A will made by word of mouth shall be null at the expiration of one month after the testator being still alive, has ceased to be entitled to make a privileged will.

CHAPTER V.

Of the Attestation, Revocation, Alteration and Revival of Wills.

Effect of gift to attesting witness.

67. A will shall not be deemed to be insufficiently attested by reason of any benefit thereby given either by way of bequest or by way of appointment to any person attesting it, or to his or her wife or husband; but the bequest or appointment shall be void so far as concerns the persons so attesting, or the wife or husband of such person, or any person claiming under either of them.

Explanation.—A legatee under a will does not lose his legacy by attesting a codicil which confirms the will.

Witness not disqualified by interest or by being executor.

68. No person, by reason of interest in, or of his being an executor of, a will shall be disqualified as a witness to prove the execution of the will or to prove the validity or invalidity thereof.

Revocation of will by testator's marriage.

69. Every will shall be revoked by the marriage of the maker, except a will made in exercise of a power of appointment, when the property over which the power of appointment is exercised would not, in default of such appointment, pass to his or her executor or administrator, or to the person entitled in case of intestacy.

Explanation.—Where a man is invested with power to determine the disposition of property of which he is not the owner, he is said to have power to appoint such property.

Revocation of unprivileged will or codicil.

70. No unprivileged will or codicil, nor any part thereof, shall be revoked otherwise than by marriage, or by another will or codicil, or by some writing declaring an intention to revoke the same and executed in the manner in which an unprivileged will is hereinbefore required to be executed, or by the burning, tearing or otherwise destroying the same by the testator or by some person in his presence and by his direction with the intention of revoking the same.

Illustrations.

(i) A has made an unprivileged will. Afterwards A makes another unprivileged will which purports to revoke the first. This is a revocation.

(ii) A has made an unprivileged will. Afterwards, A, being entitled to make a privileged will, makes a privileged will which purports to revoke his unprivileged will. This is a revocation.

Effect of obliteration, interlineation or alteration in unprivileged will.

71. No obliteration, interlineation or other alteration made in any unprivileged will after the execution thereof shall have any effect, except so far as the words or meaning of the will have been thereby rendered illegible or undiscernible, unless such alteration has been executed in like manner as hereinbefore is required for the execution of the will:

Provided that the will, as so altered, shall be deemed to be duly executed if the signature of the testator and the subscription of the witnesses is made in the margin or on some other part of the will opposite or near to such alteration, or at the foot or end of or opposite to a memorandum referring to such alteration, and written at the end or some other part of the will.

Revocation of privileged will or codicil.

72. A privileged will or codicil may be revoked by the testator by an unprivileged will or codicil, or by any act expressing an intention to revoke it and accompanied by such formalities as would be sufficient to give validity to a privileged will, or by the burning, tearing or otherwise destroying the same by the testator, or by some person in his presence and by his direction, with the intention of revoking the same.

Explanation.—In order to the revocation of a privileged will or codicil by an act accompanied by such formalities as would be sufficient to give validity to a privileged will, it is not necessary that the testator should at the time of doing that act be in a situation which entitles him to make a privileged will.

Revival of unprivileged will.

73. (1) No unprivileged will or codicil, nor any part thereof, which has been revoked in any manner, shall be revived otherwise than by the re-execution thereof, or by a codicil executed in manner hereinbefore required, and showing an intention to revive the same.

(2) When any will or codicil, which has been partly revoked and afterwards wholly revoked, is revived, such revival shall not extend to so much thereof as has been revoked before the revocation of the whole thereof, unless an intention to the contrary is shown by the will or codicil.

CHAPTER VI.

OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF WILLS.

Wording of will.

74. It is not necessary that any technical words or terms of art be used in a will, but only that the wording be such that the intentions of the testator can be known therefrom.

Inquiries to determine questions as to object or subject of will.

75. For the purpose of determining questions as to what person or what property is denoted by any words used in a will, a Court shall inquire into every material fact relating to the persons who claim to be interested under such will, the property which is claimed as the subject of disposition, the circumstances of the testator and of his family, and into every fact a knowledge of which may conduce to the right application of the words which the testator has used.

Illustrations.

(i) A, by his will, bequeaths 1,000 rupees to his eldest son or to his youngest grandchild, or to his cousin, Mary. A Court may make inquiry in order to ascertain to what person the description in the will applies.

(ii) A, by his will, leaves to B "my estate called Black Acre." It may be necessary to take evidence in order to ascertain what is the subject-matter of the bequest; that is to say, what estate of the testator's is called Black Acre.

(iii) A, by his will, leaves to B "the estate which I purchased of C." It may be necessary to take evidence in order to ascertain what estate the testator purchased of C.

Misnomer or misdescription of object.

76. (1) Where the words used in a will to designate or describe a legatee or a class of legatees sufficiently show what is meant, an error in the name or description shall not prevent the legacy from taking effect.

(2) A mistake in the name of a legatee may be corrected by a description of him, and a mistake in the description of a legatee may be corrected by the name.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths a legacy to "Thomas, the second son of my brother John." The testator has an only brother named John, who has no son named Thomas, but has a second son whose name is William. William will have the legacy.

(ii) A bequeaths a legacy "to Thomas, the second son of my brother John." The testator has an only brother, named John, whose first son is named Thomas, and whose second son is named William. Thomas will have the legacy.

(iii) The testator bequeaths his property "to A and B, the legitimate children of C." C has no legitimate child, but has two illegitimate children, A and B. The bequest to A and B takes effect, although they are illegitimate.

(iv) The testator gives his residuary estate to be divided among "my seven children" and, proceeding to enumerate them, mentions six names only. This omission will not prevent the seventh child from taking a share with the others.

(v) The testator, having six grandchildren, makes a bequest to "my six grandchildren" and, proceeding to mention them by their Christian names, mentions one twice over omitting another altogether. The one whose name is not mentioned will take a share with the others.

(vi) The testator bequeaths "1,000 rupees to each of the three children of A.' At the date of the will A has four children Each of those four children will, if he survives the testator, receive a legacy of 1,000 rupees.

When words may be supplied.

77. Where any word material to the full expression of the meaning has been omitted, it may be supplied by the context.

Illustration.

The testator gives a legacy of "five hundred" to his daughter A and a legacy of "five hundred rupees" to his daughter B. A will take a legacy of five hundred rupees.

Rejection of erroneous particulars in description of subject.

78. If the thing which the testator intended to bequeath can be sufficiently identified from the description of it given in the will, but some parts of the description do not apply, such parts of the description shall be rejected as erroneous, and the bequest shall take effect.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B "my marsh-lands lying in L and in the occupation of X." The testator had marsh-lands lying in L but had no marsh-lands in the occupation of X. The words "in the occupation of X" shall be rejected as erroneous and the marsh-lands of the testator lying in L will pass by the bequest.

(ii) The testator bequeaths to A "my zamindari of Rampur." He had an estate at Rampur but it was a taluq and not a zamindari. The taluq passes by this bequest.

When part of description may not be rejected as erroneous.

79. If a will mentions several circumstances as descriptive of the thing which the testator intends to bequeath, and there is any property of his in respect of which all those circumstances exist, the bequest shall be considered as limited to such property, and it shall not be lawful to reject any part of the description as erroneous, because the testator had other property to which such part of the description does not apply.

Explanation.—In judging whether a case falls within the meaning of this section, any words which would be liable to rejection under section 78 shall be deemed to have been struck out of the will.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B "my marsh-lands lying in L, and in the occupation of X." The testator had marsh-lands lying in L, some of which were in the occupation of X, and some not in the occupation of X. The bequest will be considered as limited to such of the testator's marsh-lands lying in L as were in the occupation of X.

(ii) A bequeaths to B "my marsh-lands lying in L and in the occupation of X, comprising 1,000 bighas of lands." The testator had marsh-lands lying in L some of which were in the occupation of X and some not in the occupation of X. The measurement is wholly inapplicable to the marsh-lands of either class, or to the whole taken together. The measurement will be considered as struck out of the will, and such of the testator's marsh-lands lying in L as were in the occupation of X shall alone pass by the bequest.

Extrinsic evidence admissible in cases of patent ambiguity.

80. Where the words of a will are unambiguous, but it is found by extrinsic evidence that they admit of applications, one only of which can have been intended by the testator, extrinsic evidence may be taken to show which of these applications was intended.

Illustrations.

(i) A man, having two cousins of the name of Mary, bequeaths a sum of money to "my cousin Mary." It appears that there are two persons, each answering the description in the will. That description, therefore, admits of two applications, only one of which can have been intended by the testator. Evidence is admissible to show which of the two applications was intended.

(ii) A, by his will, leaves to B "my estate called Sultanpur Khurd." It turns out that he had two estates called Sultanpur Khurd. Evidence is admissible to show which estate was intended.

Extrinsic evidence inadmissible in case of patent ambiguity or deficiency.

81. Where there is an ambiguity or deficiency on the face of a will, no extrinsic evidence as to the intentions of the testator shall be admitted.

Illustrations.

(i) A man has an aunt, Caroline, and a cousin, Mary, and has no aunt of the name of Mary. By his will he bequeaths 1,000 rupees to "my aunt, Caroline" and 1,000 rupees to "my cousin, Mary" and afterwards bequeaths 2,000 rupees to "my before mentioned aunt, Mary." There is no person to whom the description given in the will can apply, and evidence is not admissible to show who was meant by "my before mentioned aunt, Mary." The bequest is therefore void for uncertainty under section 89.

(ii) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to leaving a blank for the name of the legatee. Evidence is not admissible to show what name the testator intended to insert.

(iii) A bequeaths to B rupees, or "my estate of ." Evidence is not admissible to show what sum or what estate the testator intended to insert.

Meaning of clause to be collected from entire will.

82. The meaning of any clause in a will is to be collected from the entire instrument, and all its parts are to be construed with reference to each other.

Illustrations.

(i) The testator gives to B a specific fund or property at the death of A, and by a subsequent clause gives the whole of his property to A. The effect of the several clauses taken together is to vest the specific fund or property in A for life, and after his decease in B; it appearing from the bequest to B that the testator meant to use in a restricted sense the words in which he describes what he gives to A.

(ii) Where a testator having an estate, one part of which is called Black Acre, bequeaths the whole of his estate to A, and in another part of his will bequeaths Black Acre to B, the latter bequest is to be read as an exception out of the first as if he had said "I give Black Acre to B, and all the rest of my estate to A."

When words may be understood in restricted sense, and when in sense wider than usual.

83. General words may be understood in a restricted sense where it may be collected from the will that the testator meant to use them in a restricted sense; and words may be understood in a wider sense than that which they usually bear, where it may be collected from the other words of the will that the testator meant to use them in such wider sense.

Illustrations.

(i) A testator gives to A "my farm in the occupation of B," and to C "all my marsh-lands in L". Part of the farm in the occupation of B consists of marsh-lands in L, and the testator also has other marsh-lands in L. The general words, "all my marsh-lands in L," are restricted by the gift to A. A takes the whole of the farm in the occupation of B, including that portion of the farm which consists of marsh-lands in L.

(ii) The testator (a sailor on ship-board) bequeathed to his mother his gold ring, buttons and chest of clothes, and to his friend, A (a shipmate), his red box, clasp-knife and all things not before bequeathed. The testator's share in a house does not pass to A under this bequest.

(iii) A, by his will, bequeathed to B all his household furniture, plate, linen, china, books, pictures and all other goods of whatever kind; and afterwards bequeathed to B a specified part of his property. Under the first bequest, B is entitled only to such articles of the testator's as are of the same nature with the articles therein enumerated.

Which of two possible constructions preferred.

84. Where a clause is susceptible of two meanings according to one of which it has some effect, and according to the other of which it can have none, the former shall be preferred.

No part rejected, if it can be reasonably construed.

85. No part of a will shall be rejected as destitute of meaning if it is possible to put a reasonable construction upon it.

Interpretation of words repeated in different parts of will.

86. If the same words occur in different parts of the same will, they shall be taken to have been used everywhere in the same sense, unless a contrary intention appears.

Testator's intention to be effectuated as far as possible.

87. The intention of the testator shall not be set aside because it cannot take effect to the full extent, but effect is to be given to it as far as possible.

Illustration.

The testator by a will made on his death-bed bequeathed all his property to C D for life and after his decease to a certain hospital. The intention of the testator cannot take effect to its full extent, because the gift to the hospital is void under section 118, but it will take effect so far as regards the gift to C D.

The last of two inconsistent clauses prevails.

88. Where two clauses or gifts in a will are irreconcileable, so that they cannot possibly stand together, the last shall prevail.

Illustrations.

(i) The testator by the first clause of his will leaves his estate of Ramnagar "to A," and by the last clause of his will leaves it "to B and not to A." B will have it.

(ii) If a man at the commencement of his will gives his house to A, and at the close of it directs that his house shall be sold and the proceeds invested for the benefit of B, the latter disposition will prevail.

Will or bequest void for uncertainty.

89. A will or bequest not expressive of any definite intention is void for uncertainty.

Illustration.

If a testator says "I bequeath goods to A," or "I bequeath to A," or "I leave to A all the goods mentioned in the Schedule" and no Schedule is found, or "I bequeath 'money,' 'wheat,' 'oil'" or the like, without saying how much, this is void.

Words describing subject refer to property answering description at testator's death.

90. The description contained in a will of property, the subject of gift, shall, unless a contrary intention appears by the will, be deemed to refer to and comprise the property answering that description at the death of the testator.

Power of appointment executed by general bequest.

91. Unless a contrary intention appears by the will, a bequest of the estate of the testator shall be construed to include any property which he may have power to appoint by will to any object he may think proper, and shall operate as an execution of such power; and a bequest of property described in a general manner shall be construed to include any property to which such description may extend, which he may have power to appoint by will to any object he may think proper, and shall operate as an execution of such power.

Implied gift to objects of power in default of appointment.

92. Where property is bequeathed to or for the benefit of certain objects as a specified person may appoint or for the benefit of certain objects in such proportions as a specified person may appoint, and the will does not provide for the event of no appointment being made; if the power given by the will is not exercised, the property belongs to all the objects of the power in equal shares.

Illustration.

A, by his will, bequeaths a fund to his wife, for her life, and directs that at her death it shall be divided among his children in such proportions as she shall appoint. The widow dies without having made any appointment. The fund will be divided equally among the children.

Bequest to "heirs," etc., of particular person without qualifying terms.

93. Where a bequest is made to the "heirs" or "right heirs" or "relations" or "nearest relations" or "family" or "kindred" or "nearest of kin" or "next-of-kin" of a particular person without any qualifying terms, and the class so designated forms the direct and independent object of the bequest, the property bequeathed shall be distributed as if it had belonged to such person and he had died intestate in respect of it, leaving assets for the payment of his debts independently of such property.

Illustrations.

(i) A leaves his property "to my own nearest relations". The property goes to those who would be entitled to it if A had died intestate, leaving assets for the payment of his debts independently of such property.

(ii) A bequeaths 10,000 rupees "to B for his life, and, after the death of B, to my own right heirs". The legacy after B's death belongs to those who would be entitled to it if it had formed part of A's unbequeathed property.

(iii) A leaves his property to B; but if B dies before him, to B's next-of-kin; B dies before A; the property devolves as if it had belonged to B, and he had died intestate, leaving assets for the payment of his debts independently of such property.

(iv) A leaves 10,000 rupees "to B for his life, and after his decease to the heirs of C". The legacy goes as if it had belonged to C, and he had died intestate, leaving assets for the payment of his debts independently of the legacy.

Bequest to "representatives," etc., of particular person.

94. Where a bequest is made to the "representatives" or "legal representatives" or "personal representatives" or "executors or administrators" of a particular person, and the class so designated forms the direct and independent object of the bequest, the property bequeathed shall be distributed as if it had belonged to such person and he had died intestate in respect of it.

Illustration.

A bequest is made to the "legal representatives" of A. A has died intestate and insolvent. B is his administrator. B is entitled to receive the legacy, and will apply it in the first place to the discharge of such part of A's debts as may remain unpaid: if there be any surplus B will pay it to those persons who at A's death would have been entitled to receive any property of A's which might remain after payment of his debts, or to the representatives of such persons.

Bequest without words of limitation.

95. Where property is bequeathed to any person, he is entitled to the whole interest of the testator therein, unless it appears from the will that only a restricted interest was intended for him.

Bequest in alternative.

96. Where property is bequeathed to a person with a bequest in the alternative to another person or to a class of persons, then, if a contrary intention does not appear by the will, the legatee first named shall be entitled to the legacy if he is alive at the time when it takes effect; but if he is then dead, the person or class of persons named in the second branch of the alternative shall take the legacy.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequest is made to A or to B. A survives the testator. B takes nothing.

(ii) A bequest is made to A or to B. A dies after the date of the will, and before the testator. The legacy goes to B.

(iii) A bequest is made to A or to B. A is dead at the date of the will. The legacy goes to B.

(iv) Property is bequeathed to A or his heirs. A survives the testator. A takes the property absolutely.

(v) Property is bequeathed to A or his nearest of kin. A dies in the lifetime of the testator. Upon the death of the testator, the bequest to A's nearest of kin takes effect.

(vi) Property is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to B or his heirs. A and B survive the testator. B dies in A's lifetime. Upon A's death the bequest to the heirs of B takes effect

(vii) Property is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to B or his heirs. B dies in the testator's lifetime. A survives the testator. Upon A's death the bequest to the heirs of B takes effect.

Effect of words describing a class added to bequest to person.

97. Where property is bequeathed to a person, and words are added which describe a class of persons but do not denote them as direct objects of a distinct and independent gift, such person is entitled to the whole interest of the testator therein, unless a contrary intention appears by the will.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequest is made—to A and his children, to A and his children by his present wife,

to A and his heirs,

to A and the heirs of his body,

to A and the heirs male of his body,

to A and the heirs female of his body,

to A and his issue,

to A and his family.

to A and his descendants,

to A and his representatives, to A and his personal representatives, to A, his executors and administrators

In each of these cases, A takes the whole interest which the testator had in the property.

(ii) A bequest is made to A and his brothers. A and his brothers are jointly entitled to the legacy.

(iii) A bequest is made to A for life and after his death to his issue. At the death of A the property belongs in equal shares to all persons who then answer the description of issue of A.

Bequest to class of persons under general description only.

98. Where a bequest is made to a class of persons under a general description only, no one to whom the words of the description are not in their ordinary sense applicable shall take the legacy.

Construction of terms.

99. In a will—

(a) the word "children" applies only to lineal descendants in the first degree of the person whose "children" are spoken of ;

(b) the word "grandchildren" applies only to lineal descendants in the second degree of the person whose "grandchildren" are spoken of ;

(c) the words "nephews" and "nieces" apply only to children of brothers or sisters ;

(d) the words "cousins," or "first cousins," or "cousins-german," apply only to children of brothers or of sisters of the father or mother of the person whose "cousins," or "first cousins," or "cousins-german," are spoken of ;

(e) the words "first cousins once removed" apply only to children of cousins-german, or to cousins-german of a parent of the person whose "first cousins once removed" are spoken of ;

(f) the words "second cousins" apply only to grandchildren of brothers or of sisters of the grandfather or grandmother of the person whose "second cousins" are spoken of ;

(g) the words "issue" and "descendants" apply to all lineal descendants whatever of the person whose "issue" or "descendants" are spoken of ;

(h) words expressive of collateral relationship apply alike to relatives of full and of half blood ; and (i) all words expressive of relationship apply to a child in the womb who is afterwards born alive.

Words expressing relationship denote only legitimate relatives or failing such relatives reputed legitimate.

100. In the absence of any intimation to the contrary in a will, the word "child," the word "son," the word "daughter," or any word which expresses relationship, is to be understood as denoting only a legitimate relative, or, where there is no such legitimate relative, a person who has acquired, at the date of the will, the reputation of being such relative.

Illustrations.

(i) A having three children, B, C and D, of whom B and C are legitimate and D is illegitimate, leaves his property to be equally divided among "my children." The property belongs to B and C in equal shares, to the exclusion of D.

(ii) A, having a niece of illegitimate birth, who has acquired the reputation of being his niece, and having no legitimate niece, bequeaths a sum of money to his niece. The illegitimate niece is entitled to the legacy.

(iii) A, having in his will enumerated his children, and named as one of them B, who is illegitimate, leaves a legacy to "my said children." B will take a share in the legacy along with the legitimate children.

(iv) A leaves a legacy to "the children of B". B is dead and has left none but illegitimate children. All those who had at the date of the will acquired the reputation of being the children of B are objects of the gift.

(v) A bequeaths a legacy to "the children of B". B never had any legitimate child. C and D had, at the date of the will, acquired the reputation of being children of B. After the date of the will and before the death of the testator, E and F were born, and acquired the reputation of being children of B. Only C and D are objects of the bequest.

(vi) A makes a bequest in favour of his child by a certain woman, not his wife. B had acquired at the date of the will the reputation of being the child of A by the woman designated. B takes the legacy.

(vii) A makes a bequest in favour of his child to be born of a woman who never becomes his wife. The bequest is void.

(viii) A makes a bequest in favour of the child of which a certain woman, not married to him, is pregnant. The bequest is valid.

Rules of construction where will purports to make two bequests to same person.

101. Where a will purports to make two bequests to the same person, and a question arises whether the testator intended to make the second bequest instead of or in addition to the first; if there is nothing in the will to show what he intended, the following rules shall have effect in determining the construction to be put upon the will:—

(a) If the same specific thing is bequeathed twice to the same legatee in the same will or in the will and again in the codicil, he is entitled to receive that specific thing only.

(b) Where one and the same will or one and the same codicil purports to make, in two places, a bequest to the same person of the same quantity or amount of anything, he shall be entitled to one such legacy only.

(c) Where two legacies of unequal amount are given to the same person in the same will, or in the same codicil, the legatee is entitled to both.

(d) Where two legacies, whether equal or unequal in amount, are given to the same legatee, one by a will and the other by a codicil, or each by a different codicil, the legatee is entitled to both legacies.

Explanation.—In clauses (a) to (d) of this section, the word "will" does not include a codicil.

Illustrations.

(i) A, having ten shares, and no more, in the Imperial Bank of India, made his will, which contains near its commencement the words "I bequeath my ten shares in the Imperial Bank of India to B." After other bequests, the will concludes with the words "and I bequeath my ten shares in the Imperial Bank of India to B". B is entitled simply to receive A's ten shares in the Imperial Bank of India.

(ii) A, having one diamond ring, which was given him by B, bequeaths to C the diamond ring which was given by B. A afterwards made a codicil to his will, and thereby, after giving other legacies, he bequeathed to C the diamond ring which was given him by B. C can claim nothing except the diamond ring which was given to A by B.

(iii) A, by his will, bequeaths to B the sum of 5,000 rupees and afterwards in the same will repeats the bequest in the same words. B is entitled to one legacy of 5,000 rupees only.

(iv) A, by his will, bequeaths to B the sum of 5,000 rupees and afterwards in the same will bequeaths to B the sum of 6,000 rupees. B is entitled to receive 11,000 rupees.

(v) A, by his will, bequeaths to B 5,000 rupees and by a codicil to the will he bequeaths to him 5,000 rupees. B is entitled to receive 10,000 rupees.

(vi) A, by one codicil to his will, bequeaths to B 5,000 rupees and by another codicil bequeaths to him 6,000 rupees. B is entitled to receive 11,000 rupees.

(vii) A, by his will, bequeaths "500 rupees to B because she was my nurse," and in another part of the will bequeaths 500 rupees to B "because she went to England with my children." B is entitled to receive 1,000 rupees.

(viii) A, by his will, bequeaths to B the sum of 5,000 rupees and also, in another part of the will, an annuity of 400 rupees. B is entitled to both legacies.

(ix) A, by his will, bequeaths to B the sum of 5,000 rupees and also bequeaths to him the sum of 5,000 rupees if he shall attain the age of 18. B is entitled absolutely to one sum of 5,000 rupees, and takes a contingent interest in another sum of 5,000 rupees.

Constitution of residuary legatee.

102. A residuary legatee may be constituted by any words that show an intention on the part of the testator that the person designated shall take the surplus or residue of his property.

Illustrations.

(i) A makes her will, consisting of several testmentary papers, in one of which are contained the following words :—"I think there will be something left, after all funeral expenses, etc., to give to B, now at school, towards equipping him to any profession he may hereafter be appointed to". B is constituted residuary legatee.

(ii) A makes his will, with the following passage at the end of it :—"I believe there will be found sufficient in my banker's hands to defray and discharge my debts, which I hereby desire B to do, and keep the residue for her own use and pleasure". B is constituted the residuary legatee.

(iii) A bequeaths all his property to B, except certain stocks and funds, which he bequeaths to C. B is the residuary legatee.

Property to which residuary legatee entitled.

103. Under a residuary bequest, the legatee is entitled to all property belonging to the testator at the time of his death, of which he has not made any other testamentary disposition which is capable of taking effect.

Illustration.

A by his will bequeaths certain legacies, of which one is void under section 118, and another lapses by the death of the legatee. He bequeaths the residue of his property to B. After the date of his will A purchases a zamindari, which belongs to him at the time of his death. B is entitled to the two legacies and the zamindari as part of the residue.

Time of vesting legacy in general terms.

104. If a legacy is given in general terms without specifying the time when it is to be paid, the legatee has a vested interest in it from the day of the death of the testator, and, if he dies without having received it, it shall pass to his representatives.

In what case legacy lapses.

105. (1) If the legatee does not survive the testator, the legacy cannot take effect, but shall lapse and form part of the residue of the testator's property, unless it appears by the will that the testator intended that it should go to some other person.

(2) In order to entitle the representatives of the legatee to receive the legacy, it must be proved that he survived the testator.

Illustrations.

(i) The testator bequeaths to B "500 rupees which B owes me". B dies before the testator; the legacy lapses.

(ii) A bequest is made to A and his children. A dies before the testator, or happens to be dead when the will is made. The legacy to A and his children lapses.

(iii) A legacy is given to A, and, in case of his dying before the testator, to B. A dies before the testator. The legacy goes to B.

(iv) A sum of money is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to B. A dies in the lifetime of the testator; B survives the testator. The bequest to B takes effect.

(v) A sum of money is bequeathed to A on his completing his eighteenth year, and in case he should die before he completes his eighteenth year, to B. A completes his eighteenth year, and dies in the lifetime of the testator. The legacy to A lapses and the bequest to B does not take effect.

(vi) The testator and the legatee perished in the same ship-wreck. There is no evidence to show which died first. The legacy lapses.

Legacy does not lapse if one of two joint legatees die before testator.

106. If a legacy is given to two persons jointly, and one of them dies before the testator, the other legatee takes the whole.

Illustration.

The legacy is simply to A and B. A dies before the testator. B takes the legacy.

Effect of words showing testator's intention to give distinct shares.

107. If a legacy is given to legatees in words which show that the testator intended to give them distinct shares of it, then, if any legatee dies before the testator, so much of the legacy as was intended for him shall fall into the residue of the testator's property.

Illustration.

A sum of money is bequeathed to A, B and C, to be equally divided among them. A dies before the testator. B and C will only take so much as they would have had if A had survived the testator.

When lapsed share goes as undisposed of.

108. Where a share which lapses is a part of the general residue bequeathed by the will, that share shall go as undisposed of.

Illustration.

The testator bequeaths the residue of his estate to A, B and C, to be equally divided between them. A dies before the testator. His one-third of the residue goes as undisposed of.

When bequest to testator's child or lineal descendant does not lapse on his death in testator's lifetime.

109. Where a bequest has been made to any child or other lineal descendant of the testator, and the legatee dies in the lifetime of the testator, but any lineal descendant of his survives the testator, the bequest shall not lapse, but shall take effect as if the death of the legatee had happened immediately after the death of the testator, unless a contrary intention appears by the will.

Illustration.

A makes his will, by which he bequeaths a sum of money to his son, B, for his own absolute use and benefit. B dies before A, leaving a son, C, who survives A, and having made his will whereby he bequeaths all his property to his widow, D. The money goes to D.

Bequest to A for benefit of B does not lapse by A's death.

110. Where a bequest is made to one person for the benefit of another, the legacy does not lapse by the death, in the testator's lifetime, of the person to whom the bequest is made.

Survivorship in case of bequest to described class.

111. Where a bequest is made simply to a described class of persons, the thing bequeathed shall go only to such as are alive at the testator's death.

Exception.—If property is bequeathed to a class of persons described as standing in a particular degree of kindred to a specified individual, but their possession of it is deferred until a time later than the death of the testator by a reason of a prior bequest or otherwise, the property shall at that time go to such of them as are then alive, and to the representatives of any of them who have died since the death of the testator.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to "the children of B" without saying when it is to be distributed among them. B had died previous to the date of the will, leaving three children, C, D and E. E died after the date of the will, but before the death of A. C and D survive A. The legacy will belong to C and D, to the exclusion of the representatives of E.

(ii) A lease for years of a house was bequeathed to A for his life, and after his decease to the children of B. At the death of the testator, B had two children living, C and D, and he never had any other child. Afterwards, during the lifetime of A, C died, leaving E, his executor. D has survived A. D and E are jointly entitled to so much of the lease-hold term as remains unexpired.

(iii) A sum of money was bequeathed to A for her life, and after her decease, to the children of B. At the death of the testator, B had two children living, C and D, and, after that event, two children, E and F, were born to B. C and E died in the lifetime of A, C having made a will, E having made no will. A has died, leaving D and F surviving her. The legacy is to be divided into four equal parts, one of which is to be paid to the executor of C, one to D, one to the administrator of E, and one to F.

(iv) A bequeaths one-third of his lands to B for his life, and after his decease to the sisters of B. At the death of the testator, B had two sisters living, C and D, and after that event another sister E was born. C died during the life of B, D and E have survived B. One-third of A's lands belong to D, E and the representatives of C, in equal shares.

(v) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to B for life and after his death equally among the children of C. Up to the death of B, C had not had any child. The bequest after the death of B is void.

(vi) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to "all the children born or to be born" of B to be divided among them at the death of C. At the death of the testator, B has two children living, D and E. After the death of the testator, but in the lifetime of C, two other children, F and G, are born to B. After the death of C, another child is born to B. The legacy belongs to D, E, F and G, to the exclusion of the after-born child of B.

(vii) A bequeaths a fund to the children of B, to be divided among them when the eldest shall attain majority. At the testator's death B had one child living, named C. He afterwards had two other children, named D and E. E died, but C and D were living when C attained majority. The fund belongs to C, D and the representatives of E, to the exclusion of any child who may be born to B after C's attaining majority.

CHAPTER VII.

Of void Bequests.

Bequest to a person by particular description, who is not in existence at testator's death.

112. Where a bequest is made to a person by a particular description, and there is no person in existence at the testator's death who answers the description, the bequest is void.

Exception.—If property is bequeathed to a person described as standing in a particular degree of kindred to a specified individual, but his possession of it is deferred until a time later than the death of the testator, by reason of a prior bequest or otherwise; and if a person answering the description is alive at the death of the testator, or comes into existence between that event and such later time, the property shall, at such later time, go to that person, or, if he is dead, to his representatives.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to the eldest son of B. At the death of the testator, B has no son. The bequest is void.

(ii) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to B for life, and after his death to the eldest son of C. At the death of the testator, C had no son. Afterwards, during the life of B, a son is born to C. Upon B's death the legacy goes to C's son.

(iii) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to B for life, and after his death to the eldest son of C. At the death of the testator, C had no son. Afterwards, during the life of B, a son, named D, is born to C, D dies, then B dies. The legacy goes to the representative of D.

(iv) A bequeaths his estate of Green Acre to B for life, and at his decease, to the eldest son of C. Up to the death of B, C has had no son. The bequest to C's eldest son is void.

(v) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to the eldest son of C, to be paid to him after the death of B. At the death of the testator, C has no son, but a son is afterwards born to him during the life of B and is alive at B's death. C's son is entitled to the 1,000 rupees.

Bequest to person not in existence at testator's death, subject to prior bequest.

113. Where a bequest is made to a person not in existence at the time of the testator's death, subject to a prior bequest contained in the will, the later bequest shall be void, unless it comprises the whole of the remaining interest of the testator in the thing bequeathed.

Illustrations.

(i) Property is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to his eldest son for life and after the death of the latter to his eldest son. At the time of the testator's death, A has no son. Here the bequest to A's eldest son is a bequest to a person not in existence at the testator's death. It is not a bequest of the whole interest that remains to the testator. The bequest to A's eldest son for his life is void.

(ii) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to his daughters. A survives the testator. A has daughters some of whom were not in existence at the testator's death. The bequest to A's daughters comprises the whole interest that remains to the testator in the thing bequeathed. The bequest to A's daughters is valid.

(iii) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to his daughters, with a direction that, if any of them marries under the age of eighteen, her portion shall be settled so that it may belong to herself for life and may be divisible among her children after her death. A has no daughters living at the time of the testator's death, but has daughters born afterwards who survive him. Here the direction for a settlement has the effect in the case of each daughter who marries under eighteen of substituting for the absolute bequest to her a bequest to her merely for her life; that is to say, a bequest to a person not in existence at the time of the testator's death of something which is less than the whole interest that remains to the testator in the thing bequeathed. The direction to settle the fund is void.

(iv) A bequeaths a sum of money to B for life, and directs that upon the death of B the fund shall be settled upon his daughter, so that the portion of each daughter may belong to herself for life, and may be divided among her children after her death. B has no daughter living at the time of the testator's death. In this case the only bequest to the daughters of B is contained in the direction to settle the fund, and this direction amounts to a bequest to persons not yet born, of a life-interest in the fund, that is to say, of something which is less than the whole interest that remains to the testator in the thing bequeathed. The direction to settle the fund upon the daughters of B is void.

Rule against perpetuity.

114. No bequest is valid whereby the vesting of the thing bequeathed may be delayed beyond the lifetime of one or more persons living at the testator's death and the minority of some persons who shall be in existence at the expiration of that period, and to whom, if he attains full age, the thing bequeathed is to belong.

Illustrations.

(i) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life and after his death to B for his life ; and after B's death to such of the sons of B as shall first attain the age of 25. A and B survive the testator. Here the son of B who shall first attain the age of 25 may be a son born after the death of the testator ; such son may not attain 25 until more than 18 years have elapsed from the death of the longer liver of A and B ; and the vesting of the fund may thus be delayed beyond the lifetime of A and B and the minority of the sons of B. The bequest after B's death is void.

(ii) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to B for his life, and after B's death to such of B's sons as shall first attain the age of 25. B dies in the lifetime of the testator, leaving one or more sons. In this case the sons of B are persons living at the time of the testator's decease, and the time when either of them will attain 25 necessarily falls within his own lifetime. The bequest is valid.

(iii) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to B for his life, with a direction that after B's death it shall be divided amongst such of B's children as shall attain the age of 18, but that, if no child of B shall attain that age, the fund shall go to C. Here the time for the division of the fund must arrive at the latest at the expiration of 18 years from the death of B, a person living at the testator's decease. All the bequests are valid.

(iv) A fund is bequeathed to trustees for the benefit of the testator's daughters, with a direction that, if any of them marry under age, her share of the fund shall be settled so as to devolve after her death upon such of her children as shall attain the age of 18. Any daughter of the testator to whom the direction applies must be in existence at his decease, and any portion of the fund which may eventually be settled as directed must vest not later than 18 years from the death of the daughters whose share it was. All these provisions are valid.

Bequest to a class some of whom may come under rules in sections 113 and 114.

115. If a bequest is made to a class of persons with regard to some of whom it is inoperative by reason of the provisions of section 113 or section 114, such bequest shall be wholly void.

Illustrations.

(i) A fund is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to all his children who shall attain the age of 25. A survives the testator, and has some children living at the testator's death. Each child of A's living at the testator's death must attain the age of 25 (if at all) within the limits allowed for a bequest. But A may have children after the testator's decease, some of whom may not attain the age of 25 until more than 18 years have elapsed after the decease of A. The bequest to A's children, therefore, is inoperative as to any child born after the testator's death ; and, as it is given to all his children as a class it is not good as to any division of that class, but is wholly void.

(ii) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to B, C, D and all other children of A who shall attain the age of 25. B, C, D are children of A living at the testator's decease. In all other respects the case is the same as that supposed in Illustration (i). The mention of B, C and D by name does not prevent the bequest from being regarded as a bequest to a class, and the bequest is wholly void.

Bequest to take effect on failure of bequest void under section 113, 114 or 115.

116. Where a bequest is void by reason of any of the provisions of section 113, section 114, or section 115, any bequest contained in the same will, and intended to take effect after or upon failure of such prior bequest, is also void.

Illustrations.

(i) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to such of his sons as shall first attain the age of 25 for his life, and after the decease of such son to B. A and B survive the testator. The bequest to B is intended to take effect after the bequest to such of the sons of A as shall first attain the age of 25, which bequest is void under section 114. The bequest to B is void.

(ii) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to such of his sons as shall first attain the age of 25, and, if no son of A shall attain that age, to B. A and B survive the testator. The bequest to B is intended to take effect upon failure of the bequest to such of A's sons as shall first attain the age of 25, which bequest is void under section 114. The bequest to B is void.

Effect of direction for accumulation.

117. A direction to accumulate the income arising from any property shall be void; and the property shall be disposed of as if no accumulation had been directed.

Exception.—Where the property is immoveable, or where accumulation is directed to be made from the death of the testator, the direction shall be valid in respect only of the income arising from the property within one year next following the testator's death; and at the end of the year such property and income shall be disposed of respectively, as if the period during which the accumulation has been directed to be made had elapsed.

Illustrations.

(i) The will directs that the sum of 10,000 rupees shall be invested in Government securities, and the income accumulated for 20 years, and that the principal, together with the accumulations, shall then be divided between A, B and C. A, B and C are entitled to receive the sum of 10,000 rupees at the end of a year from the testator's death.

(ii) The will directs that 10,000 rupees shall be invested, and the income accumulated until A shall marry, and shall then be paid to him. A is entitled to receive 10,000 rupees at the end of a year from the testator's death.

(iii) The will directs that the rents of the farm of Sultanpur shall be accumulated for ten years, and that the accumulation shall be then paid to the eldest son of A. At the death of the testator, A has an eldest son living, named B. B will receive, at the end of one year from the testator's death, the rents which have accrued during the year, together with any interest which may have been made by investing them.

(iv) The will directs that the rents of the farm of Sultanpur shall be accumulated for ten years, and that the accumulation shall then be paid to the eldest son of A. At the death of the testator, A has no son. The bequest is void.

(v) A bequeaths a sum of money to B, to be paid to him when he shall attain the age of 18, and directs the interest to be accumulated till he shall arrive at that age. At A's death the legacy becomes vested in B; and so much of the interest as is not required for his maintenance and education is accumulated, not by reason of the direction contained in the will, but in consequence of B's minority.

Bequest to religious or charitable uses.

118. No man having a nephew or niece or any nearer relative shall have power to bequeath any property to religious or charitable uses, except by a will executed not less than twelve months before his death, and deposited within six months from its execution in some place provided by law for the safe custody of the wills of living persons.

Illustrations.

A having a nephew makes a bequest by a will not executed and deposited as required—for the relief of poor people; for the maintenance of sick soldiers;

for the erection or support of a hospital;
for the education and preferment of orphans;
for the support of scholars;
for the erection or support of a school;
for the building and repairs of a bridge;
for the making of roads;
for the erection or support of a church;
for the repairs of a church;
for the benefit of ministers of religion;
for the formation or support of a public garden;

All these bequests are void.

CHAPTER VIII.

Of the vesting of Legacies.

Date of vesting of legacy when payment or possession postponed.

119. Where by the terms of a bequest the legatee is not entitled to immediate possession of the thing bequeathed, a right to receive it at the proper time shall, unless a contrary intention appears by the will, become vested in the legatee on the testator's death, and shall pass to the legatee's representatives if he dies before that time and without having received the legacy, and in such cases the legacy is from the testator's death said to be vested in interest.

Explanation.—An intention that a legacy to any person shall not become vested in interest in him is not to be inferred merely from a provision whereby the payment or possession of the thing bequeathed is postponed, or whereby a prior interest therein is bequeathed to some other person, or whereby the income arising from the fund bequeathed is directed to be accumulated until the time of payment arrives, or from a provision that, if a particular event shall happen, the legacy shall go over to another person.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B 100 rupees, to be paid to him at the death of C. On A's death the legacy becomes vested in interest in B, and if he dies before C, his representatives are entitled to the legacy.

(ii) A bequeaths to B 100 rupees, to be paid to him upon his attaining the age of 18. On A's death the legacy becomes vested in interest in B.

(iii) A fund is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to B. On the testator's death the legacy to B becomes vested in interest in B.

(iv) A fund is bequeathed to A until B attains the age of 18 and then to B. The legacy to B is vested in interest from the testator's death.

(v) A bequeaths the whole of his property to B upon trust to pay certain debts out of the income, and then to make over the fund to C. At A's death the gift to C becomes vested in interest in him.

(vi) A fund is bequeathed to A, B and C in equal shares to be paid to them on their attaining the age of 18, respectively, with a proviso that, if all of them die under the age of 18, the legacy shall devolve upon D. On the death of the testator, the shares vested in interest in A, B and C, subject to be divested in case A, B and C shall all die under 18, and, upon the death of any of them (except the last survivor) under the age of 18, his vested interest passes, so subject, to his representatives.

Date of vesting when legacy contingent upon specified uncertain event.

120. (1) A legacy bequeathed in case a specified uncertain event shall happen does not vest until that event happens.

(2) A legacy bequeathed in case a specified uncertain event shall not happen does not vest until the happening of that event becomes impossible.

(3) In either case, until the condition has been fulfilled, the interest of the legatee is called contingent.

Exception.—Where a fund is bequeathed to any person upon his attaining a particular age, and the will also gives to him absolutely the income to arise from the fund before he reaches that age, or directs the income, or so much of it as may be necessary, to be applied for his benefit, the bequest of the fund is not contingent.

Illustrations.

(i) A legacy is bequeathed to D in case A, B and C shall all die under the age of 18. D has a contingent interest in the legacy until A, B and C all die under 18, or one of them attains that age.

(ii) A sum of money is bequeathed to A "in case he shall attain the age of 18," or "when he shall attain the age of 18." A's interest in the legacy is contingent until the condition is fulfilled by his attaining that age.

(iii) An estate is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to B if B shall then be living; but if B shall not be then living to C. A, B and C survive the testator. B and C each take a contingent interest in the estate until the event which is to vest it in one or in the other has happened.

(iv) An estate is bequeathed as in the case last supposed. B dies in the lifetime of A and C. Upon the death of B, C acquires a vested right to obtain possession of the estate upon A's death.

(v) A legacy is bequeathed to A when she shall attain the age of 18, or shall marry under that age with the consent of B, with a proviso that, if she neither attains 18 nor marries under that age with B's consent, the legacy shall go to C. A and C each take a contingent interest in the legacy. A attains the age of 18. A becomes absolutely entitled to the legacy although she may have married under 18 without the consent of B.

(vi) An estate is bequeathed to A until he shall marry and after that event to B. B's interest in the bequest is contingent until the condition is fulfilled by A's marrying.

(vii) An estate is bequeathed to A until he shall take advantage of any law for the relief of insolvent debtors, and after that event to B. B's interest in the bequest is contingent until A takes advantage of such a law.

(viii) An estate is bequeathed to A if he shall pay 500 rupees to B. A's interest in the bequest is contingent until he has paid 500 rupees to B.

(ix) A leaves his farm of Sultanpur Khurd to B, if B shall convey his own farm of Sultanpur Buzurg to C. B's interest in the bequest is contingent until he has conveyed the latter farm to C.

(x) A fund is bequeathed to A if B shall not marry C within five years after the testator's death. A's interest in the legacy is contingent until the condition is fulfilled by the expiration of the five years without B's having married C, or by the occurrence within that period of an event which makes the fulfilment of the condition impossible.

(xi) A fund is bequeathed to A if B shall not make any provision for him by will. The legacy is contingent until B's death.

(xii) A bequeaths to B 500 rupees a year upon his attaining the age of 18, and directs that the interest, or a competent part thereof, shall be applied for his benefit until he reaches that age. The legacy is vested.

(xiii) A bequeaths to B 500 rupees when he shall attain the age of 18, and directs that a certain sum, out of another fund, shall be applied for his maintenance until he arrives at that age. The legacy is contingent.

Vesting of interest in bequest to such members of a class as shall have attained particular age.

121. Where a bequest is made only to such members of a class as shall have attained a particular age, a person who has not attained that age cannot have a vested interest in the legacy.

Illustration.

A fund is bequeathed to such of the children of A as shall attain the age of 18, with a direction that, while any child of A shall be under the age of 18, the income of the share, to which it may be presumed he will be eventually entitled, shall be applied for his maintenance and education. No child of A who is under the age of 18 has a vested interest in the bequest.

CHAPTER IX.

Of Onerous Bequests.

Onerous bequests.

122. Where a bequest imposes an obligation on the legatee, he can take nothing by it unless he accepts it fully.

Illustration.

A, having shares in (X), a prosperous joint stock company and also shares in (Y), a joint stock company in difficulties, in respect of which shares heavy calls are expected to be made, bequeaths to B all his shares in joint stock companies ; B refuses to accept the shares in (Y) He forfeits the shares in (X).

One of two separate and independent bequests to same person may be accepted, and other refused.

123. Where a will contains two separate and independent bequests to the same person, the legatee is at liberty to accept one of them and refuse the other, although the former may be beneficial and the latter onerous.

Illustration.

A, having a lease for a term of years of a house at a rent which he and his representatives are bound to pay during the term, and which is higher than the house can be let for, bequeaths to B the lease and a sum of money. B refuses to accept the lease. He will not by this refusal forfeit the money.

CHAPTER X.

Of Contingent Bequests.

Bequest contingent upon specified uncertain event, no time being mentioned for its occurrence.

124. Where a legacy is given if a specified uncertain event shall happen and no time is mentioned in the will for the occurrence of that event, the legacy cannot take effect, unless such event happens before the period when the fund bequeathed is payable or distributable.

Illustrations.

(i) A legacy is bequeathed to A, and, in case of his death, to B. If A survives the testator, the legacy to B does not take effect.

(ii) A legacy is bequeathed to A, and, in case of his death without children, to B. If A survives the testator or dies in his lifetime leaving a child, the legacy to B does not take effect.

(iii) A legacy is bequeathed to A when and if he attains the age of 18, and, in case of his death, to B. A attains the age of 18. The legacy to B does not take effect.

(iv) A legacy is bequeathed to A for life, and, after his death to B, and, "in case of B's death without children," to C. The words "in case of B's death without children" are to be understood as meaning in case B dies without children during the lifetime of A.

(v) A legacy is bequeathed to A for life, and, after his death to B, and, "in case of B's death," to C. The words "in case of B's death", are to be considered as meaning "in case B dies in the lifetime of A."

Bequest to such of certain persons as shall be surviving at some period not specified.

125. Where a bequest is made to such of certain persons as shall be surviving at some period, but the exact period is not specified, the legacy shall go to such of them as are alive at the time of payment or distribution, unless a contrary intention appears by the will.

Illustrations.

(i) Property is bequeathed to A and B to be equally divided between them, or to the survivor of them. If both A and B survive the testator, the legacy is equally divided between them. If A dies before the testator, and B survives the testator, it goes to B.

(ii) Property is bequeathed to A for life, and, after his death, to B and C, to be equally divided between them, or to the survivor of them. B dies during the life of A ; C survives A. At A's death the legacy goes to C.

(iii) Property is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to B and C, or the survivor, with a direction that, if B should not survive the testator, his children are to stand in his place. C dies during the life of the testator ; B survives the testator. but dies in the lifetime of A. The legacy goes to the representative of B.

(iv) Property is bequeathed to A for life, and, after his death, to B and C, with a direction that, in case either of them dies in the lifetime of A, the whole shall go to the survivor. B dies in the lifetime of A. Afterwards C dies in the lifetime of A. The legacy goes to the representative of C.

CHAPTER XI.

Of Conditional Bequests.

Bequest upon impossible condition.

126. A bequest upon an impossible condition is void.

Illustrations.

(i) An estate is bequeathed to A on condition that he shall walk 100 miles in an hour. The bequest is void.

(ii) A bequeaths 500 rupees to B on condition that he shall marry A's daughter. A's daughter was dead at the date of the will. The bequest is void.

Bequest upon illegal or immoral condition.

127. A bequest upon a condition, the fulfilment of which would be contrary to law or to morality, is void.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths 500 rupees to B on condition that he shall murder C. The bequest is void.

(ii) A bequeaths 5,000 rupees to his niece if she will desert her husband. The bequest is void.

Fulfilment of condition precedent to vesting of legacy.

128. Where a will imposes a condition to be fulfilled before the legatee can take a vested interest in the thing bequeathed, the condition shall be considered to have been fulfilled if it has been substantially complied with.

Illustrations.

(i) A legacy is bequeathed to A on condition that he shall marry with the consent of B, C, D and E. A marries with the written consent of B, C is present at the marriage. D sends a present to A previous to the marriage. E has been personally informed by A of his intentions, and has made no objection. A has fulfilled the condition.

(ii) A legacy is bequeathed to A on condition that he shall marry with the consent of B, C and D. D dies. A marries with the consent of B and C. A has fulfilled the condition.

(iii) A legacy is bequeathed to A on condition that he shall marry with the consent of B, C and D. A marries in the lifetime of B, C and D, with the consent of B and C only. A has not fulfilled the condition.

(iv) A legacy is bequeathed to A on condition that he shall marry with the consent of B, C and D. A obtains the unconditional assent of B, C and D to his marriage with E. Afterwards B, C and D capriciously retract their consent. A marries E. A has fulfilled the condition.

(v) A legacy is bequeathed to A on condition that he shall marry with the consent of B, C and D. A marries without the consent of B, C and D, but obtains their consent after the marriage. A has not fulfilled the condition.

(vi) A makes his will whereby he bequeaths a sum of money to B if B shall marry with the consent of A's executors. B marries during the lifetime of A, and A afterwards expresses his approbation of the marriage. A dies. The bequest to B takes effect.

(vii) A legacy is bequeathed to A if he executes a certain document within a time specified in the will. The document is executed by A within a reasonable time, but not within the time specified in the will. A has not performed the condition, and is not entitled to receive the legacy.

Bequest to A and on failure of prior bequest to B.

129. Where there is a bequest to one person and a bequest of the same thing to another, if the prior bequest shall fail the second bequest shall take effect upon the failure of the prior bequest although the failure may not have occurred in the manner contemplated by the testator.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths a sum of money to his own children surviving him, and, if they all die under 18, to B. A dies without having ever had a child. The bequest to B takes effect.

(ii) A bequeaths a sum of money to B, on condition that he shall execute a certain document within three months after A's death, and, if he should neglect to do so, to C. B dies in the testator's lifetime. The bequest to C takes effect.

When second bequest not to take effect on failure of first.

130. Where the will shows an intention that the second bequest shall take effect only in the event of the first bequest failing in a particular manner, the second bequest shall not take effect, unless the prior bequest fails in that particular manner.

Illustrations.

A makes a bequest to his wife, but in case she should die in his lifetime, bequeaths to B that which he had bequeathed to her. A and his wife perish together, under circumstances which make it impossible to prove that she died before him, the bequest to B does not take effect.

Bequest over, conditional upon happening or not happening of specified uncertain event.

131. (1) A bequest may be made to any person with the condition superadded that, in case a specified uncertain event shall happen, the thing bequeathed shall go to another person, or that in case a specified uncertain event shall not happen, the thing bequeathed shall go over to another person.

(2) In each case the ulterior bequest is subject to the rules contained in sections 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 129 and 130.

Illustrations.

(i) A sum of money is bequeathed to A, to be paid to him at the age of 18, and if he shall die before he attains that age, to B. A takes a vested interest in the legacy, subject to be divested and to go to B in case A dies under 18.

(ii) An estate is bequeathed to A with a proviso that if A shall dispute the competency of the testator to make a will, the estate shall go to B. A disputes the competency of the testator to make a will. The estate goes to B.

(iii) A sum of money is bequeathed to A for life, and, after his death, to B ; but if B shall then be dead, leaving a son, such son is to stand in the place of B. B takes a vested interest in the legacy, subject to be divested if he dies leaving a son in A's lifetime.

(iv) A sum of money is bequeathed to A and B, and if either should die during the life of C then to the survivor living at the death of C. A and B die before C. The gift over cannot take effect, but the representative of A takes one-half of the money, and the representative of B takes the other half.

(v) A bequeaths to B the interest of a fund for life, and directs the fund to be divided at her death equally among her three children, or such of them as shall be living at her death. All the children of B die in B's lifetime. The bequest over cannot take effect, but the interests of the children pass to their representatives.

Condition must be strictly fulfilled.

132. An ulterior bequest of the kind contemplated by section 131 cannot take effect, unless the condition is strictly fulfilled.

Illustrations.

(i) A legacy is bequeathed to A, with a proviso that, if he marries without the consent of B, C and D, the legacy shall go to E. D dies. Even if A marries without the consent of B and C, the gift to E does not take effect.

(ii) A legacy is bequeathed to A, with a proviso that, if he marries without the consent of B, the legacy shall go to C. A marries with the consent of B. He afterwards becomes a widower and marries again without the consent of B. The bequest of C does not take effect.

(iii) A legacy is bequeathed to A, to be paid at 18, or marriage, with a proviso that, if A dies under 18 or marries without the consent of B, the legacy shall go to C. A marries under 18, without the consent of B. The bequest to C takes effect.

Original bequest affected by invalidity of second.

133. If the ulterior bequest be not valid, the original bequest is not affected by it.

Illustrations.

(i) An estate is bequeathed to A for his life with condition superadded that, if he shall not on a given day walk 100 miles in an hour, the estate shall go to B. The condition being void, A retains his estate as if no condition had been inserted in the will.

(ii) An estate is bequeathed to A for her life and, if she do not desert her husband, to B. A is entitled to the estate during her life as if no condition had been inserted in the will.

(iii) An estate is bequeathed to A for life, and, if he marries, to the eldest son of B for life. B, at the date of the testator's death, had not had a son. The bequest over is void under section 105, and A is entitled to the estate during his life.

Bequest conditioned that it shall cease to have effect in case a specified uncertain event shall happen, or not happen.

134. A bequest may be made with the condition superadded that it shall cease to have effect in case a specified uncertain event shall happen, or in case a specified uncertain event shall not happen.

Illustrations.

(i) An estate is bequeathed to A for his life, with a proviso that, in case he shall cut down a certain wood, the bequest shall cease to have any effect. A cuts down the wood. He loses his life-interest in the estate.

(ii) An estate is bequeathed to A, provided that, if he marries under the age of 25 without the consent of the executors named in the will, the estate shall cease to belong to him. A marries under 25 without the consent of the executors. The estate ceases to belong to him.

(iii) An estate is bequeathed to A, provided that, if he shall not go to England within three years after the testator's death, his interest in the estate shall cease. A does not go to England within the time prescribed. His interest in the estate ceases.

(iv) An estate is bequeathed to A, with a proviso that if she becomes a nun, she shall cease to have any interest in the estate. A becomes a nun. She loses her interest under the will.

(v) A fund is bequeathed to A for life, and, after his death, to B, if B shall be then living, with a proviso that, if B shall become a nun, the bequest to her shall cease to have any effect. B becomes a nun in the life-time of A. She thereby loses her contingent interest in the fund.

Such condition must not be invalid under section 120.

135. In order that a condition that a bequest shall cease to have effect may be valid, it is necessary that the event to which it relates be one which could legally constitute the condition of a bequest as contemplated by section 120.

Result of legatee rendering impossible or indefinitely postponing act for which no time specified, and on non-performance of which subject-matter to go over.

136. Where a bequest is made with a condition superadded that, unless the legatee shall perform a certain act, the subject-matter of the bequest shall go to another person, or the bequest shall cease to have effect but no time is specified for the performance of the act; if the legatee takes any step which renders impossible or indefinitely postpones the performance of the act required, the legacy shall go as if the legatee had died without performing such act.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequest is made to A, with a proviso that, unless he enters the Army, the legacy shall go over to B. A takes Holy Orders, and thereby renders it impossible that he should fulfil the condition. B is entitled to receive the legacy.

(ii) A bequest is made to A, with a proviso that it shall cease to have any effect if he does not marry B's daughter. A marries a stranger and thereby indefinitely postpones the fulfilment of the conditions. The bequest ceases to have effect.

Performance of condition, precedent or subsequent, within specified time. Further time in case of fraud.

137. Where the will requires an act to be performed by the legatee within a specified time, either as a condition to be fulfilled before the legacy is enjoyed, or as a condition upon the non-fulfilment of which the subject-matter of the bequest is to go over to another person or the bequest is to cease to have effect, the act must be performed within the time specified, unless the performance of it be prevented by fraud, in which case such further time shall be allowed as shall be requisite to make up for the delay caused by such fraud.

CHAPTER XII.

Of Bequests with Directions as to application or enjoyment.

Direction that fund be employed in particular manner following absolute bequest of same to or for benefit of any person.

138. Where a fund is bequeathed absolutely to or for the benefit of any person, but the will contains a direction that it shall be applied or enjoyed in a particular manner, the legatee shall be entitled to receive the fund as if the will had contained no such direction.

Illustration.

A sum of money is bequeathed towards purchasing a country residence for A, or to purchase an annuity for A, or to place A in any business A chooses to receive the legacy in money. He is entitled to do so.

Direction that mode of enjoyment of absolute bequest is to be restricted, to secure specified benefit for legatee.

139. Where a testator absolutely bequeaths a fund, so as to sever it from his own estate, but directs that the mode of enjoyment of it by the legatee shall be restricted so as to secure a specified benefit for the legatee; if that benefit cannot be obtained for the legatee, the fund belongs to him as if the will had contained no such direction.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths the residue of his property to be divided equally among his daughters, and directs that the shares of the daughters shall be settled upon themselves respectively for life and be paid to their children after their death All the daughters die unmarried. The representatives of each daughter are entitled to her share of the residue.

(ii) A directs his trustees to raise a sum of money for his daughter, and he then directs that they shall invest the fund and pay the income arising from it to her during her life, and divide the principal among her children after her death. The daughter dies without having ever had a child. Her representatives are entitled to the fund.

Bequest of fund for certain purposes, some of which cannot be fulfilled.

140. Where a testator does not absolutely bequeath a fund, so as to sever it from his own estate, but gives it for certain purposes, and part of those purposes cannot be fulfilled, the fund, or so much of it as has not been exhausted upon the objects contemplated by the will, remains a part of the estate of the testator.

Illustrations.

(i) A directs that his trustees shall invest a sum of money in a particular way, and shall pay the interest to his son for life, and at his death shall divide the principal among his children. The son dies without having ever had a child. The fund, after the son's death, belongs to the estate of the testator.

(ii) A bequeaths the residue of his estates, to be divided equally among his daughters with a direction that they are to have the interest only during their lives, and that at their decease the fund shall go to their children. The daughters have no children. The fund belongs to the estate of the testator.

CHAPTER XIII.

Of Bequests to an Executor.

Legatee named as executor cannot take unless he shows intention to act as executor.

141. If a legacy is bequeathed to a person who is named an executor of the will, he shall not take the legacy unless he proves the will or otherwise manifests an intention to act as executor.

Illustration.

A legacy is given to A, who is named an executor. A orders the funeral according to the directions contained in the will, and dies a few days after the testator, without having proved the will. A has manifested an intention to act as executor.

CHAPTER XIV.

Of Specific Legacies.

Specific legacy defined.

142. Where a testator bequeaths to any person a specified part of his property, which is distinguished from all other parts of his property, the legacy is said to be specific :

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B—

"the diamond ring presented to me by C" :

"my gold chain" :

"a certain bale of wool" :

"a certain piece of cloth" :

"all my household goods which shall be in or about my dwelling house in M Street, in Calcutta, at time of my death" :

"the sum of 1,000 rupees in a certain chest" :

"the debt which B owes me" :

"all my bills, bonds and securities belonging to me lying in my lodgings in Calcutta" :

"all my furniture in my house in Calcutta" :

"all my goods on board a certain ship now lying in the river Hughli" :

"2,000 rupees which I have in the hands of C" :

"the money due to me on the bond of D" :

"my mortgage on the Rampur factory" :

"one-half of the money owing to me on my mortgage of Rampur factory" :

"1,000 rupees, being part of a debt due to me from C" :

"my capital stock of 1,000*l.* in East India stock" :

"my promissory notes of the Government of India for 10,000 rupees in their 4 per cent. loan" :

"all such sums of money as my executors may, after my death, receive in respect of the debt due to me from the insolvent firm of D and Company" :

"all the wine which I may have in my cellar at the time of my death" :

"such of my horses as B may select" :

"all my shares in the Imperial Bank of India" :

"all my shares in the Imperial Bank of India which I may possess at the time of my death" :

"all the money which I have in the 5½ per cent. loan of the Government of India" :

"all the Government securities I shall be entitled to at the time of my decease."

Each of these legacies is specific.

(ii) A, having Government promissory notes for 10,000 rupees, bequeaths to his executors "Government promissory notes for 10,000 rupees in trust to sell" for the benefit of B. The legacy is specific.

(iii) A having property at Benares, and also in other places, bequeaths to B all his property at Benares. The legacy is specific.

(iv) A bequeaths to B—

his house in Calcutta :

his zamindari of Rampur :

his taluq of Ramnagar :

his lease of the indigo-factory of Salkya :

an annuity of 500 rupees out of the rents of his zamindari of W.

A directs his zamindari of X to be sold, and the proceeds to be invested for the benefit of B.

Each of these bequests is specific.

(v) A by his will charges his zamindari of Y with an annuity of 1,000 rupees to C during his life, and subject to this charge he bequeaths the zamindari to D. Each of these bequests is specific.

(vi) A bequeaths a sum of money—to buy a house in Calcutta for B :

to buy an estate in zila Faridpur for B :

to buy a diamond ring for B :

to buy a horse for B :

to be invested in shares in the Imperial Bank of India for B :

to be invested in Government securities for B.

A bequeaths to B—

"a diamond ring":

"a horse":

"10,000 rupees' worth of Government securities":

"an annuity of 500 rupees":

"2,000 rupees to be paid in cash":

"so much money as will produce 5,000 rupees four per cent. Government securities."

These bequests are not specific.

(vii) A, having property in England and property in India, bequeaths a legacy to B, and directs that it shall be paid out of the property which he may leave in India. He also bequeaths a legacy to C and directs that it shall be paid out of property which he may leave in England. No one of these legacies is specific.

Bequest of certain sum where stocks, etc., in which invested are described.

143. Where a certain sum is bequeathed, the legacy is not specific merely because the stock, funds or securities in which it is invested are described in the will.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B—

"10,000 rupees of my funded property":

"10,000 rupees of my property now invested in shares of the East Indian Railway Company":

"10,000 rupees, at present secured by mortgage of Rampur factory."

No one of these legacies is specific.

Bequest of stock where testator had, at date of will, equal or greater amount of stock of same kind.

144. Where a bequest is made in general terms of a certain amount of any kind of stock, the legacy is not specific merely because the testator was, at the date of his will, possessed of stock of the specified kind, to an equal or greater amount than the amount bequeathed.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B 5,000 rupees five per cent. Government securities. A had at the date of the will five per cent. Government securities for 5,000 rupees. The legacy is not specific.

Bequest of money where not payable until part of testator's property disposed of in certain way.

145. A money legacy is not specific merely because the will directs its payment to be postponed until some part of the property of the testator has been reduced to a certain form, or remitted to a certain place.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B 10,000 rupees and directs that this legacy shall be paid as soon as A's property in India shall be realised in England. The legacy is not specific.

When enumerated articles not deemed specifically bequeathed.

146. Where a will contains a bequest of the residue of the testator's property along with an enumeration of some items of property not previously bequeathed, the articles enumerated shall not be deemed to be specifically bequeathed.

Retention, in form of specific bequest, to several persons in succession.

147. Where property is specifically bequeathed to two or more persons in succession, it shall be retained in the form in which the testator left it, although it may be of such a nature that its value is continually decreasing.

Illustrations.

(i) A, having lease of a house for a term of years, fifteen of which were unexpired at the time of his death, has bequeathed the lease to B for his life, and after B's death to C. B is to enjoy the property as A left it, although, if B lives for fifteen years, C can take nothing under the bequest.

(ii) A, having an annuity during the life of B, bequeaths it to C, for his life, and, after C's death, to D. C is to enjoy the annuity as A left it, although, if B dies before D, D can take nothing under the bequest.

Sale and investment of proceeds of property bequeathed to two or more persons in succession.

148. Where property comprised in a bequest to two or more persons in succession is not specifically bequeathed, it shall, in the absence of any direction to the contrary, be sold, and the proceeds of the sale shall be invested in such securities as the High Court may by any general rule authorise or direct, and the fund thus constituted shall be enjoyed by the successive legatees according to the terms of the will.

Illustration.

A, having a lease for a term of years, bequeaths all his property to B for life, and, after B's death, to C. The lease must be sold, the proceeds invested as stated in this section and the annual income arising from the fund is to be paid to B for life At B's death the capital of the fund is to be paid to C.

Where deficiency of assets to pay legacies, specific legacy not to abate with general legacies.

149. If there is a deficiency of assets to nay legacies, a specific legacy is not liable to abate with the general legacies.

CHAPTER XV.

Of Demonstrative Legacies.

Demonstrative legacy defined.

150. Where a testator bequeaths a certain sum of money, or a certain quantity of any other commodity, and refers to a particular fund or stock so as to constitute the same the primary fund or stock out of which payment is to be made, the legacy is said to be demonstrative.

Explanation.—The distinction between a specific legacy and a demonstrative legacy consists in this, that—where specified property is given to the legatee, the legacy is specific ;

where the legacy is directed to be paid out of specified property, it is demonstrative.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B 1,000 rupees, being part of a debt due to him from W. He also bequeaths to C 1,000 rupees to be paid out of the debt due to him from W. The legacy to B is specific, the legacy to C is demonstrative.

(ii) A bequeaths to B—

"ten bushels of the corn which shall grow in my field of Green Acre":

"80 chests of the indigo which shall be made at my factory of Rampur":

"10,000 rupees out of my five per cent. promissory notes of the Government of India":

an annuity of 500 rupees "from my funded property":

"1,000 rupees out of the sum of 2,000 rupees due to me by C":

an annuity, and directs it to be paid "out of the rents arising from my taluk of Ramnagar."

(iii) A bequeaths to B—

"10,000 rupees out of my estate at Ramnagar," or charges it on his estate at Ramnagar:

"10,000 rupees being my share of the capital embarked in a certain business."

Each of these bequests is demonstrative.

Order of payment when legacy directed to be paid out of fund the subject of specific legacy.

151. Where a portion of a fund is specifically bequeathed and a legacy is directed to be paid out of the same fund, the portion specifically bequeathed shall first be paid to the legatee, and the demonstrative legacy shall be paid out of the residue of the fund and, so far as the residue shall be deficient, out of the general assets of the testator.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B 1,000 rupees, being part of a debt due to him from W. He also bequeaths to C 1,000 rupees to be paid out of the debt due to him from W. The debt due to A from W is only 1,500 rupees; of these 1,500 rupees, 1,000 rupees belong to B, and 500 rupees are to be paid to C. C is also to receive 500 rupees out of the general assets of the testator.

CHAPTER XVI.

Of Ademption of Legacies.

Ademption explained.

152. If anything which has been specifically bequeathed does not belong to the testator at the time of his death, or has been converted into property of a different kind, the legacy is adeemed; that is, it cannot take effect, by reason of the subject-matter having been withdrawn from the operation of the will.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B—

"the diamond ring presented to me by C":

"my gold chain":

"a certain bale of wool":

"a certain piece of cloth":

"all my household goods which shall be in or about my dwelling house in M Street in Calcutta, at the time of my death."

in his life time,— sells or gives away the ring:

converts the chain into a cup:

converts the wool into cloth:

makes the cloth into a garment:

takes another house into which he removes all his goods.

Each of these legacies is adeemed.

(ii) A bequeaths to B—

"the sum of 1,000 rupees in a certain chest":

"all the horses in my stable."

At the death of A, no mony is found in the chest, and no horses in the stable. The legacies are adeemed.

(iii) A bequeaths to B certain bales of goods. A takes the goods with him on a voyage. The ship and goods are lost at sea, and A is drowned The legacy is adeemed.

Non-ademption of demonstrative legacy.

153. A demonstrative legacy is not adeemed by reason that the property on which it is charged by the will does not exist at the time of the death of the testator, or has been converted into property of a different kind, but it shall in such case be paid out of the general assets of the testator.

Ademption of specific bequest of right to receive something from third party.

154. Where the thing specifically bequeathed is the right to receive something of value from a third party, and the testator himself receives it, the bequest is adeemed.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B—

"the debt which C owes me":

"2,000 rupees which I have in the hands of D":

"the money due to me on the bond of E":

"my mortgage on the Rampur factory."

All these debts are extinguished in A's lifetime, some with and some without his consent. All the legacies are adeemed.

(ii) A bequeaths to B his interest in certain policies of life assurance. A in his lifetime receives the amount of the policies. The legacy is adeemed.

Ademption pro tanto by testator's receipt of part of entire thing specifically bequeathed.

155. The receipt by the testator of a part of an entire thing specifically bequeathed shall operate as an ademption of the legacy to the extent of the sum so received.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B "the debt due to me by C." The debt amounts to 10,000 rupees. C pays to A 50,000 rupees the one-half of the debt The legacy is revoked by ademption, so far as regards the 5,000 rupees received by A.

Ademption pro tanto by testator's receipt of portion of entire fund of which portion has been specifically bequeathed.

156. If a portion of an entire fund or stock is specifically bequeathed, the receipt by the testator of a portion of the fund or stock shall operate as an ademption only to the extent of the amount so received; and the residue of the fund or stock shall be applicable to the discharge of the specific legacy.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B one-half of the sum of 10,000 rupees due to him from W. A in his lifetime receives 6,000 rupees, part of the 10,000 rupees. The 4,000 rupees which are due from W to A at the time of his death belong to B under the specific bequest.

Order of payment where portion of fund specifically bequeathed to one legatee, and legacy charged on same fund to another, and, testator having received portion of that fund, remainder insufficient to pay both legacies.

157. Where a portion of a fund is specifically bequeathed to one legatee, and a legacy charged on the same fund is bequeathed to another legatee, then, if the testator receives a portion of that fund, and the remainder of the fund is in sufficientto pay both the specific and the demonstrative legacy, the specific legacy shall be paid first, and the residue (if any) of the fund shall be applied so far as it will extend in payment of the demonstrative legacy, and the rest of the demonstrative legacy shall be paid out of the general assets of the testator.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B 1,000 rupees, part of the debt of 2,000 rupees due to him from W. He also bequeaths to C 1,000 rupees to be paid out of the debt due to him from W. A afterwards receives 5,000 rupees, part of that debt, and dies leaving only, 1,500 rupees due to him from W. Of these 1,500 rupees, 1,000 rupees belong to B, and 500 rupees are to be paid to C. C. is also to receive 500 rupees out of the general assets of the testator.

Ademption where stock, specifically bequeathed, does not exist at testator's death.

158. Where stock which has been specifically bequeathed does not exist at the testator's death, the legacy is adeemed.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B—

"my capital stock of 1,000*l.* in East India stock":

"my promissory notes of the Government of India for 10,000 rupees in their 4 per cent. loan."

A sells the stock and the notes. The legacies are adeemed.

Ademption pro tanto where stock, specifically bequeathed, exists in part only at testator's death.

159. Where stock which has been specifically bequeathed exists only in part at the testator's death, the legacy is adeemed so far as regards that part of the stock which has ceased to exist.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B his 10,000 rupees in the 5½ per cent. loan of the Government of India. A sells one-half of his 10,000 rupees in the loan in question. One-half of the legacy is adeemed.

Non-ademption of specific bequest of goods described as connected with certain place, by reason of removal.

160. A specific bequest of goods under a description connecting them with a certain place is not adeemed by reason that they have been removed from such place from any temporary cause, or by fraud, or without the knowledge or sanction of the testator.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B "all my household goods which shall be in or about my dwelling house in Calcutta at the time of my death." The goods are removed from the house to save them from fire. A dies before they are brought back.

(ii) A bequeaths to B "all my household goods which shall be in or about my dwelling house in Calcutta at the time of my death." During A's absence upon a journey, the whole of the goods are removed from the house. A dies without having sanctioned their removal.

Neither of these legacies is adeemed.

When removal of thing bequeathed does not constitute ademption.

161. The removal of the thing bequeathed from the place in which it stated in the will to be situated does not constitute an ademption, where the place is only referred to in order to complete the description of what the testator meant to bequeath.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B "all the bills, bonds and other securities for money belonging to me now lying in my lodgings in Calcutta." At the time of his death, these effects had been removed from his lodgings in Calcutta.

(ii) A bequeaths to B all his furniture then in his house in Calcutta. The testator has a house at Calcutta and another at Chinsurah, in which he lives alternately, being possessed of one set of furniture only which he removes with himself to each house. At the time of his death the furniture is in the house at Chinsurah.

(iii) A bequeaths to B all his goods on board a certain ship then lying in the river Hughli. The goods are removed by A's directions to a warehouse, in which they remain at the time of A's death.

No one of these legacies is revoked by ademption.

When thing bequeathed is a valuable to be received by testator from third person; and testator himself, or his representative, receives it

162. Where the thing bequeathed is not the right to receive something of value from a third person, but the money or other commodity which may be received from the third person by the testator himself or by his representatives, the receipt of such sum of money or other commodity by the testator shall not constitute an ademption; but if he mixes it up with the general mass of his property, the legacy is adeemed.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B whatever sum may be received from his claim on C. A receives the whole of his claim on C, and sets it apart from the general mass of his property. The legacy is not adeemed.

Change by operation of law of subject of specific bequest between date of will and testator's death.

163. Where a thing specifically bequeathed undergoes a change between the date of the will and the testator's death, and the change takes place by operation of law, or in the course of execution of the provisions of any legal instrument under which the thing bequeathed was held, the legacy is not adeemed by reason of such change.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B "all the money which I have in the 5½ per cent. loan of the Government of India." The securities for the 5½ per cent. loan are converted during A's lifetime into 5 per cent. stock.

(ii) A bequeaths to B the sum of 2,000*l*. invested in consols in the names of trustees for A. The sum of 2,000*l* is transferred by the trustees into A's own name.

(iii) A bequeaths to B the sum of 10,000 rupees in promissory notes of the Government of India which he has power under his marriage settlement to dispose of by will. Afterwards, in A's lifetime, the fund is converted into consols by virtue of an authority contained in the settlement.

No one of these legacies has been adeemed.

Change of subject without testator's knowledge.

164. Where a thing specifically bequeathed undergoes a change between the date of the will and the testator's death, and the change takes place without the knowledge or sanction of the testator, the legacy is not adeemed.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B "all my 3 per cent. consols." The consols are, without A's knowledge, sold by his agent, and the proceeds converted into East India stock. This legacy is not adeemed

Stock specifically bequeathed lent to third party on condition that it be replaced.

165. Where stock which has been specifically bequeathed is lent to a third party on condition that it shall be replaced, and it is replaced accordingly, the legacy is not adeemed.

Stock specifically bequeathed sold but replaced, and belonging to testator at his death.

166. Where stock specifically bequeathed is sold, and an equal quantity of the same stock is afterwards purchased and belongs to the testator at his death, the legacy is not adeemed.

CHAPTER XVII.

Of the Payment of Liabilities in respect of the Subject of a Bequest.

Non-liability of executor to exonerate specific legatees.

167. (1) Where property specifically bequeathed is subject at the death of the testator to any pledge, lien or incumbrance created by the testator himself or by any person under whom he claims, then, unless a contrary intention appears by the will, the legatee, if he accepts the bequest, shall accept it subject to such pledge or incumbrance, and shall (as between himself and the testator's estate) be liable to make good the amount of such pledge or incumbrance,

(2) A contrary intention shall not be inferred from any direction which the will may contain for the payment of the testator's debts generally.

Explanation.—A periodical payment in the nature of land-revenue or in the nature of rent is not such an incumbrance as is contemplated by this section.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B the diamond ring given him by C. At A's death the ring is held in pawn by D, to whom it has been pledged by A. It is the duty of A's executors, if the state of the testator's assets will allow them, to allow B to redeem the ring.

(ii) A bequeaths to B a zamindari which at A's death is subject to a mortgage for 10,000 rupees; and the whole of the principal sum, together with interest to the amount of 1,000 rupees, is due at A's death. B, if he accepts the bequest, accepts it subject to his charge, and is liable, as between himself and A's estate, to pay the sum of 11,000 rupees thus due.

Completion of testator's title to things bequeathed to be at cost of his estate.

168. Where anything is to be done to complete the testator's title to the thing bequeathed, it is to be done at the cost of the testator's estate.

Illustrations.

(i) A, having contracted in general terms for the purchase of a piece of land at a certain price, bequeaths to B, and dies before he has paid the purchase-money. The purchase-money must be made good out of A's assets.

(ii) A, having contracted for the purchase of a piece of land for a certain sum of money, one-half of which is to be paid down and the other half secured by mortgage of the land, bequeaths it to B, and dies before he has paid or secured any part of the purchase-money. One-half of the purchase-money must be paid out of A's assets.

Exoneration of legatee's immoveable property for which land-revenue or rent payable periodically.

169. Where there is a bequest of any interest in immoveable property in respect of which payment in the nature of land-revenue or in the nature of rent has to be made periodically, the estate of the testator shall (as between such estate and the legatee) make good such payments or a proportion of them, as the case may be, up to the day of his death.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B a house, in respect of which 365 rupees are payable annually by way of rent. A pays his rent at the usual time, and dies 25 days after. A's estate will make good 25 rupees in respect of the rent.

Exoneration of specific legatee's stock in joint stock company.

170. In the absence of any direction in the will, where there is a specific bequest of stock in a joint stock company, if any call or other payment is due from the testator at the time of his death in respect of the stock, such call or payment shall, as between the testator's estate and the legatee, be borne by the estate; but, if any call or other payment becomes due in respect of such stock after the testator's death, the same shall, as between the testator's estate and the legatee, be borne by the legatee, if he accepts the bequest.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B his shares in a certain railway. At A's death there was due from him the sum of 100 rupees in respect of each share, being the amount of a call which had been duly made, and the sum of five rupees in respect of each share, being the amount of interest which had accrued due in respect of the call. These payments must be borne by A's estate.

(ii) A has agreed to take 50 shares in an intended joint stock company, and has contracted to pay up 100 rupees in respect of each share, which sum must be paid before his title to the shares can be completed. A bequeaths these shares to B. The estate of A must make good the payments which were necessary to complete A's title.

(iii) A bequeaths to B his shares in a certain railway. B accepts the legacy. After A's death, a call is made in respect of the shares. B must pay the call.

(iv) A bequeaths to B his shares in a joint stock company. B accepts the bequest. Afterwards the affairs of the company are wound up, and each shareholder is called upon for contribution. The amount of the contribution must be borne by the legatee.

(v) A is the owner of ten shares in a railway company. At a meeting held during his lifetime a call is made of fifty rupees per share, payable by three instalments. A bequeaths his shares to B, and dies between the day fixed for the payment of the first and the day fixed for the payment of the second instalment, and without having paid the first instalment. A's estate must pay the first instalment, and B, if he accepts the legacy, must pay the remaining instalments.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Of Bequests of Things described in General Terms.

Bequest of thing described in general terms.

171. If there is a bequest of something described in general terms, the executor must purchase for the legatee what may reasonably be considered to answer the description.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B a pair of carriage-horses or a diamond ring. The executor must provide the legatee with such articles if the state of the assets will allow it.

(ii) A bequeaths to B "my pair of carriage-horses." A had no carriage-horses at the time of his death. The legacy fails.

CHAPTER XIX.

Of Bequests of the Interest or Produce of a Fund.

Bequest of interest or produce of fund.

172. Where the interest or produce of a fund is bequeathed to any person, and the will affords no indication of an intention that the enjoyment of the bequest should be of limited duration, the principal as well as the interest shall belong to the legatee.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B the interest of his 5 per cent. promissory notes of the Government of India. There is no other clause in the will affecting those securities. B is entitled to A's 5 per cent. promissory notes of the Government of India.

(ii) A bequeaths the interest of his 5½ per cent. promissory notes of the Government of India to B for his life, and after his death to C. B is entitled to the interest of the notes during his life, and C is entitled to the notes upon B's death.

(iii) A bequeaths to B the rents of his lands at X. B is entitled to the lands.

CHAPTER XX.

Of Bequests of Annuities.

Annuity created by will payable for life only unless contrary intention appears by will.

173. Where an annuity is created by will, the legatee is entitled to receive it for his life only, unless a contrary intention appears by the will, notwithstanding that the annuity is directed to be paid out of the property generally, or that a sum of money is bequeathed to be invested in the purchase of it.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B 500 rupees a year. B is entitled during his life to receive the annual sum of 500 rupees.

(ii) A bequeaths to B the sum of 500 rupees monthly. B is entitled during his life to receive the sum of 500 rupees every month.

(iii) A bequeaths an annuity of 500 rupees to B for life, and on B's death to C. B is entitled to an annuity of 500 rupees during his life. C, if he survives B, is entitled to an annuity of 500 rupees from B's death until his own death.

Period of vesting where will directs that annuity be provided out of proceeds of property, or out of property generally, or where money bequeathed to be invested in purchase of annuity.

174. Where the will directs that an annuity shall be provided for any person out of the proceeds of property, or out of property generally, or where money is bequeathed to be invested in the purchase of any annuity for any person, on the testator's death the legacy vests in interest in the legatee, and he is entitled at his option to have an annuity purchased for him or to receive the money appropriated for that purpose by the will.

Illustrations.

(i) A by his will directs that his executors shall, out of his property, purchase an annuity of 1,000 rupees for B. B is entitled at his option to have an annuity of 1,000 rupees for his life purchased for him, or to receive such a sum as will be sufficient for the purchase of such an annuity.

(ii) A bequeaths a fund to B for his life, and directs that after B's death, it shall be laid out in the purchase of an annuity for C. B and C survive the testator. C dies in B's lifetime. On B's death the fund belongs to the representative of C.

Abatement of annuity.

175. Where an annuity is bequeathed, but the assets of the testator are not sufficient to pay all the legacies given by the will, the annuity shall abate in the same proportion as the other pecuniary legacies given by the will.

Where gift of annuity and residuary gift, whole annuity to be first satisfied.

176. Where there is a gift of an annuity and a residuary gift, the whole of the annuity is to be satisfied before any part of the residue is paid to the residuary legatee, and, if necessary, the capital of the testator's estate shall be applied for that purpose.

CHAPTER XXI.

Of Legacies to Creditors and Portioners.

Creditor primâ facie entitled to legacy as well as debt.

177. Where a debtor bequeaths a legacy to his creditor, and it does not appear from the will that the legacy is meant as a satisfaction of the debt, the creditor shall be entitled to the legacy as well as to the amount of the debt.

Child primâ facie entitled to legacy as well as portion.

178. Where a parent, who is under obligation by contract to provide a portion for a child, fails to do so, and afterwards bequeaths a legacy to the child, and does not intimate by his will that the legacy is meant as a satisfaction of the portion, the child shall be entitled to receive the legacy as well as the portion.

Illustration.

A, by articles entered into in contemplation of his marriage with B covenanted that he would pay to each of the daughters of the intended marriage a portion of 20,000 rupees on her marriage. This covenant having been broken, A bequeaths 20,000 rupees to each of the married daughters of himself and B. The legatees are entitled to the benefit of this bequest in addition to their portions.

No ademption by subsequent provision for legatee.

179. No bequest shall be wholly or partially adeemed by a subsequent provision made by settlement or otherwise for the legatee.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths 20,000 rupees to his son B. He afterwards gives to B the sum of 20,000 rupees. The legacy is not thereby adeemed.

(ii) A bequeaths 40,000 rupees to B, his orphan niece whom he had brought up from her infancy. Afterwards, on the occasion of B's marriage, A settles upon her the sum of 30,000 rupees. The legacy is not thereby diminished.

CHAPTER XXII.

Of Election.

Circumstances in which election takes place.

180. Where a person, by his will, professes to dispose of something which he has no right to dispose of, the person to whom the thing belongs shall elect either to confirm such disposition or to dissent from it, and in the latter case, he shall give up any benefits which may have been provided for him by the will.

Devolution of interest relinquished by owner.

181. An interest relinquished in the circumstances stated in section 180 shall devolve as if it had not been disposed of by the will in favour of the legatee, subject, nevertheless, to the charge of making good to the disappointed legatee the amount or value of the gift attempted to be given to him by the will.

Testator's belief as to his ownership immaterial.

182. The provisions of sections 180 and 181 apply whether the testator does or does not believe that which he professes to dispose of by his will to be his own.

Illustrations.

(i) The farm of Sultanpur was the property of C. A bequeathed it to B, giving a legacy of 1,000 rupees to C. C has elected to retain his farm of Sultanpur, which is worth 800 rupees. C forfeits his legacy of 1,000 rupees, of which 800 rupees goes to B, and the remaining 200 rupees falls into the residuary bequest, or devolves according to the rules of intestate succession, as the case may be.

(ii) A bequeaths an estate to B in case B's elder brother (who is married and has children) shall leave no issue living at his death. A also bequeaths to C a jewel, which belongs to B. B must elect to give up the jewel or to lose the estate.

(iii) A bequeaths to B 1,000 rupees, and to C an estate which will, under a settlement, belong to B if his elder brother (who is married and has children) shall leave no issue living at his death. B must elect to give up the estate or to lose the legacy.

(iv) A, a person of the age of 18, domiciled in British India but owning real property in England, to which C is heir at law, bequeaths a legacy to C and, subject thereto, devises and bequeaths to be "all my property whatsoever and wheresoever," and dies under 21. The real property in England does not pass by the will. C may claim his legacy without giving up the real property in England.

Bequest for man's benefit how regarded for purpose of election.

183. A bequest for a prson's benefit is, for the purpose of election, the same thing as a bequest made to himself.

Illustration.

The farm of Sultanpur Khurd being the property of B. A. bequeathed it to C: and bequeathed another farm called Sultanpur Buzurg to his own executors with a direction that it should be sold and the proceeds applied in payment of B's debts. B must elect whether he will abide by the will, or keep his farm of Sultanpur Khurd in opposition to it.

Person deriving benefit indirectly not put to election.

184. A person taking no benefit directly under a will, but deriving a benefit under it indirectly, is not put to his election.

Illustration.

The lands of Sultanpur are settled upon C for life, and after his death upon D, his only child. A bequeaths the lands of Sultanpur to B, and 1,000 rupees to C, C dies intestate shortly after the testator, and without having made any election. D takes out administration to C, and as administrator elects on behalf of C's estate to take under the will. In that capacity he receives the legacy of 1,000 rupees and accounts to B for the rents of the lands of Sultanpur which accrued after the death of the testator and before the death of C. In his individual character he retains the lands of Sultanpur in opposition to the will.

Person taking in individual capacity under will may in other character elect to take in opposition.

185. A person who in his individual capacity takes a benefit under a will may, in another character, elect to take in opposition to the will.

Illustration.

The estate of Sultanpur is settled upon A for life, and after his death, upon B. A leaves the estate of Sultanpur to D, and 2,000 rupees to B, and 1,000 rupees to C, who is B's only child. B dies intestate, shortly after the testator, without having made an election. C takes out administration to B, and as administrator elects to keep the estate of Sultanpur in opposition to the will, and to relinquish the legacy of 2,000 rupees C may do this, and yet claim his legacy of 1,000 rupees under the will.

Exception to provisions of last six sections.

186. Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 180 to 185, where a particular gift is expressed in the will to be in lieu of something belonging to the legatee which is also in terms disposed of by the will, then, if the legatee claims that thing, he must relinquish the particular gift, but he is not bound to relinquish any other benefit given to him by the will.

Illustration.

Under A's marriage-settlement his wife is entitled, if she survives him, to the enjoyment of the estate of Sultanpur during her life. A by his will bequeaths to his wife an annuity of 200 rupees during her life, in lieu of her interest in the estate of Sultanpur, which estate he bequeaths to his son. He also gives his wife a legacy of 1,000 rupees. The widow elects to take what she is entitled to under the settlement. She is bound to relinquish the annuity but not the legacy of 1,000 rupees.

When acceptance of benefit given by will constitutes election to take under will.

187. Acceptance of a benefit given by a will constitutes an election by the legatee to take under the will, if he had knowledge of his right to elect and of those circumstances which would influence the judgment of a reasonable man in making an election, or if he waives inquiry into the circumstances.

Illustrations.

(i) A is owner of an estate called Sultanpur Khurd, and has a life interest in another estate called Sultanpur Buzurg to which upon his death his son B will be absolutely entitled. The will of A gives the estate of Sultanpur Khurd to B, and the estate of Sultanpur Buzurg to C. B, in ignorance of his own right to the estate of Sultanpur Buzurg, allows C to take possession of it, and enters into possession of the estate of Sultanpur Khurd. B has not confirmed the bequest of Sultanpur Buzurg to C.

(ii) B, the eldest son of A, is the possessor of an estate called Sultanpur. A bequeaths Sultanpur to C, and to B the residue of A's property. B having been informed by A's executors that the residue will amount to 5,000 rupees allows C to take possession of Sultanpur. He afterwards discovers that the residue does not amount to more than 500 rupees. B has not confirmed the bequest of the estate of Sultanpur to C.

Circumstances in which knowledge or waiver is presumed or inferred.

188. (1) Such knowledge or waiver of inquiry shall, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, be presumed if the legatee has enjoyed for two years the benefits provided for him by the will without doing any act to express dissent.

(2) Such knowledge or waiver of enquiry may be inferred from any act of the legatee which renders it impossible to place the persons interested in the subject-matter of the bequest in the same condition as if such act had not been done.

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B an estate to which C is entitled, and to C a coal-mine. C takes possession of the mine and exhausts it. He has thereby confirmed the bequest of the estate to B.

When testator's representatives may call upon legatee to elect.

189. If the legatee does not, within one year after the death of the testator, signify to the testator's representatives his intention to confirm or to dissent from the will, the representatives shall, upon the expiration of that period, require him to make his election; and, if he does not comply with such requisition within a reasonable time after he has received it, he shall be deemed to have elected to confirm the will.

Postponement of election in case of disability.

190. In case of disability the election shall be postponed until the disability ceases, or until the election is made by some competent authority.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Of Gifts in Contemplation of Death.

Property transferable by gift made in contemplation of death.

191. (1) A man may dispose, by gift made in contemplation of death, of any moveable property which he could dispose of by will.

(2) A gift is said to be made in contemplation of death where a man, who is ill and expects to die shortly of his illness, delivers to another the possession of any moveable property to keep as a gift in case the donor shall die of that illness.

(3) Such a gift may be resumed by the giver; and shall not take effect if he recovers from the illness during which it was made; nor if he survives the person to whom it was made.

Illustrations.

(i) A, being ill, and in expectation of death delivers to B, to be retained by him in case of A's death,— a watch:

a bond granted by C to A:

a bank-note:

a promissory note of the Government of India endorsed in blank:

a bill of exchange endorsed in blank:

certain mortgage-deeds.

A dies of the illness during which he delivered these articles.

B is entitled to—the watch:

the debt secured by C's bond:

the bank-note:

the promissory note of the Government of India:

the bill of exchange:

the money secured by the mortgage deeds.

(ii) A, being ill, and in expectation of death, delivers to B the key of a trunk or the key of a warehouse in which goods of bulk belonging to A are deposited, with the intention of giving him the control over the contents of the trunk, or over the deposited goods, and desires him to keep them in case of A's death. A dies of the illness during which he delivered these articles. B is entitled to the trunk and its contents or to A's goods of bulk in the warehouse.

(iii) A, being ill, and in expectation of death, puts aside certain articles in separate parcels and marks upon the parcels respectively the names of B and C. The parcels are not delivered during the life of A. A dies of the illness during which he set aside the parcels. B and C are not entitled to the contents of the parcels.

PART VII.

PROTECTION OF PROPERTY OF DECEASED.

Person claiming right by succession to property of deceased may apply for relief against wrongful possession.

192. (1) If any person dies leaving property, moveable or immoveable, any person claiming a right by succession thereto, or to any portion thereof, may make application to the District Judge of the district where any part of the property is found or situate for relief, either after actual possession has been taken by another person, or when forcible means of seizing possession are apprehended.

(2) Any Agent, relative or near friend, or the Court of Wards in cases within their cognizance, may, in the event of any minor, or any disqualified or absent person being entitled by succession to such property as aforesaid, make the like application for relief.

Inquiry made by Judge.

193. The District Judge to whom such application is made shall, in the first place, examine the applicant on oath, and may make such further inquiry, if any, as he thinks necessary as to whether there is sufficient ground for believing that the party in possession or taking forcible means for seizing possession has no lawful title, and that the applicant, or the person on whose behalf he applies, is really entitled and is likely to be materially prejudiced if left to the ordinary remedy of a suit, and that the application is made bonâ fide.

Procedure.

194. If the District Judge is satisfied that there is sufficient ground for believing as aforesaid but not otherwise, he shall summon the party complained of, and give notice of vacant or disturbed possession by publication, and, after the expiration of a reasonable time, shall determine summarily the right to possession (subject to a suit as hereinafter provided) and shall deliver possession accordingly :

Provided that the Judge shall have the power to appoint an officer who shall take an inventory of effects, and seal or otherwise secure the same, upon being applied to for the purpose, without delay, whether he shall have concluded the inquiry necessary for summoning the party complained of or not.

Appointment of curator pending determination of proceeding.

195. If it further appears upon such inquiry as aforesaid that danger is to be apprehended of the misappropriation or waste of the property before the summary proceeding can be determined, and that the delay in obtaining security from the party in possession or the insufficiency thereof is likely to expose the party out of possession to considerable risk, provided he is the lawful owner, the District Judge may appoint one or more curators whose authority shall continue according to the terms of his or their respective appointments, and in no case beyond the determination of the summary proceeding and the confirmation or delivery of possession in consequence thereof :

Provided that, in the case of land, the Judge may delegate to the Collector, or to any officer subordinate to the Collector, the powers of a curator :

Provided, further, that every appointment of a curator in respect of any property shall be duly published.

Powers conferable on curator.

196. The District Judge may authorise the curator to take possession of the property either generally, or until security is given by the party in possession, or until inventories of the property have been made, or for any other purpose necessary for securing the property from misappropriation or waste by the party in possession :

Provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Judge to allow the party in possession to continue in such possession on giving security or not, and any continuance in possession shall be subject to such orders as the Judge may issue touching inventories, or the securing of deeds or other effects.

Prohibition of exercise of certain powers by curators. Payment of debts, etc., to curator.

197. (1) Where a certificate has been granted under Part X or under the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, or a grant of probate or letters of administration has been made, a curator appointed under this Part shall not exercise any authority lawfully belonging to the holder of the certificate or to the executor or administrator. VII of 1889.

(2) All persons who have paid debts or rents to a curator authorised by a Court to receive them shall be indemnified, and the curator shall be responsible for the payment thereof to the person who has obtained the certificate, probate or letters of administration, as the case may be.

Curator to give security and may receive remuneration.

198. (1) The District Judge shall take from the curator security for the faithful discharge of his trust, and for rendering satisfactory accounts of the same as hereinafter provided, and may authorise him to receive out of the property such remuneration, in no case exceeding five per centum on the moveable property and on the annual profits of the immoveable property, as the District Judge thinks reasonable.

(2) All surplus money realized by the curator shall be paid into Court, and invested in public securities for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto upon adjudication of the summary proceeding.

(3) Security shall be required from the curator with all reasonable despath, and, where it is practicable, shall be taken generally to answer all cases for which the person may be afterwards appointed curator; but no delay in the taking of security shall prevent the Judge from immediately investing the curator with the powers of his office.

Report from Collector where estate includes revenue-paying land.

199. (1) Where the estate of the deceased person consists wholly or in part of land paying revenue to Government, in all matters regarding the propriety of summoning the party in possession, of appointing a curator, or of nominating individuals to that appointment, the District Judge shall demand a report from the Collector, and the Collector shall thereupon furnish the same:

Provided that in cases of urgency the Judge may proceed, in the first instance, without such report.

(2) The Judge shall not be obliged to act in conformity with any such report, but in case of his acting otherwise than according to such report, he shall immediately forward a statement of his reasons to the High Court, and the High Court, if it is dissatisfied with such reasons, shall direct the Judge to proceed conformably to the report of the Collector.

Institution and defence of suits.

200. The curator shall be subject to all orders of the District Judge regarding the institution or the defence of suits, and all suits may be instituted or defended in the name of the curator on behalf of the estate:

Provided that an express authority shall be requisite in the order of the curator's appointment for the collection of debts or rents: but such express authority shall enable the curator to give a full acquittance for any sums of money received by virtue thereof.

Allowances to apparent owners pending custody by curator.

201. Pending the custody of the property by the curator, the District Judge may make such allowances to parties having a primâ facie right thereto as upon a summary investigation of the rights and circumstances of the parties interested he considers necessary, and may, at his discretion, take security for the repayment thereof with interest, in the event of the party being found, upon the adjudication of the summary proceeding, not to be entitled thereto.

Accounts to be filed by curator.

202. The curator shall file monthly accounts in abstract, and shall, on the expiry of each period of three months, if his administration lasts so long, and upon giving up the possession of the property, file a detailed account of his administration to the satisfaction of the District Judge.

Inspection of accounts and right of interested party to keep duplicate.

203. (1) The accounts of the curator shall be open to the inspection of all parties interested; and it shall be competent for any such interested party to appoint a separate person to keep a duplicate account of all receipts and payments by the curator.

(2) If it is found that the accounts of the curator are in arrear, or that they are erroneous or incomplete, or if the curator does not produce them whenever he is ordered to do so by the District Judge, he shall be punishable with fine not exceeding one thousand rupees for every such default.

Bar to appointment of second curator for same property.

204. If the Judge of any district has appointed a curator, in respect of the whole of the property of a deceased person, such appointment shall preclude the Judge of any other district within the same province from appointing any other curator, but the appointment of a curator in respect of a portion of the property of the deceased shall not preclude the appointment within the same province of another curator in respect of the residue or any portion thereof :

Provided that no Judge shall appoint a curator or entertain a summary proceeding in respect of property which is the subject of a summary proceeding previously instituted under this Part before another Judge :

Provided, further, that if two or more curators are appointed by different Judges for several parts of an estate, the High Court may make such order as it thinks fit for the appointment of one curator of the whole property.

Limitation of time for application for curator.

205. An application under this Part to the District Judge must be made within six months of the death of the proprietor whose property is claimed by right in succession.

Bar to enforcement of Part against public settlement or legal directions by deceased.

206. Nothing in this Part shall be deemed to authorise the contravention of any public act of settlement or of any legal directions given by a deceased proprietor of any property for the possession of his property after his decease in the event of minority or otherwise, and, in every such case, as soon as the Judge having jurisdiction over the property of a deceased person is satisfied of the existence of such directions, he shall give effect thereto.

Court of Wards to be made curator in case of minors having property subject to its jurisdiction.

207. Nothing in this Part shall be deemed to authorise any disturbance of the possession of a Court of Wards of any property; and in case a minor, or other disqualified person, whose property is subject to the Court of Wards, is the party on whose behalf application is made under this Part, the District Judge, if he determines to summon the party in possession and to appoint a curator, shall invest the Court of Wards with the curatorship of the estate pending the proceeding without taking security as aforesaid; and if the minor or other disqualified person, upon the adjudication of the summary proceeding, appears to be entitled to the property, possession shall be delivered to the Court of Wards.

Saving of right to bring suit.

208. Nothing contained in this Part shall be any impediment to the bringing of a suit either by the party whose application may have been rejected before or after the summoning of the party in possession, or by the party who may have been evicted from the possession under this Part.

Effect of decision of summary proceeding.

209. The decision of a District Judge in a summary proceeding under this part shall have no other effect than that of settling the actual possession; but for this purpose it shall be final, and shall not be subject to any appeal or review.

Appointment of public curators.

210. The Local Government may appoint public curators for any district or number of districts; and the District Judge having jurisdiction shall nominate such public curators in all cases where the choice of a curator is left discretionary with him under this Part.

PART VIII.

REPRESENTATIVE TITLE TO PROPERTY OF DECEASED ON SUCCESSION.

Character and property of executor or administrator as such.

211. (1) The executor or administrator, as the case may be, of a deceased person is his legal representative for all purposes, and all the property of the deceased person vests in him as such.

(2) When the deceased was a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina or an exempted person, nothing herein contained shall vest in an executor or administrator any property of the deceased person which would otherwise have passed by survivorship to some other person.

Right to intestate's property.

212. (1) No right to any part of the property of a person who has died intestate can be established in any Court of justice, unless letters of administration have first been granted by a Court of competent jurisdiction.

(2) This section shall not apply in the case of the intestacy of a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh, Jaina or Indian Christian.

Right as executor or legatee when established.

213. (1) No right as executor or legatee can be established in any Court of justice, unless a Court of competent jurisdiction in British India has granted probate of the will under which the right is claimed, or has granted letters of administration with the will or with a copy of an authenticated copy of the will annexed.

(2) This section shall not apply in the case of wills made by Muhammadans, and shall only apply in the case of wills made by any Hindu, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina where such wills are of the class specified in section 57.

Proof of representative title a condition precedent to recovery through the Courts of debts from debtors of deceased persons.

214. (1) No Court shall—

(a) pass a decree against a debtor of a deceased person for payment of his debt to a person claiming on succession to be entitled to the effects of the deceased person or to any part thereof, or

(b) proceed, upon an application of a person claiming to be so entitled, to execute against such a debtor a decree or order for the payment of his debt, except on the production, by the person so claiming, of—

(i) a probate or letters of administration evidencing the grant to him of administration to the estate of the deceased, or

(ii) a certificate granted under section 31 or section 32 of the Administrator-General's Act, 1913, and having the debt mentioned therein, or III of 1913.

(iii) a succession certificate granted under Part X and having the debt specified therein, or

(iv) a certificate granted under the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, or VII of 1889.

(v) a certificate granted under Bombay Regulation No. VIII of 1827 and, if granted after the first day of May, 1889, having the debt specified therein.

(2) The word "debt" in sub-section (1) includes any debt except rent, revenue or profits payable in respect of land used for agricultural purposes.

Effect on certificate of subsequent probate or letters of administration.

215. (1) A grant of probate or letters of administration in respect of an estate shall be deemed to supersede any certificate previously granted under Part X or under the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, or Bombay Regulation No. VIII of 1827, in respect of any debts or securities included in the estate. VII of 1889.

(2) When at the time of the grant of the probate or letters any suit or other proceeding instituted by the holder of any such certificate regarding any such debt or security is pending, the person to whom the grant is made shall, on applying to the Court in which the suit or proceeding is pending, be entitled to take the place of the holder of the certificate in the suit or proceeding :

Provided that, when any certificate is superseded under this section, all payments made to the holder of such certificate in ignorance of such supersession shall be held good against claims under the probate or letters of administration.

Grantee of probate or administration alone to sue, etc., until same revoked.

216. After any grant of probate or letters of administration, no other than the person to whom the same may have been granted shall have power to sue or prosecute any suit, or otherwise act as representative of the deceased, throughout the province in which the same may have been granted, until such probate or letters of administration has or have been recalled or revoked.

PART IX.

PROBATE, LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION AND ADMINISTRATION OF ASSETS OF DECEASED.

Application of Part.

217. Save as otherwise provided by this Act or by any other law for the time being in force, all grants of probate and letters of administration with the will annexed and the administration of the assets of the deceased in cases of intestate succession shall be made or carried out, as the case may be, in accordance with the provisions of this Part.

CHAPTER I.

Of Grant of Probate and Letters of Administration.

To whom administration may be granted, where deceased is a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh, Jaina or exempted person.

218. (1) If the deceased has died intestate and was a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina or an exempted person, administration of his estate may be granted to any person who, according to the rules for the distribution of the estate applicable in the case of such deceased would be entitled to the whole or any part of such deceased's estate.

(2) When several such persons apply for such administration, it shall be in the discretion of the Court to grant it to any one or more of them.

(3) When no such person applies, it may be granted to a creditor of the deceased.

Where deceased is not a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh, Jaina or exempted person.

219. If the deceased has died intestate and was not a person belonging to any of the classes referred to in section 218, those who are connected with him, either by marriage or by consanguinity, are entitled to obtain letters of administration of his estate and effects in the order and according to the rules hereinafter stated, namely:—

(a) If the deceased has left a widow, administration shall be granted to the widow, unless the Court sees cause to exclude her, either on the ground of some personal disqualification, or because she has no interest in the estate of the deceased.

Illustrations.

(i) The widow is a lunatic or has committed adultery or has been barred by her marriage settlement of all interest in her husband's estate. There is cause for excluding her from the administration.

(ii) The widow has married again since the decease of her husband. This is not good cause for her exclusion.

(b) If the Judge thinks proper, he may associate any person or persons with the widow in the administration who would be entitled solely to the administration if there were no widow.

(c) If there is no widow, or if the Court sees cause to exclude the widow, it shall commit the administration to the person or persons who would be beneficially entitled to the estate according to the rules for the distribution of an intestate's estate:

Provided that, when the mother of the deceased is one of the class of persons so entitled, she shall be solely entitled to administration.

(d) Those who stand in equal degree of kindred to the deceased are equally entitled to administration.

(e) The husband surviving his wife has the same right of administration of her estate as the widow has in respect of the estate of her husband.

(f) When there is no person connected with the deceased by marriage or consanguinity who is entitled to letters of administration and willing to act, they may be granted to a creditor.

(g) Where the deceased has left property in British India, letters of administration shall be granted according to the foregoing rules, notwithstanding that he had his domicile in a country in which the law relating to testate and intestate succession differs from the law of British India.

Effect of letters of administration.

220. Letters of administration entitle the administrtor to all rights belonging to the intestate as effectually as if the administration had been granted at the moment after his death.

Acts not validated by administration.

221. Letters of administration do not render valid any intermediate acts of the administrator tending to the diminution or damage of the intestate's estate.

Probate only to appointed executor.

222. (1) Probate shall be granted only to an executor appointed by the will.

(2) The appointment may be expressed or by necessary implication.

Illustrations.

(i) A wills that C be his executor if B will not. B is appointed executor by implication.

(ii) A gives a legacy to B and several legacies to other persons, among the rest to his daughter-in-law C, and adds "but should the within-named C be not living, I do constitute and appoint B my whole and sole executrix." C is appointed executrix by implication.

(iii) A appoints several persons executors of his will and codicils and his nephew residuary legatee, and in another codicil are these words,—"I appoint my nephew my residuary legatee to discharge all lawful demands against my will and codicils signed of different dates." The nephew is appointed an executor by implication.

Persons to whom probate cannot be granted.

223. Probate cannot be granted to any person who is a minor or is of unsound mind, nor, unless the deceased was a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina or an exempted person, to a married woman without the previous consent of her husband.

Grant of probate to several executors simultaneously or at different times.

224. When several executors are appointed, probate may be granted to them all simultaneously or at different times.

Illustration.

A is an executor of B's will by express appointment and C an executor of it by implication. Probate may be granted to A and C at the same time or to A first and then to C or to C first and then to A.

Separate probate of codicil discovered after grant of probate.

225. (1) If a codicil is discovered after the grant of probate, a separate probate of that codicil may be granted to the executor, if it in no way repeals the appointment of executors made by the will.

(2) If different executors are appointed by the codicil, the probate of the will shall be revoked, and a new probate granted of the will and the codicil together.

Accrual of representation to surviving executor

226. When probate has been granted to several executors, and one of them dies, the entire representation of the testator accrues to the surviving executor or executors.

Effect of probate.

227. Probate of a will when granted establishes the will from the death of the testator, and renders valid all intermediate acts of the executor as such.

Administration with copy annexed of authenticated copy of will proved abroad

228. When a will has been proved and deposited in a Court of competent jurisdiction situated beyond the limits of the Province, whether within or beyond the limits of His Majesty's dominions, and a properly authenticated copy of the will is produced, letters of administration may be granted with a copy of such copy annexed.

Grant of administration where executor has not renounced.

229. When a person appointed an executor has not renounced the executorship, letters of administration shall not be granted to any other person until a citation has been issued, calling upon the executor to accept or renounce his executorship:

Provided that, when one or more of several executors have proved a will, the Court may, on the death of the survivor of those who have proved, grant letters of administration without citing those who have not proved.

Form and effect of renunciation of executorship.

230. The renunciation may be made orally in the presence of the Judge or by a writing signed by the person renouncing, and when made shall preclude him from ever thereafter applying for probate of the will appointing him executor.

Procedure where executor renounces or fails to accept within time limited.

231. If an executor renounces, or fails to accept an executorship within the time limited for the acceptance or refusal thereof, the will may be proved and letters of administration with a copy of the will annexed may be granted to the person who would be entitled to administration in case of intestacy.

Grant of administration to universal or residuary legatees.

232. When—

(a) the deceased has made a will, but has not appointed an executor, or

(b) the deceased has appointed an executor who is legally incapable or refuses to act, or who has died before the testator or before he has proved the will, or

(c) the executor dies after having proved the will but before he has administered all the estates of the deceased, an universal or a residuary legatee may be admitted to prove the will, and letters of administration with the will annexed may be granted to him of the whole estate, or of so much thereof as may be unadministered.

Right to administration of representative of deceased residuary legatee.

233. When a residuary legatee who has a beneficial interest survives the testator, but dies before the estate has been fully administered, his representative has the same right to administration with the will annexed as such residuary legatee.

Grant of administration where no executor, nor residuary legatee nor representative of such legatee.

234. When there is no executor and no residuary legatee or representative of a residuary legatee, or he declines or is incapable to act, or cannot be found, the person or persons who would be entitled to the administration of the estate of the deceased if he had died intestate or any other legatee having a beneficial interest, or a creditor, may be admitted to prove the will, and letters of administration may be granted to him or them accordingy.

Citation before grant of administration to legatee other than universal or residuary.

235. Letters of administration with the will annexed shall not be granted to any legatee other than an universal or a residuary legatee, until a citation has been issued and published in the manner hereinafter mentioned, calling on the next-of-kin to accept or refuse letters of administration.

To whom administration may not be granted.

236. Letters of administration cannot be granted to any person who is a minor or is of unsound mind, nor, unless the deceased was a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh, or Jaina or an exempted person, to a married woman without the previous consent of her husband.

CHAPTER II.

OF LIMITED GRANTS.

Grants limited in Duration.

Probate of copy or draft of lost will.

237. When a will has been lost or mislaid since the testator's death, or has been destroyed by wrong or accident and not by any act of the testator, and a copy or the draft of the will has been preserved, probate may be granted of such copy or draft, limited until the original or a properly authenticated copy of it is produced.

Probate of contents of lost or destroyed will.

238. When a will has been lost or destroyed and no copy has been made nor the draft preserved, probate may be granted of its contents if they can be established by evidence.

Probate of copy where original exists.

239. When the will is in the possession of a person residing out of the province in which application for probate is made, who has refused or neglected to deliver it up, but a copy has been transmitted to the executor, and it is necessary for the interests of the estate that probate should be granted without waiting for the arrival of the original, probate may be granted of the copy so transmitted, limited until the will or an authenticated copy of it is produced.

Administration until will produced.

240. Where no will of the deceased is forthcoming, but there is reason to believe that there is a will in existence, letters of administration may be granted, limited until the will or an authenticated copy of it is produced.

Grants for the use and benefit of others having Right.

Administration, with will annexed, to attorney of absent executor.

241. When any executor is absent from the province in which application is made, and there is no executor within the province willing to act, letters of administration, with the will annexed, may be granted to the attorney or agent of the absent executor, for the use and benefit of his principal, limited until he shall obtain probate or letters of administration granted to himself.

Administration, with will annexed, to attorney of absent person, who, if present, would be entitled to administer.

242. When any person to whom, if present, letters of administration, with the will annexed, might be granted, is absent from the province, letters of administration, with the will annexed, may be granted to his attorney or agent, limited as mentioned in section 241.

Administration to attorney of absent person entitled to administer in case of intestacy.

243. When a person entitled to administration in case of intestacy is absent from the province, and no person equally entitled is willing to act, letters of administration may be granted to the attorney or agent of the absent person, limited as mentioned in section 241.

Administration during minority of sole executor or residuary legatee.

244. When a minor is sole executor or sole residuary legatee, letters of administration, with the will annexed, may be granted to the legal guardian of such minor or to such other person as the Court may think fit until the minor has attained his majority at which period, and not before, probate of the will shall be granted to him.

Administration during minority of several executors or residuary legatees.

245. When there are two more or minor executors and no executor who has attained majority, or two or more residuary legatees and no residuary legatee who has attained majority, the grant shall be limited until one of them shall have attained his majority.

Administration for use and benefit of lunatic or minor.

246. If a sole executor or a sole universal or residuary legatee, or a person who would be solely entitled to the estate of the intestate according to the rule for the distribution of intestates' estates applicable in the case of the deceased, is a minor or lunatic, letters of administration, with or without the will annexed, as the case may be, shall be granted to the person to whom the care of his estate has been committed by competent authority, or, if there is no such person, to such other person as the Court may think fit to appoint, for the use and benefit of the minor or lunatic until he attains majority or becomes of sound mind, as the case may be.

Administration pendente lite.

247. Pending any suit touching the validity of the will of a deceased person or for obtaining or revoking any probate or any grant of letters of administration, the Court may appoint an administrator of the estate of such deceased person, who shall have all the rights and powers of a general administrator, other than the right of distributing such estate, and every such administrator shall be subject to the immediate control of the Court and shall act under its direction.

Grants for Special Purposes.

Probate limited to purpose specified in will.

248. If an executor is appointed for any limited purpose specified in the will, the probate shall be limited to that purpose, and if he should appoint an attorney or agent, to take administration on his behalf, the letters of administration, with the will annexed, shall be limited accordingly.

Administration, with will annexed, limited to particular purpose.

249. If an executor appointed generally gives an authority to an attorney or agent to prove a will on his behalf, and the authority is limited to a particular purpose, the letters of administration, with the will annexed, shall be limited accordingly.

Administration limited to property in which person has beneficial interest.

250. Where a person dies, leaving property of which he was the sole or surviving trustee, or in which he had no beneficial interest on his own account, and leaves no general representative, or one who is unable or unwilling to act as such, letters of administration, limited to such property, may be granted to the beneficiary, or to some other person on his behalf.

Administration limited to suit.

251. When it is necessary that the representative of a person deceased be made a party to a pending suit, and the executor or person entitled to administration is unable or unwilling to act, letters of administration may be granted to the nominee of a party in such suit, limited for the purpose of representing the deceased in the said suit, or in any other cause or suit which may be commenced in the same or in any other Court between the parties, or any other parties, touching the matters at issue in the said cause or suit, and until a final decree shall be made therein and carried into complete execution.

Administration limited to purpose of becoming party to suit to be brought against administrator.

252. If, at the expiration of twelve months from the date of any probate or letters of administration, the executor or administrator to, whom the same has been granted is absent from the province within which the Court which has granted the probate or letters of administration exercises jurisdiction, the Court may grant, to any person whom it may think fit, letters of administration limited to the purpose of becoming and being made a party to a suit to be brought against the executor or administrator and carrying the decree which may be made therein into effect.

Administration limited to collection and preservation of deceased's property.

253. In any case in which it apears necessary for preserving the property of a deceased person, the Court within whose jurisdiction any of the property is situate may grant to any person, whom such Court may think fit, letters of administration limited to the collection and preservation of the property of the deceased and to the giving of discharges for debts due to his estate, subject to the directions of the Court.

Appointment, as administrator, of person other than one who, in ordinary circumstances, would be entitled to administration.

254. (1) When a person has died intestate, or leaving a will of which there is no executor willing and competent to act or where the executor is, at the time of the death of such person, resident out of the province, and it appears to the Court to be necessary or convenient to appoint some person to administer the estate or any part thereof, other than the person who, in ordinary circumstances, would be entitled to a grant of administration, the Court may, in its discretion, having regard to consanguinity, amount of interest, the safety of the estate and probability that it will be properly administered, appoint such person as it thinks fit to be administrator.

(2) In every such case letters of administration may be limited or not as the Court thinks fit.

Grants with exception.

Probate or administration, with will annexed, subject to exception.

255. Whenever the nature of the case requires that an exception be made, probate of a will, or letters of administration with the will annexed, shall be granted subject to such exception.

Administration with exception.

256. Whenever the nature of the case requires that an exception be made, letters of administration shall be granted subject to such exception.

Grants of the rest.

Probate or administration of rest.

257. Whenever a grant with exception of probate, or of letters of administration with or without the ill annexed, has been made, the person entitled to probate or administration of the remainder of the deceased's estate may take a grant of probate or letters of administration, as the case may be, of the rest of the deceased's estate.

Grant of effects unadministered.

Grant of effects unadministered.

258. If an executor to whom probate has been granted has died, leaving a part of the testator's estate unadministered, a new representative may be appointed for the purpose of administering such part of estate.

Rules as to grants of effects unadministered.

259. In granting letters of administration of an estate not fully administered, the Court shall be guided by the same rules as apply to original grants, and shall grant letters of administration to those persons only to whom original grants might have been made.

Administration when limited grant expired and still some part of estate unadministered.

260. When a limited grant has expired by efflux of time, or the happening of the event or contingency on which it was limited, and there is still some part of deceased's estate unadministered, letters of administration shall be granted to those persons to whom original grants might have been made.

CHAPTER III.

Alteration and revocation of grants.

What errors may be rectified by Court.

261. Errors in names and descriptions, or in setting forth the time and place of the deceased's death, or the purpose in a limited grant, may be rectified by the Court and the grant of probate or letters of administration may be altered and amended accordingly.

Procedure where codicil discovered after grant of administration with will annexed

262. If, after the grant of letters of administration with the will annexed, a codicil is discovered, it may be added to the grant on due proof and identification, and the grant may be altered and amended accordingly.

Revokation or annulment for just cause.

263. The grant of probate or letters of administration may be revoked or annulled for just cause.

Explanation.—Just cause shall be deemed to exist where—

(a) the proceedings to obtain the grant were defective in substance; or

(b) the grant was obtained fraudulently by making a false suggestion, or by concealing from the Court something material to the case; or

(c) the grant was obtained by means of an untrue allegation of a fact essential in point of law to justify the grant, though such allegation was made in ignorance or inadvertently; or

(d) the grant has become useless and inoperative through circumstances; or

(e) the person to whom the grant was made has wilfully and without reasonable cause omitted to exhibit an inventory or account in accordance with the provisions of Chapter VII of this Part, or has exhibited under that Chapter an inventory or account which is untrue in a material respect.

Illustrations.

(i) The Court by which the grant was made haad no jurisdiction.

(ii) The grant was made without citing parties who ought to have been cited.

(iii) The will of which probate was obtained was forged or revoked.

(iv) A obtained letters of administration to the estate of B, as his widow, but it has since transpired that she was never married to him.

(v) A has taken administration to the estate of B as if he had died intestate, but a will has since been discovered.

(vi) Since probate was granted, a later will has been discovered.

(vii) Since probate was granted, a codicil has been discovered which revokes or adds to the appointment of executors under the will.

(viii) The person to whom probate was, or letters of administration were, granted has subsequently become of unsound mind.

CHAPTER IV.

Of the practice in granting and revoking probates and letters of administration.

Jurisdiction of District Judge in granting and revoking probates, etc.

264. (1) The District Judge shall have jurisdiction in granting and revoking probates and letters of administration in all cases within his district.

(2) Except in cases to which section 57 applies, no Court in any local area beyond the limits of the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, and the province of Burma, shall, where the deceased is a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina or an exempted person, receive applications for probate or letters of administration until the Local Government has, by a notification in the local official Gazette, authorised it so to do.

Power to appoint Delegate of District Judge to deal with non-contentious cases.

265. (1) The High Court may appoint such judicial officers within any district as it thinks fit to act for the District Judge as Delegates to grant probate and letters of administration in non-contentious cases, within such local limits as it may prescribe:

Provided that, in the case of High Courts not established by Royal Charter, such appointment shall not be without the previous sanction of the Local Government.

(2) Persons so appointed shall be called "District Delegates".

District Judge's powers as to grant of probate and administration.

266. The District Judge shall have the like powers and authority in relation to the granting of probate and letters of administration, and all matters connected therewith, as are by law vested in him in relation to any civil suit or proceeding pending in his Court.

District Judge may order person to produce testamentary papers.

267. (1) The District Judge may order any person to produce and bring into Court any paper or writing, being or purporting to be testamentary, which may be shown to be in the possession or under the control of such person.

(2) If it is not shown that any such paper or writing is in the possession or under the control of such person, but there is reason to believe that he has the knowledge of any such paper or writing, the Court may direct such person to attend for the purpose of being examined respecting the same.

(3) Such person shall be bound to answer truly such questions as may be put to him by the Court, and, if so ordered, to produce and bring in such paper or writing, and shall be subject to the like punishment under the Indian Penal Code, in case of default in not attending or in not answering such questions or not bringing in such paper or writing, as he would have been subject to in case he had been a party to a suit and had made such default. XLV of 1860.

(4) The costs of the proceeding shall be in the discretion of the Judge.

Proceedings of District Judge's Court in relation to probate and administration.

268. The proceedings of the Court of the District Judge in relation to the granting of probate and letters of administration shall, save as hereinafter otherwise provided, be regulated, so far as the circumstances of the case permit, by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. V of 1908.

When and how District Judge to interfere for protection of property.

269. (1) Until probate is granted of the will of a deceased person, or an administrator of his estate is constituted, the District Judge, within whose jurisdiction any part of the property of the deceased person is situate, is authorised and required to interfere for the protection of such property at the instance of any person claiming to be interested therein, and in all other cases where the Judge considers that the property incurs any risk of loss or damage; and for that purpose, if he thinks fit, to appoint an officer to take and keep possession of the property.

(2) This section shall not apply when the deceased is a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina or an exempted person, nor shall it apply to any part of the property of an Indian Christian who has died intestate.

When probate or administration may be granted by District Judge.

270. Probate of the will or letters of administration to the estate of a deceased person may be granted by a District Judge under the seal of his Court, if it appears by a petition, verified as hereinafter provided, of the person applying for the same that the testator or intestate, as the case may be, at the time of his decease had a fixed place of abode, or any property, moveable or immoveable, within the jurisdiction of the Judge.

Disposal of application made to Judge of district in which deceased had no fixed abode.

271. When the application is made to the Judge of a district in which the deceased had no fixed abode at the time of his death, it shall be in the discretion of the Judge to refuse the application, if in his judgment it could be disposed of more justly or conveniently in another district, or, where the application is for letters of administration, to grant them absolutely, or limited to the property within his own jurisdiction.

Probate and letters of administration may be granted by Delegate.

272. Probate and letters of administration may, upon application for that purpose to any District Delegate, be granted by him in any case in which there is no contention, if it appears by petition, verified as hereinafter provided, that the testator or intestate, as the case may be, at the time of his death had a fixed place of abode within the jurisdiction of such Delegate.

Conclusiveness of probate or letters of administration.

273. Probate or letters of administration shall have effect over all the property and estate, moveable or immoveable, of the deceased, throughout the province in which the same is or are granted, and shall be conclusive as to the representative title against all debtors of the deceased, and all persons holding property which belongs to him, and shall afford full indemnity to all debtors, paying their debts and all persons delivering up such property to the person to whom such probate or letters of administration have been granted :

Provided that probates and letters of administration granted—

(a) by a High Court, or

(b) by a District Judge, where the deceased at the time of his death had a fixed place of abode situate within the jurisdiction of such Judge, and such Judge certifies that the value of the property and estate affected beyond the limits of the province does not exceed ten thousand rupees, shall, unless otherwise directed by the grant, have like effect throughout the whole of British India.

Transmission to High Courts of certificate of grants under proviso to section 273.

274. (1) Where probate or letters of administration has or have been granted by a High Court or District Judge with the effect referred to in the proviso to section 273, the High Court or District Judge shall send a certificate thereof to the following Courts, namely :—

(a) when the grant has been made by a High Court, to each of the other High Courts;

(b) when the grant has been made by a District Judge, to the High Court to which such District Judge is subordinate and to each of the other High Courts.

(2) Every certificate referred to in sub-section (1) shall be made as nearly as circumstances admit in the form set forth in Schedule IV, and such certificate shall be filed by the High Court receiving the same.

(3) Where any portion of the assets has been stated by the petitioner, as hereinafter provided in sections 276 and 278, to be situate within the jurisdiction of a District Judge in another province, the Court required to send the certificate referred to in sub-section (1) shall send a copy thereof to such District Judge, and such copy shall be filed by the District Judge receiving the same.

Conclusiveness of application for probate or administration if properly made and verified.

275. The application for probate or letters of administration, if made and verified in the manner hereinafter provided, shall be conclusive for the purpose of authorising the grant of probate or administration : and no such grant shall be impeached by reason only that the testator or intestate had no fixed place of abode or no property within the district at the time of his death, unless by a proceeding to revoke the grant if obtained by a fraud upon the Court.

Petition for probate.

276. (1) Application for probate or for letters of administration, with the will annexed, shall be made by a petition distinctly written in English or in the language in ordinary use in proceedings before the Court in which the application is made, with the will or in the cases mentioned in sections 237, 238 and 239, a copy, draft or statement of the contents thereof, annexed, and stating—

(a) the time of the testator's death,

(b) that the writing annexed is his last will and testament,

(c) that it was duly executed,

(d) the amount of assets which are likely to come to the petitioner's hands, and

(e) when the application is for probate, that the petitioner is the executor named in the will.

(2) In addition to these particulars, the petition shall further state,—

(a) when the application is to the District Judge, that the deceased at the time of his death had a fixed place of abode, or had some property, situate within the jurisdiction of the Judge; and

(b) when the application is to a District Delegate, that the decased at the time of his death had a fixed place of abode within the jurisdiction of such Delegate.

(3) Where the application is to the District Judge and any portion of the assets likely to come to the petitioner's hands is situate in another province, the petition shall further state the amount of such assets in each province and the District Judges within whose jurisdiction such assets are situate.

In what cases translation of will to be annexed to petition. Verification of translation by person other than Court translator.

277. In cases wherein the will, copy or draft is written in any language other than English or than that in ordinary use in proceedings before the Court, there shall be a translation thereof annexed to the petition by a translator of the Court, if the language be one for which a translator is appointed; or, if the will, copy or draft is in any other language, then by any person competent to translate the same, in which case such translation shall be verified by that person in the following manner, namely:—

"I (A. B.) do declare that I read and perfectly understand the language and character of the original, and that the above is a true and accurate translation thereof."

Petition for letters of administration.

278. (1) Application for letters of administration shall be made by petition distinctly written as aforesaid and stating—

(a) the time and place of the deceased's death,

(b) the family or other relatives of the deceased, and their respective residences,

(c) the right in which the petitioner claims,

(d) the amount of assets which are likely to come to the petitioner's hands,

(e) when the application is to the District Judge, that the deceased at the time of his death had a fixed place of abode, or had some property, situate within the jurisdiction of the Judge; and

(f) when the application is to a District Delegate, that the deceased at the time of his death had a fixed place of abode within the jurisdiction of such Delegate.

(2) Where the application is to the District Judge and any portion of the assets likely to come to the petitioner's hands is situate in another province, the petition shall further state the amount of such assets in each province and the District Judges within whose jurisdiction such assets are situate.

Addition to statement in petition, etc., for probate or letters of administration in certain cases.

279. (1) Every person applying to any of the Courts mentioned in the proviso to section 273 for probate of a will or letters of administration of an estate intended to have effect throughout British India, shall state in his petition, in addition to the matters respectively required by section 276 and section 278, that to the best of his belief no application has been made to any other Court for a probate of the same will or for letters of administration of the same estate, intended to have such effect as last aforesaid, or, where any such application has been made, the Court to which it was made, the person or persons by whom it was made and the proceedings (if any) had thereon.

(2) The Court to which any such application is made under the proviso to section 273 may, if it thinks fit, reject the same.

Petition for probate, etc., to be signed and verified.

280. The petition for probate or letters of administration shall in all cases be subscribed by the petitioner and his pleader, if any, and shall be verified by the petitioner in the following manner, namely :—

"I (A. B.), the petitioner in the above petition, declare that what is stated therein is true to the best of my information and belief."

Verification of petition for probate, by one witness to will.

281. Where the application is for probate, the petition shall also be verified by at least one of the witnesses to the will (when procurable) in the manner or to the effect following, namely :—

"I (C. D.), one of the witnesses to the last will and testament of the testator mentioned in the above petition, declare that I was present and saw the said testator affix his signature (or mark) thereto (or that the said testator acknowledged the writing annexed to the above petition to be his last will and testament in my presence).

Punishment for false averment in petition or declaration.

282. If any petition or declaration which is hereby required to be verified contains any averment which the person making the verification knows or believes to be false, such person shall be deemed to have committed an offence under section 193 of the Indian Penal Code. XLV of 1860.

Powers of District Judge.

283. (1) In all cases the District Judge or District Delegate may, if he thinks proper,—

(a) examine the petitioner in person, upon oath ;

(b) require further evidence of the due execution of the will or the right of the petitioner to the letters of administration, as the case may be ;

(c) issue citations calling upon all persons claiming to have any interest in the estate of the deceased to come and see the proceedings before the grant of probate or letters of administration,

(2) The citation shall be fixed up in some conspicuous part of the court-house, and also in the office of the Collector of the district and otherwise published or made known in such manner as the Judge or District Delegate issuing the same may direct.

(3) Where any portion of the assets has been stated by the petitioner to be situate within the jurisdiction of a District Judge in another province, the District Judge issuing the same shall cause a copy of the citation to be sent to such other District Judge, who shall publish the same in the same manner as if it were a citation issued by himself, and shall certify such publication to the District Judge who issued the citation.

Caveats against grant of probate or administration.

284. (1) Caveats against the grant of probate or administration may be lodged with the District Judge or a District Delegate.

(2) Immediately on any caveat being lodged with any District Delegate, he shall send copy thereof to the District Judge.

(3) Immediately on a caveat being entered with the District Judge, a copy thereof shall be given to the District Delegate, if any, within whose jurisdiction it is alleged the deceased had a fixed place of abode at the time of his death, and to any other Judge or District Delegate to whom it may appear to the District Judge expedient to transmit the same.

Form of caveat.

(4) The caveat shall be made as nearly as circumstances admit in the form set forth in Schedule V.

After entry of caveat, no proceeding taken on petition until after notice to caveator.

285. No proceeding shall be taken on a petition for probate or letters of administration after a caveat against the grant thereof has been entered with the Judge or District Delegate to whom the application has been made or notice has been given of its entry with some other Delegate, until after such notice to the person by whom the same has been entered as the Court may think reasonable.

District Delegate when not to grant probate or administration.

286. A District Delegate shall not grant probate or letters of administration in any case in which there is contention as to the grant, or in which it otherwise appears to him that probate or letters of administration ought not to be granted in his Court.

Explanation.—"Contention" means the appearance of any one in person, or by his recognized agent, or by a pleader duly appointed to act on his behalf, to oppose the proceeding.

Power to transmit statement to District Judge in doubtful cases where no contention.

287. In every case in which there is no contention, but it appears to the District Delegate doubtful whether the probate or letters of administration should or should not be granted, or when any question arises in relation to the grant, or application for the grant, of any probate or letters of administration, the District Delegate may, if he thinks proper, transmit a statement of the matter in question to the District Judge, who may direct the District Delegate to proceed in the matter of the application, according to such instructions as to the Judge may seem necessary, or may forbid any further proceeding by the District Delegate in relation to the matter of such application leaving the party applying for the grant in question to make application to the Judge.

Procedure where there is contention, or District Delegate thinks probate or letters of administration should be refused in his Court.

288. In every case in which there is contention, or the District Delegate is of opinion that the probate or letters of administration should be refused in his Court, the petition, with any documents which may have been filed therewith, shall be returned to the person by whom the application was made, in order that the same may be presented to the District Judge, unless the District Delegate thinks it necessary, for the purposes of justice, to impound the same, which he is hereby authorised to do; and, in that case, the same shall be sent by him to the District Judge.

Grant of probate to be under seal of Court.

289. When it appears to the District Judge or District Delegate that probate of a will should be granted, he shall grant the same under the seal of his Court in the form set forth in Schedule VI.

Grant of letters of administration to be under seal of Court.

290. When it appears to the District Judge or District Delegate that letters of administration to the estate of a person deceased, with or without a copy of the will annexed, should be granted, he shall grant the same under the seal of his Court in the form set forth in Schedule VII.

Administration-bond.

291. (1) Every person to whom any grant of letters of administration, other than a grant under section 241, is committed, shall give a bond to the District Judge with one or more surety or sureties, engaging for the due collection, getting in, and administering the estate of the deceased, which bond shall be in such form as the Judge may, by general or special order, direct.

(2) When the deceased was a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina or an exempted person—

(a) the exception made by sub-section (1) in respect of a grant under section 241 shall not operate;

(b) the District Judge may demand a like bond from any person to whom probate is granted.

Assignment of administration-bond.

292. The Court may, on application made by petition and on being satisfied that the engagement of any such bond has not been kept, and upon such terms as to security, or providing that the money received be paid into Court, or otherwise, as the Court may think fit, assign the same to some person, his executors or administrators, who shall thereupon be entitled to sue on the said bond in his or their own name or names as if the same had been originally given to him or them instead of to the Judge of the Court, and shall be entitled to recover thereon, as trustees for all persons interested, the full amount recoverable in respect of any breach thereof.

Time for grant of probate and administration.

293. No probate of a will shall be granted until after the expiration of seven clear days, and no letters of administration shall be granted until after the expiration of fourteen clear days from the day of the testator or intestate's death.

Filing of original wills of which probate or administration with will annexed granted.

294. (1) Every District Judge, or District Delegate, shall file and preserve all original wills, of which probate or letters of administration with the will annexed may be granted by him, among the records of his Court, until some public registry for wills is established.

(2) The Local Government shall make regulations for the preservation and inspection of the wills so filed.

Procedure in contentious cases.

295. In any case before the District Judge in which there is contention, the proceedings shall take, as nearly as may be, the form of a regular suit, according to the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, in which the petitioner for probate or letters of administration, as the case may be, shall be the plaintiff, and the person who has appeared to oppose the grant shall be the defendant.

Surrender of revoked probate or letters of administration.

296. (1) When a grant of probate or letters of administration is revoked or annulled under this Act, the person to whom the grant was made shall forthwith deliver up the probate or letters to the Court which made the grant.

(2) If such person wilfully and without reasonable cause omits so to deliver up the probate or letters, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or with both.

Payment to executor or administrator before probate or administration revoked.

297. When a grant of probate or letters of administration is revoked, all payments bonâ fide made to any executor or administrator under such grant before the revocation thereof shall notwithstanding such revocation be a legal discharge to the person making the same; and the executor or administrator who has acted under any such revoked grant may retain and reimburse himself in respect of any payments made by him which the person to whom probate or letters of administration may afterwards be granted might have lawfully made.

Power to refuse letters of administration.

298. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, it shall, where the deceased was a Muhammadan, Buddhist or exempted person, or a Hindu, Sikh or Jaina to whom section 57 does not apply, be in the discretion of the Court to make an order refusing, for reasons to be recorded by it in writing, to grant any application for letters of administration made under this Act.

Appeals from orders of District Judge.

299. Every order made by a District Judge by virtue of the powers hereby conferred upon him shall be subject to appeal to the High Court in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, applicable to appeals.

Concurrent jurisdiction of High Court.

300. (1) The High Court shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the District Judge in the exercise of all the powers hereby conferred upon the District Judge.

(2) Except in cases to which section 57 applies no High Court, in exercise of the concurrent jurisdiction hereby conferred over any local area beyond the limits of the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, and the province of Burma, shall, where the deceased is a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina or an exempted person, receive applications for probate or letters of administration until the Local Government has, by a notification in the local official Gazette, authorised it so to do.

Removal of executor or administrator and provision for successor.

301. The High Court may, on application made to it, suspend, remove or discharge any private executor or administrator and provide for the succession of another person to the office of any such executor or administrator who may cease to hold office, and the vesting in such successor of any property belonging to the estate.

Directions to executor or administrator.

302. Where probate or letters of administration in respect of any estate has or have been granted under this Act, the High Court may, on application made to it, give to the executor or administrator any general or special directions in regard to the estate or in regard to the administration thereof.

CHAPTER V.

Of Executors of their own Wrong.

Executor of his own wrong.

303. A person who intermeddles with the estate of the deceased, or does any other act which belongs to the office of executor, while there is no rightful executor or administrator in existence, thereby makes himself an executor of his own wrong.

Exceptions.—(1) Intermeddling with the goods of the deceased for the purpose of preserving them or providing for his funeral or for the immediate necessities of his family or property, does not make an executor of his own wrong.

(2) Dealing in the ordinary course of business with goods of the deceased received from another does not make an executor of his own wrong.

Illustrations.

(i) A uses or gives away or sells some of the goods of the deceased, or takes them to satisfy his own debt or legacy or receives payment of the debts of the deceased. He is an executor of his own wrong.

(ii) A, having been appointed agent by the deceased in his lifetime to collect his debts and sell his goods, continues to do so after he has become aware of his death. He is an executor of his own wrong in respect of acts done after he has become aware of the death of the deceased.

(iii) A sues as executor of the deceased, not being such. He is an executor of his own wrong.

Liability of executor of his own wrong.

304. When a person has so acted as to become an executor of his own wrong, he is answerable to the rightful executor or administrator, or to any creditor or legatee of the deceased, to the extent of the assets which may have come to his hands after deducting payments made to the rightful executor or administrator, and payments made in due course of administration.

CHAPTER VI.

Of the Powers of an Executor or Administrator.

In respect of causes of action surviving deceased and rents due at death.

305. An executor or administrator has the same power to sue in respect of all causes of action that survive the deceased, and may exercise the same power for the recovery of debts as the deceased had when living.

Demands and rights of action of or against deceased survive to and against executor or administrator.

306. All demands whatsoever and all rights to prosecute or defend any action or special proceeding existing in favour of or against a person at the time of his decease, survive to and against his executors or administrators; except causes of action for defamation, assault, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, or other personal injuries not causing the death of the party; and except also cases where, after the death of the party, the relief sought could not be enjoyed or granting it would be nugatory. XLV of 1860.

Illustrations.

(i) A collision takes place on a railway in consequence of some neglect or default of an official, and a passenger is severely hurt, but not so as to cause death. He afterwards dies without having brought any action. The cause of action does not survive.

(ii) A sues for divorce. A dies. The cause of action does not survive to his representative.

Power of executor or administrator to dispose of property.

307. (1) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), an executor or administrator has power to dispose of the property of the deceased, vested in him under section 211, either wholly or in part, in such manner as he may think fit.

Illustrations.

(i) The deceased has made a specific bequest of part of his property. The executor, not having assented to the bequest, sells the subject of it. The sale is valid.

(ii) The executor in the exercise of his discretion mortgages a part of the immoveable estate of the deceased. The mortgage is valid.

(2) If the deceased was a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina or an exempted person, the general power conferred by sub-section (1) shall be subject to the following restrictions and conditions, namely :—

(i) The power of an executor to dispose of immoveable property so vested in him is subject to any restriction which may be imposed in this behalf by the will appointing him unless probate has been granted to him and the Court which granted the probate permits him by an order in writing, notwithstanding the restriction, to dispose of any immoveable property specified in the order in a manner permitted by the order.

(ii) An administrator may not, without the previous permission of the Court by which the letters of administration were granted—

(a) mortgage, charge or transfer by sale, gift, exchange or otherwise any immoveable property for the time being vested in him under section 211, or

(b) lease any such property for a term exceeding five years.

(iii) A disposal of property by an executor or administrator in contravention of clause (i) or clause (ii), as the case may be, is voidable at the instance of any other person interested in the property.

(3) Before any probate or letters of administration is or are granted in such a case, there shall be endorsed thereon or annexed thereto a copy of sub-section (1) and clauses (i) and (iii) of sub-section (2) or of sub-section (1) and clauses (ii) and (iii) of sub-section (2), as the case may be.

(4) A probate or letters of administration shall not be rendered invalid by reason of the endorsement or annexure required by sub-section (3) not having been made thereon or attached thereto, nor shall the absence of such an endorsement or annexure authorise an executor or administrator to act otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this section.

General powers of administration.

308. An executor or administrator may, in addition to, and not in derogation of, any other powers of expenditure lawfully exercisable by him, incur expenditure—

(a) on such acts as may be necessary for the proper care or management of any property belonging to any estate administered by him, and

(b) with the sanction of the High Court, on such religious, charitable and other objects, and on such improvements, as may be reasonable and proper in the case of such property.

Commission or agency charges.

309. An executor or administrator shall not be entitled to receive or retain any commission or agency charges at a higher rate than that for the time being fixed in respect of the Administrator-General by or under the Administrator-General's Act, 1913. III of 1913.

Purchase by executor or administrator of deceased's property.

310. If any executor or administrator purchases, either directly or indirectly, any part of the property of the deceased, the sale is voidable at the instance of any other person interested in the property sold.

Powers of several executors or administrators exercisable by one.

311. When there are several executors or administrators, the powers of all may, in the absence of any direction to the contrary, be exercised by any one of them who has proved the will or taken out administration.

Illustrations.

(i) One of several executors has power to release a debt due to the deceased.

(ii) One has power to surrender a lease.

(iii) One has power to sell the property of the deceased whether moveable or immoveable.

(iv) One has power to assent to a legacy.

(v) One has power to endorse a promissory note payable to the deceased.

(vi) The will appoints A, B, C and D to be executors, and directs that two of them shall be a quorum. No act can be done by a single executor.

Survival of powers on death of one of several executors or administrators.

312. Upon the death of one or more of several executors or administrators, in the absence of any direction to the contrary in the will or grant of letters of administration, all the powers of the office become vested in the survivors or survivor.

Powers of administrator of effects unadministered.

313. The administrator of effects unadministered has, with respect to such effects, the same powers as the original executor or administrator.

Powers of administrator during minority.

314. An administrator during minority has all the powers of an ordinary administrator.

Powers of married executrix or administratrix.

315. When a grant of probate or letters of administration has been made to a married woman, she has all the powers of an ordinary executor or administrator.

CHAPTER VII.

Of the Duties of an Executor or Administrator.

As to deceased's funeral.

316. It is the duty of an executor to provide funds for the performance of the necessary funeral ceremonies of the deceased in a manner suitable to his condition, if he has left property sufficient for the purpose.

Inventory and account.

317. (1) An executor or administrator shall, within six months from the grant of probate or letters of administration, or within such further time as the Court which granted the probate or letters may appoint, exhibit in that Court an inventory containing a full and true estimate of all the property in possession, and all the credits, and also all the debts owing by any person to which the executor or administrator is entitled in that character; and shall in like manner, within one year from the grant or within such further time as the said Court may appoint, exhibit an account of the estate, showing the assets which have come to his hands and the manner in which they have been applied or disposed of.

(2) The High Court may prescribe the form in which an inventory or account under this section is to be exhibited.

(3) If an executor or administrator, on being required by the Court to exhibit an inventory or account under this section, intentionally omits to comply with the requisition, he shall be deemed to have committed an offence under section 176 of the Indian Penal Code. XLV of 1860.

(4) The exhibition of an intentionally false inventory or account under this section shall be deemed to be an offence under section 193 of that Code.

Inventory to include property in any part of British India in certain cases.

318. In all cases where a grant has been made of probate or letters of administration intended to have effect throughout the whole of British India, the executor or administrator shall include in the inventory of the effects of the deceased all his moveable and immoveable property situate in British India, and the value of such property situate in each province shall be separately stated in such inventory, and the probate or letters of administration shall be chargeable with a fee corresponding to the entire amount or value of the property affected thereby wheresoever situate within British India.

As to property of, and debts owing to, deceased.

319. The executor or administrator shall collect, with reasonable diligence, the property of the deceased and the debts that were due to him at the time of his death.

Expenses to be paid before all debts.

320. Funeral expenses to a reasonable amount, according to the degree and quality of the deceased, and death-bed charges, including fees for medical attendance, and board and lodging for one month previous to his death, shall be paid before all debts.

Expenses to be paid next after such expenses.

321. The expenses of obtaining probate or letters of administration including the costs incurred for or in respect of any judicial proceedings that may be necessary for administering the estate, shall be paid next after the funeral expenses and death-bed charges.

Wages for certain services to be next paid, and then other debts.

322. Wages due for services rendered to the deceased within three months next preceding his death by any labourer, artizan or domestic servant shall next be paid, and then the other debts of the deceased according to their respective priorities (if any).

Save as aforesaid, all debts to be paid equally and rateably.

323. Save as aforesaid, no creditor shall have a right of priority over another; but the executor or administrator shall pay all such debts as he knows of, including his own, equally and rateably as far as the assets of the deceased will extend.

Application of moveable property to payment of debts where domicile not in British India.

324. (1) If the domicile of the deceased was not in British India, the application of his moveable property to the payment of his debts is to be regulated by the law of British India.

(2) No creditor who has received payment of a part of his debt by virtue of sub-section (1) shall be entitled to share in the proceeds of the immoveable estate of the deceased unless he brings such payment into account for the benefit of the other creditors.

(3) This section shall not apply where the deceased was a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina or an exempted person.

Illustration.

A dies, having his domicile in a country where instruments under seal have priority over instruments not under seal leaving moveable property to the value of 5,000 rupees, and immoveable property to the value of 10,000 rupees, debts on instruments under seal to the amount of 10,000 rupees, and debts on instruments not under seal to the same amount. The creditors holding instruments under seal receive half of their debts out of the proceeds of the moveable estate. The proceeds of the immoveable estate are to be applied in payment of the debts on instruments not under seal until one-half of such debts has been discharged. This will leave 5,000 rupees, which are to be distributed rateably amongst all the creditors without distinction, in proportion to the amount which may remain due to them.

Debts to be paid before legacies.

325. Debts of every description must be paid before any legacy.

Executor or administrator not bound to pay legacies without indemnity.

326. If the estate of the deceased is subject to any contingent liabilities, an executor or administrator is not bound to pay any legacy without a sufficient indemnity to meet the liabilities whenever they may become due.

Abatement of general legacies.

327. If the assets, after payment of debts, necessary expenses and specfic legacies, are not sufficient to pay all the general legacies in full, the latter shall abate or be diminished in equal proportions, and, in the absence of any direction to the contrary in the will, the executor has no right to pay one legatee in preference to another, or to retain any money on account of a legacy to himself or to any person for whom he is a trustee.

Non-abatement of specific legacy when assets sufficient to pay debts.

328. Where there is a specific legacy, and the assets are sufficient for the payment of debts and necessary expenses, the thing specified must be delivered to the legatee without any abatement.

Right under demonstrative legacy when assets sufficient to pay debts and necessary expenses.

329. Where there is a demonstrative legacy, and the assets are sufficient for the payment of debts and necessary expenses, the legatee has a preferential claim for payment of his legacy out of the fund from which the legacy is directed to be paid until such fund is exhausted and if, after the fund is exhausted, part of the legacy still remains unpaid, he is entitled to rank for the remainder against the general assets as for a legacy of the amount of such unpaid remainder.

Rateable abatement of specific legacies.

330. If the assets are not sufficient to answer the debts and the specific legacies, an abatement shall be made from the latter rateably in proportion to their respective amounts.

Illustration.

A has bequeathed to B a diamond ring valued at 500 rupees, and to C a horse, valued at 1,000 rupees. It is found necessary to sell all the effects of the testator; and his assets, after payment of debts, are only 1,000 rupees. Of this sum rupees 333-5-4 are to be paid to B and rupees 666-10-8 to C.

Legacies treated as general for purpose of abatement.

331. For the purpose of abatement, a legacy for life, a sum appropriated by the will to produce an annuity, and the value of an annuity when no sum has been appropriated to produce it, shall be treated as general legacies.

CHAPTER VIII.

Of Assent to a Legacy by Executor or Administrator.

Assent necessary to complete legatee's title.

332. The assent of the executor or administrator is necessary to complete a legatee's title to his legacy.

Illustrations.

(i) A by his will bequeaths to B his Government paper which is in deposit with the Imperial Bank of India. The Bank has no authority to deliver the securities, nor B a right to take possession of them, without the assent of the executor.

(ii) A by his will has bequeathed to C his house in Calcutta in the tenancy of B. C is not entitled to receive the rents without the assent of the executor or administrator.

Effect of executor's assent to specific legacy.

333. (1) The assent of the executor or administrator to a specific bequest shall be sufficient to divest his interest as executor or administrator therein, and to transfer the subject of the bequest to the legatee, unless the nature or the circumstances of the property require that it shall be transferred in a particular way.

(2) This assent may be verbal, and it may be either express or implied from the conduct of the executor or administrator.

Illustrations.

(i) A horse is bequeathed. The executor requests the legatee to dispose of it, or a third party proposes to purchase the horse from the executor, and he directs him to apply to the legatee. Assent to the legacy is implied.

(ii) The interest of a fund is directed by the will to be applied for the maintenance of the legatee during his minority. The executor commences so to apply it. This is an assent to the whole of the bequest.

(iii) A bequest is made of a fund to A and after him to B. The executor pays the interest of the fund to A. This is an implied assent to the bequest to B.

(iv) Executors die after paying all the debts of the testator, but before satisfaction of specific legacies. Assent to the legacies may be presumed.

(v) A person to whom a specific article has been bequeathed takes possession of it and retains it without any objection on the part of the executor. His assent may be presumed.

Conditional assent.

334. The assent of an executor or administrator to a legacy may be conditional, and if the condion is one which he has a right to enforce, and it is not performed, there is no assent.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths to B his lands of Sultanpur, which at the date of the will, and at the death of A, were subject to a mortgage for 10,C00 rupees. The exeutor assents to the buquest, on condition that B shall within a limited time pay the amount due on the mortgage at the testator's death. The amount is not paid. There is no assent.

(ii) The executor assents to a bequest on condition that the legatee shall pay him a sum of money. The payment is not made. The assent is nevertheless valid.

Assent of executor to his own legacy.

335. (1) When the executor or administrator is a legatee, his assent to his own legacy is necessary to complete his title to it, in the same way as it is required when the bequest is to another person, and his assent may, in like manner, be expressed or implied.

(2) Assent shall be implied if in his manner of administering the property he does any act which is referable to his character of legatee and is not referable to his character of executor or administrator.

Illustration.

An executor takes the rent of a house or the interest of Government securities bequeathed to him, and applies it to his own use. This is assent.

Effect of executor's assent.

336. The assent of the executor or administrator to a legacy gives effect to it from the death of the testator.

Illustrations.

(i) A legatee sells his legacy before it is assented to by the executor. The executor's subsequent assent operates for the benefit of the purchaser and completes his title to the legacy.

(ii) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to B with interest from his death. The executor does not assent to his legacy until the expiration of a year from A's death. B is entitled to interest from the death of A.

Executor when to deliver legacies.

337. An executor or administrator is not bound to pay or deliver any legacy until the expiration of one year from the testator's death.

Illustration.

A by his will directs his legacies to be paid within six months after his death. The executor is not bound to pay them before the expiration of a year.

CHAPTER IX.

Of the Payment and Appointment of Annuities.

Commencement of annuity when no time fixed by will.

338. Where an annuity is given by a will, and no time is fixed for its commencement, it shall commence from the testator's death, and the first payment shall be made at the expiration of a year next after that event.

When annuity, to be paid quarterly or monthly, first falls due.

339. Where there is a direction that the annuity shall be paid quarterly or monthly, the first payment shall be due at the end of the first quarter or first month, as the case may be, after the testator's death and shall, if the executor or administrator thinks fit, be paid when due, but the executor or administrator shall not be bound to pay it till the end of the year.

Dates of successive payments when first payment directed to be made within a given time or on day certain: death of annuitant before date of payment.

340. (1) Where there is a direction that the first payment of an annuity shall be made within one month or any other division of time from the death of the testator, or on a day certain, the successive payments are to be made on the anniversary of the earliest day on which the will authorises the first payment to be made.

(2) If the annuitant dies in the interval between the times of payment, an apportioned share of the annuity shall be paid to his representative.

CHAPTER X.

Of the Investment of Funds to provide for Legacies.

Investment of sum bequeathed where legacy, not specific, given for life.

341. Where a legacy, not being a specific legacy, is given for life, the sum bequeathed shall at the end of the year be invested in such securities as the High Court may by any general rule authorise or direct, and the proceeds thereof shall be paid to the legatee as the same shall accrue due.

Investment of general legacy, to be paid at future time: disposal of intermediate interest.

342. (1) Where a general legacy is given to be paid at a future time, the executor or administrator shall invest a sum sufficient to meet it in securities of the kind mentioned in section 341.

(2) The intermediate interest shall form part of the residue of the testator's estate.

Procedure when no fund charged with, or appropriated to, annuity.

343. Where an annuity is given and no fund is charged with its payment or appropriated by the will to answer it, a Government annuity of the specified amount shall be purchased or, if no such annuity can be obtained, then a sum sufficient to produce the annuity shall be invested for that purpose in securities of the kind mentioned in section 341.

Transfer to residuary legatee of contingent bequest.

344. Where a bequest is contingent, the executor or administrator is not bound to invest the amount of the legacy, but may transfer the whole residue of the estate to the residuary legatee, if any, on his giving sufficient security for the payment of the legacy if it shall become due.

Investment of residue bequeathed for life, without direction to invest in particular securities.

345. (1) Where the testator has bequeathed the residue of his estate to a person for life without any direction to invest it in any particular securities, so much thereof as is not at the time of the testator's decease invested in securities of the kind mentioned in section 341 shall be converted into money and invested in such securities.

(2) This section shall not apply if the deceased was a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina or an exempted person.

Investment of residue bequeathed for life, with direction to invest in specified securities.

346. Where the testator has bequeathed the residue of his estate to a person for life with a direction that it shall be invested in certain specified securities, so much of the estate as is not at the time of his death invested in securities of the specified kind shall be converted into money and invested in such securities.

Time and manner of conversion and investment.

347. Such conversion and investment as are contemplated by sections 345 and 346 shall be made at such times and in such manner as the executor or administrator thinks fit; and, until such conversion and investment are completed, the person who would be for the time being entitled to the income of the fund when so invested shall receive interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum upon the market-value (to be computed as at the date of the testator's death) of such part of the fund as has not been so invested :

Provided that the rate of interest prior to completion of investment shall be six per cent. per annum when the testator was a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina or an exempted person.

Procedure where minor entitled to immediate payment or possession of bequest, and no direction to pay to person on his behalf.

348. (1) Where, by the terms of a bequest, the legatee is entitled to the immediate payment or possession of the money or thing bequeathed but is a minor, and there is no direction in the will to pay it to any person on his behalf, the executor or administrator shall pay or deliver the same into the Court of the District Judge, by whom or by whose District Delegate the probate was, or letters of administration with the will annexed were, granted, to the account of the legatee, unless the legatee is a ward of the Court of Wards.

(2) If the legatee is a ward of the Court of Wards, the legacy shall be paid to the Court of Wards to his account.

(3) Such payment into the Court of the District Judge, or to the Court of Wards, as the case may be, shall be a sufficient discharge for the money so paid.

(4) Money when paid in under this section shall be invested in the purchase of Government securities, which, with the interest thereon, shall be transferred or paid to the person entitled thereto, or otherwise applied for his benefit, as the Judge or the Court of Wards, as the case may be, may direct.

CHAPTER XI.

Of the Produce and Interest of Legacies.

Legatee's title to produce of specific legacy.

349. The legatee of a specific legacy is entitled to the clear produce thereof, if any, from the testator's death.

Exception.—A specific bequest, contigent in its terms, does not comprise the produce of the legacy between the death of the testator and the vesting of the legacy. The clear produce of it forms part of the residue of the testator's estate.

Illustrations.

(i) A bequeaths his flock of sheep to B. Between the death of A and delivery by his executor the sheep are shorn or some of the ewes produce lambs. The wool and lambs are the property of B.

(ii) A bequeaths his Government securities to B, but postpones the delivery of them till the death of C. The interest which falls due between the death of A and the death of C belong to B, and must, unless he is a minor, be paid to him as it is received.

(iii) The testator bequeaths all his four per cent. Government promissory notes to A when he shall complete the age of 18. A, if he completes that age, is entitled to receive the notes, but the interest which accrues in respect of them between the testator's death and A's completing 18 from part of the residue.

Residuary legatee's title to produce of residuary fund.

350. The legatee under a general residuary bequest is entitled to the produce of the residuary fund from the testator's death.

Exception.—A general residuary bequest contingent in its terms does not comprise the income which may accrue upon the fund bequeathed between the death of the testator and the vesting of the legacy. Such income goes as undisposed of.

Illustrations.

(i) The testator bequeaths the residue of his property to A. a minor, to be paid to him when he shall complete the age of 18. The income from the testator's death belongs to A.

(ii) The testator bequeaths the residue of his property to A when he shall complete the age of 18. A, if he completes that age, is entitled to receive the residue. The income which has accrued in respect of it since the testator's death goes as undisposed of.

Interest when no time fixed for payment of general legacy.

351. Where no time has been fixed for the payment of a general legacy, interest begins to run from expiration of one year from the testator's death.

Exception.—(1) Where the legacy is bequeathed in satisfaction of a debt, interest runs from the death of the testator.

(2) Where the testator was a parent or a more remote ancestor of the legatee, or has put himself in the place of a parent of the legatee, the legacy shall bear interest from the death of the testator.

(3) Where a sum is bequeathed to a minor with a direction to pay for his maintenance out of it, interest is payable from the death of the testator.

Interest when time fixed.

352. Where a time has been fixed for the payment of a general legacy, interest begins to run from the time so fixed. The interest up to such time forms part of the residue of the testator's estate.

Exception.—Where the testator was a parent or a more remote ancestor of the legatee, or has put himself in the place of a parent of the legatee and the legatee is a minor, the legacy shall bear interest from the death of the testator, unless a specific sum is given by the will for maintenance or unless the will contains a direction to the contrary.

Rate of interest.

353. The rate of interest shall be four per cent. per annum in all cases except when the testator was a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina or an exempted person, in which case it shall be six per cent. per annum.

No interest on arrears of annuity within first year after testator's death.

354. No interest is payable on the arrears of an annuity within the first year from the death of the testator, although a period earlier than the expiration of that year may have been fixed by the will for making the first payment of the annuity.

Interest on sum to be invested to produce annuity

355. Where a sum of money is directed to be invested to produce an annuity, interest is payable on it from the death of the testator.

CHAPTER XII.

Of the Refunding of Legacies.

Refund of legacy paid under Court's orders.

356. When an executor or administrator has paid a legacy under the order of a Court, he is entitled to call upon the legatee to refund in the event of the assets proving insufficient to pay all the legacies.

No refund if paid voluntarily.

357. When an executor or administrator has voluntarily paid a legacy, he cannot call upon a legatee to refund in the event of the assets proving insufficient to pay all the legacies.

Refund when legacy has become due on performance of condition within further time allowed under section 137.

358. When the time prescribed by the will for the performance of a condition has elapsed, without the condition having been performed, and the executor or administrator has thereupon, without fraud, distributed the assets; in such case, if further time has been allowed under section 137 for the performance of the condition and the condition has been performed accordingly, the legacy cannot be claimed from the executor or administrator, but those to whom he has paid it are liable to refund the amount.

When each legatee compellable to refund in proportion.

359. When the executor or administrator has paid away the assets in legacies, and he is afterwards obliged to discharge a debt of which he had no previous notice, he is entitled to call upon each legatee to refund in proportion.

Distribution of assets.

360. Where an executor or administrator has given such notices as the High Court may, by any general rule, prescribe or, if no such rule has been made, as the High Court would give in an administration suit, for creditors and others to send in to him their claims against the estate of the deceased, he shall, at the expiration of the time therein named for sending in claims, be at liberty to distribute the assets, or any part thereof, in discharge of such lawful claims as he knows of, and shall not be liable for the assets so distributed to any person of whose claim he shall not have had notice at the time of such distribution:

Provided that nothing herein contained shall prejudice the right of any creditor or claimant to follow the assets or any part thereof, in the hands of the persons who may have received the same respectively.

Creditor may call upon legatee to refund.

361. A creditor who has not received payment of his debt may call upon a legatee who has received payment of his legacy to refund, whether the assets of the testator's estate were or were not sufficient at the time of his death to pay both debts and legacies; and whether the payment of the legacy by the executor or administrator was voluntary or not.

When legatee, not satisfied or compelled to refund under section 361, cannot oblige one paid in full to refund.

362. If the assets were sufficient to satisfy all the legacies at the time of the testator's death, a legatee who has not received payment of his legacy, or who has been compelled to refund under section 361, cannot oblige one who has received payment in full to refund, whether the legacy were paid to him with or without suit, although the assets have subsequently become deficient by the wasting of the executor.

When unsatisfied legatee must first proceed against executor, if solvent.

363. If the assets were not sufficient to satisfy all the legacies at the time of the testator's death, a legatee who has not recieved payment of his legacy must, before he can call on a satisfied legatee to refund, first proceed against the executor or administrator if he is solvent; but if the executor or administrator is insolvent or not liable to pay, the unsatisfied legatee can oblige each satisfied legatee to refund in proportion.

Limit to refunding of one legatee to another.

364. The refunding of one legatee to another shall not exceed the sum by which the satisfied legacy ought to have been reduced if the estate had been properly administered.

Illustration.

A has bequeathed 240 rupees to B, 480 rupees to C, and 720 rupees to D. The assets are only 1,200 rupees and, if properly administered, would give 200 rupees to B, 400 rupees to C, and 600 rupees to D. C and D have been paid their legacies in full, leaving nothing to B. B can oblige C to refund 80 rupees, and D to refund 120 rupees.

Refunding to be without interest.

365. The refunding shall in all cases be without interest.

Residue after usual payments to be paid to residuary legatee.

366. The surplus or residue of the deceased's property, after payment of debts and legacies, shall be paid to the residuary legatee when any has been appointed by the will.

Transfer of assets from British India to executor or administrator in country of domicile for distribution.

367. Where a person not having his domicile in British India has died leaving assets both in British India and in the country in which he had his domicile at the time of his death, and there has been a grant of probate or letters of administration in British India with respect to the assets there and a grant of administration in the country of domicile with respect to the assets in that country, the executor or administrator, as the case may be, in British India, after having given such notices as are mentioned in section 360, and after having discharged, at the expiration of the time therein named, such lawful claims as he knows of, may, instead of himself distributing any surplus or residue of the deceased's property to persons residing out of British India who are entitled thereto, transfer, with the consent of the executor or administrator, as the case may be, in the country of domicile, the surplus or residue to him for distribution to those persons.

CHAPTER XIII.

Of the Liability of an Executor or Administrator for Devastation.

Liability of executor or administrator for devastation.

368. When an executor or administrator misapplies the estate of the deceased, or subjects it to loss or damage, he is liable to make good the loss or damage so occasioned.

Illustrations.

(i) The executor pays out of the estate an unfounded claim. He is liable to make good the loss.

(ii) The deceased had a valuable lease renewable by notice which the executor neglects to give at the proper time. The executor is liable to make good the loss.

(iii) The deceased had a lease of less value than the rent payable for it, but terminable on notice at a particular time. The executor neglects to give the notice. He is liable to make good the loss.

Liability of executor or administrator for neglect to get in any part of property.

369. When an executor or administrator occasions a loss to the estate by neglecting to get in any part of the property of the deceased, he is liable to make good the amount.

Illustrations.

(i) The executor absolutely releases a debt due to the deceased from a solvent person, or compounds with a debtor who is able to pay in full. The executor is liable to make good the amount.

(ii) The executor neglects to sue for a debt till the debtor is able to plead that the claim is barred by limitation and the debt is thereby lost to the estate. The executor is liable to make good the amount.

PART X.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATES.

Restriction on grant of certificates under this Part.

370. (1) A succession certificate (hereinafter in this Part referred to as a certificate) shall not be granted under this Part with respect to any debt or security to which a right is required by section 212 or section 213 to be established by letters of administration or probate:

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to prevent the grant of a certificate to any person claiming to be entitled to the effects of a deceased Indian Christian, or to any part thereof, with respect to any debt or security, by reason that a right thereto can be established by letters of administration under this Act.

(2) For the purposes of this Part, "security" means—

(a) any promissory note, debenture, stock or other security of the Government of India or of a Local Government;

(b) any bond, debenture, or annuity charged by Act of Parliament on the revenues of India;

(c) any stock or debenture of, or share in, a company or other incorporated institution;

(d) any debenture or other security for money issued by, or on behalf of, a local authority;

(e) any other security which the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare to be a security for the purposes of this Part.

Court having jurisdiction to grant certificate.

371. The District Judge within whose jurisdiction the deceased ordinarily resided at the time of his death, or, if at that time he had no fixed place of residence, the District Judge, within whose jurisdiction any part of the property of the deceased may be found, may grant a certificate under this Part.

Application for certificate.

372. (1) Application for such a certificate shall be made to the District Judge by a petition signed and verified by or on behalf of the applicant in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for the signing and verification of a plaint by or on behalf of a plaintiff, and setting forth the following particulars, namely:— V of 1908.

(a) the time of the death of the deceased;

(b) the ordinary residence of the deceased at the time of his death and, if such residence was not within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Judge to whom the application is made, then the property of the deceased within those limits;

(c) the family or other near relatives of the deceased and their respective residences;

(d) the right in which the petitioner claims;

(e) the absence of any impediment under section 370 or under any other provision of this Act or any other enactment, to the grant of the certificate or to the validity thereof if it were granted; and

(f) the debts and securities in respect of which the certificate is applied for.

(2) If the petition contains any averment which the person verifying it knows or believes to be false, or does not believe to be true, that person shall be deemed to have committed an offence under section 198 of the Indian Penal Code. XLV of 1860.

Procedure on application.

373. (1) If the District Judge is satisfied that there is ground for entertaining the application, he shall fix a day for the hearing thereof and cause notice of the application and of the day fixed for the hearing—

(a) to be served on any person to whom, in the opinion of the Judge, special notice of the application should be given, and

(b) to be posted on some conspicuous part of the court-house and published in such other manner, if any, as the Judge, subject to any rules made by the High Court in this behalf, thinks fit, and upon the day fixed, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, shall proceed to decide in a summary manner the right to the certificate.

(2) When the Judge decides the right thereto to belong to the applicant, the Judge shall make an order for the grant of the certificate to him.

(3) If the Judge cannot decide the right to the certificate without determining questions of law or fact which seem to him to be too intricate and difficult for determination in a summary proceeding, he may nevertheless grant a certificate to the applicant if he appears to be the person having primâ facie the best title thereto.

(4) When there are more applicants than one for a certificate, and it appears to the Judge that more than one of such applicants are interested in the estate of the deceased, the Judge may, in deciding to whom the certificate is to be granted, have regard to the extent of interest and the fitness in other respects of the applicants.

Contents of certificate.

374. When the District Judge grants a certificate, he shall therein specify the debts and securities set forth in the application for the certificate, and may thereby empower the person to whom the certificate is granted—

(a) to receive interest or dividends on, or

(b) to negotiate or transfer, or

(c) both to receive interest or dividends on, and to negotiate or transfer, the securities or any of them.

Requisition of security from grantee of certificate.

375. (1) The District Judge shall in any case in which he proposes to proceed under sub-section (3) or sub-section (4) of section 373, and may, in any other case, require, as a condition precedent to the granting of a certificate, that the person to whom he proposes to make the grant shall give to the Judge a bond with one or more surety or sureties, or other sufficient security, for rendering an account of debts and securities received by him and for indemnity of persons who may be entitled to the whole or any part of those debts and securities.

(2) The Judge may, on application made by petition and on cause shown to his satisfaction, and upon such terms as to security, or providing that the money received be paid into Court, or otherwise, as he thinks fit, assign the bond or other security to some proper person, and that person shall thereupon be entitled to sue thereon in his own name as if it had been originally given to him instead of to the Judge of the Court, and to recover, as trustee for all persons interested, such amount as may be recoverable thereunder.

Extension of certificate.

376. (1) A District Judge may, on the application of the holder of a certificate under this Part, extend the certificate to any debt or security not originally specified therein, and every such extension shall have the same effect as if the debt or security to which the certificate is extended had been originally specified therein.

Forms of certificate and extended certificate.

377. Certificates shall be granted and extensions of certificates shall be made, as nearly as circumstances admit, in the forms set forth in Schedule VIII.

Amendment of certificate in respect of powers as to securities.

378. Where a District Judge has not conferred on the holder of a certificate any power with respect to a security specified in the certificate, or has only empowered him to receive interest or dividends on, or to negotiate or transfer, the security, the Judge may, on application made by petition and on cause shown to his satisfaction, amend the certificate by conferring any of the powers mentioned in section 374 or by substituting any one for any other of those powers.

Mode of collecting Court-fees on certificates.

379. (1) Every application for a certificate or for the extension of certificate shall be accompanied by a deposit of a sum equal to the fee payable under the Court-fees Act, 1870, in respect of the certificate or extension applied for. VII of 1870.

(2) If the application is allowed, the sum deposited by the applicant shall be expended, under the direction of the Judge, in the purchase of the stamp to be used for denoting the fee payable as aforesaid.

(3) Any sum received under sub-section (1) and not expended under sub-section (2) shall be refunded to the person who deposited it.

Local extent of certificate.

380. A certificate under this Part shall have effect throughout the whole of British India.

Effect of certificate.

381. Subject to the provisions of this Part, the certificate of the District Judge shall, with respect to the debts and securities specified therein, be conclusive as against the persons owing such debts or liable on such securities, and shall, notwithstanding any contravention of section 370, or other defect, afford full indemnity to all such persons as regards all payments made, or dealings had, in good faith in respect of such debts or securities to or with the person to whom the certificate was granted.

Effect of certificate granted or extended by British representative in Foreign State.

382. Where a certificate in the form, as nearly as circumstances admit, of Schedule VIII has been granted to a resident within a Foreign State by the British representative accredited to the State, or where a certificate so granted has been extended in such form by such representative, the certificate shall, when stamped in accordance with the provisions of the Court-fees Act, 1870, with respect to certificates under this Part have the same effect in British India as a certificate granted or extended under this Part. V of 1870.

Revocation of certificate.

383. A certificate granted under this Part may be revoked for any of the following causes, namely :—

(a) that the proceedings to obtain the certificate were defective in substance ;

(b) that the certificate was obtained fraudulently by the making of a false suggestion, or by the concealment from the Court of something material to the case ;

(c) that the certificate was obtained by means of an untrue allegation of a fact essential in point of law to justify the grant thereof, though such allegation was made in ignorance or inadvertently ;

(d) that the certificate has become useless and inoperative through circumstances ;

(e) that a decree or order made by a competent Court in a suit or other proceeding with respect to effects comprising debts or securities specified in the certificate renders it proper that the certificate should be revoked.

Appeal.

384. (1) Subject to the other provisions of this Part, an appeal shall lie to the High Court from an order of a District Judge granting, refusing or revoking a certificate under this Part, and the High Court may, if it thinks fit, by its order on the appeal, declare the person to whom the certificate should be granted and direct the District Judge, on application being made therefor, to grant it accordingly, in supersession of the certificate, if any, already granted.

(2) An appeal under sub-section (1) must be preferred within the time allowed for an appeal under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. V of 1908.

(3) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (1) and to the provisions as to reference to and revision by the High Court and as to review of judgment of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, as applied by section 141 of that Code, an order of a District Judge under this Part shall be final. V of 1908.

Effect on certificate of previous certificate, probate or letters of administration.

385. Save as provided by this Act, a certificate granted thereunder in respect of any of the effects of a deceased person shall be invalid if there has been a previous grant of such a certificate or of probate or letters of administration in respect of the estate of the deceased person and if such previous grant is in force.

Validation of certain payments made in good faith to holder of invalid certificate.

386. Where a certificate under this Part has been superseded or is invalid by reason of the certificate having been revoked under section 383, or by reason of the grant of a certificate to a person named in an appellate order under section 384, or by reason of a certificate having been previously granted, or for any other cause, all payments made, or dealings had, as regards debts and securities specified in the superseded or invalid certificate, to or with the holder of that certificate in ignorance of its supersession or invalidity, shall be held good against claims under any other certificate.

Effect of decisions under this Act, and liability of holder of certificate thereunder

387. No decision under this Part upon any question of right between any parties shall be held to bar the trial of the same question in any suit or in any other proceeding between the same parties, and nothing in this Part shall be construed to affect the liability of any person who may receive the whole or any part of any debt or security, or any interest or dividend on any security, to account therefor to the person lawfully entitled thereto.

Investiture of inferior Courts with jurisdiction of District Court for purposes of this Act.

388. (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, invest any Court inferior in grade to a District Judge with power to exercise the functions of a District Judge under this Part.

(2) Any inferior Court so invested shall, within the local limits of its jurisdiction, have concurrent jurisdiction with the District Judge in the exercise of all the powers conferred by this Part upon the District Judge, and the provisions of this Part relating to the District Judge shall apply to such an inferior Court as if it were a District Judge:

Provided that an appeal from any such order of an inferior Court as is mentioned in sub-section (1) of section 384 shall lie to the District Judge, and not to the High Court, and that the District Judge may, if he thinks fit, by his order on the appeal, make any such declaration and direction as that sub-section authorises the High Court to make by its order on an appeal from an order of a District Judge.

(3) An order of a District Judge on an appeal from an order of an inferior Court under the last foregoing sub-section shall, subject to the provisions as to reference to and revision by the High Court and as to review of judgment of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, as applied by section 141 of that Code, be final. V of 1908.

(4) The District Judge may withdraw any proceedings under this Part from an inferior Court and may either himself dispose of them or transfer them to another such Court established within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the District Judge and having authority to dispose of the proceedings.

(5) A notification under sub-section (1) may specify any inferior Court specially or any class of such Courts in any local area.

(6) Any Civil Court which for any of the purposes of any enactment is subordinate to, or subject to the control of, a District Judge shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a Court inferior in grade to a District Judge.

Surrender of superseded and invalid certificates.

389. (1) When a certificate under this Part has been superseded or is invalid from any of the causes mentioned in section 386, the holder thereof shall, on the requisition of the Court which granted it, deliver it up to that Court.

Provisions with respect to certificates under Bombay Regulation VIII of 1827.

390. Notwithstanding any thing in Bombay Regulation No. VIII of 1827, the provisions of section 370, sub-section (2), section 372, sub-section (1), clause (f), and sections 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 381, 383, 384, 387, 388 and 389 with respect to certificates under this Part and applications therefor, and of section 317 with respect to the exhibition of inventories and accounts by executors and administrators, shall, so far as they can be made applicable, apply, respectively, to certificates granted under that Regulation, and applications made for certificates thereunder, after the 1st day of May, 1889, and to the exhibition of inventories and accounts by the holders of such certificates so granted.

Third Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1925-26.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1923-24, the area under the cotton crops in Bengal has represented some 0·2 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India.]

THERE are two crops—early and late. The "early" crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the Tripura State and to a small extent also in other districts. The "late" crop is chiefly grown in Bankura and Midnapore.

Character of the season.—During the initial stages the early crop suffered from absence of rain in Bankura and Midnapore and from excessive rain in Mymensingh and the Tripura State. But subsequent weather conditions favoured the growth, and a good yield was reaped. In the Chittagong Hill Tracts, however, the weather was favourable throughout. The prospects of the late crop, so far, are satisfactory.

Area sown.—The total area sown with early cotton is returned at 75,175 acres and that with late at 1,563 acres, against 75,777 acres and 1,207 acres, respectively, in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Outturn.—The outturn of the early crop is estimated at 25,489 bales and the late crop at 348 bales, against 23,905 bales and 350 bales, respectively, in the corresponding forecast of the last year.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

No. 2461P.H.—The 12th December 1925.—Babu Subodh Chandra Ghosh, temporary Assistant Engineer, Public Health Department, is allowed leave on full pay for sixteen days from the 30th October to 14th November 1925, under rule 103 (a) of the Fundamental Rules and subsidiary rule 275 (a) of those rules.

No. 2413P.H.—The 9th December 1925.—The following draft of an amendment which the Governor in Council proposes to make in the rules framed under section 20 of the Bengal Food Adulteration Act, 1919 (Bengal Act VI of 1919), and published with notification No. 4P.H., dated the 5th January 1922, at pages 65-67 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 11th idem, is published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on the 1st February 1926, and any objection or suggestion received by the undersigned through the District Magistrate before that date will be duly considered :—

Draft amendment.

For rule 5 of the said rules the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"5. The health officer, or where specially authorised by the Municipal Commissioners in this behalf, the sanitary inspector or the food inspector, in the employ of the municipality, shall perform the duties and exercise the powers mentioned in section 10 or section 12 of the Act."

No. 2406P.H.—The 9th December 1925.—The following draft of rules which the Governor in Council intends to make, in exercise of the power conferred by section 69B (ii) of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), for the guidance of Commissioners of Municipalities in matters connected with the carrying out of the purposes of section 69 (1) (ii) of that Act, so far as they relate to the supply of water, in supersession of all previous rules on the subject, is published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on the 2nd March 1926, and any objections or suggestions which are received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

Rules for the management of water-works in Bengal.

1. The management of the water supply system of every municipality in which such system has been introduced vests in the Municipal Commissioners (hereinafter called "the Commissioners"), and the Commissioners shall perform the duties prescribed in the following rules.

2. The Commissioners are responsible for the proper application of the water supply funds. It shall be their duty to take requisite steps to rectify defects in case they find that water rates are irregularly collected in any instance or are insufficient for carrying out the purposes of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884.

3. The Commissioners shall frame the annual budget of income and expenditure on account of the water-works, and shall submit it to the Chief Engineer, Public Health Department (hereinafter called "the Chief Engineer") for any remarks he may consider necessary. The Chief Engineer shall return the budget with his remarks to the Chairman of the Municipality.

4. The Chairman of the Municipality shall, at the end of each month, prepare a statement of the accounts of the water supply funds, which he shall submit to the Commissioners at their next meeting.

5. The Commissioners at a meeting shall, every month, inquire into all matters connected with the water supply of the municipality and examine and pass the accounts submitted under rule 4, and shall record that the accounts have been passed in the book of the minutes of the proceedings of the meeting.

6. In all engineering matters connected with the water-works the Commissioners shall be guided by the advice of the Chief Engineer. The Commissioners shall afford the Chief Engineer all information he may from time to time require, and shall consider and attend to all communications received from him.

7. The Chief Engineer, and the inspecting officers of the Engineering Branch of the Public Health Department may, whenever it is desirable, correspond direct with the Superintendent of the Pumping Station in regard to technical matters. Copies of all such letters shall be forwarded to the Chairman of the Municipality.

8. (1) An officer of the Engineering Branch, Public Health Department, shall visit the water-works not less than once a year, and his report thereon shall be submitted to the Sanitary Board by the Chief Engineer. The Commissioners shall arrange for the proper inspection of the boilers and pumping machinery not less than twice a year by a qualified Machinery Inspector or firm of Machinery Inspectors who must be approved by the Chief Engineer.

(2) The reports of the Inspectors must be submitted,—

(i) in the case of boilers and pumping machinery worked by steam, in P. H. D. Form No. 6 (Appendix A),

(ii) in the case of engines and pumps using oil fuel, in P. H. D. Form No. 6A (Appendix A), in the case of mechanical fitters, in P. H. D. Form No. 6B (Appendix A), to the Chief Engineer, and by him to the Sanitary Board :

Provided that in the case of small water-works the said inspection may, with the consent of the Chief Engineer, be held only once a year.

9. Until all points raised in the reports of the Chief Engineer and the Machinery Inspector have been disposed of, the Commissioners shall submit to the District Magistrate, for transmission to the Chief Engineer, a monthly progress report showing how far effect has been given to the recommendations made in the reports.

10. (1) The Commissioners shall cause to be kept at the Pumping Station—

(a) a stock account in P. H. D. Form No. 4 (Appendix A), showing the daily transactions in coal and engine room stores;

(b) an engine room log in the P. H. D. Form No. 3 (a) or 3 (b) (Appendix A);

(c) a workshop log in P. H. D. Form No. 3 (c) (Appendix A);

(d) a filter-bed log in P. H. D. Form No. 5 (Appendix A); or a filter log in P. H. D. Form No. 5A (Appendix A);

(e) a settling tank log in P. H. D. Form No. 5B; and (f) such other forms as the Chief Engineer, may, from time to time, prescribe.

(2) The said forms shall be written up daily by the Superintendent of the Pumping Station and shall be available at all times for inspecting officers and visitors appointed under clause (1) of rule 15.

11. The Commissioners shall submit to the Chief Engineer not later than the tenth of each month:—

(a) indicator diagrams from each engine in P. H. D. Form No. 1 (Appendix A) for one day in the preceding month, which must be accompanied by a copy of the engine room log, Form No. 3 (Appendix A), for the day on which they are taken;

(b) an abstract of work done by the pumping machinery during the preceding month in P. H. D. Form No. 2 (Appendix A);

(c) a copy of the filter bed log or filter log, and settling tank log, P. H. D. Forms Nos 5, 5A and 5B (Appendix A), for the same day of the preceding month as that to which the indicator diagrams, referred to in clause (a), apply.

12. The Commissioners shall submit quarterly a return showing the number of metered and unmetered house connections, and the quantity of water measured by meter and charged for in P. H. D. Form No. 7 (Appendix A)

13. The Commissioners shall in addition furnish such other information as the Chief Engineer may, from time to time, require.

14. It shall be the duty of the Commissioners to see that the rules for working settling tanks and slow sand and mechanical filters in water-works (Appendix B) are properly attended to by the Superintendent of the Pumping Station. If, owing to the design of the works, the rules cannot be conformed to, the matter shall be referred to the Chief Engineer, for orders.

15. (1) The Commissioners shall appoint two of their numbers in rotation to be monthly visitors of the water-works.

(2) It shall be the duty of these visitors to ascertain by enquiry—

(a) whether an efficient supply of water is being given;

(b) whether the Superintendent of the Pumping Station and the water-workers establishment are attending to their duties and a proper discipline is being maintained;

(c) whether the works, machinery, plant, implements, materials and all other things connected with the water-works, are being properly maintained in an efficient condition;

(d) whether these rules are being attended to in all respects; and

(e) whether any other matters in connection with the water-works require attention.

(3) The visitors shall report in writing to the Commissioners in meeting the result of their inspection, and a copy of their report, with a copy of any resolution that may be passed thereon by the Commissioners, shall be sent to the Chief Engineer.

16. A visitor's book shall be kept at the pumping station in which the visitor's remarks shall be recorded.

17. An extract of the proceedings relating to the water supply system at each meeting of the Commissioners shall be forwarded, within a week of the date of the meeting, to the Chief Engineer, who may, if he thinks fit, and shall, if the Commissioners so desire, submit it with his remarks to the Sanitary Board.

18. The chemical and bacteriological analysis of water from each water-works shall be carried out in the Public Health Laboratory monthly, and as often as the Director of the Public Health Laboratory shall consider necessary, and the results of the analysis shall be communicated by him to the municipality and shall be laid before the Commissioners at a meeting.

19. The Director of the Public Health Laboratory after an inspection of any water-works by himself or any member of his staff shall forward a copy of the inspection report to the Chief Engineer.

BOILERS.

1. Description of boilers, giving makers' name and date of erection. Give grate area and calculated horse-power.
2. When and by whom last examined :— (a) If examined by an Inspector of Steam-boilers under Act III (B.C.) of 1879, give name of Inspector and number and date of last certificate. (b) Note working pressures previous to last examination ; and, if any reduction in pressure was made by the Inspector, state how much, and why such reduction was made.

BOILERS—continued.

Notes—If the boilers are working under certificates granted by an Inspector under Act III (B.C.) of 1879, questions 3, 4, 5, and 6 need not be answered.

3. Have you examined the boilers internally and externally; if so, with what results? Give thickness of scale, if any, and state whether you had it removed.
4. Did you test the boilers by hydraulic pressure; if so, up to what pressure? Did you ascertain that the steam-gauge was correct, and that the steam relief-valve was in working order, and not over-weighted, before applying the hydraulic test?
5. What working pressures do you now recommend?

BOILERS—continued.

6. Have you examined all the boiler-fittings, such as safety-valves, feed water-pipe, blow-off cocks, steam and water-gauges, etc.? State if they are all in good working order, and if not, what is required to make them so? Note—The safety-valves should not be weighted to more than 10 lbs. (preferably 5 lbs.) above the working pressure.
7. Are the boilers blown out regularly, and safety-valves lifted to ensure their not sticking; and is a record kept of the dates on which this has been done since that last inspection?
8. Is the floor of the boiler-house kept dry and in good order? (a) Where are the ashes slaked? (b) When was soot last removed from the flues? (c) Are the flues free from moisture during the rainy season?
9. State which of the following are available for filling the boiler, and which is generally used— (a) Feed-pump on engine. (b) Donkey-pump. (c) Injector. (d) Cold water pressure from the mains.

BOILERS—concluded.

10. State average fuel consumption since last report giving the percentage of ashes and kind of fuel used. If coal be used, give name of colliery from whence obtained.
11. General remarks. Note.—Any repairs that have been done in the boiler-house since last inspection should be recorded here.

ENGINES.

12. Description of Engines, noting also makers' name, date of erection, diameters of cyclinders, and length of stroke.
13. When and by whom last examined ?

14. Did you examine the interiors of the cylinders, and if so, with what result?
15. Did you examine the steam-valves, and if so, with what result?
16. Did you take any indicator diagrams? If so, attach to this report a set worked out, with full particulars noted :— (a) State whether you consider the valves are properly set for the most economical working of the engine. (b) State whether you consider the indicator diagrams are satisfactory or not, and whether any difference in them is apparent. If so, what, in your opinion, has caused the difference. (c) State steam consumption as ascertained from the diagrams.

ENGINES—concluded.

17. Are all stuffing boxes and glands kept properly packed, and steam-pipes free from leaks ?
18. What vacuum is generally maintained ?
19. Is the air-pump in good order ? Give temperature of its discharges. Note—The temperature should not exceed 115°.
20. Are the lubricants in use of good and suitable quality, and is sufficiently large supply of all stores kept in hand ?
21. General remarks. Note—All repairs, however slight, that have been carried out since last report, should be mentioned here.

PUMPS.

22. Description of pumps, noting also diameters of buckets or plungers, length of stroke, number and size of valves.
23. Did you examine all buckets and plungers, and if so, with what result ?
24. What do you consider is the percentage of "slip" ? (a) What do you find the mechanical efficiency of the engines ?
25. Were the pumps working smoothly, evenly and without noise or banging of valves ?
26. Are the air-vessels kept properly charged with air ? (a) State means of doing so.

PUMPS—concluded.

27. General remarks. Note—All repairs that have been carried out since last report should be mentioned here.

APPENDIX B.

(See Rule 14.)

Rules for working settling tanks and slow sand and mechanical filters in water-works in Bengal.

Settling Tanks.

1. It is important that water drawn from the rivers of Bengal should have as long a settlement as possible before being passed on to slow sand filters, in order that the action of sunlight, the precipitation of suspended matter and the natural tendency to elimination of pathogenic bacteria may have their maximum purifying effect.

2. Settling tanks are worked either on (a) the continuous flow, or (b) the intermittent system. In the first system, the tanks are kept full, and the water is continually admitted at one end and drawn off from near the surface at the other. In order that this system may be properly used with slow sand filters, the unfiltered water pumps must be worked continuously throughout the 24 hours or the settling tanks must be fed from a storage reservoir. When designed on the intermittent system, each tank in turn is filled and then kept full until the tanks filled before it are drawn down ; the settled water is then decanted through a floating arm or similar apparatus until the tank is lowered to the lowest draw off level, when it is again filled.

The whole available storage capacity of settling tanks should always be used as far as possible. On the other hand care must be taken in tanks unprovided with fixed overflows not to fill them to a greater depth than they are designed for.

3. When a deposit of from 18 inches to 2 feet of silt has formed at the bottom, the tank should be emptied and cleansed out. This work must always be done in the dry weather and preferably at the end of October or as soon after as possible.

4. In the rains and when there is an excessive amount of suspended matter in the raw water, clarification will generally have to be assisted by the use of a coagulant. The precipitant most commonly used in Bengal water-works is aluminoferric. This depends for its effective action upon the temporary hardness of the water. If more of the chemical is used than can be decomposed by the carbonates present, it will remain dissolved in the water and will be wasted.

Generally speaking, not more than two grains of aluminoferric are required per gallon of water. Aluminoferric and sulphate of aluminum should always be ordered under a proper specification. Samples of each consignment of the precipitant should be sent to the Director of Public Health Laboratories for analysis to see if the samples conform to the specification. His advise will also be necessary from time to time as to the quantity of precipitant to be added to the water.

5. The aluminoferric must be added at the inlet end of the settling tanks. A solution of a fixed strength should be prepared and the rate of flow of the solution ascertained and regulated by experiment in cases where there is no automatic apparatus for its addition. The method of adding the salt in solid form by suspending in a bucket is unsatisfactory and should not be adopted.

Slow sand filters.

6. The rate of delivery on to a sand filter is regulated by (a) the available head between the settling tanks and the inlet valve and (b) the amount the inlet valve is open.

The rate of flow through the filter depends upon (c) the resistance of the sand in the filter. In order to overcome this resistance a difference in level forms between the surface of water on the filter-bed and the water in the outlet well. This is called the filtration head. The longer the filter-bed is in operation, the greater becomes the resistance of the sand and consequently a larger filtration head is necessary to force the water through the filter.

The discharge from the outlet well to the clear water reservoir depends on (d) the amount the outlet valve is open or in the case of a telescopic outlet the extent to which the bell mouth is lowered.

It is obvious that these factors are mutually interdependent, for more water cannot flow out of a filter than is delivered on to it, nor than can make its way through the sand.

Factors (a) and (c) continually tend to vary, so (b) and (d) must also be altered from time to time in order to maintain a constant flow through the filter. In some filters the inlet is controlled by a ball valve which keeps the level of the water on the filter always the same. In this case, the flow through the filter is regulated by (d). In all filters the surface of the water on the sand should be always kept as nearly at same level as possible and filtration head regulated by the outlet valve or telescopic weir. The depth of water on the sand should not be less than 2 feet. Gauges measuring to the same datum should be fixed on the wall of the filter and in the outlet well so that the difference in level can be easily measured.

7. Filtration should be carried on continuously and as nearly as possible at the same rate, which should be between 3 or 4 inches vertical an hour. The rate of flow must on no account exceed the latter figure.

Where there is no direct method of measuring the flow of water through a filter such as an outlet gauge notch or a meter, it may be ascertained by closing the inlet valve and leaving the outlet valve open. The fall of the surface of the water in inches at the end of an hour will give the rate of flow per hour.

8. In a new filter or one recently scraped, the filtration head required will be very small but its increase will be rapid. In the usual way, a filter should be scraped when the filtration head reaches 18 inches. In certain cases it may be safe to exceed this limit, but before allowing a greater working head the advice of the Chief Engineer should be obtained.

Filters should not be scraped until it is necessary, for not only does frequent scraping increase the cost of operation but for some time after scraping the efficiency of the filters is reduced.

9. A filter must be scraped by carefully removing the slimy ooze which has formed on the top, together with about ¼ inch of sand. The sand removed may subsequently be used again if properly washed in a sand-washer. In the usual way when the depth of fine sand is reduced to 18 inches it is time to replenish the filter. Before replenishing about two or three inches of sand is to be removed, clean washed sand is then to be added until the original thickness is obtained.

10. If the water filtered has been of a very bad quality or the filter has been mismanaged, or been long in use the whole filter may require to be renewed. In such case the advice of the Chief Engineer, Public Health Department, must be obtained, when full instructions as to the work required will be issued.

11. After a filter bed has been scraped, replenished or renewed it should, if possible, be charged from below by admitting filtered water very slowly until the surface is about three inches above the sand ; the filling can then be completed from above. If there is no arrangement for filling from below, the filling must be very carefully and slowly done from above.

After filling, water should be passed through the filter commencing at the rate not exceeding one inch vertical per hour and run to waste for 24 hours after scraping and 48 hours after replenishing. The rate of filtration should be increased gradually after putting the filter into use. If possible the maximum rate of flow should not be reached for four or five days. After complete renewal the filter must not be put into operation until the Director of Public Health Laboratories has analysed samples of the water and pronounced them safe.

12. Daily records must be kept in the filter bed log book [P. H. D. Form No. 5 (Appendix A)] of the quantity of water filtered and the filtration head recorded at intervals of three hours throughout the day.

Mechanical filters.

13. For each installation of mechanical filters, rules for working must be obtained from the makers of the plant, but the following points must be attended to in all cases :—

(i) The efficiency of the plant depends upon the proper proportioning and correct addition of the coagulant. The actual amount of coagulant required depends on the design of the installation, the type of filter, the quality and hardness of the water and general local conditions. It will vary during different season of the year and can be best ascertained by experiment in actual working. Such experiments require scientific supervision and must be carried out under the instructions of the Chief Engineer, Public Health Department, who will when necessary take the advice of the Director of Public Health Laboratories on the subject.

(ii) The precipitant generally used is sulphate of alumina and this should be purchased under a proper specification of chemical composition. The precipitant is made up into a strong solution in large vats and added to the raw water by an adjustable apparatus.

The water so treated is then allowed to settle for sufficient time to allow the formation of optimism flock.

In cases where sedimentation continues for a considerable time after the coagulant has been applied, it may be necessary to add a small additional quantity of the chemical to the water immediately before passing it to the filters.

In pressure filters if sulphate of alumina is allowed to stand in the alum pots for any length of time there is a tendency for it to deposit and clog the small pipe leading to the filter inlet. In such cases the use of crystal potash alumina is recommended. If sulphate of alumina is used it is necessary to keep the solution stirred and also to examine the alum pipes to see that the flow is taking place properly. In any properly designed installation means are provided for testing the rate of flow through the alum pipe at any time.

Aluminoferric and ammonia alum are not to be used in mechanical filters.

(iii) The rate of filtration should be kept as nearly as possible constant and must not exceed the rate for which the filters had been designed. All filters used on the gravity system are provided with automatic controllers, and these must on no account be tampered with or made to pass more water than intended.

(iv) The maximum filtration head permissible varies with different types of plant; it is usually not more than 10 feet. When the maximum head is reached, as shown by the indicator, the filter must be washed.

(v) Washing must always be done with filtered water. In the case of a battery of two or more pressure filters, they may be arranged so that one can be washed with filtered water from another. Washing must be continued until the waste water becomes quite clear. After washing, the filtered water must be run to waste for 15 minutes before connecting to the town. All valves operated during the process of washing must be opened and cleansed slowly.

(vi) The addition of coagulant throughout the filtering process is unnecessary. After four hours of filtration with coagulant a sufficiently impervious layer is formed on and in the upper layers of sand to stop the passage of bacteria and filtration can then be carried on for two days or more without the addition of any more alum.

(vii) Daily records must be kept in the filter log book [P. H. D. Form No. 5A (Appendix A)] of the quantity of water filtered, the amount of sulphate of alumina used, the hours during which filtration has been carried on the filtration head (recorded at intervals of three hours), the length of time taken to wash each filter, and the hour at which it was washed.

No. 81.—The 24th November 1925.—The following draft rules, which in exercise of the power conferred by section 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make in addition to those published with Bengal Government notification No. 14, dated the 31st August 1915, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of 1st September 1915, for the safe navigation of steamers in the line of navigation known as the Madaripur Bhil Channel and the Lower Kumar river as defined in notification No. 128, dated the 26th June 1900, and notification No. 162, dated the 22nd July 1902, paragrahs 17 and 18, are hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th January 1926 and any objections and suggestions received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

Draft rules.

(1) All upward bound steamers proceeding from Haridaspur towards Sindiaghat in the Madaripur Bhil Route must make fast alongside the weather bank and single down their flats to allow downward bound steamers proceeding from Sindiaghat towards Haridaspur to pass them to leeward.

Steamers upward bound must give way to those downward bound in all cases with the following exception—

The first steamer to arrive at a siding, up or down, seeing another steamer near at hand is to go into the siding and allow the other steamer to pass. No steamer up or down shall pass a siding while another steamer proceeding in the opposite direction is in sight between that siding and the next.

(2) When a red cone is hoisted at Haridaspur, upward bound vessels must stop and make fast in the entrance channel. When a white-ball is exhibited vessels may proceed.

(3) When a red cone is hoisted at Tentulia, downward bound vessels must stop above the toll station until a white-ball is exhibited when they may proceed.

(4) Downward bound vessels must stop in the Urial Khan river when a red cone is hoisted at the mast below the entrance to the Kumar river. When a white-ball is hoisted they may proceed.

(5) Upward bound vessels must stop, and make fast and single out flats when a red cone is exhibited at Messrs. David & Co.'s premises. When a white-ball is raised, they may proceed.

(6) At night a red light will take the place of a red cone and two white lights one above the other will take the place of the white-ball.

(7) On hât days all vessels must slow down when passing Bherarhat, Satpar, Jalirpar, Takerhat, Rajore and Charmaguria.

(8) For any infringement of the above rules, the person in charge of the vessel or person or persons in fault shall on conviction before a Magistrate be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

No. F.-37-VII-F. E.—The despatch below from the Secretary of State for India, No. 9-Accounts, dated the 22nd October 1925, and its enclosures, relating to the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Rules and the Indian Civil Service (non-European members) Family Pension Rules are published for general information. A reprint of these rules in pamphlet form with preface and explanatory foot-notes, will be issued shortly :—

INDIA OFFICE, LONDON,
22nd October 1925.

Accounts,
No. 9.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY THE RIGHT HONOURABLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

MY LORD,

Indian Civil Service Family Pension Regulations redrafted as Statutory Rules.

I enclose copy of a Resolution passed by me in Council making Rules under section 96B (2) of the Government of India Act, for the regulation of Family Pensions of the Indian Civil Service.

2. These Rules are in the main a redraft, in a form more suitable for Statutory Rules, of the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Regulations hitherto in force; but opportunity has been taken to revise the substance of those Regulations in certain respects.

3. The Preamble to the Regulations contains a proviso to the effect that the benefits provided at the cost of the State are to be reduced should it at any time appear, from a valuation, that their aggregate annual amount will exceed £35,000 when the pension list shall have reached a normal state. The reasons for which this proviso was adopted are not now clear; but it may be observed that the limit was fixed at a time when the active service cadre of the Indian Civil Service was approximately 900, and it would therefore have been a matter for consideration, had the conditions prevailing immediately before the war continued, whether, in the event of the proviso appearing likely to become operative, the figure should not in equity have been raised to correspond with the increased cadre. With the changed conditions of to-day, the proviso has to a great extent lost its meaning. It is based on the idea of steady approach to a stationary state, and with a reduced membership no such approach is actually being made. The probable course of the balance in the future will be increase up to a peak and then decrease, with the possibility of ultimate decline to a stationary condition corresponding to some comparatively small membership. It might be possible to replace the present limit of £35,000 by a variable amount dependent on the membership. It appears certain, however, from the figures given by the late Sir G. Hardy in his Report on the state of the Scheme as at 31st March 1911, that the cost of the Government contribution per member does not exceed that originally contemplated, as measured by the limit then imposed. In view of this fact and of the possibility that a reduction of the expressed limit might be regarded as a breach of faith, I have decided not to include in the new Rules any limitation based on the proviso.

4. The existing Regulations contain somewhat elaborate provisions limiting the right of admittance of the posthumous child. These provisions, though doubtless justifiable in theory, are in practice likely to be productive of trouble and possible hardship out of proportion to any benefit gained. The new Rules accordingly provide for the unconditional admittance of such children, subject of course, in the case of marriages after retirement, to payment of the appropriate donation.

5. I enclose also copy of a Resolution passed by me in Council making Rules confirming the position of Indian members of the Service appointed since 4th January 1923 or appointed before 1912 and admitted as subscribers.

I have the honour to be,

MY LORD,

Your Lordship's most obedient humble Servant.

(Signed) BIRKENHEAD.

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1925, No. 1019.

INDIA.

THE INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE FAMILY PENSION RULES. DATED OCTOBER 14, 1925.

In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 96B of the Government of India Act, the Secretary of State for India in Council, with the concurrence of a majority of votes at a meeting of the Council of India held on the 14th day of October 1925, hereby makes the following Rules to regulate the family pensions of members of the Indian Civil Service, namely :—

1.—(1) These Rules may be called the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Rules.

(2) They apply to all covenanted members of the Indian Civil Service who are of European race, or who, being of non-European race,

(a) were appointed to the Service between the 1st August 1914, and the 4th January 1923, or

(b) were appointed in the years 1912 and 1913 and have been admitted as subscribers.

(3) If any question arises as to whether these Rules apply or do not apply to any individual member of the Indian Civil Service, the question shall be decided by the Secretary of State in Council and his decision shall be final.

2. Every person to whom these Rules apply (hereinafter referred to as a "subscriber") shall make, with effect from the date of his arrival in India to join his first appointment, the contributions and payments hereinafter prescribed.

3. The sums so contributed or paid shall be credited, by the Secretary of State in Council to the revenues of India, and the pensions or other benefits payable under these Rules shall be debited as a charge upon those revenues.

4. The pensions and other benefits payable under these Rules shall be divided into two portions, the one met from the contributions of subscribers and the other met from public funds.

5. A pro formâ account shall be maintained by the Secretary of State in Council of all contributions and payments received and of all disbursements made therefrom, together with an account of interest accruing on the balance calculated at such rates as may from time to time be fixed by the Secretary of State in Council with reference to the market rates of the day.

6.—(1) The Secretary of State in Council shall from time to time, at such periods as he may determine, place the pro formâ accounts referred to in Rule 5, together with statistics of the ages, births, marriages and deaths of the subscribers and of their dependants, before such Actuary or Actuaries as he may select, with instructions to examine them and report thereon.

(2) The Report of the Actuary or Actuaries shall be published in such manner as the Secretary of State in Council may direct.

(3) The Secretary of State in Council shall, after consideration of the Actuary's Report, make by amendment of these Rules such alterations in the rates of contributions payments, and benefits as he may think necessary. Every such alteration shall, in the absence of provision in the Rules to the contrary, take effect from the 1st day of the month following the date of publication of the amendment in the "Gazette of India":

Provided that no reduction shall be made in respect of the benefits payable to any person already in receipt thereof, other than the withdrawal or reduction of any increase granted temporarily.

(4) The cost of the actuarial examination and Report aforesaid, together with all other expenses incurred in connection with the administration of the Rules, shall be borne by the Secretary of State in Council.

7. With effect from the 1st August 1925, the monthly contributions payable by a subscriber shall be those shown in the First Schedule to these Rules, and shall be deducted from his pay at the time of issue. If at any time a subscriber is not in receipt of pay he shall not thereby be relieved of the obligation to pay the contributions due from him.

8. Subject to the provisions of Rule 23 and Rule 25, contributions payable under Rule 7 shall cease when the subscriber retires from the Service on a pension.

9. A subscriber who is dismissed from the Service or who resigns without being entitled to an annuity or pension shall thereupon cease to be a subscriber and his family shall cease to be entitled to any pensions under these Rules, nor shall the subscriber be entitled to any refund of contributions or other payments:

Provided that the Secretary of State in Council may at his discretion permit any subscriber who has resigned without being entitled to an annuity or pension to continue his contributions and thereby to retain for his family the benefits of these Rules, and if such permission is granted contributions shall be payable until the subscriber's 54th birthday.

10. Subject to the provisions of Rule 8, the contribution payable on behalf of a child is payable in the case of a son until his attainment of the age of 24 years or previous death, and in the case of a daughter until her marriage or previous death.

11.—(1) Subject to the provisions of Rule 13, every subscriber in the Service shall report his marriage, in the form prescribed in the Second Schedule, within one month of the date thereof, or within one month of his arrival in India if he was then married, and shall on marriage, or remarriage, or on entering the Service married pay, in addition to the monthly contributions prescribed by Rule 7, the donation specified in the Third Schedule to these Rules against the year of his age, and if the age of the subscriber exceeds that of his wife by five years or more he shall further pay the disparity fine specified in the Fourth Schedule.

(2) Donations and disparity fines payable under this Rule may be paid either in one sum, or in twelve equal monthly instalments, and if paid in instalments interest at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum shall be levied on the unpaid portion.

(3) A donation payable on marriage shall be increased by 2½ per cent. if the fact of marriage is not reported within one month from the date thereof, and by 5 per cent. if the delay exceeds six months. If the marriage is not reported within one year the subscriber may be required to produce medical evidence as to the state of his health in the form prescribed in the Fifth Schedule, and the Secretary of State in Council shall in each case decide whether, and, if so, on what terms liability for widow's pension shall be accepted.

12.—(1) Subject to the provisions of Rule 13, every subscriber in the Service shall report in the form prescribed in the Sixth Schedule, within one month of its occurrence, the birth of every child born alive in wedlock, or, if he was married and had children living at the date of his arrival in India, he shall report their names and dates of birth within one month of that date.

(2) No payment shall be required in respect of any child who dies within 30 days of birth.

(3) If the birth of a child is not reported within one month, the subscriber shall pay a fine of 12*s*. and a further fine of 2*s*. for each succeeding month's delay. If the delay exceeds 12 months the subscriber may be required to produce medical evidence as to the state of his health in the form prescribed in the Fifth Schedule, and the Secretary of State in Council shall in each case decide whether, and, if so, on what terms liability for orphan's pension shall be accepted.

13. Reports shall not be accepted nor contributions or payments received in respect of any wife married during the lifetime of another wife or of any child born of a wife married as aforesaid; and no wife married as aforesaid or child born of such a marriage shall be entitled to any benefit under these Rules.

14. Interest at the rate of 5¼ per cent. per annum from the due dates shall be charged on monthly contributions or donations or any portion thereof remaining unpaid for more than one month from such date.

15. Any contribution or payment due at a subscriber's death shall be deducted, without any addition for interest beyond the date of death, in four quarterly instalments from the pensions due to his dependants:

Provided that if the sum due as aforesaid is more than half the annual amount of the pensions it shall be deducted in such a number of quarterly instalments as the Secretary of State in Council may direct.

16. The widow or child of a deceased subscriber whose marriage or birth was not reported by the subscriber during his life time in accordance with these Rules shall be entitled to no benefit under these Rules.

17.—(1) A posthumous child of a subscriber by a marriage contracted before retirement and duly reported in accordance with Rule 11 shall be entitled to pension without payment.

(2) A posthumous child of a subscriber by a marriage contracted after retirement shall be entitled to pension on payment of the donation prescribed in the Seventh Schedule appropriate to the age which the father would have attained, if alive, at the death of the child's birth.

(3) No child shall be entitled to benefit under this rule whose birth is not reported within 12 months of its occurrence.

18. Subject to the provisions of Rule 21, the pension of a widow under these Rules shall continue in full during widowhood. On re-marriage she shall retain half her pension during coverture, but if she again become a widow she shall be entitled to revert to full pension as widow of her first husband, or if her last husband has been a contributor, to receive pension at her option as his widow. Reduction to the half rate shall take effect from the commencement of the quarter following that in which the remarriage occurred; the full pension shall be restored from the day following that on which the pensioner again becomes a widow.

19.—(1) Subject to the provisions of Rule 21, the pension of the male orphan shall be payable until he attains the age of 24, unless he was admitted to pension with effect from a date prior to the 1st April 1914, in which case it is payable until he attains the age of 21 only.

(2) Subject as aforesaid the pension of a female orphan is payable until the end of the quarter in which she marries, and shall not revive upon widowhood. On marriage a female orphan shall be granted from public funds a donation of £250.

(3) The Secretary of State in Council or, in the case of a pension drawn in India, the Governor-General in Council, may at his discretion permit a portion of the pension of a male orphan who has reached the age of 16 years to be commuted with a view to the proceeds being applied to the pensioner's advancement in life.

(4) The pension of a minor orphan shall be paid to his or her mother or other duly appointed or recognised guardian.

20. Declarations shall be furnished quarterly by pensioners as to their continued widowhood, spinsterhood or survival as the case may be.

21. Pensions under these Rules shall be tenable during good behaviour, and if the Secretary of State in Council, or, in the case of a pension drawn in India, the Governor General in Council, is satisfied that the pensioner is leading an immoral life or has been guilty of gross misconduct, he may withhold further payment in whole or in part, and an order to this effect by the Secretary of State in Council, or by the Governor General in Council, as the case may be, shall be final and conclusive.

22. A pension payable under these Rules shall enure for the benefit of the pensioner only and no transfer, assignment or other alienation thereof shall be recognised.

23.—(1) A subscriber who marries after he has retired from the service on a pension may, if he so chooses, secure pension for his widow or for his children born of such marriage, or for both, on the conditions that reports of occurrences are made within one month in the form prescribed in the Second or Sixth Schedule, as may be appropriate, and that a certificate of health in the form prescribed in the Fifth Schedule, is furnished either—

(a) with the Report of the marriage if he wishes to secure pension for his widow and for children resulting from the marriage, or for his widow only, or

(b) with the Report of the birth of the first child resulting from the marriage if he wishes to secure pension for his children only.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of Rule 8, there shall be payable on each occurrence reported as aforesaid, and subject to the provisions of Rules 11, 12 and 14, so far as they may be applicable, the donation prescribed in the Seventh Schedule, together with the disparity fine specified in the Fourth Schedule.

24. Every subscriber shall report within one month of its occurrence the death of any dependant eligible for benefit under these Rules.

25. These Rules shall apply to a subscriber who retires under the Premature Retirement Rules, subject to the modifications laid down in Rule 12 of those Rules.

26. With effect from the 1st January 1925, the pensions payable under these Rules shall be of the amounts specified in the Eighth Schedule, and shall be payable quarterly in advance on or after 1st January, 1st April, 1st July and 1st October.

27.—(1) Pensions under these Rules shall be payable in London in sterling. Pensioners residing in India may, however, at their option, receive payment in that country in rupees as follows :—

(a) A pensioner who was receiving pension in India prior to the 1st February 1921 at 1s. 4d. the rupee may continue to receive it at that rate or at the current rate of exchange, whichever is more advantageous to the recipient ;

(b) a pensioner who was admitted to pension before the 1st February 1921, who is a dependant of a subscriber in the service on that date, and who commenced or shall commence to receive payment in India after that date, shall receive payment at the rate of 1s. 8d. the rupee, or, if the current rate of exchange is higher than 1s. 8d., at the current rate ;

(c) a pensioner who is a dependant of a subscriber entering the service after the 1st February 1921 shall receive pension at the current rate of exchange.

(2) A pensioner residing in India who has elected to receive pension in India shall not subsequently be permitted to change the place of payment except at the commencement of an official year.

28. The Indian Civil Service Family Pension Regulations hitherto in force are hereby repealed.

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1925, No. 1020.

INDIA.

THE INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE (NON-EUROPEAN MEMBERS) FAMILY PENSION RULES, DATED OCTOBER 14, 1925.

In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 96B of the Government of India Act, the Secretary of State for India in Council, with the concurrence of a majority of votes at a meeting held on the 14th day of October 1925, hereby makes the following Rules to regulate the family pensions of members of the Indian Civil Service, namely:—

1.—(1) These rules shall be called the Indian Civil Service (non-European Members) Family Pension Rules.

(2) They apply to all covenanted members of the Indian Civil Service who, being of non-European race,

(a) were appointed to the Service after the 4th January 1923, or (b) were appointed before the year 1912 and have been admitted as subscribers.

(3) If any question arises as to whether these Rules apply or do not apply to any individual member of the Indian Civil Service, the question shall be decided by the Secretary of State in Council and his decision shall be final.

2. Subject to the provisions of Rule 3 every person to whom these Rules apply (hereinafter re ferred to as a subscriber) shall with effect from the date of his arrival in India be liable for contributions and payments of the amount and under the conditions prescribed by the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Rules; and his widow and orphans, if any, shall be entitled to benefits of the amount and under the conditions prescribed by these Rules.

3. It shall not be obligatory on the Secretary of State in Council to maintain, or to submit for actuarial report, accounts and statistics relating to subscribers under these Rules and their dependants.

A. C. McWATTERS,
Secretary to the Government of India.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Delhi, the 1st December 1925.

ORDINANCE No. I OF 1925.

An Ordinance to suspend the levy and collection of the cotton excise duty.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to suspend, in respect of cotton goods produced during the months of December, 1925, and January and February, 1926, the levy and collection of the excise duty imposed by the Cotton Duties Act, 1896; II of 1896.

NOW THEREFORE, in exercise of the power conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

Short title. 1. This Ordinance may be called the Cotton Excise Duty (Suspension) Ordinance, 1925.

Interpretation. 2. Words and expressions used in this Ordinance and defined or explained in the Cotton Duties Act, 1896, have the meanings assigned to them respectively by that Act. II of 1896.

Suspension of cotton excise duty. 3. The duty imposed by section 6 of the Cotton Duties Act, 1896, shall not be levied and collected or be assessed in respect of any cotton goods produced in any mill in British India on or after the first day of December, 1925, and before the first day of March, 1926. II of 1896.

Saving of section 8 of the Cotton Duties Act, 1896. 4. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained the provisions of section 8 of the Cotton Duties Act, 1896, shall continue to have the same force and effect as if this Ordinance had not been made and promulgated. II of 1896.

NOTIFICATION.

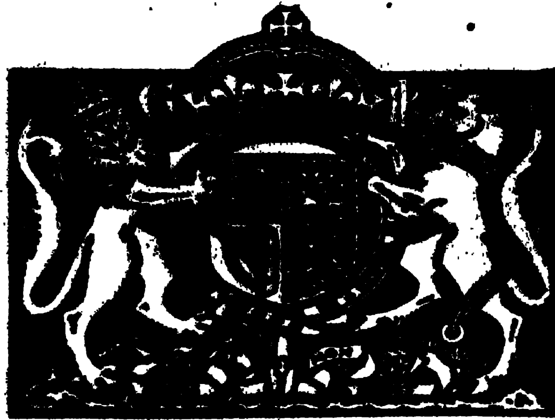
Delhi, the 1st December 1925.

No. F.-130-F. —The following statement is published for general information :—

A statement by His Excellency the Governor General of the reasons which have moved him, in exercise of the powers conferred upon him by section 72 of the Government of India Act, to make and promulgate an Ordinance to suspend the levy and collection of the Cotton Excise Duty.

A. C. McWATTERS,
Secretary to the Government of India.

STATEMENT.



In August last, when replying to a deputation which waited upon me on behalf of the mill-owners of Bombay and Ahmedabad to urge the relief of the mill industry from the cotton excise duty, I affirmed that the Government of India stood by the letter and the spirit of the pledge given by my predecessor, Lord Hardinge, that the excise duty would be abolished as soon as financial considerations permitted. At the same time, while fully recognising the special difficulties with which the cotton-mill industry in India was faced, it was necessary for me to explain that it was impossible to grant this request in the middle of the financial year, before the year had fully declared itself and before the commitments and the prospects of next year were known.

Again, on the 16th September 1925, when a motion for suspension of the collection of the cotton excise duty was debated in the Legislative Assembly, it was made clear on behalf of Government that suspension must inevitably be followed immediately by abolition, and that abolition ought to be considered only in connection with the finances of the year as a whole, that is, at the time of the Budget, when the claims of the cotton-mill industry could be balanced against rival claims. It was definitely stated that a vote for suspension would be taken by Government as an expression of the view that the abolition of the cotton excise duty should take precedence of other claims. The Assembly accepted by a large majority the motion for suspension.

The time has not yet come when a detailed estimate of the revenue and expenditure for the current year, or of the prospects for 1926-27, can be made, but the final results of the monsoon are now known and it is possible to make a more reliable estimate of the financial position than in September. On such information as is now before them the Government of India are satisfied that there would be no serious risk of a large deficit in the current year if the cotton excise duty were suspended for the rest of the year, and that there is a reasonable prospect that the Budget for next year can be balanced without assistance from the cotton excise duty in the absence of any big change for the worse in the next few months. I and my Government have therefore come to the conclusion that the moment has arrived when financial considerations permit of the abolition of the duty. This can however be finally accomplished only by the passage of the necessary legislation by the Indian Legislature. In the meanwhile, having regard to the emergency caused by the grave difficulties confronting the industry, to the pledge given and reaffirmed, and to the expressed views of the Legislative Assembly, I have decided that with effect from the 1st December 1925, the duty shall be suspended by Ordinance. It is the intention of my Government, unless the financial position as disclosed in the Budget estimates for next year substantially fails to confirm present anticipations, to place before the Legislature, at the time of the Budget, proposals for the abolition of the duty.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 80 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The second quinquennial valuation of the fund has been completed by the Actuary to the Government of India and his report discloses very favourable results. For forms of application and rules of the Fund apply to the Accountant-General, Central Revenues, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 3180L., dated Calcutta, the 11th December, 1925.—The following Bill was introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 4th December, 1925, and is hereby published for general information, together with Statement of Objects and Reasons annexed thereto:—

THE BENGAL FOOD ADULTERATION (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1925.

A

to amend the Bengal Food Adulteration Act, 1919.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Bengal Food Adulteration Act, 1919, in the manner hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Food Adulteration (Amendment) Act, 1925.

Amendment of section 15 of Bengal Act VI of 1919.

2. After section 15 of the Bengal Food Adulteration Act, 1919, the following shall be added, namely:—

"Provided that in the case of an offence committed within a municipality such order or consent shall be valid if made or given by the Chairman of the Commissioners of the Municipality."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 15 of Act VI of 1919 does not authorise the Chairman of a local authority to exercise powers on its behalf by sanctioning prosecutions for offences under the Act. Each such prosecution requires the order or consent in writing of the local authority concerned. Local authorities ordinarily meet monthly or even less often, and inconvenience is often caused by the necessity of obtaining their sanction to every prosecution instituted under Act VI of 1919. The Howrah Municipality has recently moved Government to amend the Bengal Food Adulteration Act so as to empower the Chairman to sanction prosecutions thereunder, and the present Bill is the outcome of that application. It is proposed to empower only the Chairman of municipalities to exercise the powers of the Commissioners under section 15 of the Act, since prosecutions under this Act will rarely be instituted by other local authorities.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 3184L., dated Calcutta, the 11th December, 1925.—The following Bills, in regard to which motions were carried at a meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council held on the 9th December, 1925, that the Bills be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion, are published for general information. Expressions of opinion by public bodies or by individuals interested in the Bills should be sent so as to reach the undersigned before the 15th January, 1926 :—

THE BENGAL PHUKA BILL, 1925.

A
BILL

to prevent the practice of phuka on milch animals.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make further provision for the prevention of the practice of phuka on milch animals:

And whereas the previous sanction of the Governor General has been obtained under sub-section (3) of section 80A of the Government of India Act to the passing of this Act: 5 & 6 Geo. V, c. 61; 6 & 7 Geo. V, c. 37; 9 & 10 Geo. V, c. 101.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and local extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Phuka Act, 1925.

(2) It extends in the first instance only to—

(a) Calcutta as defined in clause (11) of section 3 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, Ben. Act III of 1923.

(b) the port of Calcutta, and (c) the Howrah Municipality.

(3) The Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, extend this Act to any place defined in such notification.

Definition of "phuka".

2. In this Act "phuka" means any unnatural process of blowing or inserting air or any other substance in the vagina of any milch animal with the intention of thereby drawing off from the animal any secretion of milk.

Power of arrest of any person practising phuka.

3. Any person specially authorised by the Local Government in this behalf who has reason to believe that an offence against section 6 is being committed in respect of any milch animal, may at any time either by day or by night enter any cattle shed or any place where milch animals are kept and may arrest without a warrant any person found by him practising the operation called phuka on any milch animal.

(Clauses 4-9.)

Appointment of special officers for the detection of phuka.

4. The Corporation of Calcutta may appoint special officers for the detection of phuka, who shall have all the powers under section 3. [Cf. Ben. Act I of 1920, s. 33.]

Persons appointed under sections 3 and 4 to be public servants.

5. Every person appointed under sections 3 and 4 shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code. XLV of 1860. [Cf. Ben. Act I of 1920, s. 6.]

Penalty for practising phuka.

6. If any person performs the operation of phuka or wilfully or knowingly permits the performance thereof, upon any milch animal he shall be punished with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with both, and the owner of the milch animal and any person in possession of or control over it shall be liable to the same punishment. [Cf. Ben. Act I of 1920, s. 34.]

Indemnity.

7. No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person who is, or who has been declared to be, a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code for anything which is, in good faith, done or intended to be done under this Act. XLV of 1860.

Application of fines.

8. All fines paid or collected under the provisions of this Act shall be kept as a separate fund and paid at the discretion of the Local Government towards the upkeep and support of any officers appointed under the provisions of sections 3 and 4.

Repeal of section 5A of Ben. Act I of 1869.

9. Section 5A of the Bengal Cruelty to Animals Act, 1869, as amended by the Bengal Cruelty to Animals Act, 1900, is hereby repealed in areas to which this Act extends. Ben. Act I of 1869. Ben. Act III of 1900.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill is intended to stop the practice of phuka by providing for closer supervision of such cases and by imposing more deterrent punishment. The Bengal Cruelty to Animals Act, 1920 (Ben. Act I of 1920) did introduce some wholesome provisions against the practice of phuka but that Act has not up to now, been enforced: the introduction of this Bill has therefore become necessary. This unnatural and cruel process on cows is being practised daily in about 1,000 cattle sheds in Calcutta and the suburbs alone; some such measures are, therefore, required for the prevention of so pernicious a practice, thereby saving useful cattle, mostly milch cows, which owing to such ravages, are rendered sterile and unserviceable for the future, which causes the eventual diminution of milk and milk products.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, direct.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "land at the disposal of Government" means all unoccupied land, whether assessed or unassessed, and all land which was used formerly for pasture but has subsequently been encroached; and

(2) "cattle" means bulls, buffaloes, cows, bullocks, calves and heifers.

CHAPTER II.

Extent and Acquisition of Pasturage.

Power to constitute pasturages.

3. The Local Government may constitute any land at the disposal of Government to be pasturage in the manner hereinafter provided.

Notification by Government.

4. Whenever it appears to the Local Government that land in any locality is likely to be needed for the purpose of pasturage, a notification to that effect shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette—

(a) specifying, as nearly as possible, the situation and boundaries of such land;

(Clauses 5-7.)

(b) declaring that it is proposed to constitute such land as pasturage; and

(c) directing the Collector of the District in which such land is situated to inquire into and determine the existence, nature and extent of any rights claimed by, or alleged to exist in favour of, any person in or over any land comprised within such boundaries and to deal with the same as provided in this chapter.

Proclamation and notice by Collector.

5. (1) When a notification has been issued under section 4, the Collector shall cause to be published a proclamation by posting a copy thereof—

(a) at the headquarters of each district in which any portion of the land included in such notification is situate;

(b) at every subdivisional office, police-station, munsif's court and sub-registrar's office within the jurisdiction of which any portion of the land is situate;

(c) at one or more mal-cutcherries on each estate; and

(d) at such other place or places as to the Collector may seem fit—

(i) specifying, as nearly as possible, the situation and boundaries of the land proposed to be included within the pasturage;

(ii) explaining the consequences which, as hereinafter provided, will ensue on the reservation of such land as pasturage; and

(iii) fixing a period not less than a month and not more than two months from the date of publishing such proclamation, and requiring every person claiming any right referred to in clause (c) of section 4, either to attend his court in person, within such period, or to put in a written statement, within such period, of the nature of such right, and in either case to produce all documents in support thereof.

(2) The Collector shall also serve a notice to the same effect on every known or reputed owner or occupier of any land included in or adjoining the land proposed to be constituted as pasturage, or on his recognised agent or manager.

Bar of accrual of rights.

6. During the interval between the publication of such proclamation and the date fixed by the notification under section 11, no right shall be acquired in or over the land included in such proclamation.

Inquiry by Collector.

7. The Collector shall take down in writing all statements made under section 5 and shall inquire into all claims made under that section, recording the evidence in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

(Clauses 8-13.)

Powers of Collector.

8. For the purposes of such inquiry, the Collector may exercise the following powers, namely :—

(a) the power to enter, by himself or by any person authorised by him in writing in this behalf, upon any land and to survey, demarcate and prepare a map of the same; and

(b) the powers conferred on a Civil Court by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents. V of 1908.

Claims to rights.

9. (1) In case of a claim to a right in or over any land other than the following rights :—

(a) a right of way,

(b) a right to water-course, or to the use of water,

the Collector shall pass an order specifying the particulars of such claim and admitting or rejecting the same wholly or in part.

(2) If such claim is admitted wholly or in part, the Collector shall either—

(a) come to an agreement with the claimant for the surrender of the right; or

(b) proceed to acquire such land in the manner provided by the Land Acquisition Act, 1894. I of 1894.

Claims to be rejected.

10. (1) In the case of a claim to rights specified in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-section (1) of section 9 the Collector shall reject such claim wholly.

(2) No appeal shall lie against any order rejecting a claim of the kind specified in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-section (1) of section 9.

Notification declaring the land as pasturage.

11. When—

(a) the period fixed under clause (iii) of sub-section (1) of section 5 for preferring claims has elapsed; and

(b) all proceedings prescribed by section 9 have been taken, the Local Government shall publish a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, specifying the boundaries of the land to be made pasture land and declaring the same to be reserved for pasturage from a date to be fixed by such notification; and from the date so fixed such land shall be deemed to be reserved for pasturage.

Acquisition by local authorities.

12. It shall be lawful for a local authority, with the approval of the Local Government, to apply its funds from time to time for acquiring by purchase or by lease or under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, suitable lands in well distributed centres for the purposes of pasturages for the cattle within its local limits.

Power to levy tax by local authorities.

13. For the purpose of acquiring pasture lands, a local authority shall have power to levy an annual tax not exceeding a half per cent. of the annual value of all lands and buildings within its jurisdiction for a period not exceeding five years, or where a tax on land or buildings is not levied, a local authority may levy a surcharge equivalent to half an anna per rupee of local rates payable by residents within its jurisdiction for a period not exceeding five years :

(Clauses 14-21.)

Provided that a local authority shall not levy any tax or surcharge on lands or buildings with an annual valuation of fifty rupees or less.

Forfeited landlord's fees.

14. All sums forfeited under section 18C of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, shall be utilised in acquiring pasturages in pursuance of the notification published under section 4. VIII of 1885.

CHAPTER III.

Recovery of Pasture.

Recovery of pasture.

15. It shall be the duty of the Collector of a district to recover all lands duly recorded as pasture in any settlement Chitta or in any survey paper or other record of rights.

Duty of settlement officers.

16. All settlement officers shall, at every settlement operation, inquire as to which lands were formerly and are at the time of such operation used for grazing purposes as pasture lands and shall record the areas, boundaries, and full specifications of all such lands.

The settlement officers shall also reinstate all lands admitted to be pasture lands.

Settlement officer to inform Collector as to disputed pastures.

17. Every settlement officer shall inform the Collector if in the course of any such inquiry he is of opinion that a particular plot of land is or was in all probability pasture land though disputed by the local people or by the reputed owner.

Such information shall give full specifications of the land, and upon such information the Collector shall, with the previous approval of the Local Government, proceed to recover such land.

Duty of survey officers.

18. In all survey operations it shall be the duty of the survey officers to record all pasture lands and demarcate them from the rest.

Recovery of pasture by public.

19. Five or more persons living in a locality, after taking the previous permission of the Local Government, may proceed in the manner hereinafter appearing to recover any land which they allege to be pasture land.

For the purposes of this section, the permission of the Local Government shall be deemed to have been given if refusal is not communicated within two months of the receipt by them of the letter asking permission.

Mode of recovery of pasture.

20. All recovery of pasture lands under section 19 shall be by means of an application to the Collector who shall as soon as possible, after giving due notice to the persons possessing the lands and to the reputed owners thereof, hear the application, take evidence if necessary, scrutinise all documents and pass orders.

No limitation for recovery.

21. No limitation shall run against applications for the recovery of pasture under the provisions of this chapter.

(Clauses 22-29.)

Revision by High Court.

22. No appeal shall lie against the decision of the Collector under section 20; but the High Court may, for special reasons, exercise powers of revision against the decisions of the Collector under section 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. V of 1908.

CHAPTER IV.

Maintenance and Management of Pasturages.

Pasture lands to vest in village Board.

23. All lands acquired or recovered as pasture lands or subsequently added thereto, except such as are acquired by a local authority under the provisions of section 12, shall vest in a village Board which shall be constituted in the manner provided in section 24.

Constitution of village Board.

24. The village Board shall consist of seven persons of one village or more than one village as the case may require, three to be nominated by the Sub-divisional officer of the sub-division in which the village is situate and the rest to be appointed by the local authority having jurisdiction over the area or in default thereof by the Sub-divisional officer.

Powers of village Boards over pasture lands.

25. All pasture lands situated in one village shall vest in the village Board who shall have full powers of control and management of such lands subject to the provisions of this chapter.

Grazing fees.

26. (1) It shall be lawful for a village Board to levy such grazing fees as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board with the approval of the Local Government.

(2) All rules made under sub-section (1) shall be posted up in a conspicuous position at the office of that village Board and in such other public places as the village Board may direct.

Secretary to collect grazing fees and to keep accounts.

27. The village Board shall appoint one of their number as Secretary, and his duties shall be to collect all grazing fees, grant receipts for the same, to keep accounts of collections and expenditure of money and to send regularly quarterly accounts within fifteen days from the end of each quarter to the Sub-divisional officer.

Application of money.

28. All sums levied by the village Board under section 26 may at the discretion of the board be applied for all or any of the following purposes, namely :—

(a) for purchasing grass roots, fodder seeds and seedlings for cultivation on the village pasture;

(b) for raising fodder crops and grasses;

(c) for the collection of dues; and

(d) generally for the protection and maintenance of pasture land vested in the village Board.

Number of cattle to be fixed for grazing.

29. Each village Board shall allow a limited number of village cattle to graze on the portion or portions of the village pasture whereon grass has been grown or natural grass has grown but not on the portion where fodder crops have been cultivated; and shall determine the number of cattle that shall be allowed from time to time to graze on such portions.

(Clauses 30-36.)

Fodder crops.

30. Fodder crops raised by the village Board from the village pasture shall be sold at public auction to the highest bidder and the amount so realised shall be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of section 28.

Revenue free or rent free.

31. All pasture lands acquired or recovered under the provisions of this Act shall be free from revenue and rent of all kinds.

Vesting of pastures in local authorities.

32. All lands acquired by a local authority under the provisions of section 12, shall be under the control of that authority and shall be subject to the provisions contained in sections 26, 28, 29 and 30.

CHAPTER V.

On the reservation of forest areas for pasturage.

Forest areas to be opened for grazing.

33. Forest areas close to inhabited areas shall be forthwith opened for free grazing of cattle and the Local Government shall issue notifications from time to time defining areas reserved for free grazing.

CHAPTER VI.

Records and Registers.

Register of pasturage.

34. It shall be the duty of every village Board and of every local authority to maintain a register of all pasture lands showing—

(1) the area of such lands;

(2) their boundaries;

(3) the name of the village in which they are situated;

(4) the plot number, the survey number and the Chitta number;

(5) the rate of grazing fees and the amount realised every year;

(6) the number of cattle allowed to graze daily; and (7) the total number of cattle of different kinds that grazed during the year.

Copy of register to be sent to Sub-Divisional Officer for publication.

35. A copy of the register prepared under section 34 shall be sent at the end of every year to the Sub-Divisional Officer who shall cause it to be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Register in every district.

36. Every Collector shall maintain a permanent record of all pasture lands in his district in which all additions and alterations shall be noted. It shall be kept open for inspection by the public every day at such hours as the Collector may prescribe.

(Clauses 37-40.)

List of pasturages by settlement and survey officers.

37. All settlement officers and survey officers shall, in preparing the record of settlement and survey make a separate list of pasturages showing all the details mentioned in section 34 which shall be regularly published at the end of each settlement or survey operation.

CHAPTER VII.

Miscellaneous.

Punishment for encroachment.

38. If any pasture land, constituted or recovered under the provisions of this Act, is encroached on by any person, the Secretary of the village Board or the local authority within whose limits such pasture lands are situate shall institute proceedings before a Magistrate having jurisdiction in the locality, who on the offence being proved, shall convict and sentence the person to pay a fine which may extend to two hundred and fifty rupees.

The Magistrate shall, in case of conviction, order payment of compensation to the village Board or to the local authority out of the fine as may appear to him just considering the cost incurred by that village Board or local authority.

Realisation of fine.

39. In case of non-payment, the fine may be realised by any of the processes laid down in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and the amount of compensation ordered under section 38 shall on realisation be paid to the village Board or to the local authority, as the case may be. V of 1898.

Rules.

40. (1) The Local Government may make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power such rules may prescribe—

(1) the form of keeping accounts;

(2) the form of receipts to be granted to payees; and

(3) the form in which the extent, situation and boundaries, etc., of pasture lands are to be kept.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill intends to secure the right of pasturage in lands formerly used as such but since encroached for cultivation or otherwise. The need for such a measure will be apparent on reading cattle census reports and settlement reports of various provinces which complain of the serious want of pasturage and encroachment of land for cultivation. Similarly one of the causes ascribed for the deterioration of cattle of this country has been the gross inadequacy of pasture land which is also considered to be a circumstance adverse to cattle breeding. The grazing that exist in this country now are very poor both in quality and in quantity. The proportion of grazing lands to the total land area of India is the minimum of all the countries being 1 : 27, whereas the proportion in Japan is 1 : 6, in Germany 1 : 6, in New Zealand 1 : 3. The great shortage of pasture land will also be apparent from a comparison of the number of acres that is available for grazing per head of cattle in different countries. It is only ·17 in Bengal and a little more in other provinces in India, 1·6 in the United States of America, 1;35 in New Zealand and 1·44 in Germany.

The 24th June, 1925.

THE CALCUTTA RENT (AMENDMENT No. II) BILL, 1925.

A

BILL

further to amend the Calcutta Rent Act, 1920.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Calcutta Rent Act, 1920, in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act III of 1920.

And whereas the previous sanction of the Governor General has been obtained under sub-section (3) of section 80 A of the Government of India Act to the passing of this Act; 5 & 6, Geo. V, c. 61; 6 & 7, Geo. V. c. 37; 9 & 10, Geo. V, c. 101.

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Calcutta Rent (Amendment No. II) Act, 1925.

Amendment of section 2 of Ben. Act III of 1920.

2. In clause (e) of section 2 of the Calcutta Rent Act, 1920 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), after the words " part of a building " the words " whether furnished or unfurnished " shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 11.

3. In section 11 of the said Act,—

(1) in sub-section (1), for the words " so long as the tenant pays rent to the full extent allowable by this Act, and performs the conditions of the tenancy " the following shall be substituted, namely :—

" so long as the tenant pays the standard rent fixed by the Controller or, if no such rent has been fixed, the rent payable under sub-clause (i) or sub-clause (ii) of clause (f) of section 2."

(2) after the proviso to the same sub-section the following shall be inserted, namely :—

" Explanation (1).—A landlord shall not be deemed to require any premises for his own occupation or for the occupation of any other person unless the landlord can prove that he or the person for whose occupation the premises are alleged to be required, as the case may be, is prevented by circumstances beyond his control from continuing to reside in the house in which he has hitherto been residing.

Explanation (2).—No premises shall be deemed to be required for building or re-building purposes within the meaning of this proviso unless the Controller shall certify that the same are in such a dilapidated condition as to be unfit for occupation and that they cannot be made fit for occupation without unreasonable expenditure."

(Clause 4.)

(3) to sub-section (4) the following shall be added, namely :—

"A deposit under this sub-section shall operate as a full acquittance to the extent of the amount deposited."

(4) for sub-section (5) the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"(5) No tenant shall be entitled to the benefit of this section in respect of any premises unless he pays to his landlord or deposits with the Controller the standard rent fixed for the premises or if no such rent has been fixed the rent payable under sub-clause (i) or sub-clause (ii) of clause (f) of section 2, within the time fixed in the contract with his landlord, or in the absence of any such contract, by the fifteenth day of the month next following that for which the rent is payable:

Provided that a tenant shall not lose the benefit of this section if he pays to his landlord or deposits with the Controller the rent payable under this sub-section before any suit for ejectment is instituted in any court by the landlord against him, or, when the standard rent is fixed by the Controller at a sum greater than the amount deposited, the tenant deposits the difference within a month of the Controller's decision."

Amendment of section 15.

4. In section 15 of the said Act,—

(1) for clause (b) of sub-section (3) the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"(b) where the premises are let furnished or with other conveniences."

(2) after proviso (ii) to sub-section (3) the following shall be inserted, namely :—

"(iii) notwithstanding anything contained in sub-clause (ii) of clause (f) of section 2 the standard rent of any premises which form part of a building shall be fixed at a fair proportion of the rent which is, or which in the opinion of the Controller would be, the standard rent of the whole building if the provisions of this Act applied to the whole building;

(iv) in the case of premises let furnished, or with other conveniences, the Controller shall assess the standard rent for the premises and also a fair sum for the furniture or other conveniences separately, and the aggregate shall be deemed to be the standard rent so long as the tenant retains the furniture or the conveniences."

(3) after sub-section (6) the following shall be inserted, namely :—

"(7) An application under this section shall not be liable to be dismissed on the ground that the relationship of landlord and tenant has ceased subsequently to the application, but an application by a tenant under this section shall be dismissed when the Controller finds that the applicant has omitted to pay to his landlord or to deposit with the Controller the rent payable by him under sub-section (5) of section 11."

(Clause 5.)

Insertion of new section 27

5. After section 26 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely :—

Jurisdiction of the Controller and the President of the Tribunal in certain cases.

"27. Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (2) of section 2 of the Calcutta Rent (Amendment) Act, 1924, the Controller and the President of the Tribunal shall continue to exercise the jurisdiction conferred on them, respectively, by this Act, in all cases pending before them on the 31st day of March, 1924, relating to premises the rent of which exceeded two hundred and fifty rupees a month on the first day of November, 1918, and they shall for this purpose grant all applications for the restoration of any such cases that may have been dismissed since the 31st day of March, 1924, if such applications are presented to them within three months from the commencement of the Calcutta Rent (Amendment No. II) Act, 1925."

Ben. Act I of 1924.

THE BENGAL FISH FRY PRESERVATION BILL, 1925.

A

BILL

for the preservation of certain kinds of fish fry in Bengal.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide against the destruction of certain kinds of fish fry in Bengal;

AND WHEREAS the previous sanction of the Governor General has been obtained under section 80A, sub-section (3), of the Government of India Act, to the passing of this Act; 5 & 6 Geo. V, c. 61; 6 & 7 Geo. V, c. 37; 9 & 10 Geo. V, c. 101.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, local extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Fish Fry Preservation Act, 1925.

(2) It extends to the whole of Bengal except the town of Calcutta.

(3) It shall come into force in such districts or such parts of districts and on such dates as the Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, direct.

Explanation.—The words "the town of Calcutta" mean the area within the local limits of the ordinary original jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal:

Provided that this Act shall not come into force in any cantonment without the sanction of the Governor General in Council previously obtained.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "fish" means any fish of the kinds known as Taki (also called Lati or Gorai or Chang) Shoil and Gazar and Ahir, Rohit, Katal and Marigal and Kai;

(2) "fry" means the offspring of fish which live in shoals during the months of Baisakh, Jaistha and Asharh; and

(3) "private waters" means ponds tanks, wells—

(a) which are the exclusive property of any person, or

(b) in which any person has an exclusive right of fishery and in which fish are not confined but have means of ingress or egress.

(Clauses 3–7.)

CHAPTER II.

PREVENTION OF DESTRUCTION OF FISH FRY.

Prohibition of catching fish fry except for purposes of cultivation.

3. No person shall during the months of Baisakh to Asharh, B.S., catch fish fry for any purpose other than fish cultivation by means of any net, cage, trap or other contrivance from any navigable or silted-up river, beel, khal or other waters except private waters where fry develop, or do anything which has the effect of appreciably reducing the number of fry or of destroying them.

Prohibition of killing, etc., fish fry.

4. No person shall kill, use or sell as an article of human consumption fish fry either privately or in any market or fair or in any other place:

Provided that the catching, selling or purchasing of fish fry for the purpose of fish cultivation or anything done accidentally. which tends to diminish or in any way affect the growth of fish fry, shall not be an offence under this Act.

Penalty.

5. Any person catching or killing fish fry, or using or selling them for any purpose other than that of fish cultivation, shall be liable to a fine which may extend to ten rupees or, in default of payment of the fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding three days.

CHAPTER III.

PROCEDURE FOR TAKING COGNIZANCE OF OFFENCES UNDER THIS ACT.

Power to arrest without warrant.

6. (1) Any officer-in-charge of a police-station or any person or authority authorised by the Local Government by notification in this behalf may without warrant arrest any person committing an offence under this Act and send him for trial before any Court authorised by the Local Government by notification in the Calcutta Gazette in this behalf: provided that the name and address of the person are unknown to such officer, and that the person declines to give his name and address or there is reason to doubt the accuracy of the name and address given by such person.

(2) No person so arrested shall be detained longer than may be necessary for bringing him before a Magistrate, except under the order of a Magistrate.

Power to make rules.

7. The Local Government may make rules under this Act for the punishment of offenders and for the better preservation of the fish fry.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THIS Bill has been introduced to put a stop to the destruction of fish fry in Bengal. Fishes are daily becoming scarce and have now-a-days become almost a luxury, and not a necessity, as they were in former days The population of the province is gradually increasing and the supply of fish has failed to keep pace with the rapid growth of the population. In this province fish is one of the chief articles of consumption, nay—it is an indispensable article of food to the Bengalees. Beels and navigable rivers are being gradually silted up, while new tanks are not being excavated in large numbers as before. There being no law for the preservation of fish fry, they are being destroyed wantonly. These fry, if they can be preserved, will be able to increase the supply of fish gradually, and remove one of the chief wants of the Bengalees. An Act on these lines has become an urgent necessity, and hence it is introduced.

Section 1—Gives the designation and the scope of the Act.

Section 2, clause 2.—Fish fry come into being from the month of Baisakh every year and are not developed till the month of Asharh, as they flock together till that time, and hence, for the protection of these undeveloped fry, this definition has been inserted.

Section 3.—Fish fry are caught or destroyed and are sometimes used as articles of human consumption, even in this undeveloped state. To prevent this, this section has been inserted.

Section 4.—To prevent the fish fry from being sold as an article of consumption or for trade purposes, this section has been introduced.

But selling these fish fry for fish cultivation in other waters has been made an exception.

Section 5.—Unless some provision for punishment is made in this Act, the practice of destroying fry will not be put a stop to; to put a stop to this practice effectively provision has been made for a light punishment, i.e, to levy a fine which may not exceed Rs. 10 or in default 3 days' simple imprisonment on those committing any act towards destroying the fish fry or reducing their number.

Section 6.—Provision has been made in this section for means of bringing the offenders to book promptly.

Section 7.—In this section, provision is made for better administration and justice.

4. Whoever kills, poisons, maims, renders useless a Brahmini or Khodai bull or uses such animal for any purpose other than for breeding shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees or with both.

(Clauses 5—9.)

Nothing in this section shall apply to a police officer above the rank of sub-inspector who on receipt of proper information and on his being satisfied that a Brahmini or Khodai bull is dangerous to a locality or to the residents of a locality, destroy the same, provided that he shall submit to the local authority concerned his reasons in writing for so doing within three days after the occurrence.

Maintenance of a minimum number of stud-bulls by a local authority.

5. (1) Every local authority shall maintain or cause to be maintained within its jurisdiction a minimum number of stud-bulls as may be prescribed by the Local Government and shall lend stud-bulls for service to the cattle of the locality under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by such authority in the rules made under this Act.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law it shall be lawful for such authority to allot a portion of its fund for the purpose of maintenance of such stud-bulls; and the local authority shall allot for such purpose one-fourth of all monies received in the area within its jurisdiction under the Cattle Trespass Act, 1871. I of 1871.

Power to local authority to take possession of Brahmini or Khodai bulls.

6. A local authority may, for the purpose of section 5, take possession of Brahmini or Khodai bulls. A register shall be maintained by a local authority of all bulls taken possession of by such authority under this section.

Grants to any person by local authority for the purchase and maintenance of stud-bulls.

7. It shall be lawful for a local authority to make suitable grant or grants to any person or persons from its funds for the purchase and maintenance of stud-bulls to be kept within the local limits of its jurisdiction and under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by such authority from time to time by rules made under this Act.

Power to Local Government to fix the number of stud-bulls for a local authority.

8. The Local Government shall after consideration of the views of a local authority, by notification, fix the minimum number of stud-bulls to be maintained by such authority.

Power to make rules.

9. (1) A local authority may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, make rules—

(a) prescribing the terms and conditions for lending any stud-bull for breeding purposes to any person or persons or other local authorities;

(b) prescribing the terms and conditions of a grant under section 7;

(c) prescribing fees for services rendered by its stud-bulls and for the levy of such fees;

(d) for the proper up-keep, maintenance and periodical inspection and medical examination of stud-bulls; and

(e) generally for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) Rules made under this section shall be posted up in a conspicuous position at the office of such local authority, and in such other public places as that local authority may direct.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill intends in the main to make provision for the protection and maintenance of Brahmini bulls by local authorities. The need of adequate and suitable stud-bulls is being keenly felt in the Province. The Brahmini and Khodai bulls which helped to serve the purpose of breeding have now become scarce, and the res-nullius judgments of the Calcutta High Court reported in I. L. R. Calcutta, Vol. 17, page 852, goes to prove that the destruction and diversion to other purposes of such bulls can be carried on with impunity. There is no special provision in the Local Self-Government Acts enjoining the maintenance of stud-bulls by local bodies especially for breeding purposes. Provision has been made in this Bill for rectifying the existing defects in Legislature concerning cattle and cattle breeding.

THE BENGAL VILLAGE SELF-GOVERNMENT (AMENDMENT BILL, 1925.

A

BILL

to amend the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919, in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act V of 1919.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Village Self-Government (Amendment) Act, 1925.

Amendment of section 5 of Bengal Act V of 1919.

2. Section 5 of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), shall be renumbered as section 5, sub-section (1), and after sub-section (1) the following shall be added, namely:—

"(2) The Local Government may also re-distribute the local area of any such union after consulting the views of the district board and the local boards within the jurisdiction of which such union is situated. The district board may itself recommend such re-distribution to the Local Government."

Amendment of section 6.

3. In sub-sections (3) and (4) of section 6 of the said Act, for the words "district magistrate" the words "district board" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 7.

4. In section 7 of the said Act,—

(a) in clause (i) of sub-section (1), for the words "the year immediately" the words "any year" shall be substituted; and

(b) in clauses (i), (ii) and (iii) of sub-section (1) for the words "one rupee" the words "eight annas" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 12.

5. After sub-section (1) of section 12 of the said Act, the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"Provided that before a member of a union board is removed from his office under clause (d) or clause (e) of sub-section (1) he shall be given an opportunity of explaining the charges made against him:

Provided also that an appeal shall lie to the commissioner of the division against any such order of removal within thirty days from the date of the order."

Amendment of section 16.

6. In section 16 of the said Act, after clause (iii) of sub-section (1), the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"Provided that before a President of a union board is removed from office he shall be given an opportunity of explaining the charges made against him:

Provided also that an appeal shall lie to the commissioner of the division against any such order of removal within thirty days from the date of the order."

(Clauses 7—14.)

Amendment of section 21.

7. In sub-section (1) of section 21 of the said Act, for the words "from time to time by the district magistrate after consideration of the views of the union board" the words "by the union board or by an advisory board (to be composed for this purpose of members elected, one from each thana) subject to the approval of the district magistrate," shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 27.

8. In section 27 of the said Act,—

(a) in clause (v) of sub-section (1), after the words "or jungle", in the two places where they occur, the words "or water-hyacinth" shall be inserted; and

(b) in sub-section (3), for the words "fifteen days" the words "thirty days" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 28.

9. In sub-section (4) of section 28 of the said Act, for the words "fifteen days" the words "thirty days" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 31.

10. At the end of clause (d) of section 31 of the said Act, the words "and also re-open closed public halots," shall be added.

Amendment of section 32.

11. In section 32 of the said Act, after the words "establish primary schools or dispensaries" the words "or engage medical practitioners such as Kabirajes, Hakims and Homœopathic doctors, with a supply of medicines for distribution," shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 34.

12. In sub-section (3) of section 34 of the said Act, for the words "district magistrate" the words "district board" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 37.

13. In section 37 of the said Act, after the words "within the union" the words "and on the owner of any estate of tenure or part or share thereof or of any portion of the lands or buildings which are within the union" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 38.

14. In section 38 of the said Act,—

(1) after the proviso to sub-section (1) the following shall be added, namely:—

"Provided also that the amount assessed upon any person in any one year in respect of more than one union shall not exceed—

(i) forty rupees in respect of each of two or of three unions; and

(ii) thirty rupees in respect of each of four or of more unions."

(2) for sub-section (2) of section 38 the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"(2) A cultivator, who earns his bread exclusively by cultivation, possessing an area of land less than five acres or any other professional man earning less than a hundred rupees annually shall be exempted from the chaukidari tax."

(Clauses 15—18.)

Amendment of section 40.

15. In section 40 of the said Act, after the words "district magistrate" the words "or the chairman of the district board subject to the approval of the district board" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 41.

16. In section 41 of the said Act, for the word "half" the words "one anna for every rupee of" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 45.

17. In section 45 of the said Act, for the words "may make" the words "shall make" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 58.

18. In section 58 of the said Act, after the words "body of persons" the words "or to any individual" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Village Self-Government Act was passed in 1919, before the reform scheme came into existence.

Now that all the chairmen of the district boards are non-officials, and some time has passed to enable the public to make observations on the working of the Act by past experience as the intention of the Government, by passing this Act, is to give to the people real self-government, it is not desirable that the district magistrate with the circle officer should nominate the members of the union boards and exercise supreme control over the union boards. It is proper to give to the people real power to govern themselves. It is necessary to give to the district boards the control of the union boards which now rest with the magistrate. The appointment, salary, etc., of the chaukidars and dafadars should be given to the union boards under the control of the district boards. These and other necessities require amendment of this Act.

Notes on Clauses.

Clause 2.—It has been observed that in several cases local areas forming union boards have not been properly distributed with regard to the population, proximity and area. It is, therefore, necessary that there should be such power given to the district boards and also a clear provision is necessary.

Clauses 3, 12 and 15.—It is most desirable that for "district magistrate," the "district board," should be substituted.

Clause 4.—It is very necessary that most of the poor villagers should be empowered to be voters. The present qualification of the voters, one rupee, is very high, and in the mentioned clauses of sub-section (1) of section 7 it is very necessary to reduce it.

Clauses 5 and 6.—It is very desirable that an opportunity should be given to the members and president of a union board who are removed from the office under sections 12 and 16, respectively, of the Act to explain the charges preferred against them; and to meet any charges that may have been brought against them that they should have a right of an appeal.

Clause 7.—The union rate realized from the villagers and at present the number of chaukidars and their pay is very high; and in respect of the number and pay, etc., of Chaukidars, opinions of the villagers should be highly taken into consideration. As the Government do not defray the expenses about the matter, the all-supreme power should not remain with the district magistrate. So apparently this provision is made for the encouragement of some power of the union board. It is also practically important for the Government to reduce the Chaukidari Tax which will remove public discontent and make the people more loyal, and also such provision was made in the Chaukidari Amendment Act. Under the circumstances it is the most desirable that there can be no question that this Act is far more important than the Chaukidari Act.

Clause 8.—It is considered that section 27 should include the removal of the plague of the water-hyacinth, and that this should be specifically mentioned in the Act.

Clause 9.—The term of fifteen days is very short. So provision should be made for thirty days.

Clause 10.—Public halots, which were formerly very good means of communication during the dry season and which also served as boat passages during the rains have, in many cases, been encroached upon and ploughed up.

With a view to put a stop to this practice and re-open the old halots, the aforesaid amendment is necessary.

Clause 11.—An amendment of section 32 has been suggested in order to provide for the engagement of the services of medical practitioners by union boards. This seems very desirable.

Clause 13.—If there is no holding in the union but there is an estate or portion of the lands, this can be assessed according to the income derived therefrom This kind of amendment has been added in section 37 of the Act.

Clause 14.—Provision has been made in sub-clause (1) that if a person has lands in two or three unions his assessment should not exceed forty rupees for each union and if he has lands in four or more unions his assessment should not exceed thirty rupees for each union, and in sub-clause (2) a new sub-section (2) has been proposed in section 38.

Clause 16.—Generally the poor become defaulters. So a fine is not at all desirable. Hence it should be discontinued. However, a one-anna fine may be exacted out of eight annas per rupee.

Clause 17.—Provision is made for the better encouragement for the works of sanitation, irrigation or education or the improvement of the public health.

Clause 18.—The intention of the small verbal amendment in section 58 of the Act is to make the meaning of that section more clear.

THE CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1925.

A

BILL

further to amend the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911, so as to make the constitution of the Board of Trustees more representative; Ben. Act V of 1911.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Calcutta Improvement (Amendment) Act, 1925.

Amendment of section 5 of Bengal Act V of 1911.

2. (1) In section 5 of the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911, after the words "Chairman and" the words "one out of" shall be inserted; and

(2) to that section the following shall be added, namely:—

"The remaining three of such persons shall be elected by the elected members of the Bengal Legislative Council."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Calcutta Improvement Act was passed in 1911. It is the general feeling that the objects of the Act have not been carried out with due regard to the needs and circumstances of the inhabitants of Calcutta. The activities of the Trust have chiefly been of a destructive character, resulting in considerable hardship upon residents and a great shortage in housing accommodation. The operations of the Improvement Trust have thus seriously affected the poorer sections of the community. The failure of the Trust to conduct its operations in a satisfactory manner has been due, in the main, to the fact that the Board, as at present constituted, is not sufficiently in touch with the views and wishes of the people of the city. It is, therefore, proposed in this Bill to amend the constitution of the Board of Trustees so as to make this body more popular than it is at present.

THE CALCUTTA DOMESTIC SERVANTS REGISTRATION BILL, 1925.

A

BILL

to provide for the Registration of Domestic Servants in Calcutta.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the registration of domestic servants in Calcutta;

AND WHEREAS the previous sanction of the Governor General has been obtained under sub-section (3) of section 80A of the Government of India Act to the passing of this Act; 5 & 6, Geo. V, c. 61; 6 & 7, Geo. V, c. 37; 9 & 10, Geo. V, c. 101.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Calcutta Domestic Servants Registration Act, 1925.

(2) It shall come into force on such day as the Local Government may, by notification, direct.

Interpretation.

2. In this Act unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "Calcutta" means the area defined in section 3*(11)* of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923;

(2) "Master" means any person residing in a house, hotel or boarding house the monthly rental value of which is not less than fifty rupees and having a servant in his employment therein and includes the manager of any hotel or boarding house whether or not such manager resides in such hotel or boarding house and whether or not the servants employed in the work of such hotel or boarding house are in his employment and includes as regards clubs or other like associations the committee or other body managing the same whether or not the building occupied is of the monthly rental value of fifty rupees and whether or not such committee or managing body reside in such building;

(3) "Monthly rental value" means the gross amount at which any premises can reasonably be expected to let in average years to a tenant should the owner desire to let them;

(4) "Servant" means a domestic or menial house servant hired by the month or receiving monthly wages and includes head and under-servants, female servants, cooks, water-carriers, coachmen, grooms, gardeners, and other indoor servants, but shall not include chauffeurs and other such out-door servants;

(5) "Registrar" means a registrar of servants appointed under this Act by the Corporation of Calcutta.

Seal of office.

3. (1) Every Registrar shall have a seal of office with the words "Registrar of Servants" thereon.

Registrar to be public servant.

(2) Every Registrar shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Penal Code.

Registration of servants optional.

4. The registration of a servant under this Act shall be optional at the election of the master and servant and, they shall not be subject to any of the provisions of this Act unless and until the master elects to register and registers such servant.

(Clauses 5—10.)

Servant applying for registration to furnish particulars.

5. Every such servant or person desiring employment applying to be registered under this Act shall furnish the Registrar with the following particulars:—

(a) His name and the name of his father.

(b) His nationality and if possible his place of birth.

(c) Particulars of his previous engagements (if any).

(d) Such other particulars as the Registrar may require;

and if he has been before registered he shall produce to the Registrar the book containing the copy of the record in such register.

Registrar to register applicant.

6. (1) The Registrar, if satisfied that there are reasonable grounds to believe that any such servant or person desiring employment is a fit and proper person to be employed in domestic service, shall, on payment by the applicant of the prescribed fee and on compliance by the applicant with the prescribed regulations, register the applicant under this Act by recording the particulars mentioned in section 5 with such description of the applicant as the Registrar shall think fit in a book to be called the "Register of Servants" under a distinctive number and shall issue to the applicant a copy of such record written in a book and authenticated by the seal of office of the Registrar.

(2) Such book shall be issued in the form of a pocket book and shall be called "The Engagement Book".

Provisional registration of applicant.

7. If the applicant can produce no sufficient evidence as to his fitness for domestic service the Registrar may grant provisional registration to be thereafter converted into confirmed registration according to the result of subsequent service.

Registrar's power to withhold registration.

8. If the Registrar is satisfied that the applicant is not a fit and proper person he may withhold registration altogether.

Registrar not to grant registration to convicted person.

9. The Registrar shall not grant registration to any convicted thief or associate of thieves or to any person known to the Police to be leading a disorderly or disreputable life:

Provided that the Registrar may grant registration to any person from whom it may have been so withheld on the application of any householder who may be willing to give such person a trial if the Registrar is satisfied of the respectability of such householder and that the intention to engage such person as a domestic servant is a bona fide one.

Master engaging servant to forward form in Schedule A to Registrar.

10. On engaging such a servant the master shall forthwith fill up a form of notice thereof in accordance with Schedule A bearing a four-anna stamp and within three days forward the same by registered post or otherwise addressed to the Registrar and shall also forthwith make in the servant's Engagement Book an entry of the following particulars:—

(a) the master's name and address;

(b) the date of the engagement;

(c) the capacity in which the servant is engaged;

and shall cause the servant to attend personally at the Registrar's office to have the entry inscribed in the Register of Servants.

(Clauses 11—16.)

Master discharging servant to forward form in Schedule B to Registrar.

11. Every master who discharges such a servant or whose service a registered servant leaves shall thereupon forthwith fill up a form of notice thereof in accordance with Schedule B bearing a four-anna stamp and within three clear days forward the same by registered post or otherwise addressed to the Registrar and shall also insert in the servant's Engagement Book if produced to him the date and cause of discharge and the character of the servant:

Provided that if for any reason he is unwilling to give the servant a character or to state the cause of discharge he may decline to do so but in that case he shall furnish to the Registrar in writing his reasons for so refusing:

Provided further that if the master is unable to enter the cessation of the engagement through failure of the servant to produce the Engagement Book he shall report the fact to the Registrar.

Servant to have entry in Engagement Book recorded in Register of Servants.

12. Every such servant shall within one week after the date of any entry in his Engagement Book attend personally at the office of the Registrar for the purpose of having such entry recorded in the Register of Servants.

Registrar to issue duplicate copy of record on proof of loss of Engagement Book.

13. The Registrar shall issue on payment by the applicant of the prescribed fee a duplicate copy of the record in the Register of Servants to any such servant if he is satisfied that the Engagement Book containing the copy originally issued has been lost or destroyed or in substitution for a copy which is given up to him.

Servant to produce his Engagement Book when required.

14. (1) Every registered servant shall (unless the same is in the custody of his master) produce his Engagement Book when called upon to do so by any Police Officer or by his master or by the Registrar and every master having the custody of such book shall produce the same whenever called upon to do so by any Police Officer or by the Registrar.

Masters legally bound to answer enquiries of Registrar.

(2) Every master engaging registered servant or servants shall be legally bound to answer all questions which may be put to him by the Registrar respecting his servant or servants.

Penalties.

15. (1) Whoever commits any of the following offences shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term not exceeding two months or with a fine not exceeding Rs. 100 or with both:—

(a) Intentionally makes any false statement whether on oath or not to or before any Registrar or to any other person acting in the execution of this Act.

(b) Falsely impersonates another and in such assumed character applies for employment as a servant or makes any false statement or does any other act in any proceeding under this Act.

(2) If any person without lawful authority or excuse (proof whereof shall lie on him) does or omits to do anything which under the provisions of this Act or of any rules made under this Act he ought not to do or omit he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty-five rupees.

Fees payable in stamps.

How affixed and cancelled.

16. The fees specified in Schedule C shall be paid by the master or servant as therein provided by adhesive stamps to be affixed to the servant's copy of the Register contained in his Engagement Book and every such stamp shall be cancelled by the person who affixes the same writing on or across the stamp the servant's distinctive number and the date when such stamp is affixed.

(Clause 17.)

Rules.

17. Subject to the provisions of this Act the Governor in Council may make rules in respect of all or any of the following matters:—

(i) The form of the Registers and Engagement Books and the mode in which the same are to be made and kept and the entries to be made therein.

(ii) The means to be adopted for preserving evidence of the identity of servants whether by causing them to be photographed or otherwise.

(iii) To vary the fees to be paid under this Act in substitution for or in addition to the fees mentioned in Schedule C hereto.

(iv) Generally in relation to any matters similar to those above mentioned as to which it may be expedient to make rules for carrying into effect the objects of this Act.

SCHEDULE A.

(Section 10.)

Notice of Engagement of Servant.

To THE REGISTRAR OF SERVANTS, Calcutta.

I, the undersigned Master hereby notify to you that I on the day of , 192 , engaged a servant named whose registered number is to serve me as .

(Signed) A. B.

My address is No.

Dated this day of 192 .

SCHEDULE B.

(Section 11.)

Notice of a Servant being discharged or quitting the Service of a Master.

To THE REGISTRAR OF SERVANTS, Calcutta.

I, the undersigned Master hereby notify to you that on the day of , 192 , my servant named whose registered number is left my service.

(Signed) A. B.

My address is No.

Dated this day of 192 .

SCHEDULE C.

(Section 16.)

	Rs.	A.	P.
Fee payable by master on causing a servant to be registered in compliance with section 4	1	0	0
Fee payable by master on engaging a new servant	1	0	0
Fee payable on provisional registration of servant	0	8	0
Fee payable on confirmation of provisional registration of servant	0	8	0
Fee payable by the servant for a duplicate Engagement Book	0	8	0

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There is a real need for the registration of domestic servants in Calcutta, not only in the interests of masters, but of the domestic servants themselves, who will thereby be given distinct advantages in whatever form of domestic service they may accept; the introduction, then, of such legislation while protecting the interests of domestic servants, will also go largely to prevent servants of doubtful character and qualifications being engaged in domestic service. In this Bill the registration of domestic servants is made optional under specified conditions, in the town of Calcutta. In Ceylon, by Ordinance No. 11 of 1865 and by Ordinance No. XVII of 1914 of the Straits Settlements, the registration of domestic servants is provided for in the towns, districts or local areas as prescribed by these Ordinances. In the Cantonments of India similar forms of registration are in vogue for the proper regulation of the conditions of service of domestic servants.

THE BENGAL VILLAGE SELF-GOVERNMENT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1925.

A

BILL

to amend the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919, in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act V of 1919.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Village Self-Government (Amendment) Act, 1925.

Amendment of section 6 of Bengal Act V of 1919.

2. In sub-section (4) of section 6 of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919, the words "or by appointment by the District Magistrate, and any person so appointed shall be deemed to be a duly elected member" shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill is intended to develop further the system of Local Self-Government in Bengal and to secure this end the power of wholesale appointment of union boards in cases of failure of election by District Magistrate is sought to be abolished and the training of people in the elective system is asked for. Such a step will establish the union boards on the bedrock of popular will and not considered as an exotic institution thrust on the villagers by a foreign agency.

to amend the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919 (Bengal Act V of 1919) in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act V of 1919.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Village Self-Government (Amendment) Act, 1925.

Amendment of section 6 of Bengal Act V of 1919.

2. In sub-section (3) of section 6 of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act of 1919, hereinafter referred to as the said Act, for the words "one-third" the words "one-fifth" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 101.

3. In clause (a) of sub-section (2) of section 101 of the said Act, the words "voting of which shall be by ballot" shall be inserted between the words "or election" and "of members of union boards".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill intends in the first place to increase the number of elected representatives on the union boards. This provision has been suggested for the gradual development of self-governing institutions which, it is hoped, will ultimately lead to the realisation of responsible self-government in the country. In the second place this Bill intends to guarantee the free exercise of independent will of the voters which they under the present circumstances cannot do on account of the fear and pressure they are brought to bear.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Marine.

CALCUTTA, THE 3RD DECEMBER 1925.

RESOLUTION—No. 4440Marine.

IN this department resolution No. 4020Mne., dated the 9th December 1924, the following gentlemen were nominated as representatives of European and Indian Commerce of Calcutta, respectively, to the Advisory Pilot Committee constituted in Bengal Government resolution No. 3817Mne., dated the 25th November 1924 :—

(1) Mr. P. H. Browne, C.B.E., of Messrs. Mackinnon, Mackenzie and Company.

(2) Mr. Satyendra Nath Sarkar, of Messrs. Kerr, Tarrack and Company.

They were to hold office for a period of one year from the date of their nomination, viz., the 9th December 1924.

2. The Governor in Council is now pleased to re-nominate them for another year from the 9th December 1925.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. A. WOODHEAD,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL PROGRESS REPORT ON THE FOREST ADMINISTRATION IN THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR ENDING THE 31st MARCH 1925.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Forests.

CALCUTTA, THE 14TH DECEMBER 1925.

RESOLUTION—No. 12687For.

READ—

The Annual Progress Report on the Forest Administration in the Presidency of Bengal for the year ending the 31st March 1925.

READ ALSO—

The report of the previous year and the Government resolution thereon.

Mr. Milward held charge of the Department till the 16th April 1924, when he went on leave preparatory to retirement, being relieved by Mr. Homfray. Mr. Shebbeare was in charge from the 1st October till the end of the year.

The area of the Reserved Forests is now 5,288 square miles, one square mile having been added during the year. There has been no change in the area of protected forests, which is 1,753 square miles, but a large decrease of 981 square miles is recorded in the area of Unclassed State Forests. This appears to be due to the discovery of a mistake in computation ; the Conservator has been asked for further information.

The working plans of the Jalpaiguri and Buxa Divisions were under revision. As the period of these plans expired in March 1924 and June 1925, the revision is overdue. It is satisfactory that working plans have now been prepared for 96 per cent. of the Reserved Forests.

The facts regarding the future value of the plantations, given in paragraph 47 of the Conservator's report, deserve careful attention. They show how valuable an asset is being created by this system of regeneration which substitutes plantations of good timber trees for forest of small value. The area of these plantations has increased in the last five years from 8,802 to 15,353 acres, but the Conservator of Forests has shown how far this work has fallen behind the programme laid down in the working plans. This is attributed to the lack of roads and to the shortage of labour for plantation work. Plantations also require close supervision, for which the present staff of Rangers and Deputy Rangers is not sufficient. It appears that the working plans were prepared on too hopeful a basis. It is obvious that if there is to be progress in development, new communications must be opened, conditions must be adapted to secure an adequate supply of labour, and a sufficient staff for supervision must be provided. Only four miles of new cart-roads were made in 1923-24 and twelve in 1924-25, the cost being Rs. 5,069 and Rs. 11,981. His Excellency in Council is inclined to think that a fixed sum should be set aside every year for development. It will then be possible, in preparing the working plans, to plan the exploitation of new areas on a more assured basis.

There was a substantial increase in both the quantity and value of timber and other products extracted by departmental agency, the value rising from Rs. 3,68,126 to Rs. 4,30,097. This work was done mostly in Kurseong, Jalpaiguri and Buxa Divisions. Interesting operations were carried on at Teong and Sukna, where skidders and saw-mills have been started to deal with the timber from the clear-felled areas. The Conservator of Forests has dealt with these enterprises in his chapter on Research and Experiments; they are an important part of the work which is replacing forests of comparatively small value with plantations of valuable trees, but must still be regarded as experimental.

Departmental operations account for only a small percentage of forest products, the greater part being sold standing to purchasers either by auction or on a royalty basis. It is satisfactory to record that there was again a considerable increase both in outturn and value of the timber sold in this way. The outturn increased by more than a million cubic feet to 17,440,000, and the value rose from Rs. 10,71,451 to Rs. 12,63,124.

The financial results of the year's work were satisfactory. Gross revenue rose to 24¾ lakhs, and was two lakhs more than in the previous year and almost four lakhs more than the average of the five years ending 1922-23. Expenditure increased by almost Rs. 1,59,000 to more than 14 lakhs, which is about Rs. 2,70,000 above the average of the same five years, and the net revenue increased by Rs. 55,000 and was 1½ lakhs above the same average. An examination of the figures shows that expenditure on establishment has remained almost stationary, and that the increase in expenditure has been largely due to development work, which will be remunerative. The expenditure included Rs. 76,834 spent on the purchase, erection and working of a skidder, saw-mill and aerial rope-way in the Kurseong Division and Rs. [illegible] on new roads and buildings.

The year's record is one of careful management and steady progress, and the Governor in Council is pleased to record his appreciation of the good work done by the Forest Department under the guidance of Mr. Homfray and Mr. Shebbeare.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered also that a copy of the above resolution be forwarded to the Conservator of Forests, Bengal, for information.

W. S. HOPKYNS,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2938Medl.—The 18th December 1925.—The following draft of a notification which the Governor in Council proposes to issue in exercise of the power conferred by clause (ii) of section 69B of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), and clause (k) of section 138 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), is published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on the 15th February 1926, and any objection or suggestion which may be received by the undersigned on or before that date will be duly considered :—

Draft notification.

In exercise of the powers conferred by clause (ii) of section 69B of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), and clause (k) of section 138 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following rules for regulating the management of village dispensaries established or maintained by District Boards which are not governed by the rules published under Government notification No. 138 T.—Medl., dated the 7th June 1915.

2. It shall however be open to District Boards concerned to decide whether a particular dispensary should be governed by the rules referred to above or by those now framed.

Rules regulating the management of village dispensaries established or maintained by District Boards, which are not governed by the rules issued under Government notification No. 138T.-Medl., dated the 7th June 1915.

1. (1) Opening and closing of dispensaries.—A village dispensary may be opened or closed or taken over by a District Board.

(2) When a village dispensary is thus opened or closed or taken over, the fact shall be reported by the District Board to the Surgeon-General through the Civil Surgeon.

2. (1) General control.—The management of such a dispensary and the general control of its staff shall be vested in a managing committee of three to five members appointed by the District Board.

(2) The managing committee shall elect one of their members as Chairman and may elect another as Secretary.

3. Appointment of medical officer.—The District Board shall appoint its own medical officer on such terms as it may approve.

Provided that without the special permission of the local Government no person, who is not a registered medical practitioner or who is a dismissed servant of Government or of any local body or who is disqualified for his duties by age, infirmity or character, shall be appointed as such medical officer.

Provided also that no member of the District Board or of the managing committee shall be so appointed and that a medical officer of such a dispensary on his election or appointment as a member of the District Board or of the managing committee shall be deemed to have vacated his office as such medical officer.

4. (a) Removal of medical officer.—The District Board may at any time, for good reasons, and upon the complaint of the managing committee, remove a medical officer from his charge.

(b) The District Board shall remove a medical Officer from his charge on the requisition of the Surgeon-General, if misconduct or professional incompetence by reason of age or other infirmity is proved against him to the satisfaction of the local Government.

5. Appointment of compounder.—The managing committee shall, with the approval of the District Board, appoint a compounder subject to the condition that he holds a certificate under the rules for the grant of certificates to compounders made by Government. The managing committee may also with the approval of the District Board punish or dismiss its compounder. Compounders shall not, except in very exceptional cases, be placed in charge of dispensaries and even then only for a short period.

6. (1) Grant of leave to medical officer or compounder.—The District Board may grant leave to its medical officer but information of leave granted to the medical officer and of the arrangements made to carry on his work shall be furnished without delay to the Civil Surgeon.

(2) The managing committee may grant leave to its compounder.

7. (1) Inspection.—Every dispensary shall be subject to inspection by—

(a) the District Magistrate, the Subdivisional Officer and the Circle Officer,

(b) the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the District Board and of the local board within the jurisdiction of which the dispensary is situated,

(c) the Civil Surgeon or any qualified medical officer deputed by him in this behalf, and (d) the District Health Officer.

(2) The District Board may at any time call for a copy of any inspection note recorded at the time of an inspection made under this rule, and whenever an inspection note is recorded by the District Magistrate, the Subdivisional Officer, the Circle Officer, the Civil Surgeon or the District Health Officer, a copy of such note shall forthwith be forwarded to the District Board, provided that the note recorded by the District Health Officer shall be submitted through the Civil Surgeon, who shall forward it with his remarks to the District Board.

8. Medical Officer to be subject to control of Civil Surgeon.—The medical officer shall be subject to professional control by the Civil Surgeon and all indents for medical stores shall be submitted by him to the Civil Surgeon for check and countersignature before the stores are purchased.

9. Conduct of business.—All business relating to a dispensary shall be placed before the managing committee at its ordinary meetings, which shall be held once a quarter or oftener if necessary, and copies of the proceedings relating to the dispensary shall be recorded in a minute book to be kept in the dispensary.

10. (1) Preparation of budget.—The managing committee shall annually prepare a budget estimate of the probable income and expenditure of the dispensary for the ensuing financial year and shall submit it to the District Board for sanction. No expenditure shall be incurred in excess of the sanctioned amounts.

(2) The estimates when duly approved shall be incorporated in the District Board budget estimates.

11. (1) Dispensary accounts.—A separate dispensary account shall be opened with the Post Office Savings Bank, and contributions from the District Board fund shall be credited to such account, along with donations, subscriptions and other receipts, which shall be remitted intact to the Savings Bank. Amounts required for expenditure may be withdrawn on duly vouched bills passed by the Chairman of the managing committee and an account of withdrawals from the Post Office Savings Bank and the disbursements therefrom and a subscription register shall be duly kept.

(2) All claims in respect of the dispensary shall be paid either from the imprest in the hands of the medical officer or from the money withdrawn according to requirements from the Savings Bank. The medical officer's imprest shall be of such amount as the District Board may prescribe and shall be recouped from time to time in the manner prescribed in the District Board account rules.

(3) An abstract of the dispensary accounts shall be incorporated under the appropriate headings in the District Board accounts.

(4) When the amount at credit of the dispensary exceeds the amount likely to be required for the maintenance of the dispensary, the managing committee shall with the sanction of the District Board invest the surplus in Government securities and the interest on such investments shall be credited to the dispensary account.

(5) The invested funds and any other balances of the dispensary fund shall not be used for any purpose other than the establishment, improvement or maintenance of the dispensary.

12. (1) Annual report, registers and forms.—The medical officer shall submit to the Civil Surgeon an annual report prepared in accordance with a form to be supplied to him by the Civil Surgeon, and shall maintain the following registers and forms, namely:—

(a) Register of out-patients (B. C. M. D. Form 2).
(b) Ticket for out-door patients (B. C. M. D. Form 10).
(c) A daily account or cash book showing actual receipts and expenditure in detail, to be totalled up at the end of each month.
(d) A stock ledger of medicines.
(e) Detailed monthly bills on account of establishment and contingencies.

(A) Note.—These are to be prepared by the medical officer in charge and sent for examination to the Chairman of the managing committee, who will then send them for countersignature and payment to the Chairman of the District Board.

(f) A stock ledger of surgical instruments and appliances.
(g) A subscription register.
(h) A list of dispensary property.
(i) A visitor's inspection register.
(j) A guard-file of letters received.
(k) A blank book for copying letters despatched.
(l) A book of copies of certificates given in police and medico-legal cases.

(2) All registers and forms kept by the medical officer shall be open to the examination of the District Board and the inspecting officers mentioned in rule 7.

(B) Note.—The medical officer shall write up the out-patients' register in his own hand.

13. (1) Responsibilities of medical officer.—The medical officer is responsible for the proper treatment of the sick, and this duty shall not on any account be delegated to a subordinate. He is also responsible for all matters connected with the comfort and well being of the patients and for the proper working of the dispensary establishment.

(2) The District Board may require the medical officer to give simple instruction in village schools in the rudiments of personal and public hygiene without any additional remuneration.

(3) The medical officer shall also vaccinate, free of charge, all persons attending the village dispensary for such purpose. When he performs any vaccination in private houses, he will be allowed to retain the fees prescribed by the District Board in such cases.

14. Hours of attendance.—The District Board shall prescribe the hours of attendance within which the medical officer shall be at the dispensary. Such hours of attendance shall be clearly stated in a notice posted in some conspicuous part of the dispensary.

Provided that the medical officer shall, in accordance with the general directions in rule 13, give attention when necessary to urgent cases at any other hour.

15. Power of District Board to levy charges.—The District Board may levy charges at rates to be fixed by them provided that fees shall not be levied from patients who are in the opinion of the medical officer, in poor and indigent circumstances.

16. (1) Private practice.—The medical officer shall, subject to such conditions as the District Board may prescribe, have the privilege of engaging in private practice.

(2) In prescribing conditions under sub-rule (1) the District Board may in particular require the medical officer to supervise the execution of such measures as they may undertake for the prevention or abatement of epidemic disease and generally for the preservation of the public health within a radius of not more than five miles from the dispensary.

17. Issue of medicine.—No medicines shall be issued from the dispensary stock to any one who does not receive treatment at the dispensary as an outdoor patient.

18. Prohibition of interest in private dispensary or druggist's shop.—No medical officer shall have any interest in a private dispensary or druggist's shop. In places where there is no approved druggist's shop or private dispensary the medical officer may, with the consent of the Civil Surgeon and the District Board, keep a private supply of medicines for the use of his private patients.

19. Poisons.—Poisons shall be stocked in special bottles clearly labelled as such and kept under separate lock and key, which should remain in the custody of the medical officer. The doses in which these drugs are usually administered internally shall be legibly written on a conspicuous label. A list of poisons shall be hung up in the almirah specially reserved for the custody of such drugs.

20. Appointments and dismissal of menials.—Menial servants may be appointed or discharged by the medical officer subject to the approval of the managing committee.

S. W. GOODE,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

No. 2519P.H.—The 15th December 1925.—Whereas the Governor in Council is satisfied that the area known as the Asansol Mining Settlement, in the Asansol subdivision of the district of Burdwan, is threatened with an outbreak of small-pox :

Burdwan.

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 2A, read with sub-section (1) of section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (III of 1897), the Governor in Council is pleased to prescribe the following temporary regulations for the prevention and control of small-pox, and for the medical inspection, isolation, observation and surveillance of persons suffering from, or suspected of being infected with, small-pox in the said area for one year from the 1st January 1926 :—

TEMPORARY REGULATIONS FOR THE PREVENTION AND CONTROL OF SMALL-POX IN THE ASANSOL MINING SETTLEMENT.

1. In these regulations, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) the expression "Chief Sanitary Officer" shall mean the Chief Sanitary Officer appointed by the Local Government for mining settlements under section 5 of the Bengal Mining Settlements Act, 1912 (Bengal Act II of 1912) ;

(b) the expressions "Agent," "employed," "Mine" and "owner" shall have the same meaning as in section 3 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901 (VIII of 1901) ;

(c) the expression "Board" shall mean the Mines Board of Health of Asansol ;

(d) the expression "District Magistrate" shall have the same meaning as in section 101 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) ;

(e) the expression "Small-pox" shall mean any disease accompanied by an eruption of vesicles or pustules.

NOTICES.

2. Whenever any land is held jointly by two or more persons, whether as owners or occupiers of that land, such persons shall be held jointly and severally liable for carrying out any measure ordered in a notice under these regulations, and the names of any one or more of such joint-holders may be entered upon such notice at the discretion of the Chief Sanitary Officer, and the Chief Sanitary Officer shall not be bound to enter the names of all the joint-holders in the notice.

3. If in any case the Chief Sanitary Officer considers that the issue of a notice is likely to lead to such an amount of delay as might facilitate the spread of small-pox, he may forthwith take such steps as he may think fit for carrying out the work, and shall thereafter as soon as possible issue a notice on the person concerned stating the reason why such work has been carried out.

4. If any measure which the Chief Sanitary Officer has, by a notice issued under any of these regulations, required to be carried out, be not carried out to his satisfaction within the time stated in the notice, the Chief Sanitary Officer shall be entitled to carry out the measure.

COST AND COMPENSATION.

5. (1) Expenses incurred in carrying out any work required to be done in pursuance of an order issued under these regulations shall be paid by the Board except in cases where the order requires action to be taken by any person as regards property in his possession, in which cases the expenses shall be paid by that person :

Provided that where the conditions, which led the Chief Sanitary Officer to pass such an order, are not attributable to the act or default of the person in possession of the property, the Board may pay to such person the whole or part of the expenses incurred by him in carrying out the order.

(2) The Board may recover all expenses incurred by the Chief Sanitary Officer in carrying out the measures under regulation 4 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.

6. The Board shall pay adequate compensation to any person who has sustained substantial loss or damage by reason of anything done under these regulations :

Provided that no person shall receive any compensation for anything done or suffered under these regulations, if he has failed to carry out an order issued under these regulations within the time specified in the order or to the satisfaction of the Chief Sanitary Officer.

THE LOCATION OF DISEASES.

7. Every owner, agent or manager of a mine shall supply to the Chief Sanitary Officer such periodical returns of births and deaths and of the persons residing upon their property as he may call upon them to furnish.

8. The nearest relative in attendance upon the patient, or in the absence of any such relative the occupier of the house, or if the occupier be the patient, some male inmate of the house, in which a case of small-pox shall have occurred, shall, within 24 hours of the onset of the disease, give information regarding the occurrence of such case either personally or in writing or by means of the chaukidar or other village watchman to the Chief Sanitary Officer or other officer of the Mines Board of Health.

8A. (1) Every medical practitioner called in to attend upon any case of small-pox shall forthwith give notice of the case by a special messenger to the nearest member of the outdoor staff of the Mines Board of Health and to the Chief Sanitary Officer by post and the cost in each case shall be defrayed by the Board.

(2) The doctor in charge of a hospital within the Mining Settlement shall forthwith give notice of any case of small-pox admitted into the hospital by a special messenger to the nearest member of the outdoor staff of the Mines Board of Health and to the Chief Sanitary Officer by post and the cost in each case shall be defrayed by the Board.

9. Every owner, agent or manager of a mine shall supply to the Chief Sanitary Officer such periodical returns of cases of sickness as he may from time to time call upon them to furnish.

10. Every owner, agent or manager of a mine shall furnish to the Chief Sanitary Officer immediate information regarding the occurrence of any case or suspected case of small-pox occurring in a building in the possession of or under the control of such owner, agent or manager.

11. The Board may employ a suitable staff for the purpose of making enquiries as to the existence of any case of small-pox.

12. The Chief Sanitary Officer may examine any person who is, or is suspected to be, suffering from small-pox or who, in his opinion, may be infected with or likely to spread small-pox.

ISOLATION AND SEGREGATION AND EVACUATION OF HOUSES.

13. When the Chief Sanitary Officer considers that the isolation of any person suffering from small-pox is a precaution necessary for the protection of the neighbouring population, he may order such person to be isolated in such a manner and for such a time as may be approved by the Chief Sanitary Officer.

14. When the Chief Sanitary Officer considers that the isolation of any person suffering from small-pox and residing in a building in the possession of or under the control of the owner, agent or manager of a colliery, is necessary, he may order the owner, agent or manager of such colliery to isolate such person, in such a manner and for such a time as may be approved of by the Chief Sanitary Officer.

15. The Chief Sanitary Officer may order that any person who has been in contact with a person found to be suffering from small-pox shall be segregated for a period not exceeding ten days in a manner and in a place to be approved by the Chief Sanitary Officer.

16. The Chief Sanitary Officer may order that any person who is residing in any building in the possession of or under the control of the owner, agent or manager of a colliery, and who has been in contact with any person found to be suffering from small-pox, shall be segregated by the owner, agent or manager of such colliery for a period not exceeding 10 days.

17. The Chief Sanitary Officer may order that any person who has been in contact with a person found to be suffering from small-pox shall be vaccinated or re-vaccinated within a time to be specified in the order.

18. The Chief Sanitary Officer may order the owner, agent or manager of any colliery to take steps to have vaccinated or re-vaccinated within a specified time any person residing in any building in the possession of or under the control of the owner, agent or manager of such colliery, who has been in contact with any person found to be suffering from small-pox.

19. No person shall enter any place wherein persons are isolated or segregated under regulation 13 or 14, without the permission of the Chief Sanitary Officer.

20. The Board shall provide, free of charge, suitable places with necessary attendants, diet, food, etc., for persons isolated or segregated by order of the Chief Sanitary Officer, and the Chief Sanitary Officer may certify places provided by private individuals as being fit for the purpose of insolation or segregation of persons under regulation 13 or 14 as the case may be.

21. (1) When the Chief Sanitary Officer under regulation 13 or 14 has ordered the isolation or segregation of any person residing upon any colliery lands, the Chief Sanitary Officer may notify the fact in writing to the owner, agent or manager of such colliery.

(2) If such person disobeys the order, such owner, agent or manager shall furnish to the Chief Sanitary Officer immediate intimation of the movements of that person.

22. No person who is or has been suffering from small-pox shall leave the place where he has been staying until he has received from the Chief Sanitary Officer written permission to do so.

23. The Chief Sanitary Officer may, by a notice in writing, (1) require any person to carry out or allow to be carried out by such agency as the Chief Sanitary Officer may appoint, within a time to be stated in the order, such measures for the disinfection or evacuation of his dwelling-house, or for the disinfection or destruction of any of his personal effects, as the Chief Sanitary Officer may consider necessary; and (2) direct any owner, agent or manager of a mine, or any landholder or his agent to carry out any such measures on behalf of any person resident or staying upon the land belonging to the owner or landholder.

24. Every owner, agent or manager shall make such arrangements for the immediate disinfection of infected premises and personal effects and of evacuation and excreta of persons employed by the colliery and resident in a building owned by the colliery who are suffering or suspected to be suffering from small-pox as the Chief Sanitary Officer may from time to time direct by general or special order.

25. The Board shall from time to time provide, without any charge to the person on whom an order is passed under regulation 23 (1), temporary shelter or house accommodation with necessary attendants for the members of any family who have been compelled to evacuate their dwellings under the said regulation.

26. The Chief Sanitary Officer may order any owner, agent or manager of a mine to provide such hospitals, temporary shelters or house accommodation within such a time as the Chief Sanitary Officer may approve for the purpose of isolating, segregating or accommodating, under regulations 13, 14, 15, 16 and 25, persons residing in any building in the possession of or under the control of such owner, agent or manager of a colliery.

MISCELLANEOUS POWERS.

27. The Chief Sanitary Officer may (1) prohibit the committal or continuance of any nuisance, or (2) require the person causing any nuisance or the person occupying the premises on which any nuisance exists to remove such nuisance.

Explanation.—"Nuisance" means anything which, in the opinion of the Chief Sanitary Officer, is dangerous to health or offensive to the neighbourhood and is likely to spread or to cause the outbreak of small-pox.

28. The Chief Sanitary Officer may, during the prevalence of any outbreak of small-pox, order that any market, shop or other public place shall remain closed for such time as may appear to him to be necessary and may forbid the holding of any fair, mela or other gathering to which people from several villages commonly or periodically resort.

29. The Chief Sanitary Officer may issue general orders that by a specified date certain sanitary precautions of a simple nature, such as lime washing of houses, cleaning of latrines or the removal of filth or rubbish shall be carried out to his satisfaction.

30. The Chief Sanitary Officer may prohibit persons from retaining or selling clothes taken from the bodies of persons who have died of small-pox and may cause any such clothes to be destroyed.

31. The Chief Sanitary Officer may direct that no one shall dispose of any corpse except by burning or burial, without his written permission.

32. The Chief Sanitary Officer may approve or may provide and maintain burning or burial grounds and may, by written order, direct, either generally or specially in respect to any specified area, that corpses shall not be burned or buried at places other than those so approved, provided or maintained by him for the purpose.

33. The Chief Sanitary Officer may direct that any one burning or causing to be burnt any corpse, which, in the opinion of the Chief Sanitary Officer, is likely to spread small-pox, shall cause the same to be completely reduced to ashes, and shall likewise cause the clothes or other articles brought with such corpse to be reduced to ashes.

34. The Chief Sanitary Officer may direct that no person shall bury or cause to be buried any corpse, which, in the opinion of the Chief Sanitary Officer, is likely to spread small-pox, in a grave not constructed of masonry, which shall be less than 6 feet deep.

35. The Chief Sanitary Officer may order that no dome or other servant of the Board employed for the disposal of corpses shall withdraw from his duties without the permission of the Chief Sanitary Officer unless such dome or other servant of the Board has given notice in writing not less than one month previously of his intention so to withdraw.

36. The Chief Sanitary Officer or any person authorized by him in that behalf may—

(1) seize and destroy an article of food or drink, and

(2) seize and dispose of any corpse, which, in the opinion of the Chief Sanitary Officer, is infected with, or is likely to spread, small-pox.

37. Every owner, agent or manager of a mine shall make such arrangements for the accommodation and treatment of his employees suffering from small-pox as the Chief Sanitary Officer may direct, provided that mines with an output of less than 5,000 tons per month and not more than two miles apart may, with the consent of the said officer, combine for the purpose of making such arrangements.

38. Every owner, agent or manager of a mine in which are employed persons residing or staying in the mining settlement, and every owner or occupier of any land or premises within such mining settlement, shall furnish the Chief Sanitary Officer or any officer of the Board authorized by him in that behalf, with all reasonable facilities for carrying out any measures or making any entry, inspection, examination, or enquiry under these regulations.

39. (1) The Chief Sanitary Officer or any other Sanitary Officer of the Board authorized by him in that behalf, making any enquiry authorized by these regulations, may, by an order in writing, require the attendance before himself of any person being within the limits of a mining settlement or part of a mining settlement for which such officer has been appointed, who appears to be acquainted with the circumstances of a case or suspected case of small-pox and such person shall attend as so required.

(2) When the person summoned to appear under paragraph (1) is a female who, by the custom of the country, does not appear in public, suitable precautions shall be taken to respect the said custom.

40. (1) The Chief Sanitary Officer or any other Sanitary Officer of the Board authorized by him in that behalf, making any enquiry authorized by these regulations, may examine orally any person supposed to be acquainted with the facts and circumstances of a case or suspected case of a small-pox.

(2) When the person to be examined under paragraph (1) is a female who, by the custom of the country, does not appear in public, the enquiring officer shall take the statement of such female under such conditions as shall admit of due respect to the said custom.

(3) Such person shall be bound to answer all questions relating to such case put to him by such officer, other than questions the answers to which would have a tendency to expose him to any criminal charge.

41. Every owner, agent or manager of a colliery shall maintain a register of all premises situated on such colliery and ordinarily used or intended to be used for housing persons employed on or about such colliery, together with such further particulars as the Chief Sanitary Officer may from time to time direct by general or special order.

42. The Chief Sanitary Officer or any other Sanitary Officer of the Board authorised by him in that behalf may, with such assistants (if any) as he thinks fit, enter upon any land or mine, or, after two hours' notice in writing, any premises or building used for human habitation at all reasonable times by day or by night, for the purpose of carrying out any measure or making any enquiries authorised by these regulations.

No. 2550P.H.—The 21st December 1925.—Babu Subodh Chandra Ghosh, temporary Assistant Engineer, Public Health Department, is allowed leave on full pay for eight days from the 16th to 23rd December 1925, both days inclusive, under rule 103 (a) of the Fundamental Rules and subsidiary rule 275 (a) of those rules.

No. 2540P.H.—The 18th December 1925.—Under rule 7 of the Local Authorities Loan Rules, 1915, as subsequently amended, it is hereby notified for general information that the Governor in Council intends to sanction the following application from the Chairman of the Khulna District Board for a loan of Rs. 30,000 from Government bearing interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum and repayable in 40 half-yearly instalments of Rs. 1,404-13-1 each, unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of publication of this notification within the said District Board.

The normal surplus which may be expected in future, i.e., difference between the average ordinary income and the expenditure, calculated on the figures in columns 13 to 15 and 17 to 19, respectively.	Remarks.
—Rs. 11,676.

In addition to the details required on the reverse, clear information should be given below under the following heads :—

(a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charge of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the District Board has taken or has agreed to take to make good the deficiency.

(a) It has been stated in paragraph (d) that the interest together with the capital would be met out of the sum annually set apart for improvement of rural water-supply in the district. Virtually there is no deficit if the closing balance of the previous year is taken into account.

(b) Possible means of income in the revenue of the District Board.

(b) The settlement has nearly been over. The District Board expects a substantial increase to their income at the next revaluation.

(c) A statement of all outstanding loans as well as the annual charges involved on their account.

(c) (1) Loan of Rs. 40,000 taken on 20th March 1923, out of which 5 instalments at Rs. 1,873-1-6 were paid up to date.

(2) Loan of Rs. 30,000 taken on 14th February, 1925, out of which only one instalment of Rs. 1,404-13 was paid up to date.

(d) Any explanation in regard to receipts and expenditure to show the true financial position of the Board when such is otherwise than the ordinary surplus would indicate.

(d) From the copy of Budget estimate sent herewith it will be seen that Rs. 17,443 has been provided in the current year's budget out of Rs. 24,000 available annually for improvement of water-supply under 45—Civil works for improvement of water-supply and the balance Rs. 6,557 has been provided under head "Repayment of Loan". If this loan is granted there would be no difficulty in meeting the charges out of the above sum.

Draft rules.

(1) All upward bound steamers proceeding from Haridaspur towards Sindiaghat in the Madaripur Bhil Route must make fast alongside the weather bank and single down their flats to allow downward bound steamers proceeding from Sindiaghat towards Haridaspur to pass them to leeward.

Steamers upward bound must give way to those downward bound in all cases with the following exception—

The first steamer to arrive at a siding, up or down, seeing another steamer near at hand is to go into the siding and allow the other steamer to pass. No steamer up or down shall pass a siding while another steamer proceeding in the opposite direction is in sight between that siding and the next.

(2) When a red cone is hoisted at Haridaspur, upward bound vessels must stop and make fast in the entrance channel. When a white-ball is exhibited vessels may proceed.

(3) When a red cone is hoisted at Tentulia, downward bound vessels must stop above the toll station until a white-ball is exhibited when they may proceed.

(4) Downward bound vessels must stop in the Urial Khan river when a red cone is hoisted at the mast below the entrance to the Kumar river. When a white-ball is hoisted they may proceed.

(5) Upward bound vessels must stop, and make fast and single out flats when a red cone is exhibited at Messrs. David & Co.'s premises. When a white-ball is raised, they may proceed.

(6) At night a red light will take the place of a red cone and two white lights one above the other will take the place of the white-ball.

(7) On hât days all vessels must slow down when passing Bherarhat, Satpar, Jalirpar, Takerhat, Rajore and Charmaguria.

(8) For any infringement of the above rules, the person in charge of the vessel or person or persons in fault shall on conviction before a Magistrate be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

CANTONMENTS—REGULATIONS.

No. 1686.—The following draft of amendments to the Cantonment Account Code, 1924, which it is proposed to make in exercise of the powers conferred by section 280 of the Cantonments Act 1924 (II of 1924), is published as required by sub-section (1) of the said section for the information of all persons likely to be affected thereby, and notice is hereby given that the said draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 19th January 1926. Any objection or suggestion which may be received from any person with respect to the draft before the aforesaid date will be considered by the Governor General in Council :—

Draft of Amendments.

1. After rule 4 of the Cantonment Account Code, 1924, the following rule shall be inserted, namely :—

"4-A. Pies shall be omitted from all salary, establishment, and travelling allowance bills and cheques issued on treasuries. All individual items in such cases whether they pertain to salary or allowances of any description, or travelling allowance, or represent deductions or payments of some sort, shall be calculated to the nearest anna, fractions below half an anna being omitted, and half an anna or over being reckoned as one anna."

Elimination of pies.

2. For rule 14 of the said Code, the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"14. (1) Whenever any loss of cantonment moneys, stores or other property through embezzlement, fraud, theft or other cause is discovered, a preliminary investigation shall forthwith be made into the loss by the cantonment authority or by some person appointed in this behalf by the cantonment authority, and the result of such preliminary investigation, if the loss incurred exceeds rupees fifty, shall be reported forthwith by the cantonment authority to the Officer Commanding-in-Chief, the Command, and to the Accountant-General. The Officer Commanding-in-Chief, the Command, shall, if necessary, arrange with the Accountant-General for an expert examination of accounts in connection with the loss. The Officer Commanding in-Chief, the Command, shall, if necessary, then cause the matter to be investigated by a Committee of Inquiry consisting of the Deputy Inspecting Officer, Military Lands and Cantonments of the Command, as President, and two other officers nominated by the Officer Commanding-in-Chief, the Command, who shall arrange for such expert and other evidence as may be required for the purposes of the inquiry. When the matter has been fully inquired into by the Committee of Inquiry, a report shall be submitted to the Accountant-General and the Government of India showing the total sum of money lost, the circumstances in which the loss took place and the steps taken or recommended to recover the money and to punish the offenders, if any. The submission of such report shall not in any case debar the local authorities from taking any action which may be deemed necessary.

(2) Money, the value of the stores or other property thus lost, shall not be written off the accounts except with the sanction of the Governor General in Council, provided that losses the amount of which does not exceed rupees fifty in any individual case may be written off by the cantonment authority, and losses exceeding rupees fifty but not exceeding rupees five hundred in any individual case may be written off by the Officer Commanding-in-Chief, the Command."

3. After rule 14 of the said Code the following rule shall be inserted, namely :—

"14-A. Money due in respect of land rent which has been ascertained to be irrecoverable shall not be written off the accounts except with the sanction of the Governor General in Council; provided that any such irrecoverable amount which does not exceed rupees two hundred and fifty in any individual case may be written off by the Officer Commanding-in-Chief, the Command."

CALCUTTA UNIVERSITY.

NOTICE.

In accordance with the provision in section 4, sub-section (2) of the Indian Universities Act, 1904 (VIII of 1904), as amended by Act No. VII of 1921, the following Ordinary Fellows of the Calcutta University, elected by the Registered Graduates in 1921, will vacate their office as Ordinary Fellows on the 11th March, 1926 :—

Bidhanchandra Roy, Esq., B.A., M.D., M.R.C.P., F.R C.S., M.L.C.
Ramaprasad Mookerjee, Esq., M.A., B.L.

There has been another vacancy in place of the late Mr. Mahendranath Ray, C.I.E., M.A., B.L., who was elected by the Registered Graduates in 1924 and who died on the 13th August 1925.

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 7 (1) of the Indian Universities Act, 1904 (VIII of 1904), as amended by Act No. VII of 1921, His Excellency the Chancellor of the Calcutta University is pleased to direct that three Ordinary Fellows shall be elected in January next by the Registered Graduates of the Calcutta University from among themselves.

The election will take place in the Registrar's Room, Darbhanga Library Building, Calcutta, on Saturday, the 23rd January 1926.

No person, unless his name has been entered in the Register of Graduates and unless he has paid his fee for the year, will be qualified to nominate, to vote or to stand as a candidate for election.

Every candidate for election must be nominated by a Registered Graduate, and no person will be allowed to nominate more than one candidate. The nomination of a candidate shall be made in writing in the following form, which will be signed by the person making the nomination :—

FORM OF NOMINATION.

I,..., Registered Graduate No..........................., do hereby nominate...
..............................., Registered Graduate No..................................., as a candidate for election as an Ordinary Fellow of the Calcutta University, subject to the approval of His Excellency the Chancellor.

The following is a brief statement of the special qualifications of my nominee :—

....

The nomination paper should be, on the face of it, addressed to the Registrar, Calcutta University, and must reach his office not later than 5 P.M. on the 1st January 1926. A printed list of the nominees (with the name of the first proposer in each case) and statements of their qualifications will be forwarded to the Registered Graduates on the 5th January 1926.

The Registrar will also forward on the 5th January 1926, a voting paper, containing the names of candidates proposed and their first proposers, by registered post, to each of the Registered Graduates. The voting paper must be filled up and signed in the presence of the Registrar at the Darbhanga Library Building on the 23rd January 1926, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.; but Graduates who will not be able to appear in person before the Registrar may fill up and sign their voting papers in the presence of a Magistrate, a Judge, a Subordinate Judge, a Munsif (excluding Village Munsifs), a Fellow of the University (including Honorary Fellows), or a Principal of a College affiliated to this University. In the absence of a Magisterial or Judicial Officer of the rank aforesaid in a Native State, the signature must be acknowledged before the Chief Minister or the Chief Magisterial Officer of the State. Voting papers may also be filled up and signed before the Registrar between 4 and 5 P.M. any day (other than a Sunday or holiday) between the 6th of January 1926 and the 22nd January 1926. The officer before whom such acknowledgment is made or the Registrar, as the case may be, shall countersign the voting paper, as having been signed before him by the person whose signature it bears. A voter of the rank aforesaid will not be competent to countersign his own voting paper. All voting papers duly signed and countersigned, as aforesaid, must reach the Registrar not later than 3 P.M. on Saturday, the 23rd January 1926, after which no voting paper will be accepted. A graduate, who is not known to the officer in whose presence he intends to fill in and sign his voting paper, must bring with him his Diploma or other satisfactory proof of identity.

Each voter shall have only one vote for each vacancy which is to be filled up and can give only one vote to any one candidate.

NOTIFICATION No. MISC. R. 6.

THE following changes in the Regulations of the University sanctioned by the Government of Bengal, under section 25, sub-section (1) of the Indian University Act, 1904 (VIII of 1904), as amended by the Calcutta University Act, 1921 (VII of 1921), are notified for general information :—

That in Chapter XXXVII of the Regulations (page 260 of the edition of 1924), the following syllabus for an Alternative Course in Physics be inserted after the Course in Physics :—

ALTERNATIVE COURSE IN PHYSICS.

Electricity and Magnetism.

Lectures—

1. Electrostatics and Electrodynamics.
2. Theory of electrical instruments (general) Galvanometers, electrometers, amperemeters, voltmeters, measurements of resistances, current voltages, capacity induction.
3. Theory of electrical instruments (special) Oscillographs, Watthourmeters, Phasemeters, Frequencymeters, Characteristics of dynamos and motors.
4. Principles of generation of electric currents, low voltage generation, storage cells.

Medium voltage generation, direct current generators Dynamos, Alternators of different types, Turbo alternator motor generator, Rotary convertors.

High voltage generation. Transformers. Theory of transformer (the different types).

Wave from frequency phase, rectification.

Motors of different types.

Direct current series, shunt, compound wound Starter, speed regulator.

Alternate current induction motor, synchronis motors, shipring motors, polyphase motors Starter, speed regulation.

Effect of inductance and capacity.

Special paper.

5. High Frequency current.

   Their generation and reception in the Radio telegraphs.

6. Illumination Technology.

Practical—

(a) Accurate measurement of low resistances.
(b) ,, ,, ,, voltage.
(c) ,, ,, ,, amperage.
(d) Standardisation of thermocouples.
(e) ,, ,, Platinum thermometers.
(f) Measurements of insulation resistances.

(Coils, switches, fuse boxes, cleats, telegraph and telephone insulators, the resistances of insulation of field Coils and armatures of motors.)

7. Measurements of Permeability of different samples of iron and heat loss in complele cycles.

(a) By anchor ring method.
(b) Hopkinson double yoke method.
(c) Ewing's Permeameters.
(d) Kopsel's Permeameters.
(e) Maquetometar methods.
(f) Rapid anchor ring method of Kapp.

8. Determination of Magnetic field.

(a) Fluxmeter.
(b) Standard coil and Ballistic Galvanometer.
(c) Lenard's spiral.

9. Measurement of capacity.
10. Measurement of Induction.

Coeff of self induction.

" " mutual induction of two circuits.

11. Measurements of the ratio of transformation of two circuits.
12. The dielectric capacity of oils and mica ebonite glass.
13. Study of the wave form of different types of generator.

(a) Duddel oscillograph.

(b) Cathode ray oscillograph.

14. The characteristic curves of dynamos and motors.
15. Accurate measurement of frequency of oscillation.
16. Study of the characteristics of the wave forms of high frequency currents with Cathode ray oscillograph.
17. Life curves of different class of electric lamps.
18. Study of a storage cell.
19. Study of the horse power of a motor.

(a) Prony brake.

(b) Friction brake.

(c) Absorption dynamometers.

(d) Cradle type dynamometers.

20. Study of the different losses of motors.

(a) Iron loss, Eddy current and Hysteresis loss.

(b) Heat loss.

(c) Friction and windage.

21. Study of A. C. Motors.

(a) Torque variation.

(b) Effect of capacity.

(c) Phase alternation.

HEAT.

Lectures—

1. General heat comprising thermometry, specific heat, change of state, conduction radiation.
2. General principles of thermodynamics.
3. Kinetic theory of gases.
4. Technical thermodynamics.

Theory of Heat Engines.

(a) Steam Engines :—

Condensing, non-condensing.

Single expansion, double expansion, compound uniflow, locomobile.

Action of superheated steam.

Steam, diagram.

θ ϕ diagram, the ideal cycles and the actual cycles, the action of the valves and valve gears.

(b) Internal combustion engines.

Four cycle.

Two cycle.

(i) Ignition type, explosion type.

Semi diesel.

(ii) Diesel type.

The theoretical consideration of efficiency of different types, p. v. indicator diagrams θ ϕ diagram.

5. Theory of Refrigeration.
   Thermodynamics of Joule Thomson effect.
   Properties of CO_2 Ammonia. SO_2.
   Compression and temperature drop.
   Heat Exchange.

6. General Properties of matter.
   Elasticity and Elastic limits.
   Young's Modulus and Poisson Ratio Rigidity and Shear Hardness and Hertz's theory of Impact, Viscosity and Lubrication.
   Torsional rigidity, Bending moment, etc.

Practical—

1. Mechanical Equivalent of Heat.
2. Conductivity of solids, liquids and gases.
3. Variation of specific heat with temperature of gas and gas mixtures.
4. Measurements of high temperatures, Pyrometry (Black body radiation).
5. Study of an internal combustion engine.
   (a) Pressure volume record. (Indicator diagram by micro-indicator).
   (b) Calorific value of liquid fuel by Mahlercook apparatus.
   (c) Calorific value of gas mixtures in engine cylinders (by Boy's gas calorimeter).
   (d) Viscosity and flash point determination of different liquid fuels.
   (e) Determination of CO_2 in the exhaust gas (by platinum thermometer).
   (f) Measurement of the horsepower of an engine by Prony brake.
   (g) Determination of the Joule effect in Oxygen, CO_2, NH_3, by gas compressor and platinum thermometer.
   Determination Young's modulus by bending and Poisson's ratio.
   Determination of Hardness by law of impact by two ball methods.
   Determination of viscosity of liquids and gases.

A Course on Drawing—

Screw threads—Forms and proportions of bolts, nuts, screws and studs.
Shafts, Pedestals, Hangers, Brackets.
Valves of Steam Engine, Slide Valves.
Corliss valve, Tappet valves of Oil Engines.
Crankrods and cylinders of different types of Oil Engines, Bearings, Thrust Bearing, Ball Bearing, Drawings for high speeds.
Designing of Generators and motors of small capacities.

Workshop Practice—

1. Fitting—Internal and external angle gauges.
2. Simple turning of round rod, flat disc.
3. Screw cutting with a lathe.
4. Drilling.
5. Milling.
6. Simple grinding of two true surfaces.
   cylindrical grinding, internal and external grinding.
7. Testing of a lathe bed and performance of various chucks.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government, has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits ; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The second quinquennial valuation of the fund has been completed by the Actuary to the Government of India and his report discloses very favourable results. For forms of application and rules of the Fund apply to the Accountant-General, Central Revenues, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL, 1924-25.

CHAPTER I.

Introductory.

1. Institutions and pupils.—This report describes briefly the educational work undertaken, the changes effected, and the progress achieved in educational work in the province of Bengal during the year ending 31st March 1925. The number of recognised and unrecognised institutions in Bengal rose during the year under review from 56,001 to 57,173 or by 1,172. Of the total number of institutions returned on 31st March 1925, 43,415 were for males, and 13,758 were for females as compared with 42,761 and 13,240 institutions respectively returned on the corresponding date in 1924. The number of pupils attending both recognised and unrecognised institutions in 1924-25 increased from 2,057,062 to

2,150,942 or by 93,880. Recognised institutions increased in number from 54,649 to 55,890; the number of unrecognised institutions fell from 1,352 to 1,283. The number of pupils reading in recognised institutions rose from 2,009,827 to 2,107,127 or by 97,300; that in unrecognised institutions fell from 47,235 to 43,815 or by 3,420. Of the total number of pupils studying in all classes of institutions on 31st March 1925, 1,770,472 were males, and 380,470 were females; in the preceding year the corresponding figures were 1,692,688; and 364,374 respectively.

2. Different classes of recognised institutions.—Of the recognised institutions returned on 31st March 1925, 61 (including the special University classes) were arts and professional colleges; 996 were high schools, 1,691 were middle schools, 50,450 were primary schools; and 2,692 were special schools. On the corresponding date in 1924 there were 59 arts and professional colleges, 955 high schools, 1,664 middle schools, 49,425 primary schools, and 2,546 special schools. Of the recognised institutions, 334 were managed by Government and 3,656 by District and Municipal Boards; 43,307 received aid from public funds, and 8,593 were unaided. In the previous year the corresponding figures were 373, 3,465, 42,800 and 8,011 respectively. The decrease in the number of schools managed by Government was due to the deprovincialisation of the model primary schools for girls which however continue to exist as aided schools.

3. Expenditure on public instruction.—The total expenditure on public instruction amounted during the year under review to Rs. 3,56,45,939 as compared with Rs. 3,44,48,307 in the year preceding. Of the total expenditure Rs. 1,33,82,962 were met from Provincial Revenues; the contributions from District and Municipal funds amounted to Rs. 15,45,805 and Rs. 3,05,988 respectively; while Rs. 1,46,36,126 and Rs. 57,75,058 were provided from fees and other private sources respectively. In the previous year the contributions from Provincial Revenues, and District and Municipal funds amounted to Rs. 1,30,09,486, Rs. 14,89,234 and Rs. 3,30,354 respectively; while Rs. 1,40,16,364 and Rs. 56,02,869 accrued from fees and other private sources respectively. Thus expenditure increased from all sources except municipal funds.

4. Noteworthy features of the period under review.—No important development in education was carried out during the year under review. This was in part due to the absence of large new funds for development, as also to the fact that the unusual political conditions of the year, viz., a ministry struggling for its very existence followed by the temporary breakdown of the reformed system of administration was not favourable to the initiation of a constructive educational policy. Little progress was made in the direction of University reform, or the establishment of a Provincial Board of Secondary Education, though attempts were made to ascertain how far an agreed bill acceptable both to the University and to Government, was possible. A strong committee of the University, however, sat during the winter and spring, and produced proposals for the stabilisation of the post-graduate department, which were later on carried into effect. In primary education there is little to record beyond a normal increase in schools and pupils, the sanctioning of a few schemes and the starting of a certain number of additional free primary schools by the Corporation of Calcutta. The following were some of the prominent educational features of the year:—

(i) The dissolution of the Education Ministry in August 1924 and the consequent assumption of the control of the Department by His Excellency the Governor, Education at a later date becoming a Reserved subject administered by a Member, after a further short-lived ministry in March 1925.

(ii) The provision of funds (Rs. 6,35,400) by the Legislative Council in August 1924 for expenditure on account of the salaries of the inspecting officers employed under the Education Department, the bulk of the provision for which had in the previous March been refused.

(iii) The stoppage of recruitment to the Indian Educational Service, the Secretary of State deciding to make no more appointments, permanent or officiating, pending his formal orders on the Lee Commission's proposals on the future of the Service.

(iv) The publication of the revised Maktab curriculum.

(v) The revision of fee rates in Government High English Schools.

(vi) The pronouncement by Government of its views on the revision of the Matriculation Regulations including the use of the vernacular as a medium of instruction and examination, and the appointment by the University of Calcutta of a committee to consider them.

(vii) The abolition of fees in practising schools attached to Guru-training Schools.

(viii) The laying of the foundation stone, by His Excellency the Governor, of the Islamia College, Calcutta.

(ix) The prescription of 15 as the provisional age for admission to the Matriculation Examination.

5. But far the most notable, as also the most melancholy educational event of the year 1924-25 was the death of Bengal's most striking educational personality, Sir Ashutosh Mookerji. It is too early yet to estimate the real effect of his loss upon the educational progress of the province. Striking tributes were paid to his memory soon after the event, notable among them the speech delivered by His Excellency the Chancellor at the special senate meeting over which he presided. The death of the man who was five times Vice-Chancellor of the University of Calcutta and who had made the University what it is to-day, left a gap in the educational life of Bengal which will long remain unfilled. This is not the place to repeat or supplement the tributes which were paid by all classes to the work accomplished by him, not only for education, but in other spheres of public activity, nor to attempt to frame an estimate of its significance. The chronicler of this brief record of the year's events in education can but place the event on regretful record and pass on. And in so doing, he has to add that within a few brief months of that event, the blow to education in Bengal was intensified by the death of another great Bengali administrator and educationalist. In the words of His Excellency the Chancellor, "When Sir Ashutosh Mookerji died, a feeling akin to consternation was created in our minds. In the midst of our sorrow and apprehension, however, we felt that though no one was capable of bringing to the administration of the University that unique combination of almost superhuman industry, knowledge, and intellectual grip, which characterised Sir Ashutosh, yet in Mr. Bhupendra Nath Basu, we had a great Bengali statesman and patriot who would, we hoped, be able in spite of his frail health, to steer us through the troubled waters that still lay ahead of us". Mr. Basu, however, died on September 16th, and the hope that as Vice-Chancellor of the University of Calcutta, to which post he had been appointed in the previous year, he would be able, at least in part, to fill the gap left by the death of his predecessor, fell to the ground.

These two great losses overshadow the educational year 1924-25, and leave upon the record a deep tinge of melancholy.

CHAPTER II.

Controlling Agencies.

1. The agencies which control educational activities in the Presidency of Bengal are the departmental staff, local bodies and missionary agencies, Indian and non-Indian.

2. The Indian Educational Service.—The future of the Indian Educational Service is uncertain, and recruitment even on a temporary or officiating basis has been suspended until further orders. The situation is productive of considerable inconvenience, but little can be done to ameliorate the position until final orders as to the future are passed by the Secretary of State. The effect of the Secretary of States's stoppage of all appointments to the Indian Educational Service is that such Indian Educational Service posts as can without grave loss of efficiency be thus filled are replaced by Bengal Educational Service posts, while those which need more highly paid officers are filled on special terms on a contract for a term of years. The Indian Educational Service posts concerned however have so far not been abolished, but merely kept in abeyance. While applications for appointment to the Indian Educational Service are not being entertained, arrangements have been made for the consideration by the Provincial Selection Committee of applications from persons possessing superior qualifications for higher educational appointments.

(i) Men's Branch.—On the 31st March 1924 the men's cadre of the Indian Educational Service consisted of 68 appointments of which 3 posts were in the higher selection grade, 10 in the lower selection grade and 1 on a special rate of pay. The remaining 54 posts were on the ordinary time-scale of the service. No change occurred during the year under review and the cadre of the service on the 31st March 1925 was the same as in the preceding year. During the year 1924-25 Rai Kumudini Kanta Banerji Bahadur, Principal, Rajshahi College, retired from the service of Government after a period of 37 years of untiring zeal spent largely at Rajshahi College, of which he became Principal in 1897. He died shortly after his retirement. He was a great Principal and Bengal is the poorer for his loss. During his tenure of office Rajshahi College developed from a humble mufassal college into an institution which can take rank with some of the finest colleges in India, and has distinct aspirations after the attainment of University status. Of the European members of the service Messrs. Hornell, Turner and Holme retired on the expiry of the leave which they had taken preparatory to premature retirement. Mr. W. C. Wordsworth proceeded on leave preparatory to retirement on proportionate pension.

(ii) Women's Branch.—The cadre of the Women's Branch of the Indian Educational Service consisted of 4 posts as in the previous year. During the year Miss L. Brock retired from service. Miss Brock served as Inspectress of Schools for upwards of 20 years. Her work was distinguished by indefatigable energy and earnest endeavour, and it is not too much to say that the great advance which has been recorded in the education of women and girls in Bengal since 1910 is due largely to her capable and effective administration.

3. Bengal Educational Service.—(i) Men's Branch.—On the 31st March 1924 the number of appointments in the Men's Branch of the Bengal Educational Service was 211 including 5 temporary posts. During the year under review one post at Dacca Intermediate College was replaced by a post in the Subordinate Educational Service and the post of Inspector of Residence of Students, Dacca, was abolished with effect from 1st April 1925. One of the temporary posts in the Bengal Educational Service was replaced by a post outside the Educational Services. Thus at the end of the year 1924-25 the Bengal Educational Service consisted of 208 appointments of which 4 were temporary.

(ii) Women's Branch.—On the 31st March 1925 the number of appointments in the Women's Branch of the Bengal Educational Service was 20, the same as in the previous year.

4. The Subordinate Educational Service.—On the 31st March 1924 the strength of the service consisted of 1,465 teaching and 330 inspecting appointments on varying rates of time-scale pay, the inspecting appointments including 4 posts of Subdivisional Inspectors created in terms of Education Department letter No. 1598 Edn., dated the 4th August 1922, with effect from 1st August 1922 but kept in abeyance for want of funds. During the year under review 3 teaching posts were added to the cadre and 133 teaching and 2 inspecting posts (of Assistant Sub-Inspectors) were abolished. The service therefore consisted of 1,663 appointments on 31st March 1925, viz., teaching 1,335 and inspecting 328 appointments.

5. Posts outside the classified lists.—The number of posts outside the classified lists on 31st March 1924 was 490. Nine posts were added to the number during the year under review and the total strength on 31st March 1925 stood at 499 as detailed below:—

Ministerial appointments, including the establishments of the Director of Public Instruction and the Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education.	390

6. Direction.—Mr. E. F. Oaten was Director of Public Instruction throughout the period under report. He was confirmed in the appointment from 12th June 1924. For the first few months of the year under report Mr. W. B. Finnigan officiated as Assistant Director of Public Instruction, Bengal and Mr. J. M. Bottomley as Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education. In July 1924 Khan Bahadur Maulvi Ahsanullah was appointed to act as Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education, and Mr. Bottomley assumed the duties of Assistant Director of Public Instruction.

The strength of the directing staff is inadequate and a point has been reached at which it becomes a duty to state the fact explicitly. The organisation for the control and direction of Education in Bengal was found to be inadequate under pre-war and pre-reform conditions. The volume and complexity of educational work have increased enormously since then and the problem of the administration of the Department during the next few years will tax to the fullest degree the resources of a thoroughly organised and adequately manned headquarters staff. Compared with other provinces Bengal is not well served in this regard. The intolerable burden of work is borne cheerfully by all concerned, and if relief is sought it is not so much because the officers affected desire to lighten that burden, but rather because they are conscious of duties left unperformed or inadequately performed owing to the sheer impossibility of coping with them. Touring for instance has almost ceased, and, when undertaken, can consist only of a hurried journey and the quickest possible return to headquarters. The headquarters staff is losing touch with the mufassal. Various possible remedies have been discussed, but some amelioration of the situation seems inevitable.

7. Inspecting agency.—During the year under review the inspectorate lost the services of Mr. H. E. Stapleton who was appointed officiating Principal, Presidency College, and Khan Bahadur Maulvi Ahsanullah who was appointed to officiate as Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education. Owing to these transfers and the stoppage of recruitment to the Indian Educational Service, the divisional inspecting staff cannot be regarded as strong. The question whether an English element shall be retained in the inspectorate is one which will have to be faced at an early date, and also the terms on which it is to be recruited if at all. There is also the question of the best method of recruiting Indian officers for the highest posts in the inspectorate. It is very doubtful whether we can serve all our needs by means of promotion only, though this will always be a valuable partial source of recruitment. Of the five Divisional Inspectors three were in the Indian Educational Service and two in the Bengal Educational Service. The inspectorate consisted of 388 appointments on 31st March 1924. During the year under review 2 posts of Assistant Sub-Inspectors were abolished as an economy. The subjoined table indicates the strength, as it stood on 31st March 1925.

8. Extra-departmental agencies.—District and Municipal Boards continued the work of administering Primary Education in their respective areas. The thanks of the Department are due to District and Subdivisional Officers many of whom helped the Department with valuable advice and co-operation as Presidents of the Managing Committees of Secondary Schools. A word of praise and appreciation is also due to the various Indian and non-Indian missionary bodies and societies for the zeal which they showed in spreading and improving Primary Education among girls and women and members of the backward classes. Enrolled in the missionary organisations are some of the most earnest and soundest thinkers upon current educational problems, and the Department has often to thank them not only for co-operation but also for intellectual stimulus.

CHAPTER III.

University and Collegiate Education.

1. Universities.—The two Universities of Bengal, Calcutta and Dacca, continued their work during the year, each on its own characteristic lines. Mr. Hartog, Vice-Chancellor of Dacca University, who received from the University during the year the distinction of an honorary doctorate, presided over the University during the whole of the period under review. Mr. Bhupendra Nath Basu who had been Vice-Chancellor of Calcutta University since April 1923, died on September 16th, 1924. His successor in that onerous dignity was Sir Ewart Greaves, to whose conduct of the almost insupportable burden of work which has fallen upon him a deserved tribute was paid at the Convocation of March 1925. A feature of the period under review due to special causes, was that two convocations were held, in one of which the Chancellor personally conferred the degrees in the absence of the Vice-Chancellor through illness. The University year, as already stated, was overshadowed by the deaths of Sir Ashutosh Mookerji and Mr. Bhupendra Nath Basu who had both been Vice-Chancellor of the University.

2. The Arts and Science classes in the Post-Graduate Department of the University of Calcutta had on their rolls 994 and 205 students respectively on 31st March 1925 as compared with 1,051 and 199 students reading in these classes on the corresponding date of the previous year; there were also 168 students in the University Commerce classes.

The question of changes in the University of Calcutta on the lines of some of the recommendations made by the Sadler Commission is still under discussion between the University and Government; it was not possible during the year under report to undertake legislation towards this end.

On the 31st March 1925 there were 752 students (including 22 research scholars) in the Arts and Science classes of the University of Dacca as compared with 761 students on the corresponding date in 1924. In addition to these, 61 students were under instruction in the Commerce classes of the University. A permanent Head for the Department of Arabic and Islamic studies and an Additional Assistant Lecturer in Chemistry were appointed during the year. A fund was started by His Excellency the Chancellor for the endowment of a chair in Sanskritic studies but the support given has been inadequate. University work is hampered by the unsatisfactory condition of Secondary Education in Bengal.

3. Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca.—The Board, of necessity, continues to function, though the necessity of its absorption or replacement by a body operating over a wider area is becoming obvious. It was never intended to be more than a temporary expedient, pending wider reform, but in the absence of reform, its life has to be prolonged. There were as in the previous year two intermediate arts colleges for men controlled by the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education during the year 1924-25, viz., the Dacca and Jagannath Colleges. The former needs expansion and the latter consolidation. The Jagannath Intermediate College continues to impart instruction in dyeing and commerce, besides teaching the usual arts and science subjects. It became obvious that there was room for another Intermediate College in Dacca, and the Imperial Seminary was raised to the status of an Intermediate College after the close of the year under review. The Intermediate Department of the Eden High School for Girls, which works under the Board, is in a state of arrested development. As was observed in the last annual report the small area within which the Board works and the temporary character of its existence continue to hamper its usefulness. It is impossible for the Board to raise its standards since students will be scared away to institutions outside the Board area, where the old standards prevail. The views of the Board in regard to vocational courses in connection with Intermediate Colleges are expressed in the following extract:—

Here we must prepare the ground. We must first of all try to turn the minds of the youths of Bengal to practical pursuits, to the possibility of seeking independent careers. * * * These men will not go out as experts. They will not perhaps be able even to claim to have completely learnt any craft. But if they take to practical pursuits, their early start, their general intelligence, their education, their practical training (even though imperfect) will all tell in their favour in the struggle.

All of which simply means that as there are not enough "black-coat" posts in Bengal to go round, education must be so devised that the middle class boy will be mentally and physically prepared to take up a "shirt-sleeve" job, if necessary. Brave words, for they postulate a social as well as an educational "volte-face". They are at least free from the pretence that schools for cultural education can give a young man enough cultural knowledge to secure him the social distinction of a degree or diploma, while at the same time equipping him with a practical vocation which will earn him his living directly, he leaves the institution.

The net cost to Government for the maintenance of the Board amounted last year to Rs. 24,754 as compared with Rs. 22,514 in 1923-24.

4. Arts colleges.—On 31st March 1925 the Presidency had 37 arts colleges for men and 4 (including the Intermediate Department of the Eden High School for Girls, Dacca) for women with 22,169 students on the rolls; the corresponding figures for the previous year were 36, 4 and 21,053 respectively. The starting of an intermediate college for men at Howrah under private management accounts for the increased number for 1924-25. Of the 41 arts colleges, 10 were maintained by Government, 17 received aid from Provincial Revenues, and 14 were unaided; as against 10, 17 and 13 in the preceding year.

The cost of maintaining arts colleges amounted altogether to Rs. 31,47,049 as compared with Rs. 29,56,126 in 1923-24. The average annual cost of maintaining an arts college amounted during the year under review to Rs. 76,757. The average cost of educating a student in an arts college was Rs. 141-15 per annum of which Rs. 53-14-1 were borne by Provincial Revenues.

Arts Colleges for Men.

5. Number of colleges.—On 31st March 1925, there were in Bengal 37 arts colleges for men as compared with 36 on the corresponding date of the previous year; the increase was due to the establishment of the Narasinha Dutta College in Howrah. Eight colleges (including the Islamic Intermediate College, Dacca) were managed by Government and 29 by private bodies.

6. Number of students.—The number of students reading in arts colleges for men increased from 20,805 to 21,919 of whom 18,697 were Hindus, 2,853 were Muhammadans, and 369 were of other communities. The corresponding figures for the previous year were 17,656, 2,756 and 393 respectively.

7. Expenditure.—The total expenditure for the upkeep of arts colleges for men rose from Rs. 28,39,808 to Rs. 30,21,296 of which Rs. 10,96,293 were met from Provincial Revenues, Rs. 600 from Municipal funds, Rs. 17,07,691 from fees and Rs. 2,16,712 from other private sources.

8. Grants to private colleges.—In accordance with the recommendations made by a Select Committee of the University of Calcutta Government distributed, as previously, a sum of Rs. 1,29,000 among 25 private colleges, the grants being devoted chiefly to the improvement of the college libraries and laboratories. Besides this amount a sum of Rs. 2,19,263 was expended by Government directly in giving capital and maintenance grants to non-Government colleges during the year under review.

9. Government colleges.—Presidency College.—At the beginning of the year the college suffered a severe loss through the Principal, Mr. Wordsworth, proceeding on leave preparatory to retirement. He had with long interruptions due to the assumption of higher duties, managed the affairs of the college with tact and vigour since 1916. He was succeeded by Mr. Stapleton.

On 31st March 1925 the Presidency College had an enrolment of 958 students (including 206 University Post-Graduate students) as compared with 899 students returned on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of these students 772 were Hindus, and 156 were Muhammadans; the rest belonged to other creeds. The total cost of maintaining the college amounted during the year to Rs. 4,97,956 of which Rs. 3,48,449 were met from Provincial Revenues. The average annual cost of educating a student worked out at Rs. 510-3-2 of which Rs. 357-0-3 were borne by Provincial Revenues.

The Committee, which was constituted to examine various problems connected with the Presidency College, submitted an ad-interim report which dealt among other things with the questions of increased admissions and teaching staff, the enhancement of fee-rates and the status of the laboratory assistants. In July and August 1924 a systematic medical examination of the First, Second and Third Year classes was conducted through the co-operation of the Students' Welfare Committee of the University of Calcutta which revealed the distressing fact that of the students examined only about 20 per cent. enjoyed normal health. As a result of the medical examination it was decided to make games and physical exercises compulsory for the First Year classes and this reform was carried into effect after the year closed. In connection with the Founder's Day celebrations which were held in January 1925, Sir J. C. Bose gave an address to the students on 19th January 1925 and on the following day His Excellency Lord Lytton presided over a reunion of past and present students. The function was a very great success, and the honour of a visit from the head of the province—the first for many years—was much appreciated. Mr. Stapleton is to be congratulated on the successful revival of the function, the inauguration of which was one of the achievements of Mr. H. R. James' principalship.

10. Dacca Intermediate College.—Mr. A. K. Chanda held charge of the college during the year. The college had on its rolls 313 students on 31st March 1925 as compared with 318 returned on the corresponding date of 1924. Of the total enrolment 164 were Hindus, 147 were Muhammadans, and 2 were Indian Christians. The upkeep of the college cost Rs. 1,27,251 of which Rs. 97,629 were provided from Provincial Revenues. The average annual cost of educating each student amounted to Rs. 385-9-9 of which Rs. 295-13-6 were met from Provincial Revenues.

The Dacca Intermediate College is badly in need of expansion; but it cannot develope properly on its present site. The range of teaching is much restricted at present owing to the inadequacy of the space which is available. The scheme for removing the college to new buildings to be built at Amlapara has not yet materialised; meanwhile the college continues to occupy the building in which the School of Engineering was previously accommodated. A scheme was under discussion during the year for the removal of the college to the New Government House.

11. Hooghly College.—Mr. R. B. Ramsbotham was Principal of the college throughout the year. The college had 276 students on 31st March 1925 as against 273 on the corresponding date of the year preceding. Of these students 245 were Hindus, 30 were Muhammadans and 1 was an Indian Christian. The total cost of maintaining the college amounted last year to Rs. 1,21,794 of which Rs. 97,958 were provided from Provincial Revenues. The average annual cost of educating a student works out at Rs. 447-12-4 of which Rs. 360-2-3 were met from Provincial Revenues. Hooghly College has obtained affiliation in Physics up to the B. Sc. Honours standard. It is desirable that the college should be affiliated to the University of Calcutta in Chemistry up to the B.Sc. Honours standard for which purpose the present unsuitable laboratory should be remodelled. Much attention was devoted, as usual, during the year under review to the physical side of student life. The College Debating Club is reported to be languishing in spite of the support and encouragement given to it by the staff. As against this is to be set the fact that the college military platoon has acquitted itself well.

12. Sanskrit College.—Dr. Adityanath Mookerjee was Principal throughout the year. The English Department of the Sanskrit College had 85 students (all Hindus) on 31st March 1925 as compared with 73 returned on the corresponding date of 1924. Besides this number 53 students were under instruction in the Oriental or Tōl Department of the college. The total cost of maintaining the college Department amounted to Rs. 52,058 of which Rs. 47,802 were provided from Provincial Revenues. The average annual cost of educating a student amounted last year to Rs. 627-3-3 of which Rs. 575-14-10 were met from Provincial Revenues. The figure is high, but no reduction in the average cost can take place without an increase of students, which seems difficult. For some reason or other, the Sanskrit College in spite of low fees has ceased to attract students. Students taking up Honours in History and Philosophy were allowed, as previously, to attend lectures at the Presidency College without paying any extra fees. A feature of the Sanskrit College, which, in the opinion of the Principal, deters many students from joining the college is that in the First and Third Year classes students have to read a fairly heavy Sanskrit course (in addition to that prescribed by the University) for which they receive no recognition from the University. The University alone can remedy matters. The college has secured affiliation in Mathematics in the Intermediate standard; the staff required was appointed after the close of the period under review. Although the numerical strength of the college increased slightly last year, the Principal is of the opinion that no permanent and satisfactory increase in the admission can be expected until the staff in English, Sanskrit and Philosophy are strengthened. This is however at least doubtful, since the strength of the college fell before the staff was reduced. As a matter of fact the reduction followed as a result of the falling off of students, and it is very difficult to justify an increase of staff for so small a number of students. No fees are charged to students studying in the Tôl or Oriental Department. The final report of the Committee appointed by Government to inquire into the condition of the Sanskrit College is still awaited.

13. Krishnagar College.—Mr. Egerton Smith was Principal of the college during the year. On 31st March 1925, Krishnagar College had 256 students as compared with 222 on the corresponding date of 1924. Of these students 231 were Hindus, 18 were Muhammadans and 7 were Indian Christians. The total cost of upkeep amounted last year to Rs. 1,22,855 of which Rs. 98,263 were provided from Provincial Revenues. The average annual cost of educating a student amounted last session to Rs. 493-6-3 of which Rs. 394-10-1 were borne by Provincial Revenues. As previously, the number of students in the Arts classes was smaller than that in the Science classes. Attendance at monthly examination which are held during term time is compulsory and the results of these examinations are taken into consideration in determining the fitness of a student for promotion to the next higher class or for being sent up for the University Examinations. Both the Hindu and Muhammadan hostels continued to occupy rented quarters during the year under review. A scheme for a specially built Hindu hostel has been approved. The present arrangement for the supply of water to the Science Laboratory is stated to be precarious and unsatisfactory. The urgent needs of the college are additional class rooms, a common room and a hostel for the Hindu students.

14. Chittagong College.—Shams-ul-Ulama Mr. Kamaluddin Ahmed was appointed to officiate as Principal during the year, Mr. J. R. Barrow proceeding on leave. On 31st March 1925 there were 537 students on the rolls of Chittagong College as against 546 on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of the total enrolment 339 were Hindus and 167 were Muhammadans, while 31 belonged to other communities. The total cost of maintaining the college amounted during the year under review to Rs. 1,16,387 of which Rs. 72,443 were met from Provincial Revenues. The average annual cost of educating a student amounted last year to Rs. 233-11-4 of which Rs. 145-7-6 were borne by Provincial Revenues. There has been of late a persistent demand for the opening of Botany and Geology classes at Chittagong College. In August 1924 a scheme for the construction of a hostel for Muhammadan students at a cost of Rs. 81,600 (including the cost of site) was approved by Government out of which a sum of Rs. 50,000 has been allotted for the work. This will remove a long-felt want and give considerable satisfaction to the students of the Muhammadan community. Much attention is given at the college to physical culture. A scheme for the expansion of the college is under preparation. The college magazine, which is a bilingual quarterly publication, was managed ably by a Board consisting of members of the teaching staff and students.

15. Rajshahi College.—The veteran principal of Rajshahi College Rai Kumudini Kanta Banerjee Bahadur retired and died amidst universal regret during the year and was succeeded by Mr. S. N. Maitra. Rajshahi College had 966 students on 31st March 1925 as compared with 908 on the corresponding date of the year preceding. Of these students 759 were Hindus, 206 were Muhammadans and 1 was a Buddhist. The total cost of maintaining the college amounted last year to Rs. 1,67,853 of which Rs. 83,676 were provided from Provincial Revenues. The average annual cost of educating a student amounted last session to Rs. 186-4-8 of which Rs. 92-13-11 were met from Provincial Revenues. The numbers in the Science classes were larger than those in the Arts classes. A new building for accommodating some of the Arts classes and the library was under construction, during the year. The system of medical examination of students instituted in 1921-22 was continued during the year under report. A series of lantern lectures was delivered at the college by a lecturer of the Bengal Social Service League. Roughly about one-half of the total number of students live in the college hostels and attached messes. Rowing is the most popular sport among the students. Rajshahi people dream one day of a University at Rajshahi and there are various schemes for the development of Rajshahi College. The inauguration of an agricultural department of the college, leading eventually to an agricultural college, is a project cherished by a large section of influential people there. Others want Law classes, M.A. classes in History, M.Sc. classes in Chemistry and so on. Considerable local support is forthcoming for these projects, and it is probable that with some increase in the general fee-rate as a basis, a beginning will be possible at no distant date.

16. Aided colleges.—During the year under review the number of aided colleges for men in the Presidency remained stationary at 16; the number of students reading in aided colleges rose, however, from 8,582 to 9,122. Of these students 7,603 were Hindus, and 1,259 were Muhammadans; the rest belonged to other communities. The total cost of maintaining aided colleges amounted last year to Rs. 9,86,351 of which Rs. 2,18,430 were provided from Provincial Revenues. The average annual cost of educating a student in an aided college amounted during the year 1924-25 to Rs. 108-2 of which Rs. 23-15-1 were met from Provincial Revenues, a figure eloquent of the small extent to which the college system outside the directly maintained Government colleges, rests for support on Government, especially when the large unaided system is taken into account. The fact is that by methods of mass production combined with low salaries (there are of course notable exceptions), the college system is able to render itself well nigh self-supporting, and will continue to do so until the University insists on higher standards and the state or the parent provides funds to enable these higher standards to be attained. Among aided colleges the Jagannath College, Dacca, has provision for teaching Dyeing and Commerce in addition to the ordinary arts and science subjects. The Serampore College continues to occupy the unique position of a University in regard to the teaching of Theology, besides being affiliated to the University of Calcutta in Arts and Science. During the year under report the Daulatpur Hindu Academy obtained affiliation in English and Philosophy up to the B.A. Honours standard. The science classes at St. Xavier's College are deservedly popular. The Wesleyan College, Bankura, has commenced teaching Chemistry up to the B.Sc. Honours standard, a welcome development in view of the high standards and traditions of this college. Victoria College, Comilla, secured affiliation in English (Honours), Mathematics (Pass) and Economics (Pass) standard. The Scottish Churches College continued to help in maintaining high collegiate standards in Calcutta and last session had about a hundred ex-students belonging to the University Post-Graduate classes.

17. Unaided colleges.—During the year under report there were in Bengal 13 unaided arts colleges for men having on their rolls 9,546 students on 31st March 1925. The corresponding figures for the previous year were 12 and 9,125 respectively. The increase in the number of unaided colleges for men was due as explained above to the starting of an Intermediate College at Howrah. The total cost of maintaining unaided colleges amounted last year to Rs. 8,11,932; the average annual cost of educating a student was Rs. 85-0-10. The South Suburban College, Bhowanipore, was re-named Ashutosh College after the late Sir Ashutosh Mukherjee, who was President of the Governing Body. The Vidyasagar College arranged to open classes in Botany for which additional class rooms were under construction during the year under report. The Central College, Calcutta, and the Uttarpara College both of which teach up to the Intermediate standard only, appear to be struggling for existence. The former has provision for teaching the arts course only and its fate is an eloquent tribute to the intensity of young Bengal's demand for instruction in natural science. In both cases, the roll number was below 100.

18. Advisory Committee for Higher Education.—At a meeting held on 29th November 1924 the Advisory Committee for Higher Education finally agreed to recommend the rate of 8⅓ per cent. to be contributed by the University of Dacca to the Provident Fund for teachers on condition that the same rate were adopted for the University of Calcutta (Post-Graduate Departments) and also on condition that Government would make a start with a provident fund for colleges.

The Committee also considered the question of standardising the Honours courses at the Universities of Calcutta and Dacca. In Calcutta the Honours course extends over a period of 2 years, while in Dacca it extends over 3 years. The three-year system was recommended by the Sadler Commission. Owing to this divergence of system many students who intend to take Honours are at present unwilling to join Dacca University. The general trend of opinion is in favour of making the Honours course of Calcutta University a three-year course as at Dacca. Sir Ewart Greaves, Vice-Chancellor of Calcutta University, indicated that time would be required to obtain the views of the Principals of Colleges affiliated to Calcutta University, and that there were many practical difficulties in the way. There is much to recommend the change since its real effect would be to reduce the period of general academic study for many students by one year, since a 3-year honours course would be sufficient academic preparation for large numbers of students, whereas a 2-year course is not, and a further 2-year M.A. course is entailed upon such students. It would be easy, by means of a co-operative system with the Post-Graduate Department to introduce the course in Calcutta City itself, but the mufassal problem presents difficulties. The question was postponed for the time being.

19. Conclusion.—There is still a remarkable demand everywhere for the study of science subjects. This is probably due, in part, to a vague idea that science study is in some way "vocational" in a sense in which Philosophy or History is not. So far as the demand is based on this belief, disappointment is in store for the enthusiasts of science. A Law Course, a Medical Course, a Teacher's Training Course, an Engineering Course, a Veterinary Course, are vocational, and a student, who means to take up one of these courses, will naturaly select that preliminary course of studies, whether arts or science, which best prepares for these courses. But if, like so many, he intends to take up none of these specialised courses, but is seeking merely a general academic course leading to a degree, and the vague undefined possibilities that follow it, the choice as between a scientific and a philosophical or literary course is one to be made with careful reference to his temperament, his tastes and his intellectual capacity, and should not be biassed by any misconception as to its "vocational" value. The Principals of certain colleges report that there are already signs of a reaction in favour of the arts course, a reaction due in part to the high fees for science which it has been necessary for colleges in self defence to impose. Science education was too long neglected in India, and it is all to the good that it has come to its own. The next step is to give it its rightful place in the schools, which it has as yet scarcely yet reached. But nothing is gained and much lost if the University and College students of Bengal, while learning of the chemical reactions of matter or the theories of the atom, know, as regards the mass of them, nothing of the lessons of history and the splendour of ancient literature and culture.

CHAPTER IV.

Secondary Education.

1. General statistics.—On the 31st March 1925 all classes of secondary schools in Bengal numbered 2,687 as compared with 2,619 on the corresponding date of the preceding year; the increase was due to the opening of new high and middle English schools. The number of pupils reading in secondary schools rose during the year under review from 352,181 to 368,520 or by 16,339. The cost of maintaining secondary schools in Bengal amounted to Rs. 1,12,82,516 as compared with Rs. 1,09,56,312 in the previous year. The average annual cost of each secondary school was Rs. 4,198-14-9 and the cost per pupil worked out at Rs. 30-9-10.

Secondary Education for Indian Boys.

[The secondary education of Indian girls and Europeans is dealt with in other chapters.]

2. Schools and pupils.—The number of secondary schools for Indian boys rose during the period under review from 2,498 to 2,566 or by 68. High and Middle English schools increased by 40 and 49 respectively, but Middle Vernacular schools decreased by 21. Purely vernacular education is not popular, and this accounts for the gradual elimination of Middle Vernacular schools from the Educational system. High and Middle English schools gained 8,598 and 7,859 pupils respectively; while Middle Vernacular schools lost 659 pupils.

3. Expenditure.—The total direct expenditure on secondary schools for Indian boys amounted during the year under review to Rs. 93,12,095 as compared with Rs. 89,91,941 in the preceding year. Of the total expenditure incurred in 1924-25 Rs. 16,60,397 were provided from public funds, and Rs. 76,51,698 were met from private sources; against Rs. 16,99,228 and Rs. 72,92,713 respectively in the previous year. Thus with the opening of new secondary schools under private management the expenditure from private funds increased, but that from public funds slightly decreased. At the close of the year the Legislative Council voted an increased annual grant of 3 lakhs of rupees for secondary education, but this did not take effect till after the close of the period under review. High English schools cost Rs. 71,03,121; Middle English schools cost Rs. 21,36,891; and Middle Vernacular schools Rs. 72,083.

4. Manual instruction.—As in the previous year 22 secondary schools in the Province possessed arrangements for imparting manual instruction. The extension of the scheme to other schools was not found possible owing to the lack of funds. The Conference of Educational Officers which met in Calcutta in February 1925 under the Presidentship of the Director of Public Instruction and considered inter alia the question of "vocational" and practical courses in high schools was of opinion that a Bengal high school is not the place for vocational training in the strict sense of the phrase; this might more properly be given in special institutions at the end of the general school course; it was however desirable that a choice from certain practical or non-literary subjects such as Carpentry, Weaving, Smithery, Agriculture, Gardening and Drawing should be introduced in high schools with a view to adding interest and diversion to the general course. The idea of giving instruction in such schools in subjects like type-writing and shorthand was deprecated. What the Bengali school boy of 12 to 16 needs, it would seem, is not so much vocational as "avocational" training, training that will take him away from his books, and help him to create hobbies, or teach him to use his hands in making things for himself, and to employ his spare time usefully and profitably; it confuses the issue and darkens thought if we conceive of secondary school education as being direct preparation for a vocation. As regards high schools the term "Vocational training" should disappear in favour of the more strictly correct phrase "practical training" or "practical arts training". Beyond all this, however looms the vaster question: "Does not rural Bengal need an entirely different type of school?" a school which while not definitely "vocational", will relate itself in every subject of its curriculum to the life of the village and prepare the boy not to desert it, but to stay in it and develop it?

5. "B" Classes.—The "B" or Science Course Classes attached to five Government schools in the Presidency had an enrolment of 110 pupils on 31st March 1925. Of the 36 candidates, who were sent up for the "School Final" examination, 25 were successful. The Examination has aimed at the creation in schools of a "modern" side, but it has operated within narrow limits, and has not achieved its aim, as for various reasons few boys have entered for the examination.

6. High schools under the Board of Secondary and Intermediate Education, Dacca.—The Board of Secondary Education, Dacca, has revised the curriculum of high schools under it. History and Geography have been made compulsory subjects and Science has been included in the curriculum. The small area allotted to the Board—the Board's jurisdiction extends to twelve high schools only—and the arrangement by which its existence is sanctioned from year to year places the Board in a very unsatisfactory position. The necessities of the position were summed up last year in the phrase "end or extend", which still stands as a statement of the two obvious alternatives, though pending a decision on University reform the adoption of either course presents difficulties. The Chairman of the Board makes the following observations, with regard to High School Education which may be regarded as indicative of the present general situation:—

> But there is no real life. All sense of larger purpose is gone out of school education. The old unquestioning faith in Western education has lost its hold on the country. And just as that faith was somewhat blind, the unfaith also is somewhat blind. The movement for "national" schools, captured the imagination of the country but did not last, and now a re-action has set in. The country has returned to the old schools, but it has returned to them with a heart that is sick. School-going has become mechanical and aimless. A complete reorganisation of intermediate and secondary education on a broader basis and with practical aims is the first, the greatest, and the most urgent need.

7. Experiments in Education.—The "Dalton Laboratory Plan", according to which each boy progresses in proportion to his own mental powers without retarding more capable boys, was introduced into the four top classes of the Armenitola High School, Dacca, in January 1925, by Mr. T. J. Collins, the Head Master, who made a special study of the subject while on leave in England last year. The two essentials of the scheme, viz., (1) capable teachers and (2) a variety of reference books have been provided as far as possible. The students are reported to be working better according to this method than they did under the class system; and the parents of the pupils, who raised some objection at first, are beginning to appreciate its value. His Excellency the Governor of Bengal visited the school on 11th February 1925 and wrote as follows:—

I was much interested also to see some of the classes working in laboratories on the Dalton Plan—a most encouraging departure from the old established didactic method of teaching.

The scheme is frankly experimental, and will be abandoned if it is proved that it is not suitable in Indian conditions. It is understood, however, to have succeeded at Sylhet in Assam, and it is hoped that the result at Dacca will be equally encouraging.

Another very interesting experiment, which is being carried on in this school, is the working out of "projects", that is the systematic study of selected subjects not part of the prescribed curricula by a pupil or a group of pupils under the direction of a teacher. The work turned out by some of the pupils is reported to be extremely promising.

In certain schools under the control of the Board of Secondary Education, Dacca, the system of "grading" boys in particular subjects for the purpose of teaching according to their efficiency, irrespective of the classes to which they belong, is being tried. The system has the advantage of helping the better boys to go forward, and of adapting teaching to the capacity of those who are behind-hand.

8. Deprovincialisation of Government high schools.—It was decided during the year under review to abandon the idea of establishing a Government zilla school at the headquarters of the district of Burdwan. A high school on an aided basis was started in the buildings constructed recently at a cost of Rs. 2,17,000 for the proposed zilla school. Some of the teachers of the local Municipal High School obtained appointments in the new school, new staff also being recruited. Part of the grant of the Municipal School, together with a proportion of the pupils, was transferred to the school. The school, called Burdwan Town School, has been placed under a strong representative committee of management with the District Magistrate as President. The site acquired in 1920 for the Zilla School together with the buildings erected thereon has been leased to the Managing Committee of the aided school at a nominal rent of Re. 1 per annum subject to the usual conditions imposed in such cases. The work of the school will be carefully watched, as its cost to Government is much less than that of a zilla school would have been, and if fully successful it will demonstrate the wisdom of the economical policy followed by Government in this instance.

The proposal to deprovincialise the High School at Jamalpur in the district of Mymensingh and to conduct it as an aided institution has been held in abeyance, and no general policy of deprovincialisation has been adopted.

9. The Matriculation Examination.—The results in the Matriculation Examination continue to be the subject of comment. The comparatively easy standard of the examination which makes it possible for large numbers of students who are not really ready for a University course to enter the University is being reflected in colleges as well as in schools. The remedy—the only remedy that really holds the field—lies in the creation by the Legislature of a representative authority which shall control and supervise secondary education. The problem is how to reconcile the rights and claims of the University of Calcutta in respect of secondary education with those of the community as a whole. So far the Gordian knot remains uncut. Meantime secondary education drifts without defined aims. There is probably no harder worked public body in India than the Syndicate of Calcutta University, but with all the good will in the world the busy professional men who compose it cannot give the school problem, which really needs the whole-time services of several first-rate administrators, one tithe of the attention which it really demands. It has become an administrative task, the duties of which demand undivided attention.

Until recently boys under the age of 16 years were debarred from appearing at the Matriculation Examination in terms of Section 3, Chapter XXX, of the University Regulations. This restriction has been removed and boys of 15 years of age may, under a recent regulation of the University of Calcutta, sanctioned by Government, be permitted to appear at the Matriculation Examination, provided that the Head Master certifies that the boy is fit for the responsibilities of college life. This is an ad-interim decision pending the final disposal of the question. The reform of the curriculum of the Matriculation Examination is overdue. The University submitted certain proposals for the necessary changes in 1922, but their acceptance in toto presented considerable difficulties, and Sir P. C. Mitter, as Minister of Education, thought it best to defer action till the formation of the Board of Secondary Education, which it was part of his policy to create. When Mr. Fazlul Haq became Minister, it became clear that the creation of a Board was likely to be in some measure delayed, and the views of Government in the Ministry of Education were communicated to the University. Two years had however been lost. Owing to the pre-occupation of the University with the post-graduate problem, a further year elapsed before the University's views on Government's communication were formulated and despatched. The proposals are now under the consideration of Government. Features of the proposals are the entire abandonment of an age-limit for the Matriculation, coupled with an age-limit of 15 for entrance to colleges, the adoption of the Vernacular as the medium of instruction and examination in schools, the abolition of a compulsory classical language, the prescription of history and geography as compulsory subjects and the enforcement, where possible, of practical work like carpentry and other forms of manual or practical training. Though there may be difference of opinion in regard to details, the proposals are in the main on sound lines, and Government's communication in 1924 dealt with the proposals from this point of view.

10. General conditions.—The condition of secondary schools in general and of high schools particularly continues to be unsatisfactory. In a considerable number of the aided schools some improvement has been effected by an increase in grants, fee-rates, and in teachers' salaries. But a large proportion of the schools under private management is reported to be struggling for existence. It was stated in the last report that the remedies for the situation were new sources of revenue, viz., new grants-in-aid, which cannot be large in the absence of new taxation, increased subscriptions or endowments, and increased fees. The department has been able to do something in regard to the first and the third sources. Three lakhs were voted in March last and in return for a grant from this source many schools have increased their resources by raising fees. The detailed report on the results belongs not to this, but to the next report. The essential problem however remains untouched, and only vastly greater resources can enable it to be tackled with any prospect of success. When one surveys the high school system in Bengal, with its well nigh thousand schools, recognised by the University, which are preparing candidates for a University education to which many of them can never attain, and in many cases are preparing them utterly badly, and yet are certainly preparing them for nothing else, one becomes convinced that the schools in a large number of cases are in urgent need of a new orientation. At present they are preparing their pupils for an examination, whereas their task is to prepare them for life. Probably—though here one must necessarily speak hesitatingly—at least one-third of the schools ought to cease to be recognised high schools, and become middle schools with a strong practical bias, which in many cases would in Bengal be agricultural. This would ensure that the genuine ordinary high school, worthy of the name, and competent to do its work, would not be weakened by the loss of pupils who now in many cases are lost to it owing to the attraction of the cheap fees of the undercutting bad high school. Bad schools, like bad money, drive out good. The whole problem however of the weak, struggling, and incompetent high school is one that needs the unremitting attention of first class whole-time thought. It is easy to say—" this is a bad school—let us refuse to recognise it ". This, however, the University regards as school-murder, and normally it shrinks from drastic action of the kind. The problem of educational administration is to discover the right type or types of school required in place of the scores of struggling and incompetent high schools now attempting an impossible task. This discovered, the administrator can then say: " change or cease to be ". For the great and immensely difficult task of laying down the lines of future school development in Bengal, and of directing and guiding this development detail by detail, the present organisation is unsuited. If custom had not staled us to its use, it would be clearly recognised that the work involved has passed beyond the possibility of effective administration by a body which is necessarily so limited in constitution and character, and so hopelessly overworked in other directions, as the existing recognising authority. It has itself recognised this by devolving the main bulk of its school administrative work to a Schools Committee, but this solution can only be regarded as an unsatisfactory and temporary palliative of a situation that requires more fundamental treatment.

11. Principles of distribution of grants-in-aid to secondary schools.—The Conference of Educational Officers referred to above discussed the question and arrived at the following decisions among others:—

(a) that a minimum expenditure scale of Rs. 540 (11 teachers) per month be insisted upon provided that the University insists on its own scale of minimum salaries.

(b) that no grants should be given to schools in which the scale of fees is less than the minimum prescribed by the Department. (This is a descending scale commencing at Rs. 3 in the highest class.)

(c) that financial inducements should be held out to non-Government schools to send their teachers for training and to employ trained teachers, by enabling them by special grants to pay trained teachers more highly.

(d) that the minimum grant to a high school should be Rs. 100 a month.

(e) that no grant should be given to a school, unless it has 150 boys at least, and its continued existence is educationally clearly desirable.

These general principles were followed, after the close of the period under review, in the distribution of the 3 lakhs grant for secondary education, though certain exceptions were made in special cases.

CHAPTER V.

Primary Education.

1. General statistics.—On the 31st March 1925 the Presidency of Bengal had 50,450 primary schools for boys and girls with an enrolment of 1,615,424 pupils as compared with 49,425 schools attended by 1,546,402 pupils on the corresponding date of 1924. A sum of Rs. 59,58,807 altogether was spent during the financial year 1924-25, for the upkeep of primary schools as against Rs. 56,73,154 in the year preceding. The average maintenance charges of each primary school amounted to Rs. 118-1-10 annually, and the cost of educating each pupil was Rs. 3-11.

Primary education of Indian boys.

(The primary education of Indian girls and Europeans is dealt with in other chapters.)

2. Schools.—The number of primary schools for Indian boys rose from 36,578 to 37,071 or by 493. The following table shows the distribution of primary schools for Indian boys (together with their enrolment) in the different parts of the Presidency during the last two years:—

Division.	1923-24.		1924-25.
	Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils.
Burdwan	8,273	259,084	8,458	268,286
Presidency (excluding Calcutta).	6,215	227,363	6,311	231,159
Calcutta	346	20,517	410	24,912
Dacca	9,091	321,780	9,090	326,514
Chittagong	5,679	209,117	5,910	235,528
Rajshahi	6,974	218,034	6,892	223,157
Total ..	36,578	1,255,904	37,071	1,309,556

3. Pupils.—At the close of the year under report primary schools for boys were attended by 1,309,556 pupils (including 52,997 girls) as compared with 1,255,904 children (including 53,198 girls) in 1923-24. In addition to this number 164,906 pupils were in the primary department of secondary schools on 31st March 1925 against 152,468 children reading in secondary schools in the previous year. Pupils reading in boys' primary schools and in the primary department of secondary schools together, therefore, numbered 1,474,462 in the year under review as compared with 1,408,372 pupils in the year preceding, an increase of 66,090 children.

4. Relative progress of Hindus and Muhammadans.—Primary schools for Indian boys were attended by 597,265 Hindu and 687, 399 Muhammadan pupils on 31st March 1925. The corresponding figures for 1923-24 were 575,637 and 657,204 respectively. Thus the number of Hindu pupils rose by 21,628 and of Muhammadan pupils by 30,195 during the year under review. Of the total Hindu male population 5·6 per cent. and of the total Muhammadan population 5·3 per cent. were in boys' primary schools on 31st March 1925; the percentages for the preceding year were 5·5 and 5·07 respectively.

5. Expenditure.—The total cost of maintaining primary schools for Indian boys amounted during the year under report to Rs. 49,26,451 as compared with Rs. 46,87,765 in the year preceding. Of the total expenditure Rs. 2,359,658 or 47·89 per cent. were contributed by public funds, while Rs. 25,66,793 or 52·11 per cent. were met from private sources. In the year 1923-24 public and private funds represented 49·16 and 50·84 per cent. respectively of the total expenditure on primary schools for Indian boys. The expenditure from public funds was made up of Rs. 15,39,775 contributed by Provincial Revenues and Rs. 6,97,323 and Rs. 1,22,560 by District and Municipal funds respectively. The corresponding figures for the previous year were Rs. 15,24,200, Rs. 6,67,786 and Rs. 1,12,835 respectively.

6. Panchayati Union schools.—Funds were allotted during the year under review for the construction of 84 Panchayati Union schools for boys. As a result of an inquiry instituted last year in connection with the expansion of the Panchayati Union scheme it is considered desirable to push forward the scheme to its completion. A sum of Rs. 1,00,000 was provided in the Education budget for 1925-26 for the establishment of new Panchayati Union schools in the Province. The Panchayati Union schools have so far been run on a Lower Primary basis in conformity with the standing orders of the Department, but with the introduction of the revised curriculum for primary schools in which no distinction between the Lower Primary and the Upper Primary course is retained, the question has arisen whether these schools should not teach the full five years' course equivalent to the old Upper Primary standard. It appears, however, to be necessary that pending the completion of the Panchayati Union scheme these schools should confine themselves to the three years' preliminary course unless District Boards undertake to supplement the Government aid by contributions from their own funds for the maintenance of the two years' extra course.

7. Primary schools under Mr. Biss's proposals.—A recurring sum of Rs. 75,000 was available for the introduction in Municipal and Union Board areas of schemes of primary education development deriving their impetus and character from the two reports of Mr. Biss. During the year under review 3 Municipalities in the Presidency, viz., Dacca, Budge-Budge and Howrah, received sanction to the introduction of schemes of free Primary Education on the lines of Mr. Biss's proposals. The Dacca Municipality has started 3 schools in the first instance to serve equally Moslem and non-Moslem localities. The Budge-Budge Municipality has decided to devote the grants available in the first few years to the construction and maintenance of school houses. The number of boys aged 6 to 11 years in the Howrah Municipality being over 4,000 the Municipality has introduced the scheme tentatively in 5 primary schools having an enrolment of 750 pupils.

The following local bodies submitted schemes of free Primary Education which received sanction after the close of the year 1924-25:—

1. Aichganti Union (Khulna).
2. Narayanpur Union (24-Parganas).
3. Kavirajpur Union (24-Parganas).
4. Palong Union (Faridpur).
5. Berhampur Municipality.
6. Comilla Municipality.
7. Sherpur Municipality (Bogra).
8. Panihati Municipality (24-Parganas).
9. Kurumgram Union (Birbhum).

Up to the close of the year under report sanction of Government had been accorded to the inauguration in connection with such schemes of 220 primary schools in 60 Union and Municipal Boards. The sanctioned projects involved a recurring expenditure of Rs. 71,714 annually. Further progress was therefore impossible without the provision of additional funds. Additional provision was made after the close of the year under report.

8. Mr. Biss's proposals and the Panchayati Union scheme compared.—Mr. Biss's programme was far more ambitious than that aimed at by the Panchayati Union School scheme. The former aims at providing each Municipal or Union Board area with a central and one or more ancillary schools according to the needs of the locality on a scale of pay higher than is customary in existing primary schools, whereas the Panchayati Union scheme sets out to provide each Union with one school only and that too of a cheap type. The expenditure on the former is divided equally between Government and the Local Body, while that on the latter is borne exclusively by Government. Progress along the lines laid down by Mr. Biss must, of necessity, be slow unless Municipal and Union Boards come forward more readily with their share of the cost. Several projects even after sanction by Government had to be abandoned on account of the inability or unwillingness of the local bodies to make their pledged contribution. The Panchayati Union school scheme as a contribution towards the solution of the problem of the spread of literacy, has solid merits, but it also possesses defects, most of them fortunately remediable with increased funds. But more and more the thinker on the problem of primary education is forced to the view that everything so far attempted in this sphere merely skirts the problem. No solution of the problem is possible without a comprehensive bill which places the responsibility for the foundation of schools wherever they are needed upon local bodies, and in one way or other compels them to raise the bulk of the necessary funds within the area affected. It is for the statesman and the politician, and not the educationist, to say whether this essential basic foundation of the educationist's future work can possibly be laid, or whether the idea, and with it all future hope of development, must be put aside as a chimaera of the imagination.

9. Primary education in Calcutta.—The bulk of privately-managed primary schools in Calcutta continued to be miserably housed. On 31st March 1925, the city had 410 primary schools attended by 24,912 pupils as compared with 346 schools with an enrolment of 20,517 pupils on 31st March 1924. The increase was due to the inclusion of 3 suburban municipalities in the Corporation of Calcutta during the year under report. Of the total number of pupils 15,351 were Hindus and 8,044 were Muhammadans. The number of boys reading in primary schools and in the primary department of secondary schools together numbered 34,785 on 31st March 1925, as compared with 29,432 in the previous year. The primary schools in Calcutta cost Rs. 1,96,590 in the last year against Rs. 1,70,324 in the year preceding. Of this amount Rs. 86,293 was contributed by public funds, while Rs. 1,10,297 came from private sources. During the year under review the Corporation of Calcutta adopted a five-year programme for the expansion of primary education. It spent during the last year Rs. 24,308 on the upkeep of the free primary schools for boys and Rs. 27,996 on other primary schools.

10. Curriculum.—The revised curriculum for primary schools was introduced in January 1925 into all the districts of the Presidency. It is a compromise between the two curricula formerly in use in the two parts of Bengal. The old curriculum of Western Bengal has been divested of superfluous items, while the Eastern Bengal curriculum has been made more comprehensive by the supply of certain deficiencies. The conference of educational officers which met in Calcutta in February, 1925 came to the decision that public examination at the end of class V should be revived. The question has therefore again come under review by Government.

11. General remarks.—As stated in the last annual report, higher pay for teachers, extension of training facilities, and the introduction, where possible, of free primary education are recognised as desirable palliatives of the present unsatisfactory condition of primary education in Bengal. But in the absence of a comprehensive scheme of advance, which honestly faces and solves the financial problem which underlies the whole question, they will remain palliatives only.

12. School post offices.—The number of teachers who worked as Postmasters during the year under review was 536 against 544 in the preceding year. The remuneration for postal work varied as before from Rs. 3 to Rs. 16 a month.

CHAPTER VI.

Training of Teachers for Indian Schools.

A.—Training of Men Teachers.

1. Training Colleges, General.—The two Government secondary training colleges had on their rolls 107 students on 31st March 1925 as compared with 92 on the corresponding date of the preceding year.

2. The David Hare Training College.—Twenty-nine students were under training in the B. T. and 14 in the L. T. class of the David Hare Training College on the last day of the year under report. The cost of maintaining the college was Rs. 54,913 as compared with Rs. 56,952 spent in the previous year. Twenty-two out of 29 students passed the B. T. and 8 out of 14 students passed the L. T. Examination during the year.

The new buildings for the Training College, the attached hostel, and the demonstration school at Ballygunj, are practically complete. Lectures on school hygiene and sanitation, vocational guidance, scout craft, corporate life among students, and the aims and scope of the League of Nations, were delivered at the Training College by gentlemen specially competent in those subjects. A beginning was made in experimental work in the way of educational measurements.

3. The Teachers' Training College, Dacca.—The college had 56 students in the B. T. and 8 students in the L. T. class on 31st March 1925. Of these students 47 belonged to Bengal, and 17 came from Assam. In addition to this number there were 2 scholars who were engaged in research work at the Training College. The cost of maintaining the Training College amounted during the year under report to Rs. 84,716 as compared with Rs. 82,064 spent for the purpose in the preceding year. The college presented 57 candidates at the B. T. and 7 at the L. T. Examination; 52 were successful in the former and 5 in the latter Examination. The announcement that a Government post would be guaranteed to the best B. T. of the year was a considerable incentive to the students. The most important event of the last session was the Educational Exhibition which was organised at the college and opened by Lady Hermione Lytton on behalf of His Excellency the Governor of Bengal who was unable to perform the function owing to illness. The Exhibition, which in reality was an endeavour to show the activities of the Training College in the direction of training, research, and educational experiment, served a useful purpose. It attracted a large number of visitors—teachers as well as others interested in school work—from Dacca and outside. Mr. West is to be congratulated on its success, for which he was mainly responsible. Saturday lectures by gentlemen not members of the staff were resumed last session and several interesting and instructive discourses were given by members of the Dacca University staff and others.

4. These two colleges are doing very useful work within their sphere of action Further facilities for secondary teachers' training are however necessary, and Bengal will have to create another college at no very distant date.

5. Vernacular Training Schools.—The number of Normal or First Grade Training Schools in Bengal remained stationary at 6, viz., 5 directly managed by Government and 1 under aided management. These schools had altogether 371 pupils on their rolls on 31st March 1925 as compared with 399 on the corresponding date of 1924. The cost of maintaining the Vernacular Training Schools amounted during the year under review to Rs. 1,06,151 of which Rs. 1,01,451 were provided from Provincial Revenues. The corresponding figures for the preceding year were Rs. 1,11,757 and Rs. 1,06,264 respectively. Out of 172 candidates who appeared at the Final Examination, 135 were declared to have passed.

The Conference of Educational Officers, which met in Calcutta in February 1925, was of the opinion (a) that the course of studies in Normal Schools should extend over 2 years as at present in Eastern Bengal, and (b) that admissions to Normal Schools should be confined to Matriculates and that the value of the stipends should be raised to Rs. 10 a month. Instruction in "First aid" is a feature of the work of the Hooghly Training School, and teachers trained in this subject are reported to be in great demand. A boy scout organisation has been in existence in connection with the Chittagong Normal School for about 7 years.

6. Guru and Muallim Training Schools.—On the last day of the year under report the Presidency had 99 Guru and Muallim Training Schools with an enrolment of 1,765 pupils as compared with 99 schools with 1,740 pupils on the 31st March 1924. Of the 99 schools 5 were conducted as grant-in-aid schools; the rest were managed directly by the Department The total cost of maintaining the Guru and Muallim Training Schools amounted during the financial year 1924-25 to Rs. 2,87,455 of which Rs. 2,81,732 were borne by Provincial Revenues. The corresponding figures in 1923-24 were Rs. 2,96,017 and Rs. 2,82,979 respectively. Out of 1,532 candidates who appeared in the Final Examination from Guru and Muallim Training Schools during the year under review, 1,237 were successful, as compared with 1,635 candidates and 1,261 passes in the preceding year. Buildings for the central Guru-training Schools at Suri and Midnapur were under construction during the year under review. The success of Guru-training Schools even of the new type is considered to be doubtful by some Inspectors of Schools in view of the low initial qualifications of the gurus which admit of no decent superstructure. The only remedy is increased pay of teachers, which when possible will attract a better type. The difficulty is one which faces any training system which works in the earlier stages of educational progress, and will be gradually removed, as it has been removed in Western countries, only by the growth of a higher general level of educational attainment. Of itself, of course, training, without other developmental agencies, can do little. Some Guru-training Schools afford facilities for experiments in gardening by parcelling out small plots among the gurus. A few schools have museums or collection of suitable objects attached to them.

7. Half-yearly Examination of Secondary School teachers—Six candidates appeared in the Examination out of whom 5 were declared to have passed.

B.—The Training of Women Teachers.

8. Training Colleges for Women.—The proposal for starting under the direct control of the Department a Training College, where women teachers employed in secondary schools in the Province may be afforded facilities for training, continues to be in abeyance. On 31st March 1925 the Training class attached to the Diocesan College (which is aided by the Department) had 11 pupils in the B. T. class. The cost of maintaining the Training Department amounted during the year under review to Rs. 8,196 the whole of which was provided from Provincial Revenues. The college presented 11 candidates at the last B. T. Examination of whom 10 were successful. The Loreto House Training class presented 5 students at the L. T. Examination all of whom were successful.

9. Training School for Women.—On the 31st March 1925, the Presidency had 10 Training Schools and classes (with 178 pupils) which had facilities for training women teachers working in primary schools and the lower classes of secondary schools. The corresponding figures for the previous year were 11 and 189 respectively. The decrease in the number of training schools from 11 to 10 was due to the closing down of St. Margaret's Training class, the pupils of which have joined the United Missionary Training class. Seven of these training schools were managed by Christian and Brahmo missions. The total cost of maintaining these schools amounted during the year under review to Rs. 70,053 of which Rs. 61,046 were provided from Provincial Revenues; the corresponding figures for the preceding year were Rs. 71,323 and Rs. 59,623 respectively. The permanent retention and reorganisation of the Training School for Moslem Women Teachers, a Government Institution, was approved by Government, after the close of the period under review. The scheme of reorganisation to which effect is to be given when funds are available, provides for additional stipends, two additional mistresses for the attached practising school, additional rent for increased accommodation, and an increase in the salary of the school clerk.

The Training classes maintained at the Brahmo Girls' and the United Missionary Society's schools are reported to be attracting well-qualified pupils—mostly Matriculates and a few who have read up to the I. A. standard. On the other hand the qualifications of the pupils who are admitted into the Hindu Widows' Training class and the Moslem Training class are decidedly low. The results of the Training School Examinations during the year under report were as follows:—

	Candidates presented.	Candidates passed.
(1) Senior Vernacular Teachership Examination ..	29	26	West Bengal.
(2) Junior Teachership Examination	60	46	West Bengal.
(3) Teachership Examination	22	17	East Bengal.

10. General observations.—The officiating Inspectress of Schools, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, observes that the number of trained teachers supplied annually by the Training classes is very much below the demand; indeed the demand is so great that every candidate presented at the examination secures a post before the result is out. Like her predecessor in office the Officiating Inspectress of Schools urges the appointment of a Physical Instructress to conduct classes in Physical Training in all Training Schools. The Inspectress of Schools, Dacca Circle, is of opinion that the facilities for training women teachers which exist at present in the 3 Eastern Divisions are lamentably inadequate.

CHAPTER VII.

Professional and Technical Education.

1. Law Colleges and Classes.—Arrangements for imparting legal education existed, as previously, in 3 institutions in the Presidency, viz., the Calcutta University Law College, the Law Department of the Ripon College and the University of Dacca. The three institutions had altogether 3,634 pupils on 31st March 1925 as compared with 3,140 on the corresponding date of the year preceding. Of these students 3,076 were Hindus, 526 were Muhammadans, and 32 belonged to other communities. The upkeep of the University Law College and the Law Department of the Ripon College cost altogether Rs. 2,47,885 during the year ending 31st March 1925, as compared with Rs. 2,27,683 in the previous year. The cost of maintaining the Law Classes at the University of Dacca, which has not been shown separately in the University returns, has been included in the table under the head "Universities". Out of 1,369 candidates who appeared at the B. L. Examination in 1924-25, 633 were successful.

2. Medical Colleges and Schools.—As in previous years provision for the study of medicine was made in three institutions in Bengal, viz., the Calcutta Medical College, the Carmichael Medical College, Belgachia, and the School (strictly College) of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene. The three institutions together had 1,682 students (including 12 women) on 31st March 1925 as compared with 1,708 pupils on the corresponding date in the year preceding. Of these students 1,486 were Hindus, 140 were Muhammadans, 41 were Indian Christians, and 15 were of other communities. The cost of maintaining the 3 institutions amounted during the year under review to Rs. 10,44,220 as compared with Rs. 9,87,741 spent for their upkeep in 1923-24. Out of 457 candidates who appeared in the Final Examination from those institutions 217 passed.

On the 31st March 1925 there were in the Presidency 8 Medical Schools with 1,851 students (including 37 women) on their rolls as against 5 Medical Schools having 1,478 pupils in 1923-24. The upkeep of these Medical Schools cost Rs. 2,70,736 as compared with Rs. 2,49,813 in the year preceding. Of 402 students, who appeared in the Final Examination from Medical Schools, 302 were declared to have passed.

3. The Bengal Engineering College.—Mr. Richardson the Principal was on leave during part of the period under review. Mr. A. Macdonald made a competent officiating Principal. On the 31st March 1925 the Bengal Engineering College had 321 pupils on its rolls, viz., 138 in the Civil Engineering Classes, 80 in the Mechanical and Electrical Engineering Classes, 51 in the Mining Engineering Classes, and 52 in the Industrial Classes, as against 293 students on the corresponding date of 1924. The total of 321 was composed of 268 Hindus, 29 Muhammadans, 22 Europeans and Anglo-Indians, and 2 Indian Christians. The sum expended on the upkeep of the college amounted to Rs. 3,27,546 including Rs. 2,93,440 borne by Provincial Revenues: the corresponding figures for the preceding year were Rs. 3,08,001 and Rs. 2,72,706 respectively. The quantity of work turned out by the College Workshop during the year under report was valued approximately at Rs. 13,200. The results of the College in the various examinations held during 1924-25, are noted below:—

Examinations.	Candidates.	Passes.
B. E.	21	18
I. E.	49	25
Associateship in Mechanical Engineering	3	3
Diploma in Mechanical and Electrical Engineering ..	22	14
Diploma in Mining	13	10

The construction of the new barrack for European and Anglo-Indian students and the Activated Sludge Sewerage system was completed during the year under review. The latter is a system of great interest, which has been adopted in India so far to an extremely limited extent. The Professorship of Civil Engineering was vacant. "This", the officiating Principal observes, "is fair neither to the students nor to their future employers". The situation was due to financial stringency, and budget provision for the post has since been made. The improved courses in Mechanical and Electrical Engineering introduced since 1922 have resulted in an increase in the work of the teaching staff, particularly in the Electrical Department, and the appointment of additional staff has become an urgent necessity. The Electrical Artisan Classes which are now attended by many students of the bhadralog type are reported to be doing very useful work. The Annual Mining Camp was held at the Central Kirkond Colliery in Jharia where underground and surface Surveys were made. The guarantee of an appointment to the Indian Service of Engineers, which was previously given to the students of the Bengal Engineering College, was withdrawn during the year in accordance with orders issued by the Government of India, but no announcement has been made as to the system of recruitment which it is proposed to apply in future to appointments in the Indian Service of Engineers and the Bengal Engineering Service. The withdrawal of the guarantee was made for certain administrative reasons which the department recognised to be unchallengeable. The College is confident that it can more than hold its own in the struggle for public appointments without such guarantee.

But it is not to public appointments that the College mainly directs its efforts. No better summary of the aims of the College exists than that given by His Excellency Sir John Kerr when he distributed the prizes in June 1925.

> This College stands for the Indianisation of the Engineering profession in Bengal It is only in recent years that engineering has been regarded by parents in Bengal as a suitable profession for their sons, and as an occupation worthy of the best brains and ability that Bengal can produce. The College, therefore, is engaged in pioneer work on behalf of engineering as a profession for the young men of Bengal, and on the success of its work depend very largely the future and the very existence of that profession in Bengal. Hitherto industrial concerns, and to some extent Government also, have been compelled to go to England and elsewhere for engineers of full qualifications and attainments, but if Bengal can turn out engineers equal to those who have obtained their training in other countries, it is clear that they would be in a strong position in competing for employment locally . . . . Firms which pay large salaries to engineers imported from Europe have got to be persuaded that the Indian Engineers trained in India would meet their needs. It is essential, therefore, that this College, as the nursery of the Engineering profession in Bengal, should be equipped and maintained at the highest possible standard, and no considerations, political or financial, must be allowed to lower its standard.

4. The Ahsanullah School of Engineering, Dacca.—Mr. Henderson was Principal throughout the year under review. On the 31st March 1925 the Ahsanullah School of Engineering, Dacca, had an enrolment of 478 students (268 in the Upper Subordinate, 125 in the Lower Subordinate and 85 in the Artisan Classes) as against 481 pupils on the corresponding date of 1924. Of these students 436 were Hindus, 39 were Muhammadans, and 3 were of other creeds. There were besides 46 passed students who were undergoing practical training in the school workshop and with the Public Works Department, Railway Companies and other authorities. The cost of maintaining the school amounted to Rs. 1,14,671 during the year 1924-25 of which Rs. 90,071 were met from Provincial Revenues. The corresponding figures for the previous year were Rs. 1,04,679 and Rs. 79,388 respectively. The term of 5 years for which the school was affiliated to the Overseer Examination Board having expired last session the Institution was inspected by Messrs. Weston and Gwyther on behalf of the Board with a view to its re-affiliation for a further period of 5 years. The Engineering School has succeeded in recent years in attracting candidates of a higher calibre than formerly. With the growing intensity of the struggle for appointments, and the increased willingness of the middle class to enter upon practical or industrial vocations, the process will doubtless continue. Care has had to be taken to ensure that Moslems are admitted in reasonable numbers to the school, which might not be the case if a purely merit or mark basis of admission were adopted. The permanent duplication of the Upper Subordinate Classes had not been sanctioned at the close of the period under review, but it followed shortly after. Additional sections had, however, with the approval of Government been opened temporarily in all the Upper Subordinate Classes, and an additional staff of 6 teachers appointed to cope with the increased work. The main hostel of the Engineering School is still located in the southern wing of the old Secretariat Building, a part of which is also occupied by the University of Dacca; the joint occupation of this building has proved inconvenient in many ways. The problem of increased hostel accommodation has become more pronounced as a result of the duplication of the Upper Subordinate Classes, and the financing of the approved scheme for a new hostel is a very urgent matter, which it is hoped will not long be delayed. During the year under review the school workshop turned out work valued at Rs. 7,173.

Of 17 candidates who appeared in the Pleaders' Survey Examination held at this centre only 5 were successful. The Practical Survey Training of Overseer and Sub-overseer students was carried on as usual for about 6 weeks in the local and mufassal fields. Thirteen of the Artisan students completed their training last session. A proposal for introducing a new Mechanical and Electrical Engineering course of the University type which was recommended by the Dacca Vocational and Technical Education Committee is now before Government, but the difficulties are considerable, not the least of them being the view which is strongly held by some that suitable practical training cannot be arranged for a largely increased number of University trained engineers.

The results of the Upper and Lower Subordinate Examinations are noted below:—

	Presented.	Passed.
(1) Upper Subordinate Examination (Part B)	58	43
(2) Upper Subordinate Examination (Part A)	124	58
(3) Lower Subordinate Examination	67	26

5. The Mainamati Survey School.—On the last day of the year under review there were 86 students including 4 Kanungoes on the rolls of the Survey School at Mainamati as compared with 80 pupils on the corresponding date of 1924. The upkeep of the school cost Rs. 17,367 of which Rs. 12,969 were provided from Provincial Revenues; the corresponding figures in 1923-24 were Rs. 14,736 and Rs. 11,164 respectively. Pending the completion of the permanent school house for which funds were allotted last year the Survey School continues to occupy temporary quarters. The syllabus for the first and second year classes has been modified with a view to reducing the length of the 1st year course from 14 to 12 months. Twenty-five students were sent up for the Final Survey Examination of whom 18 were successful. In the Amin Examination 44 students passed out of 53 who sat for the test. A revised scale of pay was sanctioned by Government last year for the teachers employed in the Survey School at Mainamati.

6. The Government School of Art, Calcutta.—Of the 5 Art Schools (1 Government, 3 Aided and 1 Unaided) which were returned on 31st March 1925, the Government School of Art, Calcutta, is the most important. It had on its rolls 361 students on the last day of the year as against 340 in the year preceding. Of these students 343 were Hindus, 10 were Muhammadans, and 8 were of other communities.

The cost of maintaining the school amounted last year to Rs. 47,987 of which Rs. 40,229 were provided from Provincial Revenues; in the year preceding the upkeep of the school cost Rs. 49,735 of which Rs. 45,244 were met from Provincial Revenues. With a view to making the school more self-supporting increased rates of fees were introduced in the School of Art with effect from July 1924; the number of free and half-free studentships was also reduced. As many as 33 scholarships were awarded last year by the various local bodies and states to their nominees under instruction in the School of Art. Mr. Percy Brown, Principal of the School, held charge during the greater part of the year.

7. The Government Commercial Institute, Calcutta.—At the close of the year under review there were 25 Commercial schools and classes (Government 1, Aided 6 and Unaided 18) for imparting Commercial education to Indian boys. The Government Commercial Institute, Calcutta, had 230 pupils on 31st March 1925 as compared with 349 students on the corresponding date of 1924. Mr. Sen continued to officiate as Principal. The Day and Evening Classes of the Institute were attended altogether by 89 and 485 students respectively last session. The cost of maintaining the Institute amounted during the year under review to Rs. 53,267 of which Rs. 38,700 were met from Provincial Revenues; the corresponding figures for 1923-24 being Rs. 54,721 and Rs. 34,554 respectively. Of 55 students who appeared last session in the Final Commercial Course Examination 30 were successful. In the special Commercial Course Examination 158 candidates appeared and of these 121 passed. Classes were started for the first time last year at the Commercial Institute for preparing students for examinations of the Institute of Bankers. The Imperial Bank of India and other Banking Institutions have declared their intention to throw open responsible posts to passed students of these classes. To give the students greater facilities for studying Commercial Geography and allied subjects the question of providing the Institute with a Commercial Museum has been raised.

The fee-rates for the Evening classes were slightly enhanced last session, greater uniformity being introduced in the matter of charges. The report of the committee appointed by Government in connection with the institution of a separate examination in Accountancy in Bengal i still under the consideration of Government. The whole future of the institute, especially the suggestion with regard to its deprovincialisation with a block grant, came under consideration during the year, and after its close a strong committee consisting mainly of business men was appointed to make recommendations.

8. The Government Weaving Institute.—The Government Weaving Institute, Serampore, returned 79 pupils on 31st March 1925 as compared with 118 students who were under training on the corresponding date of 1924. The abolition of stipends previously available (although 6 of these were restored last session) and the commencement of the session in November instead of July which is customary in other schools, are reported to have kept admissions below the normal figure. The upkeep of the Institute cost Rs. 51,074 of which Rs. 50,493 were borne by Provincial Revenues; the corresponding figures for the previous year were Rs. 45,251 and Rs. 44,609 respectively. Forty students appeared in the Final Examination of whom 26 were awarded diplomas. Of the 55 students who appeared in the last London City and Guilds Examination 44 were successful, 5 being awarded bronze and silver medals for proficiency. Nine out of the 12 women who were admitted last session completed their training.

Demonstration parties were organised by the Institute as in previous years at important centres with a view to explaining to local weavers the value of improved appliances. Persistent efforts were also made during the year under review to introduce fly-shuttle looms among local weavers. A hand book containing useful information on small hand and power loom factories was prepared for the guidance of people interested in the matter. The outlying and peripatetic weaving centres continued to function effectively.

9. Vocational courses at other centres.—The subjoined table shows briefly the progress made in vocational courses conducted at other centres:—

Centre.	Subjects taken up.	Candidates.	Passed.
Jagannath Intermediate College	I Sc. Examination with Dyeing.	82	44
Ditto. ..	I. A. Examination with Commerce.	78	30
Calcutta University ..	B—Commerce Examination	107	34
Dacca University ..	Ditto ..	32	17

10. Of the Professional and Technical Schools returned on 31st March 1925, 3 were Music, and 4 were Agricultural Schools. The former had 66 pupils and cost Rs. 1,122 during the year under report; the latter had 83 pupils and cost Rs. 6,649.

CHAPTER VIII.

Education of Indian Girls and Women.

1. Institutions and pupils.—The year 1924-25 closed with 13,494 recognised schools of all types for Indian girls with a total enrolment of 317,873 pupils; in the preceding year there were 12,961 recognised schools for girls with 301,997 pupils. Both schools and pupils thus increased in number during the year under review, the former by 533 or by 4·1 per cent. and the latter by 15,876 or by 5·2 per cent. Of the total number of pupils reading in recognised schools for girls on 31st March 1925, 132,217 were Hindus and 178,191 were Muhammadans, the rest being drawn from other communities. The number of unrecognised schools for Indian girls in 1924-25 was 230 with an enrolment of 6,477 pupils, as compared with 243 schools and 6,888 pupils in the year preceding. Of the pupils reading in unrecognised schools on 31st March 1925, 3,389 were Hindus, 2,941 were Muhammadans and 147 were of other communities.

2. Controlling Agency.—In 1924-25 the Female Inspecting Agency consisted, as in the previous year, of 2 Inspectresses and 12 Assistant Inspectresses of Schools. Miss Irons returned from leave and resumed charge of the East Bengal Circle. During the year Miss Brock, Inspectress of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, proceeded on leave preparatory to retirement, and was succeeded by Miss H. B. Bose. The value of Miss Brock's energetic and competent work for the education of Indian girls, during a period of 20 years, can scarcely be over-estimated, and her departure constitutes a heavy loss to the Department, and to female education generally. The Assistant Inspectresses of Schools were divided equally between the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions and the Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions.

3. Collegiate Education, Arts Colleges.—During the year 1924-25 the number of Arts Colleges for Women remained unaltered. Of four such institutions two, Bethune College, Calcutta, and the Intermediate Department of the Eden High School, Dacca, are maintained by Government, one, the Diocessan College is aided by the Department, and one, Loreto House, is unaided.

On the last day of the year under review, Bethune College had on its rolls 140 students, as compared with 134 on the corresponding date of 1923-24. The cost of maintaining the College amounted during the year 1924-25 to Rs. 72,853 (as compared with Rs. 71,326 in the year preceding) of which Rs. 63,478 were borne by Provincial Revenues. The average annual cost of educating a student worked out at Rs. 505-14-9. The College presented 26 students at the B.A. and 30 students at the I.A. Examination; of the former 21 and of the latter 26 were successful. A course of valuable lectures on "Health in the Home" was delivered at the Bethune College last session under the auspices of the Bengal Social Service League.

There were 26 students at the Intermediate classes attached to the Eden High School, Dacca, on 31st March 1925 as compared with 25 on the corresponding date of 1924. Eleven candidates appeared at the Intermediate Examination in Arts, all of whom were successful. The cost of maintaining the Intermediate Department amounted during the year 1924-25 to Rs. 20,298 as compared with Rs. 16,300 in the previous year.

The Diocesan College had 62 students on its rolls against 64 in the preceding year. The upkeep of the College cost Rs. 24,182. It passed 8 candidates out of 10 presented at the B. A. Examination. All 13 candidates who were presented at the I. A. Examination were successful. Extra courses were given at the College last session in needlework, embroidery and home-nursing.

There were 22 pupils on 31st March 1925 at Loreto House as compared with 25 on the corresponding date of 1924. The cost of the College classes of the institution amounted to Rs. 8,420. Five candidates were presented at the I.A. Examination and all passed; at the B. A. Examination also five students were sent up and all five passed.

4. Secondary Education.—(i) HIGH SCHOOLS.—The number of High English schools for Indian girls rose during the year 1924-25 from 14 to 16; the increase in number was due to the starting of an aided High English school at Dinajpur and an unaided High school in the town of Dacca. There were 3,790 pupils reading in High English schools for girls on 31st March 1925 as compared with 3,166 in the preceding year. Of the 16 High schools for girls 4 were managed by Government, 11 were aided and 1 was unaided. Special mention may be made of the Gokhale Memorial Girls' School, Calcutta, which was opened in 1920, by Lord Sinha. The maintenance charges of the school amount to over 2,300 rupees a month of which a sum of Rs. 650 a month is contributed by Government. The school has discarded the prescribed syllabus of studies and follows a special curriculum which covers six years. English is taught by European Mistresses. The object of the school is not to prepare pupils for examinations but to make them fit for the duties of life. At the same time the authorities feel that it is not possible for a modern school to disregard examinations and though they have not so far presented pupils for the Matriculation Examination, they cannot avoid a decision on the point in the near future. The supporters of the school including Mrs. P. K. Roy, its Honorary Secretary, went on deputation to His Excellency the Governor, with a view to obtaining a grant of land for a site for a new permanent school building. A grant of land was found impossible, but the question of the grant of a building contribution from which a site might be bought was taken up for consideration. Each day scholar is charged Rs. 5 and each boarder Rs. 35 a month. The school constitutes a very interesting experiment in girls' education, and meets a real need.

(ii) MIDDLE SCHOOLS.—On the last day of the year under review, there were in Bengal 36 Middle English schools for Indian girls, with 4,723 pupils; the corresponding figures for the preceding year were 35 and 4,482 respectively.

The number of Middle Vernacular schools for girls in 1924-25 remained unchanged at 27; but the number of pupils reading in these schools fell from 2,896 to 2,720. The Binapani Parda Middle English School, Calcutta, has opened classes beyond the Middle English stage and instructs the girls in first aid and Hygiene. The Sakhawat Memorial and Surhawardy Moslem Girls' schools rank with the best Middle English schools for girls in Calcutta. Of the other Middle schools those at Baniban, Contai, Narainganj, Faridpur, Noakhali, Comilla, Rajshahi and Rangpur, have been mentioned for successful work.

5. PRIMARY SCHOOLS.—The year 1924-25 closed with 13,363 primary schools for Indian girls, with 305,000 pupils as compared with 12,833 schools with 289,792 pupils on the 31st March 1924. Primary schools for girls belong to one or other of the following main types:—

(a) Model Primary schools.—As a result of retrenchment these schools have been deprovincialised and are being conducted as grant-in-aid schools. The teachers employed in Model Primary schools are as a rule paid better than those working in other classes of Primary schools.

(b) Urban Girls' schools.—Schools of this class exist only in certain important centres in East Bengal. They receive substantial grants from the Department and are on the whole efficiently managed.

(c) Panchayati Union schools.—As stated in previous reports both the capital and maintenance charges of these schools are provided by Government. No funds were available during the year under review for the establishment of new panchayati union schools for girls.

(d) Peasant Girls' schools.—There are 22 schools of this type, all located in backward areas and remote places of the Presidency Division. They have not been a success owing to local apathy.

(e) Aided Primary schools.—Of the aided primary schools for girls those which are aided by the Department and municipalities are reported to be in a much better condition than those which are subsidised by District Boards.

The Corporation of Calcutta have opened a few free primary schools for girls. Twelve primary schools for girls, comprising " the Dacca town girls' schools scheme ", were provided last year with additional trained mistress at the expense of the Department. Inspite of crippled resources European and American Missions continue to maintain a large number of primary schools. The Nari Sikha Samiti and the Society for the improvement of the backward classes, Bengal and Assam, are also doing valuable work, in maintaining with assistance from Government a large number of girls' primary schools scattered over the Presidency. The work of the Nari Sikha Samiti is being watched with special interest by the Department, since it is felt that the energy and enthusiasm in the cause of Indian girls' education which inspires the Samiti, and most of all its Honorary Secretary, Lady Bose, may in due time become a very valuable asset to the Department in its efforts for the extension of female education.

6. Special schools.—The number of Technical, Industrial and Special schools for Indian girls, remained stationary at 46, during the year under review, but the number of pupils attending these schools fell from 1,405 to 1,379. Most of the Industrial schools for girls are under Mission management. In these schools technical instruction is usually combined with the rudiments of general education. The most prominent among special schools are the Lace schools at Kalimpong and Dacca and the Weaving school at Padrishibpur, Bakarganj.

7. Zenana Education.—On 31st March 1925 there were 58 Zenana teachers who taught altogether 1,278 pupils. The Zenana system of education has not succeeded and it has been decided to revise and remodel the scheme. It is hoped that a better system may be devised by borrowing certain methods from the well-known Parents' National Union Scheme of Education which has done so much for the improvement of educational method in England. For this purpose an experimental scheme is being tried at Dacca by Mr. West, Principal, Teachers' Training College, with the assistance of the Head Mistress of the Vernacular Training Class, Dacca, and a Zenana Governess. The course includes model lessons in Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Hygiene and General information, prepared in fortnightly assignments of work. The standard is that of the Lower Primary Course. A Zenana Governess visits the pupils twice weekly at first but with the progress of the pupils her visits become less and less frequent, until the minimum of a fortnightly visit is reached. On finishing their assignments the pupils undergo a test and if successful they are allowed to begin the next assignment. The pupils do the greater portion of the work themselves; the governess merely assists them when difficulties arise. Independent work is thus encouraged. The basic object of the scheme is not so much to teach as to get the pupils to educate themselves which is essential, if Zenana education is ever to make headway.

8. Needle-work.—The peripatetic needle-work teachers continued to work well. The Inspectress of Schools, Dacca Circle, is of opinion that needle-work should be made a compulsory subject for girls' schools.

9. Co-education.—The number of girls reading in boys' schools rose slightly during the year under review from 54,096 to 54,907.

10. Conclusion.—The factors that hinder any rapid spread of female education in India are well known, and need not be repeated here. It is worth placing on record, however, the fact that of the girls reading in recognised schools at present, only 1·2 per cent. are in stages above the Primary. The figure is eloquent to prove that those many devoted workers who are striving for the spread of education among the women and girls of Bengal stand as yet only on the threshold of their task.

CHAPTER IX.

Education of Europeans and Anglo-Indians.

1. Institutions.—On the last day of the year 1924-25 the Presidency had 63 Institutions for the education of European and Anglo-Indian children as compared with 64 on the corresponding date of the year preceding. The decrease in the number of schools by 1 was due to the exclusion from the list of European schools of St. Gregory's School, Dacca, which has been recognised by the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education as a school for Indians. Of the total number of European schools which existed in Bengal last year 58 imparted general education while the remaining 5 were meant to provide some form of special instruction. Of the schools for general education 14 were returned as Higher Secondary, 7 as Secondary, 20 as Higher Grade, 16 as Primary, and 1 as Ungraded. As previously only 3 of the institutions, viz., the Victoria Boys' School, the Dow Hill Girls' School, and the Dow Hill Training College, Kurseong, were controlled by Government; the rest were controlled in the main by the different religious orders.

2 Pupils.—The following table compares the numerical strength of European schools by stages during the 2 years 1923-24 and 1924-25:—

	1923-24.				1924-25.
	No. of institutions.	No. of boys.	No. of girls.	Total.	No. of institutions.	No. of boys.	No. of girls.	Total.

*Supplementary classes.

The above figures include 1,673 non-European children studying in European schools on 31st March 1925 as against 1,777 (1,040 boys and 737 girls) who were neither European nor Anglo-Indian on the corresponding date of 1924. The figures are worth noting since criticism of the amount of the European schools budget sometimes overlooks the fact that a very definite portion of the grant enures to the benefit of non-Europeans.

3. Expenditure.—The education of European and Anglo-Indian children in Bengal cost Rs. 35,36,616 during the year under review as compared with Rs. 35,78,078 in the preceding year. The expenditure was distributed as follows:—

	Rs.
(i) Provincial Revenues	9,75,427
(ii) Municipal grant	17,313
(iii) Fees	16,26,444
(iv) Endowments, subscription and other sources ..	9,17,432
Total ..	35,36,616

4. Scholarships.—During the financial year 1924-25 the expenditure on scholarships amounted to Rs. 30,485 as against Rs. 33,833 spent for the purpose in the previous year. The expenditure for 1924-25 did not include, as it did previously, the amount of extra-provincial scholarships paid in Bengal.

5. Grants.—The rejection by the Bengal Legislative Council of the sum of Rs. 99,000 provided in the Education Budget of 1924-25 for direct grants to non-Government primary schools for Europeans created consternation among the elementary schools. The resulting financial situation of these schools appeared likely to be very serious indeed, but matters were adjusted by Government in accordance with the announcement made after the action of Council, and in the end the schools did not suffer. An additional grant had also to be made to St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, Kalimpong. There was a change in the system of dispensing aid to the Kalimpong Homes during the year under review. Instead of making special capitation and other separate grants to the Homes it was decided to bring them under the operation of the ordinary grant-in-aid rules for European schools. It was also accepted that only as a matter of special urgency could the renewal of the old large special grants be contemplated, and that they could not be regarded as normal features of the European schools budget.

6. Teachers.—European schools in Bengal employed 696 teachers on 31st March 1925 as compared with 682 on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of these teachers 66 were graduates; 296 (including 26 graduates) were trained and 400 (including 40 graduates) were untrained.

7. Training of teachers.—There being no institution in Bengal for the training of European male teachers, intending candidates are in accordance with existing arrangements deputed to the Chelmsford Training class attached to the Lawrence School, Ghoragali, Punjab. Owing to lack of accommodation at the Training class no candidate was deputed from Bengal for training during the year under review. Twenty-two women teachers, as compared with nineteen in the previous year, were under training at the Dow Hill Training College on 31st March 1925. At the annual examination held in November 1924 nine out of ten senior students who sat for the final examination passed. Of the eight junior students who sat for the first-year examination all were successful.

8. Practical training.—There were fourteen schools, which taught the school final course including commercial, industrial or technical subjects. There were 193 pupils on the rolls on 31st March 1925. Special classes in plain cookery and needle-work were maintained in the Dow Hill School and St. Helen's Convent, Kurseong, and at the Loreto House, Calcutta. Special classes for probationary sick nurses were held at Loreto Convent, Entally, and at St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, Kalimpong. Special classes for children's nurses were held at St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, Kalimpong.

9. The City and Guilds Examinations.—The City and Guilds Examination Committee continued to hold examinations in Domestic Science subjects. These examinations were held in November 1924 at Kurseong for candidates from Dow Hill School and at St. Helen's Convent, Kurseong. The entries and the results of the Examination were as follows:—

		Entries.	Passes.
(1)	Plain needle-work	14	12
(2)	Plain cookery	10	8

10. Examinations.—The following table shows the results of the various examinations for which pupils entered in 1923 and 1924:—

11. Education of deficient and defective children.—The children's House, Kurseong, the only institution in Bengal where mentally and physically defective European children are trained by special methods had on its rolls 11 pupils on 31st March 1925 against the same number in the year preceding. A sum of Rs. 1,800 was paid from Provincial Revenues towards the upkeep of the institution.

12. The Sussex Trust.—The income derived from the Sussex Trust Fund was utilised during the year under review for the objects noted below :—

(i) Capital expenditure—Rs. 60,000 for the construction of dormitories at the Dow Hill Girls' School.

(ii) Recurring expenditure—Rs. 15,942.

The latter amount represents the expenditure on the award of scholarships to European and Anglo-Indian boys and girls and to passed students of the Bengal Engineering College, besides the cost of the maintenance charges of 3 primary schools intended for backward communities. Altogether 34 boys and girls (studying in India and the United Kingdom) were benefited by the scholarships.

13. Doveton Trust Fund.—The total income (including the balance available on 31st March 1924 and also the interest up to October 1924) and the expenditure of the Doveton Trust Fund amounted to Rs. 13,738-3 and Rs. 6,509-6 respectively during the year under report. Fifteen scholarships at rates varying from Rs. 8 to Rs. 25 a month were awarded last year, and one of Rs. 30 a month was renewed.

14. State scholarship.—No new State scholarships were awarded during the year 1924-25. One of the existing State scholars forfeited his scholarship which was re-awarded to Mr. Eric Britter.

15. Controlling Agency.—Mr. W. F. Papworth was in charge of the duties of the Inspector of European Schools, Bengal, throughout the period under review.

16. The European Schools Code.—The new Code of regulations for European schools was under preparation during the year under report and is now practically complete.

17. Educational Exploration.—The main experiment that was made in European schools in new methods of teaching was in connection with the Dalton Laboratory system. The system was given a trial in three schools—St. Paul's School, Darjeeling, the Diocesan Girls School, Darjeeling, and the Pratt Memorial School, Calcutta. The system constitutes such a revolutionary change that it was natural that there should be a certain amount of nervousness in regard to the experiment. St. Paul's School, Darjeeling, after a time reverted to older methods, finding it unsuitable to its needs.

It is generally admitted that the "assignments" which are the crux of the Dalton system are not as suitable to the lower classes as they are to upper classes The experiment has therefore been tried in Secondary schools only, so far. It has not yet been proved that the European schools in Bengal provide a suitable field for this form of teaching organisation but deductions from the experiments so far made must be postponed to a later report. For a proper working of the Dalton system specially provided rooms are needed for each subject and they must be furnished with a good library and equipped with manuals and books of reference related to each particular subject. If these conditions cannot be provided, it is useless to attempt an experiment of this kind. The majority of European schools too are chained to prescribed examinations, success in which has an important bearing upon the obtaining of employment and consequently all the energies of the teachers are apt to be concentrated upon preparing pupils for public examinations. In these circumstances departures from mere routine can only be made with hesitation and in addition very few are equipped to make them. Very little, for instance, is being done in the matter of studying the psychology of the growing European or Anglo-Indian child in Bengal conditions. Measurements of mental fatigue, nervous tension and concentration ability, etc., are studies which require special training on the part of teachers, and provision of suitable apparatus. Both are in general absent. In other words owing to various causes, of which one basic factor is finance, there is not that vigorous professional educational life which in other better-equipped countries is constantly exploring the causes of things as they are, and pointing the way to things as they might be. But in all discussions it must never be forgotten that the condition of Anglo-Indian education is a reflection of political and economical conditions, and that the Anglo-Indian educational problem is basically a problem in economics and politics, and not in pedagogy.

18. Conclusion.—The condition of European and Anglo-Indian education is one which is giving food for serious anxiety to all those concerned with it. Almost all the schools are suffering from straitened finance, and the creation of a real teaching profession reasonably paid and satisfied with its conditions of work seems very far off. The situation, gloomy as it is, was shot through by one ray of sunshine, the munificent gift of eleven lakhs of rupees made to the Martinière schools by Sir Paul Chater, one of the old boys of the institution. As a result, the Martinière schools, which were suffering like the others from straitened finance, have been placed substantially on their feet, the envy of other less fortunate schools. That Claude Martin's ancient foundation has been permanently rescued from its distresses is a source of great satisfaction to all those who know what sterling work for European and Anglo-Indian education has been carried out by the school throughout its long history.

A feature of the Anglo-Indian system of education is that it ends with school life, and that very few boys and girls proceed to higher education. There is a growing tendency in the community to ask whether if the educational curriculum in the schools were brought into substantial conformity with that of the Indian schools and intermediate college system more pupils might be led to go on to university courses. In other words, should the European schools cease to sit for examinations conducted from England, and affiliate to or be recognised by the local University? The question will probably come up for discussion in the near future, and is one of great moment to the community concerned.

CHAPTER X.

Education of Muhammadans.

1. Statistics of Muhammadan pupils.—The year 1924-25 closed with 1,018,593 Muhammadan pupils studying in all types of educational institutions for Indians as compared with 961,101 returned on 31st March 1924. The proportion of Muhammadan pupils to the total number of pupils under instruction in all classes of schools and colleges on 31st March 1925 rose from 46·9 to 47·3 per cent. In arts and professional colleges Muhammadans formed 12·9 and 12·2 per cent. respectively of the total number of pupils of all creeds, as in the preceding year. In the high and middle stages of instruction the proportion of Moslem pupils was equally poor, viz., 14·6 and 17·2 per cent. respectively of the pupils of all creeds as compared with 14·4 and 18·5 per cent. in the preceding year. In the primary stage however Moslem pupils more than held their own in the competition with Hindus; their proportion to the total number under instruction was 50·5 against 50·1 per cent. in the preceding year. In special schools the proportion of Moslem pupils rose from 60·6 to 63·8 per cent. owing mainly to the increasing popularity of the reformed Madrasahs.

2. Hindu and Muhammadan pupils.—Of the total number of Muhammadan pupils studying in all types of educational institutions for Indians on 31st March 1925, 837,461 were under instruction in schools for boys, and 181,132 were in schools for girls as compared with 948,807 Hindus attending boys' schools and 135,606 Hindus attending girls' schools.

3. Special Moslem institutions.—Besides schools and colleges for general education there are other institutions in Bengal intended to meet the special needs of the Muhammadan community. These special institutions may be grouped under the following heads:—

(i) Islamic Intermediate colleges.
(ii) Moslem High Schools.
(iii) Madrasahs—Senior and Junior.
(iv) Maktabs.
(v) Koran schools.
(vi) Muallim Training schools.

4. Islamic Intermediate colleges.—During the year under review the number of Islamic Intermediate colleges remained unchanged at 2, one at Dacca and the other at Serajganj; the former is maintained by Government and the latter is aided by the Department. The 2 colleges together had 78 students in the Intermediate classes on 31st

March 1925. The 2 institutions sent up 26 candidates to the Islamic Intermediate Examination which was conducted by the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca; of them, 11 candidates, all from Dacca, were declared successful. The Serajganj Madrasah failed to pass any candidates, and it is obvious that this Madrasah has a long struggle before it, before it can rank as an institution of really intermediate status.

5. Madrasahs.—On the 31st March 1925 there were altogether 412 madrasahs in Bengal with an enrolment of 36,499 pupils against 374 madrasahs with 31,613 pupils on the corresponding date of the previous year. The number of madrasahs rose by 10·16 per cent. while the number of pupils attending them increased by 15·4 per cent. The reformed madrasahs show a steady increase from year to year both in number and strength. They are obviously more suited to the needs of the Muhammadan community than the ordinary secondary schools. They cost Rs. 7,72,135 during the year under review, of which Rs. 358,249 came from public funds; the corresponding figures for the previous year were Rs. 7,12,067 and Rs. 3,39,296 respectively. The Inspector of Schools, Chittagong Division, alludes to the support of a large number of orthodox madrasahs by District Boards as a hindrance to a further growth of the reformed madrasah system in his division.

6. Maktabs.—The number of maktabs rose from 15,945 to 17,325 during the year under report; of these 11,619 were for boys and 5,706 were for girls. The number of pupils attending maktabs rose from 456,033 to 510,912 of whom 372,564 were boys and 138,348 were girls. The total expenditure on the maintenance of maktabs rose from Rs. 11,89,079 to Rs. 13,40,884 to which public funds contributed Rs. 6,60,673 as against Rs. 6,19,776 in the year preceding. As before, arrangements were made in each Division for the inspection of maktabs by Moslem Sub-Inspectors of Schools. Through the increasing efforts of these officers a large number of Koran schools were converted into maktabs by the introduction of the secular course into them. All the model maktabs directly managed by Government were deprovincialized in the preceding year with the exception of the one at Calcutta which too was discontinued after June last.

7. Maktab curriculum.—A revised curriculum for maktabs on the lines of that for primary schools was approved by Government during the year under review. The revised syllabus extends over 5 years instead of 4.

8. Junior Madrasah Examination.—In the Junior Madrasah Examination held in November 1924, 857 boys appeared, of whom 539 or 62·9 per cent. were declared successful, as compared with 61·53 in the year preceding.

9. Islamic Matriculation Examination.—One hundred and seventy-seven candidates appeared in the Islamic Matriculation (High Madrasah) Examination conducted by the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca, in which 63 students passed against 74 out of 131 candidates in the preceding year.

10. Hostel accommodation for Moslem students in Calcutta.—The Baker and Elliot hostels attached to the Calcutta Madrasah and the Taylor Hostel in Wellington Street provided, as previously, hostel accommodation for under-graduate Moslem students studying in Calcutta. The Carmichael Hostel managed by Calcutta University caters only for post-graduate Moslem students.

11. Special facilities for Muhammadans.—Muhammadan students continued to enjoy during the year 1924-25 the concessions that were extended to them in previous years, viz., reservation of places in Government and aided schools, the grant of special scholarships and stipends, and free studentships to the extent of 15 per cent. of their total enrolment. The 4 scholarships of Rs. 12 a month and the 6 stipends of Rs. 8 a month each, which used to be awarded annually as a temporary measure on the results of the Islamic Matriculation examination were permanently sanctioned by Government in December 1924.

12. The Islamia College, Calcutta.—The Moslem community of Bengal has for nearly half a century looked forward to the construction of a special college for Moslems in Calcutta. With a view to the establishment of one in the immediate neighbourhood of the Calcutta Madrasah a plot of land was acquired some years ago in Wellesley Street, but the project was held up by financial stringency. The proposal was received last year by Mr. Fazlul Huq, then Education Minister and funds for the establishment of a first grade college for Muhammadans in Calcutta were voted by Council. The foundation stone of the College was laid by His Excellency the Governor of Bengal on 9th December 1924, with solemn and impressive ceremony.

His Excellency's speech contained a reasoned defence of the establishment of a communal or sectarian institution. Two felicitous passages from the speech may be placed on record, as summing up much of the motive behind the Moslem desire for this college.

In this Islamia College, that desire of the Moslem community will be met, and what Sir William Hunter described as a most powerful instinct of the Musalman heart will receive permanent and abiding satisfaction. That feeling which possibly still lurks in rural parts of Moslem Bengal that English education is not the education of a gentleman, that through it even though a Moslem may gain the whole world, he may lose his own soul, will surely disappear for ever when he sees this building in its final splendour, and realises that culture, though in modern form, can still be the handmaid of religion, and can co-operate with it here in Calcutta in producing in large numbers for the service of Bengal that type which has played its part on many stages in the past, and has yet, I believe, a great part to play—the cultured Moslem gentleman.

I perform the ceremony of formally laying the foundation stone of this Islamia College in the sure hope and belief that it will facilitate the harmonisation of the traditional and revered ideals of Islamic culture and Islamic piety with the insistent needs of modern life, and will enable the Moslems of Bengal to play that part in the making of the political and social future of the province to which their numbers, their past history and their very real importance in the body politic entitle them as their just and lawful due.

13. Muallim Training schools.—There are 3 such schools—one at Banspole in the Burdwan Division, one at Bagerhat in the Presidency Division and one at Feni in the Chittagong Division—for the training of Muallims or teachers of secularised maktabs and Moslem primary schools. The proposal for the conversion of the Guru Training school at Natore in the Rajshahi Division into a Muallim Training school is under consideration. There is as yet no Muallim Training school in the Dacca Division.

14. The general impression one receives from this record of Moslem education is that the community is making definite progress in education, but that its advance is not as rapid as its well-wishers could desire. It is hoped however that when the stimulus that is being administered or will be administered by the Moslem Hall in Dacca University and the Islamia College, Calcutta, has produced its full effects, there will be a distinct change for the better in the situation.

CHAPTER XI.

Education of Special Classes.

1. Education of Chiefs and Nobles.—There is no institution in Bengal specifically intended for the education of the sons and wards of Indian chiefs and nobles like those which exist in Upper India. The Nawab Bahadur's Institution at Murshidabad, however, provides special facilities for the education of the Nizamat family, although as an ordinary High English school, it admits boys of all communities. There are four hostels attached to the school one of which is reserved entirely for boys of the Nizamat family and is under the direct supervision of an English Headmaster, Mr. Barker, assisted by a qualified Muhammadan officer. A special feature of the school is its agricultural garden. As in the previous year twenty-six boys of the Nizamat family were in residence in the hostel on 31st March 1925. The cost to Government of the maintenance of the hostel amounted to Rs. 6,198 as against Rs. 6,186 in the preceding year.

2. Education of aborigines and the children of backward classes.—Among aboriginal races the Santhals are making appreciable progress in education, in spite of inadequate funds, as a result largely of missionary effort, while among backward Hindus, the Pods, Namasudras and Rajbansis are rpeorted to be advancing steadily in the van of the main group. The table reproduced below shows the number of boys and girls belonging to backward communities that were under instruction in schools and colleges on 31st March 1925:—

	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
In arts colleges	380	..	380
In professional colleges	31	..	31
In secondary and primary schools ..	166,404	14,607	181,011
In special schools	6,297	53	6,350
Total ..	173,112	14,660	187,772

The corresponding numbers on 31st March 1924 were 145,183, 14,194 and 159,377 respectively, and it is clear that there has been definite progress. The succeeding paragraphs give a brief account of the educational progress achieved by members of the backward classes during the year under review in each part of the Presidency separately:—

Calcutta.—On the 31st March 1925 there were in Calcutta 17 primary schools which had 493 pupils of the backward classes out of a total enrolment of 754. Thirteen of these primary schools were managed by Christian Missions. There were, besides, 2 special schools in the city which had 70 pupils belonging to backward communities on their rolls.

Presidency Division outside Calcutta.—During the year under review 55,146 pupils of the backward classes were attending schools for boys and 2,651 schools for girls. One High English and 2 Middle English schools in the district of Jessore were attended mainly by Namasudra children. In the district of Khulna there are several Middle English schools which cater chiefly for the education of Namasudras and Pods. In addition to secondary schools there exist large numbers of primary schools in the districts of 24-Parganas, Nadia, Jessore and Khulna which are attended mainly by the children of the backward classes; three of the primary schools in the 24-Parganas district were maintained from the income of the "Sussex Trust Fund". Nine Middle and 16 Upper Primary scholarships were secured by boys of the backward classes. A Pod boy, who also obtained a middle scholarship, was awarded the Chandra Nath Sapui Gold Medal for the year.

Burdwan Division.—As noted in previous reports the Santhals constitute the bulk of the aboriginal population of the Division. Out of 222 Santhal schools one was of the Middle English Standard, two were Middle Vernacular schools, 215 were primary, two others were Guru-training schools, and the remaining two were Industrial schools. Steps have been taken to raise the Middle English School at Bhimpore in the centre of the Santhal population to the status of a High English school. The school has over 200 pupils on its rolls, and has been provisionally recognised by the University for two years for the purpose of sending up candidates for the Matriculation examination. In this school at Bhimpore which is the central school and coping stone of a large system of primary schools in the north-western part of the Midnapore district established by the American Baptist Mission, the Mission is making a most interesting experiment, the object of which is to evolve a type of education which will give boys in rural areas endowed with ability the opportunity of proceeding to higher education, but which will at the same time in all the work of the school keep close touch with village life, will lead pupils to appreciate the privileges and opportunities of the village, and will equip and encourage them progressively to improve that environment. In short, an endeavour is being made to co-ordinate class room work with village industrial arts. This does not mean that Bhimpore is a vocational school in any strict technical sense. The aim throughout the school is not to have vocational work as an adjunct, as something supplementary to the ordinary curriculum, but to relate it directly and definitely to the ordinary curriculum of each class. For example jute-growing would be related to the Geography of Bengal. Spinning and weaving and the study of the cotton industry would include acquaintance with cotton-growing countries, cotton mills and various inter-related problems such as transportation, export and import, etc. The experiments will be followed with great interest as it will show how far what is known as the "project" method of education can be made generally applicable to conditions in Bengal. One of the main problems of the day is to discover what is the right type of rural secondary school for Bengal. The problem is not an easy one. What is certain is that the present academic high school is not the right type. Probably several types are required. But they must in the main cater essentially for rural needs, as does Bhimpore. "The great object of the rural high school should be to serve as a social and educational centre for the development of the potentialities resident in the rural culture and the rural population. All other aims should be subordinated to this one". So runs a passage from the recent American Survey of the Philippine educational system. America can help Bengal considerably in solving its rural school problem, and the results of the American experiment at Bhimpore will be carefully watched. Our present academic high school in rural areas obviously makes no attempt to cater for the special needs of that large proportion of its boys whose education will go no further than the school. Bhimpore aims at ascertaining by experiment whether something more suitable for that large proportion who must continue to live in the village cannot be devised, which will at the same time not neglect those who will go on to higher education and professional life of some kind or other. Whatever the result of the experiment, we shall learn much from it. Of the total expenditure incurred by the Santhal Education Board on the upkeep of the Santhal schools Rs. 25,443 came from Provincial Revenues, and Rs. 1,494 from the District Fund. One Middle, 2 Upper Primary and 12 Lower Primary scholarships were awarded to Santhal pupils. Altogether 29,168 pupils of the backward classes were under instruction during the year in the various recognised schools of the Division.

Dacca Division.—The number of pupils belonging to the backward and aboriginal classes studying in all classes of institutions in the Division rose from 59,503 to 60,244 or by 1·3 per cent.; the Namasudras represented 82·2 per cent. of this number. Nine schools (3 of which were aided) for Fishermen and 5 for Muchis were returned from the Dacca district. The enrolment of special schools in the district is reported to have declined owing to the abolition of a certain number of night or continuation schools. There were 40 schools for aboriginal tribes and 1 for criminal races in Mymensingh. The District Board of Bakarganj maintained 12 free primary schools including 1 for girls in the colonisation areas of the Sundarbans for Magh pupils; the enrolment of these schools is reported to have decreased owing to economic stress. Eight Middle and 13 Upper Primary scholarships were awarded to pupils of the backward classes during the year under report.

Chittagong Division.—The schools in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, which are chiefly intended for hill tribes, included 1 High English school at Rangamati, 3 Middle, 151 Primary, 1 Training, 1 Industrial and 38 unrecognised schools, and had a total enrolment of 3,572 pupils. The Missionary Society at Chandragona in the Hill Tracts maintains a training school for primary school teachers. In the Lalmai Hills in Tippera there were 2 aided primary schools for Tipras. The high, middle and primary schools in the Cox's Bazar subdivision had altogether 469 Magh pupils on the rolls on 31st March 1925. This subdivision had besides 17 Kyang or Budhist monastic schools with 431 pupils. Pupils belonging to non-aboriginal backward communities, who were reading in the high, middle and primary schools in the Chittagong Division on the last day of the year, numbered 11,105—boys 9,457 and girls 1,648. Nine Middle and 13 Primary scholarships were awarded to boys of the backward classes.

Rajshahi Division.—The district of Dinajpur had 50 Santhal schools including 1 Middle English school, with 1,328 pupils. The local Santhal Education Board, of which the District Magistrate is President, directly managed 10 schools, and subsidised 23 others. The contributions from Provincial Revenues and District Funds towards the upkeep of the schools under the control of the Santhal Education Board amounted during the year to Rs. 3,254 and Rs. 1,968 respectively. The Baptist, Catholic, and Presbyterian Missions between them maintained 23 schools and are valuable agents in connection with Santhal education. The Malda district had 16 Santhal Primary schools with 397 pupils. The local Santhal Education Board (presided over by the District Magistrate) received from Government and the District Board financial assistance to the extent of Rs. 1,348 and 384 respectively. Pupils belonging to other backward communities numbered 23,989 including 1,480 girls; Rajbansis constituted about half of this number.

3. Education of defectives.—Eleven European children suffering from mental and physical defects were under training in the Children's House at Kurseong on 31st March 1925. The Deaf and Dumb School, Calcutta, had 110 pupils on the rolls including 14 girls, and the Blind School had 48 pupils including 14 girls. There were 20 pupils in the Deaf and Dumb School, Dacca, and 8, including 3 girls, at the Deaf and Dumb School at Faridpur. The Deaf and Dumb School at Barisal, which has a weaving class attached to it, had 16 pupils on its rolls. The Deaf and Dumb School at Chittagong had 8 pupils, including 2 girls. The financial assistance rendered by District Boards and Municipalities in the shape of scholarships and stipends to deaf mutes and blind children under training in the Calcutta schools was continued during the year under report. The total expenditure on the education of defectives was Rs. 66,544.

4. Tea-garden schools.—The district of Jalpaiguri returned 60 tea-garden schools of which 10 were "A" class, 20 "B" class and 30 "C" class. The work of some of the schools is criticised in the reports. They cost Government Rs. 4,708 and the District Board Rs. 360. The district of Darjeeling had 57 tea-garden schools with 1,483 pupils. The upkeep of these schools cost Rs. 10,106 to which Provincial Revenues and District Fund contributed Rs. 5,109 and Rs. 396 respectively.

5. Education of factory children.—The children of mill employés in the district of 24-Parganas are generally educated in the primary schools and maktabs which are in existence in the locality. The Special Primary School at Titagarh, and the Rifle Factory and Metal Factory Schools at Ichapore, which cater specially for the children of mill hands, are reported to be doing very useful work. The Titagarh School had, as previously, 3 sections, viz., Hindi, Urdu and Telegu. The Rifle Factory School, which is subsidised by Government, was reorganised last year; the teaching staff was strengthened considerably, and the school building was extended and thoroughly equipped at a cost of Rs. 12,327. The Metal Factory School receives at present no aid from Government.

6. Education of Jains.—The Jain School at Bogra started in 1923-24 is reported to have deteriorated considerably. It had only 10 pupils on the rolls on 31st March 1925 against 57 on the same date in the preceding year.

CHAPTER XII.

Unrecognised Institutions.

On 31st March 1925 there were in Bengal 1,283 unrecognised schools with 43,815 pupils as compared with 1,352 schools attended by 47,235 scholars on the corresponding date of the preceding year. Of the total number of pupils under instruction in unrecognised schools on the last day of the year under review 19,963 were Hindus, and 22,484 Muhammadans; the rest belonged to other communities. Unrecognised schools are gradually passing into the fold of recognised schools, and this tendency supplies the explanation of the decrease in the number of schools and pupils which has occurred during the year. Indigenous schools teaching advanced courses in Arabic or Persian are found to develop in course of time into reformed Madrasahs and Koran schools into secularised maktabs teaching the recognised courses.

2. The majority of unrecognised institutions aim at imparting religious instruction combined with a smattering of general and "vocational" education. Absence of method, defective teaching and discipline, irregularity of attendance, and overcrowding of the curriculum are reported to be some of the normal features of these schools. The curriculum of some of these indigenous institutions aims as high as that of a university or college, while the lowest among them are elementary schools teaching the 3 R's. The most conspicuous among these institutions for boys in Bengal are the Kabindra College, Goila, district Bakarganj, and Santiniketan, Bolpur, district Birbhum. The former is known as a seat of higher Sanskrit studies; in the latter the founder (Dr. Rabindra Nath Tagore) is attempting to combine the oldest Indian traditions with the best features of modern education. Santiniketan devotes considerable attention to the inculcation of religious and moral principles, manual and farm work, art, music, social service and self-help generally. The institution, which bears on every aspect of its work the impress of the culture, the spirituality and the idealism of its founder, values its independence of control as essential to its work. Without in any way surrendering that independence it has recently made arrangements to present such of its pupils as desire it at the examinations of the University of Calcutta. A special feature of its work is the co-education of boys and girls, and its system of open air class work under trees. The visitor has something to criticise and much to praise, but he will agree with wholehearted assent that its library is a scholar's joy, its spirit of unity an oasis of peace in a desert of jarring disharmonies, and that whatever the future may hold in store for it, Santiniketan has already achieved in three main directions, viz., its department of advanced oriental research, in which foreign savants have co-operated, its art school, under the direction of Mr. Nanda Lal Bose, and its village industrial and social service work, in which it has had the skilled assistance of Mr. Elmhirst. Among girls' schools the Mahakali Pathsala at Mymensingh deserves special notice. The Pathsala, which had 236 pupils on its rolls on 31st March 1925, specialises in the teaching of religious subjects on orthodox lines in addition to the ordinary school curriculum. The Pathsala is in receipt of a grant-in-aid from Municipal Funds.

Sanskrit tôls of the old type, which are not under the control of the Calcutta Sanskrit Association, are included among unrecognised schools. In these tôls the Adhyapak (teacher) himself holds examinations and confers titles. They differ from recognised schools not only as regards the courses taught, but also as regards general organisation.

CHAPTER XIII.

Physical and Moral Training.

1. Hostels.—Hostels and boarding houses attached to educational institutions of various grades in the Presidency had 31,165 occupants on 31st March 1925 against 26,964 on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of this number 25,467 resided in hostels for Indians, and 5,698 in hostels for Europeans and Anglo-Indians, as compared with 21,866, and 5,098 on the 31st March 1924. Of the residents of Indian hostels 22,669 were males and 2,798 were females. Of the European and Anglo-Indian boarders 3,681 were boys and 2,017 were girls.

A project for constructing a hostel at a cost of Rs. 81,600 (including the cost of land) for the use of the Moslem students of Chittagong College received the administrative approval of Government during the year under report, and a sum of Rs. 50,000 has been allotted for the work. The need for larger hostel accommodation in connection with the Ahsanulla School of Engineering, Dacca, has become more pronounced with the opening of additional sections.

During the year under review orders were issued by Government in regard to the apportionment of hostel charges between Government and the boarders residing in hostels attached to Government schools and colleges. It was laid down that throughout the Presidency seat rents should be realised at a uniform rate, and that while Government would bear the cost of medical supervision, the cost of the medicine consumed should be paid by the boarders themselves, who should be liable also to pay furniture rent, lighting charges, and the occupier's share of municipal taxes. These general orders are not applicable to the hostels attached to the Presidency and Bengal Engineering Colleges, and hostels for girls and backward classes, which are regulated by specific Government orders.

2. Messes.—The mess scheme in Calcutta continued to be administered, as before by the Students' Residence Committee of Calcutta

University. The post of the Proctor or Inspector of Messes in Dacca was abolished with effect from 1st April 1925, his duties having been transferred to the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca. The Board is now assisted in this work by an Assistant Inspector of Students' residence on a salary of Rs. 200 a month. The changes introduced in the mess scheme at Dacca are tentative and subject to reconsideration on the coming into existence of the Provincial Board of Secondary Education. Reserve funds are being started in connection with most of the Dacca messes with a view to making them gradually self-supporting.

3. Physical training.—As in the preceding year a six weeks' training class for Drill masters was conducted at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium from the 7th November 1924 under the supervision of Mr. N. Ghosh, Adviser in Physical Education, Bengal. The class was attended by the teachers of Government as well as by teachers of non-Government schools. Successful candidates were awarded proficiency certificates on the completion of the course.

As mentioned in previous reports, boys in towns show a particular preference for such games as foot-ball, cricket, hockey and badminton. Boys in rural areas play both indigenous and other games. Schools and colleges located in large towns and in district and subdivisional headquarters are handicapped by want of adequate playing fields. Three grounds on the Calcutta maidan have been placed at the disposal of this Department and are utilised by the boys of various educational institutions in the city. In some of the Eastern Bengal districts boat-racing is a favourite sport during the rains, when the playing fields are under water. The importance of games and physical exercise as an essential factor in education is now generally admitted in Bengal owing to many young men of intellectual capacity, but poor physique, having been rejected for admission to the higher services. Much more attention must be paid to physical culture, it is now admitted, and the University has recently and since the close of the period under review placed its views before Government with regard both to physical and military training.

The Boy Scout movement continues to gain popularity but expansion is retarded by the want of properly qualified scout masters. Where it has taken firm root a visible all-round improvement in the boys is manifest.

4. Medical inspection of students.—An elaborate medical examination of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd year classes was conducted during the year under review at the Presidency College with the assistance of the Students' Welfare Committee of the University. The results of the medical examination reveal that only about 20 per cent. of the students are in the enjoyment of normal good health. To remedy the present state of things it was decided to make physical exercise compulsory for the first year classes with effect from the session 1925-26, and arrangements to this end were made by the Principal in consultation with the Adviser to Government in Physical Education. It is only by systematic medical inspection conducted at regular intervals that parents as well as teachers can be made to realise what is happening under the present system where mental development is allowed to accrue at the expense of the health and physique of students. Fortunately parents are beginning to realise that a good degree coupled with a sick body is a very poor equipment for a young man starting life, and a better public opinion on the subject is in process of formation.

5. Hygiene.—Hygiene is included in the curricula for the Matriculation Examination conducted by the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca. As in previous years a series of lectures on Hygiene and Sanitation illustrated by lantern slides was delivered at several centres by lecturers deputed by the Bengal Social Service League as well as by District Health Officers. These lectures are reported to be very useful and popular, and there is reason to believe that organised efforts in this direction on the part of District Boards and Municipalities through their Health Officers and Sanitary Inspectors will prove to be of great value to the community at large.

6. Religious and Moral Instruction.—The question of religious instruction in schools continues to be a much debated one. As stated in previous reports direct religious instruction is given only in communal schools like madrasahs, maktabs, tôls, mission schools and Mahakali pathsalas. It is extremely difficult to provide religious teaching in schools, where the pupils belong to diverse creeds and communities.

Lessons illustrating a high standard of morality, the inculcation of good habits, and the cultivation of truthfulness, obedience, honesty, respect for elders and similar virtues are incorporated in reading books prescribed or recommended for use in schools.

7. Discipline.—There was no grave general indiscipline during the year under review. But the question still remains one in which achievement is negative rather than positive. "The student" observes the Inspector of Schools, Presidency Division, "lives a parallel life in the atmosphere of two cultures—the quiet resignation of the East and the robust optimism of the West. Hence the present loss of balance in the intellectual and moral life of our students. One of the greatest duties of secondary school teachers is to restore equilibrium by the influence of character, example, culture, and experience".

The evil effects of non-co-operation have practically passed away and it is interesting to note that earnest endeavours are being made to counteract the tendency towards indiscipline by the authorities of several High schools by availing themselves of Durbar Day, Prize Day, and other special occasions to establish direct touch and co-operation with parents and guardians in the matter. The ease with which a new school can come into being owing to the low standards accepted is however a fruitful source of indiscipline. A case occurred during the year in which, in a school of over 300 boys, a new headmaster was resented. School and staff promptly went on strike, downed tools or rather books, and marched off to another building, where they started a new school under another name. The old school ceased to exist, and the new one is a recognised school.

8. National schools.—At the end of the calendar year 1924 the Presidency had 90 national schools with 6,993 pupils as compared with 109 schools with 9,081 pupils in the preceding year. The movement for "national schools", which captured the imagination of the country, has subsided and a reaction appears to have set in. None of the national schools any where conforms to Departmental standards. The schools impart, as stated in previous reports, general education combined with religious instruction and handicrafts such as weaving, spinning, tailoring, etc.

CHAPTER XIV.

Conferences and Committees.

A conference of higher educational officers of the Bengal Presidency was held at Writers' Buildings from the 23rd to 26th February 1925 under the Chairmanship of the Director to discuss various outstanding matters connected with the organisation and administration of the Department. The main topics discussed at the conference were the delegation of powers to the Inspectors of Schools, the recruitment and promotion of subordinate officers, the principles governing the distribution of grants-in-aid to secondary schools, the improvement of the pay and prospects of teachers of non-Government secondary schools, practical training in schools, the revival of public examinations at the end of the middle and primary stages of instruction, and the improvement of High, Normal and Panchayati Union schools.

Conferences of Inspecting Officers were also held at the headquarters of the Burdwan, Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions and by the Inspectress of Schools, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions. A special feature which was much appreciated at the Dacca Conference was the provision of a series of lectures and demonstration lessons, illustrating the latest methods of teaching and organisation by Mr. M. P. West, Principal, Teachers' Training College, Dacca.

Reference has been made in chapters III and VII to the labours of the Sanskrit College Committee, the Presidency College Committee, the Advisory Committee for Higher Education, and the Dacca Vocational Education Committee.

CHAPTER XV.

Text-Book Committees.

Four vacancies in the Calcutta Text-Book Committee and three in the Dacca Text-Book Committee were filled up during the year 1924-25 by the appointment of new members.

Out of 867 books considered by the Calcutta Text-Book Committee during the year under review, 179 books were approved. The Dacca Text-Book Committee considered 868 books of which 325 were approved.

2. Under the recent orders of Government books intended for use as prize and library books in schools in Bengal are now submitted for consideration to the Provincial Text-Book Committees instead of to the Director of Public Instruction.

3 The special feature of the year under review was the introduction with effect from 1st January 1925, of the revised curriculum for primary schools for boys and girls in all the districts of the Presidency. This has simplified the work of the Text-Book Committees.

4. A complete re-organisation of the system of text-book recognition is overdue. In the ordinary course of events, this would naturally await the re-organisation of the control of secondary education in the province and possibly the adoption of a progressive primary education policy, but it is impossible to postpone action indefinitely, and action prior to any further administrative reform will probably be necessary.

CHAPTER XVI.

Education in the Legislative Council.

The year was notable for the small number of questions and resolutions dealing with educational topics in the local Legislature. This was due, in large measure, to the absence of Ministers in the closing months of the year, when, the Legislative Council having refused their salaries, they resigned and the control of the Department was taken over by His Excellency the Governor.

The provision of Rs. 6,35,400 required for the salaries of the Inspecting officers of this Department, which had been previously rejected, was passed by the Council in its August session, and the Hon'ble Mr. A. K. Fazlul Haq was thereupon able to withdraw the emergency motion standing in his name for a grant of Rs. 3,17,750 for a similar purpose. This figure represented the absolutely minimum requirements for a skeleton inspecting agency necessary to avoid a complete breakdown of the Educational system of the province. No real discussion of the subject on its merits took place, since Council, in its excitement over the immediately preceding rejection of Ministers' salaries for the second time, was not in a mood to discuss the matter seriously.

Questions were asked more than once about circle schools, and a certain amount of interest was evinced by members in the recent deprovincialisation of Model Maktabs and Model Girls' Schools. Questions on general subjects such as the spread of free Primary Education, grants to colleges, and so on, were fewer. In many cases the questions asked by members were of a communal and local character. The following may be mentioned as illustrative of the type of questions asked: the ratio of Muhammadan teachers to Muhammadan pupils in schools; the number of European and Anglo-Indian students studying in the various European schools in Bengal; the facilities (including provision of scholarships) provided for Moslem boys in Engineering schools and colleges; the refusal of financial help to madrasahs of the old type; the representation of backward classes on the Court of the University of Dacca; the cessation of the Government grant to a specific High English School; and the alleged unfair treatment of Muhammadan students in a certain institution.

The March session of the Council in 1925 had, as usual, for disposal, a very large number of motions for the reduction or refusal of grants for Education, as for other heads of expenditure. These motions, which were part of the policy of obstruction, amounted in all departments to over 1,000, and in Education alone to about 150. The circumstances in which the Budget Session of 1925 came to a close resulted in none of these motions for refusal or reduction being moved; but the labour of preparing material for a defence of almost every item in the Budget added to the burdens of an already overworked Department, which found little consolation from the fact that in the end the material was not required.

In short Education came before the Council in 1924-25 but little and when it did so, it figured purely as a pawn in the political struggle. In the meantime the University remained unreformed; the secondary school system continued to languish in anæmia; and primary education remained an unsolved problem. The Legislative Council by its open discussion of policy and principle has done much in the past and will do much in the future to focus public attention on the proper methods of advance, and the nature of the difficulties to be surmounted, in connection with the Education problem. In 1925, however, it abdicated its functions in this respect.

E. F. OATEN,

Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Bhadoi Crops of Bengal, 1925-26.

NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1923-24, the area under autumn rice in Bengal has represented some 6·2 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.

Character of the season.—As reported in the preliminary forecast, the weather during the months of April and May was too wet for the crops, especially in the low-lying tracts of East and North Bengal. Monsoon showers were especially defective in West Bengal, thereby affecting the crops considerably, while moderate showers in Eastern Bengal proved somewhat beneficial. But the lowland crops which already suffered from pre-monsoon showers could not completely recover. A fair crop has been reaped for the Province, as a whole.

Acreage.—The total acreage sown with the different bhadoi crops this year is reported to be 5,903,400 acres as against 5,632,800 acres revised for last year. Of this, the area under autumn rice is estimated at 5,139,200 acres as against 4,857,200 acres last year.

Outturn.—According to the District Officers' estimates, the autturn of outumn rice as well as that of all the different bhadoi crops together for the Presidency, works out at 73 per cent. of the normal as against the same estimate last year.

Accepting 73 per cent. as the outturn of autumn rice, the gross outturn of the crop for the Presidency, on the basis of a normal yield of 10½ maunds of clean grain per acre, is estimated at 1,481,500 tons this year as against 1,400,200 tons last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Second Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1925-26.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1923-24, the area under winter rice in Bengal has represented some 18·7 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the Season.—As indicated in the first forecast pre-monsoon showers during the months of April and May, being heavy, hampered field operations for deep-water paddy in parts of North and East Bengal. Continuous weak monsoon over the greater part of West Bengal interfered with the transplantation of paddy, especially in the highland tracts, while in East and North Bengal, moderate showers facilitated the operation a good deal, with the result that more area was brought under cultivation. Good rainfall during the first part of September caused further transplantation, and October rain considerably helped the final development of the crops, especially in West Bengal where the rainfall was so long in defect. On the whole, a good crop may be reaped in East and North Bengal and a fair one in West Bengal.

Acreage.—According to the estimates returned by the District Officers, the total area under winter rice is 15,516,300 acres, as compared with 15,589,200 and 15,589,800 acres in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—From the summary of the district returns appended, it will be seen that Bakarganj, Jalpaiguri, Rangpur and Faridpur report more than a normal crop (i.e., 133, 117, 115 and 105 per cent., respectively). Three districts, viz., Bogra, Pabna and Mymensingh, report a normal crop. Twelve districts report a crop varying from 83 to 96 per cent. and the rest from 58 to 75 per cent. According to the above estimates, the provincial outturn works up to 92 per cent. as against 89 and 86 per cent. of the normal estimates, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Accepting 92 per cent. as the provincial outturn, the gross yield of the crop, on the basis of a normal yield of 12½ maunds of clean grain per acre, is estimated at 6,554,800 tons this year, as against 6,370,900 and 6,156,400 tons, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

APPENDIX I.

Second Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1925-26.

District.	Estimated normal area under winter rice.	Estimated area under winter rice.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area.		Date by which the harvesting generally commenced this year and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
		Last year (1924-25).	This year (1925-26).	Last year.	This year.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas ...	840,600	709,600	749,800	92	92	......	The increase in area is due to timely rainfall. The weather was favourable on the whole. A little damage due to drought has been reported from the Barasat subdivision. The outturn is below the normal for want of sufficient rain.
Nadia	136,800	150,400	130,900	67	67	Latter part of November.	The decrease in area is due to want of sufficient rain both at the time of sowing and transplantation. Insufficient and unequal distribution of rainfall adversely affected the crop. Heavy rain during the middle of October is reported to have done slight damage in Kushtia while it was beneficial in other parts to some extent though late.
Murshidabad ...	351,400	279,900	278,200	83	83	......	Insufficient rainfall stunted the growth of the crop. The outturn is therefore anticipated to fall below the normal.
Jessore ...	654,800	493,000	474,900	75	67	November. Normal	The effects of weather have not been favourable. The outturn is anticipated to fall much below the normal.
Khulna ...	800,000	740,800	722,700	100	92	......	The decrease in area is due to want of timely rainfall and to extended cultivation of jute. The weather has not been very favourable. Drought caused damage and the outturn has fallen below the normal owing to insufficient rainfall.
Burdwan ...	731,100	755,200	693,200	100	75	End of November. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to insufficient rain, which is causing some damage. The weather has been favourable on the whole. The unequal distribution of rain at sowing time retarded the growth but subsequent rain has saved the crop from being dried up. Insufficient rainfall has caused damage to the extent of 25 per cent.
Birbhum	604,700	446,100	537,000	92	67	Latter part of November. Normal.	The weather was not favourable owing to uneven and insufficient rainfall which caused damage. Late transplantation and drought are responsible for the low outturn.
Bankura	* 440,000	550,000	320,000	75	58	End of November. Normal.	The abnormal decrease in area is due to revision based on settlement records. a large area under transplanted autumn paddy being so long shown under winter paddy. The weather was not favourable at the beginning but it improved to a certain extent after rains in the month of October. Drought in September and at the beginning of October considerably damaged the crop.
Midnapore ...	1,537,100	1,450,000	1,411,800	83	83	Ditto	The decrease in area is due to want of rain. The effects of weather were not favourable due to insufficient rain subsequent to sowing time. The rainfall lately had good effect on the standing crop. The extent of damage is estimated at about two annas.
Hooghly	352,100	184,400	142,000	88	62	......	The decrease in area is due to inadequate rainfall at the time of transplantation. The weather was favourable at sowing time but unfavourable afterwards. Owing to failure of rain many fields could not be ploughed and the plants withered in many places before they could be transplanted. Some good showers in September and October, however, improved the condition and revived the withering plants which did not die till then. Considerable damage has been done by drought.
Howrah	117,000	92,700	92,700	100	83	.. ...	The weather was fair. Want of timely rain caused some damage.
Rajshahi	[illegible]	[illegible]	925,400	100	83	Early part of December. Normal.	The increase in area is due to the fact that a large area was transplanted after the submission of the first forecast. The weather was fair. Damage is reported from the Natore subdivision.
Dinajpur	1,035,300	[illegible]	996,000	83	75	......	The increase in area compared with the first forecast is due to rainfall in the latter part of the season. The effects of weather have not been favourable owing to late rainfall which reduced the outturn.

Jalpaiguri	467,400	424,400	490,000	100	117	......	The weather was favourable and the outturn is above the normal.
Darjeeling	30,800	25,500	56,900	92	92	Last week of October. Normal.	The increase in area is due to revision of figures in the last settlement of Terai Government Estates. The weather has been favourable.
Rangpur	692,500	580,000	589,000	100	115	First week of December. Normal.	The weather was very favourable. There was slight damage to the crop in the char area of Kurigram. A bumper crop is expected.
Bogra	361,900	331,000	312,600	90	100	Middle of November	The weather has been favourable.
Pabna	404,200	397,100	412,800	83	100	......	The increase in area is due to favourable weather at the sowing time owing to copious rain. The drought in June and early part of July has slightly affected the crop. The weather has been favourable on the whole excepting for a heavy flood about the middle of September. Slow subsidence of flood water slightly affected the outturn in some area of Serajganj subdivision.
Malda	304,000	266,000	250,000	109	83	......	The growth of the crop was stunted for want of timely rain and the outturn is therefore anticipated to fall below the normal.
Dacca	672,400	684,800	679,500	65	92	Middle of November. Normal.	The weather has been favourable. Water-hyacinth caused slight damage to the deep-water paddy and in-rush of flood-water destroyed the crop in certain tracts.
Mymensingh ..	1,465,500	1,331,500	1,284,500	75	100	Latter part of November. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to heavy rainfall at the time of sowing. The weather was favourable.
Faridpur ...	759,900	702,000	730,500	80	105	October. Normal.	The outturn is expected to exceed the normal owing to favourable condition throughout.
Bakarganj ...	1,300,000	1,374,000	1,311,000	88	133	November. Normal ..	The weather has been favourable at the sowing time. But scarcity of rain afterwards affected the growth slightly. This was, however, recompensated by continuous good showers in the early part of October.
Chittagong ...	425,000	429,000	429,000	100	96	November and December. Normal.	The weather was fairly favourable. Almost a normal outturn is expected.
Tippera	787,000	814,600	820,600	67	92	November. Early ...	The weather was on the whole favourable although the rainfall was not adequate. Damage to the extent of one anna was caused by sudden rise of water and by water-hyacinth in Brahmanbaria.
Noakhali	705,000	642,900	643,300	92	83	First week of November. Normal.	The weather was favourable in the Sadar subdivision but was not so elsewhere.
Chittagong Hill Tracts.	50,000	43,700	42,000	67	67	......	The weather was not favourable. Ploughing and transplanting were retarded by drought.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1925-26.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1923-24 the area under linseed in Bengal has represented some 3·8 per cent. and that under rape and mustard 18·7 per cent. of the total area under these crops in British India.)

Explanatory.—Three forecasts are issued for the spring oilseed crops. The present one deals with the area sown and the general condition of the crops.

Area sown.—Oilseeds are grown chiefly in the Rajshahi, Dacca and Presidency Divisions. In the other two divisions, the cultivation is small. The total area under these crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecasts are issued) is returned at 897,000 acres this year as against 882,900 and 884,600 acres, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Character of the season.—Wet weather during the months of September and the first half of October interfered with the field operations with the result that the sowings were late in the some districts. Subsequent dry weather has facilitated the progress a good deal. The present outlook, so far, is fair, on the whole.

DACCA, the 19th December 1925.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Monthly Weather and Crop Report of Bengal for November 1925.

I. Character of the season.—The rainfall during the month was generally in defect of the normal; the precipitation being above the average only in the districts of Jalpaiguri, Darjeeling, Bakarganj, Noakhali, the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the Cooch Behar State. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Reaping of winter paddy progressed under favourable weather conditions and the retention of soil moisture as a result of good rainfall in October facilitated the field operations for spring crops a good deal.

III. State of standing crops.—The standing spring crops were thriving under dry and sunny weather. The condition of sugarcane was favourable.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects of winter paddy were favourable in East and North Bengal and those in West Bengal were fair. The outturn of the winter paddy was estimated at 92 per cent. and that of bhadoi crops at 73 per cent. of the normal.

V. Damage to standing crops.—No appreciable damage to the crops was reported during the month.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of live-stock was fair. Sporadic cases of cattle disease were reported from thirteen districts.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Insufficiency of fodder was felt in parts of Pabna and Rajshahi districts.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month the price of the cheapest quality of rice rose in 4 districts, fell in 12 and remained stationary in the rest of the Presidency. The prices ranged from 5 seers at Faridpur to 7 seers at Midnapore.

IX. Condition of agricultural population.—The condition of agricultural population was reported to be fair.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE LAND REVENUE ADMINISTRATION OF THE PRESIDENCY FOR THE YEAR 1924-25.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Land Revenue.

CALCUTTA, THE 21ST DECEMBER 1925.

RESOLUTION—No. 12940.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Land Revenue Administration of the Presidency for the year 1924-25.

The office of the Member of the Board of Revenue was held by Mr. D. H. Lees, C.S.I., from the beginning of the year under report till 12th November 1924. He was succeeded by Mr. K. C. De, C.I.E., who held the office during the rest of the year.

2. The general features of the year described in the report were a freedom from widespread natural calamities and serious outbreaks of epidemic disease, weather conditions which were not very favourable to agriculture, high prices of the main crops of the province and the continuance of high prices for most articles of common use and also for labour. In conditions such as these the large class of people dependent on fixed incomes again suffered, but the agricultural and labouring classes were compensated for the higher cost of living by the higher value of crops and labour. In Northern Bengal the ready repayment of the agricultural loans distributed after the floods of 1922 was a satisfactory sign that the agricultural population had recovered from the effects of that calamity.

3. By comparison with other years public health in the greater part of the province is said to have been fairly satisfactory, but the report shows how great is the task of bringing preventable diseases under control. The loss of life from cholera was considerable and small-pox claimed more victims than in the previous year. Malaria continued unabated, and all districts were, more or less, affected by it. Kala-azar within the last few years has spread almost throughout the province. There is however cause for real satisfaction in the organised efforts now beginning to be made in some districts. The formation of anti-malarial societies is a welcome sign of a growing determination to unite in using the discoveries of science in ridding the country of its worst scourges.

4. Useful information about the collection of land revenue is contained in the report, but there is little which calls for comment. The current demand showed an increase of Rs. 1,31,730 and collections were good, being 94·5 per cent. of the total demand and 100·3 per cent. on the current demand.

5. The cost of management of Government estates shows a slight decrease as compared with the previous year. Although the grant at present allotted to the Board for the improvement of Government estates is admittedly insufficient, it is satisfactory that the Board were able to spend substantially larger sums on agricultural and sanitary improvements.

Settlement Kanungos were appointed as officers-in-charge of eleven khas mahal circles in various districts in place of Sub-Deputy Collectors. This experimental measure of economy is reported to have worked satisfactorily.

6. The report contains an interesting account of the colonisation work in the Bakarganj and 24-Parganas Sunderbans. No new development of importance is recorded, but progress was made with the work of constructing embankments and providing drainage channels and tanks for drinking water. In the Bakarganj estates co-operative credit societies continue to flourish, and it is satisfactory to note that a number of new schools were established and arbitration boards are beginning to do useful work in the settlement of petty disputes.

7. Since the report of the Board was written, the Bill to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, has been introduced and referred to a Select Committee. It is certain that a Bill so closely affecting the great majority of the people of this province will be subjected to much criticism ; but the Governor in Council hopes that the examination by the Select Committee will lead to the recognition of the fact that the Bill represents an earnest endeavour on the part of the committee over which Sir John Kerr presided to hold the scales even between landlord and tenant, to reduce causes of friction and litigation, and to render less difficult the working of a complicated system of land tenure.

8 During the year under report, a minor change was made in section 20 of the Bengal Tenancy Act in order to settle a question of status which was rendered urgent by the settlement operations in the district of Khulna. No reference has been made in the report to the effect of the Bengal Tenancy (Utbandi Amendment) Act, 1923, but no difficulty in its working has yet come to notice. The Act of 1918 which added provisions to the Bengal Tenancy Act imposing restrictions on the alienation of their lands by aboriginals has proved a useful measure and has been extended to other districts.

9. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to the Board of Revenue for the efficient administration of the Land Revenue Department.

By order of the Governor in Council,

W. S. HOPKYNS,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

CALCUTTA, THE 19TH DECEMBER 1925.

RESOLUTION—No. 16506A.

In paragraph 460 of their report the Bengal Retrenchment Committee recommended a reduction of permanent establishments by the discharge of all superfluous officers. The Government of Bengal, in accepting their recommendations, explained in Resolution No. 3108A., dated the 16th March 1923, the course of action which they intended to adopt to carry them into effect, and in pursuance of that resolution, in Government order No. 3129A., dated the 16th March 1923, it was directed that no extension of service should be sanctioned except by the order of the Member or Minister in charge and with the concurrence of the Finance Member. All departments were directed to prepare lists of surplus officers and to forward them to the Appointment Department, and Commissioners of Divisions and the several departments of Government were instructed not to fill vacancies without communicating with the Appointment Department which would supply them with the list of surplus officers for reference. In Government order No. 1083 A.-D., dated the 12th June 1923, it was laid down that, in the case of vacancies in the ministerial ranks in district offices, it should be open to the head of the office, with the approval of the Commissioner of the Division, or, in the case of a judicial officer, with the approval of the District Judge, to fill such vacancies by officiating arrangements if an appointment could not be made from the surplus list. The same procedure was to be followed in respect of vacancies in the Civil Secretariat and in the offices subordinate to heads of departments, officiating promotions or appointments being made with the approval of the Secretary and the departmental head, respectively.

2. In December 1923 Government reviewed the effect of these orders, and in their order No. 14259A., dated the 22nd December 1923, emphasised the obligation to see that their promise in respect of the provision of employment for surplus officers was fulfilled and reiterated the instruction that in filling vacancies no opportunity of providing for surplus officers should be lost. In order that progress in the absorption of surplus officers might be watched, it was also directed that all administrative departments should report quarterly to the Appointment Department the extent to which they and their subordinate offices had been able to give effect to the orders.

3. In November 1925 a further review of the position was made. It was found that, up to November 1925, the names of 209 retrenched officers of departments and offices under the local Government had been received and that, of these, 139 had been provided with employment, 19 had definitely refused reasonable offers of appointment, and the remaining 51 were officers whose qualifications were either too high or too low for ordinary ministerial appointments. In consequence, owing to the necessity to keep open permanent vacancies for retrenched officers who might be subsequently appointed, vacancies have been kept open for undesirably long periods, and it has been impossible to confirm candidates from outside the surplus list appointed at intervals in the absence, at the time, of suitable retrenched officers. These officers have therefore remained officiating in temporary posts, with the result that they have not been eligible for increments of pay, and this has led to general dissatisfaction amongst them.

4. The surplus list has now been in existence for more than two and a half years, and the Governor in Council considers that it has served its purpose. Government have fulfilled their obligation to the retrenched officers in regard to their re-employment as far as possible, with due regard to their qualifications and the nature of the vacancies arising from time to time, and it has been decided that the continuance of the list for any further period will injure the efficiency of the administration. The Governor in Council accordingly directs the abolition of the surplus list with effect from the 31st December 1925 and the cancellation from that date of all previous orders on the subject.

By order of the Governor in Council,

L. BIRLEY,

Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE SANITARY BOARD, BENGAL.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT.

(Public Health.)

CALCUTTA, THE 15TH DECEMBER 1925.

RESOLUTION—No. 2501 P.H.

In resolution No. 1747 P.H., dated the 10th June 1921, the Sanitary Board was reconstituted with six ex officio and six nominated members. The term of office of the members other than ex officio members was fixed for one year. It was also directed that at least one of the nominated members of the Board should be a Muhammadan. The term of office of the nominated members appointed in resolution No. 280 T.—P.H., dated the 10th September 1924, having expired, the Governor in Council is pleased to appoint the following gentlemen to be members of the Board :—

1. Rai Upendra Nath Brahmachari Bahadur.

No. 81.—The 24th November 1925.—The following draft rules, which in exercise of the power conferred by section 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make in addition to those published with Bengal Government notification No. 14, dated the 31st August 1915, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of 1st September 1915, for the safe navigation of steamers in the line of navigation known as the Madaripur Bhil Channel and the Lower Kumar river as defined in notification No. 128, dated the 26th June 1900, and notification No. 162, dated the 22nd July 1902, paragrahs 17 and 18, are hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th January 1926 and any objections and suggestions received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

Draft rules.

(1) All upward bound steamers proceeding from Haridaspur towards Sindiaghat in the Madaripur Bhil Route must make fast alongside the weather bank and single down their flats to allow downward bound steamers proceeding from Sindiaghat towards Haridaspur to pass them to leeward.

Steamers upward bound must give way to those downward bound in all cases with the following exception—

The first steamer to arrive at a siding, up or down, seeing another steamer near at hand is to go into the siding and allow the other steamer to pass. No steamer up or down shall pass a siding while another steamer proceeding in the opposite direction is in sight between that siding and the next.

(2) When a red cone is hoisted at Haridaspur, upward bound vessels must stop and make fast in the entrance channel. When a white-ball is exhibited vessels may proceed.

(3) When a red cone is hoisted at Tentulia, downward bound vessels must stop above the toll station until a white-ball is exhibited when they may proceed.

(4) Downward bound vessels must stop in the Urial Khan river when a red cone is hoisted at the mast below the entrance to the Kumar river. When a white-ball is hoisted they may proceed.

(5) Upward bound vessels must stop, and make fast and single out flats when a red cone is exhibited at Messrs. David & Co.'s premises When a white-ball is raised, they may proceed.

(6) At night a red light will take the place of a red cone and two white lights one above the other will take the place of the white-ball.

(7) On hât days all vessels must slow down when passing Bherarhat, Satpar, Jalirpar, Takerhat, Rajore and Charmaguria.

(8) For any infringement of the above rules, the person in charge of the vessel or person or persons in fault shall on conviction before a Magistrate be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The second quinquennial valuation of the fund has been completed by the Actuary to the Government of India and his report discloses very favourable results. For forms of application and rules of the Fund apply to the Accountant-General, Central Revenues, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

2. In section 102 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (hereinafter referred to as the said Code), for the words "five hundred" the words "one thousand" shall be substituted. V of 1908

Saving of present right of appeal.

3. Nothing in section 2 shall affect any present right of appeal which shall have accrued to any party at the commencement of this Act.

Amendment of section 103, Act V of 1908.

4. In section 103 of the said Code, for the words "but not determined by the lower appellate Court" the words "which has not been determined by the lower appellate Court or the finding of such Court on which has been reversed by the High Court on any of the grounds stated in sub-section (1) of section 100" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 102 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, lays down that no second appeal shall lie in any suit of the nature cognizable by Courts of Small Causes, when the amount or value of the subject-matter of the original suit does not exceed Rs. 500. Under section 103 in any second appeal the High Court may, if the evidence on the record is sufficient, determine any issue of fact necessary for the disposal of the appeal but not determined by the lower appellate court. The Civil Justice Committee have recommended—

(1) that the limit in section 102 should be raised to Rs. 1,000 ; and

(2) that section 103 should be amended so as to extend the power of High Courts to determine issues of fact to cases where the finding of the lower appellate court is vitiated by an error such as is described in section 100 (1).

The Bill has been prepared to give effect to these recommendations. As regards the second proposal, the local Governments and High Courts were consulted, and it has received the practically unanimous support of the authorities who have so far replied.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Forecast of the Winter til (Sesamum) crop of Bengal, 1925-26.

(NOTE.—On an average of five years ending 1923-24, the area under til in Bengal has represented some 8·2 per cent. of the total area under til in British India.)

Character of the Season.—The weather at the time of sowing and during the early period of growth proved unfavourable in West Bengal owing to defective monsoon showers, while in East and North Bengal many fields could not be properly sown on account of late subsidence of the flood water. Consequently less area was sown this year. Good rainfall during the early part of October materially improved the prospects in the important districts and a good outturn may be reaped for the Presidency as a whole.

Acreage.—The total area sown with the crop this year is estimated at 47,300 acres against 51,400 acres last year.

Outturn.—According to District Officers' estimates the outturn of the crop for the province as a whole works out at 94 per cent. of the normal against 79 per cent. last year. Taking 6½ maunds as a normal rate of yield per acre, the gross outturn for the province is estimated at 10,000 tons this year against 9,100 tons last year, or an increase of about 10 per cent.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal (offg.).
